Carl Hebert appeared as counsel representing Dr. Mahadeva.

Dr. Mahadeva appeared and was sworn in by President Park prior to answering questions and offering testimony.

Brett Kandt prosecuted the case and referenced the documents entered into the record by stipulation of the parties, including the initial suspension of Dr. Mahadeva's DEA registration, the subsequent suspension of his Registration No. CS11174, the November 17, 2020, search of his office and seizure of his inventory of controlled substances and dangerous drugs, and his subsequent execution of the DEA Surrender for Cause.

Mr. Hebert called Dr. Mahadeva as a witness; Dr. Mahadeva testified concerning his practices with regard to drugs and answered questions from the Board.

Board discussion ensued regarding the other people involved at his practice and their role, how he obtained some of his drugs, why did he not throw out his expired/adulterated drugs, and if he was prescribing and dispensing drugs without a valid registration.

Mr. Kandt requested that the Board make findings of fact consistent with paragraphs 1-11 of the First Amended Accusation with the removal of the specific date mentioned in paragraph 8.

Board discussion ensued.

Board Action:

Motion: Richard Tomasso moved to make findings of fact as proposed by Mr. Kandt.

Benecard Central Fill of FL, LLC

Policies and Procedures

A) Prescriptions are received by phone directly from the doctor, via fax, electronic prescriptions, or by mail directly from patient. If there is concern regarding the authenticity of a prescription, the pharmacist contacts the doctor's office directly to confirm that they sent it to us, and that it is a legitimate prescription.

B) The pharmacy's adjudication system will not allow any early fills or duplications, or duplicate therapy. Pharmacist must address each rejection/DUR/dr consult or patient consult, individually, to determine whether a prescription is ok to fill at any given time.

C) The pharmacy system will reject any duplicates during adjudication for any prescription that was filled elsewhere. Additionally, for controlled substance prescriptions, the pharmacist must review PDMP prior to approving any prescription for dispensing. If there are clinical questions that arise from a patient's therapy, pharmacist must address them first, before the prescription can move forward to dispensing, packing and shipping.

D) Benecard Central Fill of FL, LLC will dispense prescriptions to patients who are members of any client group that contracts with us. Thus, the prescriptions we fill are only for our members, whom we identify by three different points of identification for each fill. Prescribers are identified by NPI and DEA numbers, and for controlled substances, we look for, and address, red flags prior to approving a prescription for dispensing.

E) Benecard Central Fill of Florida, LLC has pharmacists licensed in the states that we ship to, so that we are familiar with the laws of each of those states. Also, we have electronic access to all states and their respective regulations, should any questions arise. Benecard Central fill of Florida, LLC, also subscribes to newsletters for each state, so that we may remain updated on new and upcoming regulations, and make appropriate changes to the business, to comply with those laws.

F) A pharmacist is available 24/7, year-round, to address any patient concerns or complaints. This means a pharmacist is available to patients or their caregivers day or night, every day of the year.

G) Benecard Central Fill of Florida takes any patient concerns or complaints very seriously. If a patient complaint cannot be addressed by the pharmacist immediately, then we investigate as soon as feasible to determine the root cause, and address the complaint to the patient's full satisfaction.

H) For any error discovered, Benecard Central Fill of FL, LLC, investigates to determine the root cause of the error. Based on the findings, we re-write our policies and procedures in order to avoid the same error from re-occurring. All staff are retrained in the area of weakness, if discovered, so that they know how to prevent such an error again.

I) Any prescription which is delayed for any reason is communicated to the patient and their prescriber including the reason for the delay, anticipated date for shipment and what actions the pharmacy is taking to prevent interruption of therapy for the patient. If necessary, the patient is always permitted use of a local pharmacy at any point in time, to prevent delay or interruption of therapy.

J) Benecard Central Fill of Florida, LLC tracks all lot numbers and expiration dates on any prescription. If the lot number is recalled, all affected patients are contacted with information on how to handle the drug recall. Every prescription that is shipped is accompanied by a statement, which provides patients information on how to dispose of expired, damaged or unusable drugs or devices.

3. With each prescription shipped, the pharmacy sends to patients a patient information sheet where they can enter current medications, health conditions and allergies.

4. The pharmacy system is designed to alert the pharmacist in case of situations that require Drug Utilization Review, who in turn will contact the prescriber, and the patient to resolve the alert, prior to dispensing.

5. Benecard Central Fill of FL, LLC utilizes Benecard's own pharmacy system, and security is rigidly maintained with the support of IS and IT staff. Patient sensitive information must be segregated in a separate locked bin for PHI, and shredded.

A) Dispensing is performed one prescription at a time, using bar code technology and counting machines, to ensure that the correct medication is being dispensed to the correct patient. Hazardous Drugs are hand-counted using a counting tray in a designated HD section.

B) Prescription records are maintained for a period of 7 years. Inventory records are to be maintained for 4 years per Florida State laws. All records are also maintained electronically, indefinitely.

C) Benecard Central Fill of FL, LLC only dispenses medications upon receipt of a prescription.

7. Prescriptions are shipped using USPS, FedEx, or UPS, based on the patient's preference. For refrigerated and specialty medications, each patient receives an additional consultation to determine how they are doing on the medication and when, how, and where they want their medicine shipped. All packages can be tracked.

8. All prescriptions are dispensed in amber bottles to prevent light exposure, and shipped in poly bags or boxes with bubble wrap, that also prevent light exposure. Refrigerated medications are stored in temperature-controlled refrigerators, and the temperatures are recorded 24 hours a day. Refrigerated and Refrigerated Specialty medications are always shipped overnight, after confirming with the patient where and when they would like their medicine delivered. Benecard's software alerts us to temperatures in the shipping zip codes for the following few days, thus allowing us to include sufficient ice packs to maintain proper temperature. Benecard Central Fill of FL, LLC uses tested insulated shipping coolers for temperature sensitive shipping, which can maintain refrigerator temperatures (2-8 degrees Celsius) for up to 36 hours.

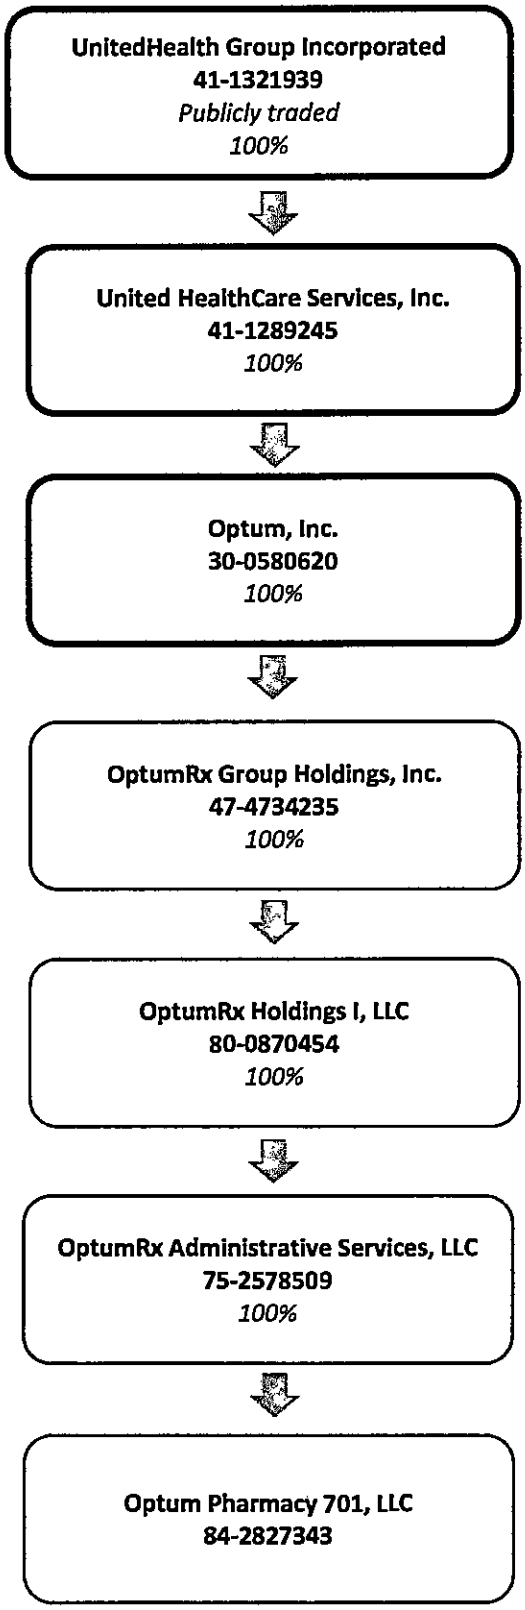
RE: Change of Ownership and Name
Diplomat Specialty Pharmacy – Flint, MI
Nevada Pharmacy License No.: PH02367

Dear Dr. Wuest:

Please be advised that there will be an intracompany change of ownership that will result from a sale of assets related to the pharmacy in Flint, MI. Specifically, Diplomat Specialty Pharmacy will transfer assets to Optum Pharmacy 701, LLC. The ultimate indirect owner of the pharmacy will remain UnitedHealth Group Incorporated. While not definitive, the anticipated effective date is on or about May 24, 2021. The enclosed organizational chart shows the ownership structure after the intracompany transaction.

As a result of this intracompany change, there will be a change in the pharmacy's name, federal tax identification number, and officers. The pharmacy will discontinue use of any and all DBAs, and it will not use any DBAs going forward. However, the pharmacy's NPI, NCPDP number, and address will remain the same.

The application, supporting documents, and fees are enclosed. We request that this Change of Ownership and Name application for a Nevada non-resident pharmacy license be scheduled for consideration on the agenda for the July 14–15, 2021 Nevada Board of Pharmacy meeting. Please note that a change application is currently pending with the resident-state Michigan Board of Pharmacy. The parties will operate under a Power of Attorney to allow continued operations while applications are pending. Should you have any questions or require additional information, please contact me at 312-715-5247 or Laura.MacDonald@quarles.com. Thank you for your consideration.



Very truly yours,

Laura MacDonald

RE: ReCept Pharmacy #1 – Disciplinary Action

To Whom It May Concern:

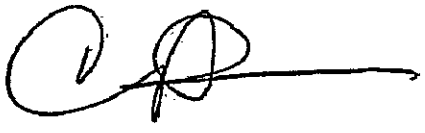
In a letter dated July 2, 2010, ReCept Pharmacy #1 received notice that the Texas State Board of Pharmacy was considering the institution of disciplinary actions against the pharmacy in response to an alleged violation with regard to a dispensing error that occurred in February 2009. ReCept Pharmacy was presented with several alternatives to settle the matter with the Board. One of the alternatives was an Agreed Board Order reprimanding the pharmacy license.

On August 11, 2010 the Texas State Board of Pharmacy entered Agreed Board Order (ABO) #H-09-27-B and reprimanded the pharmacy license issued to ReCept Pharmacy #1 (pharmacy license number 23060) for the period of August 11, 2010 to August 11, 2013. As part of the Agreed Board Order, ReCept Pharmacy, LP was required to develop and implement a Continuous Quality Improvement Program that includes peer review.

On October 7, 2010, ReCept Pharmacy #1 implemented its Continuous Quality Improvement Program. The purpose of the program is to identify and assess errors that occur in the pharmacy and then to make changes or adjustments in processes to prevent recurrences.

In addition, in April 2010 ReCept Pharmacy made several staffing changes at this location to include a change in Pharmacist-in-Charge, Staff Pharmacist and support staff.

As mentioned above, ReCept Pharmacy has introduced a Continuous Quality Improvement Program and Peer Review process to increase quality, improve workflow and reduce errors. Historically, the most common pharmacy error is dispensing the wrong drug (incorrect NDC). Through our Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) Program, quality indicators are defined and measured on a continuous basis. All quality related events, even mistakes caught by the Pharmacists at final verification before ever reaching a patient, are reported through this process. This allows the Peer Review Committee, which consists of all key pharmacy personnel involved in dispensing prescriptions, to make adjustments in workflow and processes to help reduce future errors.



ReCept replaced a DOS-based dispensing system with a state-of-the-art pharmacy dispensing system. The new system is centrally maintained and provides our pharmacies with the latest technology for quality, workflow, and inventory management. Workflow and quality checks ensure that NDC's are verified at two different points in the filling process. The filling Technician performs the first check and the verifying Pharmacist performs the final check.

At ReCept Pharmacy, quality and accuracy are the cornerstone of our business. We take pride in the services we provide to our customers and are continually seeking ways to further develop our operations.

If you should have any questions or would like further information on any of the programs and improvements presented in this response, please contact me at (817) 572-0009.

Sincerely,

Carmine DeNardo

On this day came on to be considered by the Texas State Board of Pharmacy the matter of pharmacy license number 23060 issued to ReCept Pharmacy #1, 800 8th Ave., Suite 130, Fort Worth, Texas 76104.

By letter dated July 2, 2010, the Texas State Board of Pharmacy gave preliminary notice to ReCept Pharmacy #1 of its intent to take disciplinary action with respect to pharmacy license number 23060 held by ReCept Pharmacy #1 as a result of an investigation which produced evidence indicating that ReCept Pharmacy #1 may have violated:

Section 565.001(a)(1), (2), (12) and (13); and Section 565.002(a)(3) and (6) of the Texas Pharmacy Act, TEX. OCC. CODE ANN. Subtitle J (2007);

Section 281.7(a)(12), (13) and (29)(A); Section 281.8(b)(4)(A); Section 291.31(1), (14) and (15); Section 291.32(c)(1)(E) and (F); Section 291.32(c)(2)(B), (C) and (D); and Section 295.3(b) of the Texas Pharmacy Board Rules, 22 TEX. ADMIN. CODE (2009); and

Section 431.003; and Section 431.021(a), (b) and (r) of the Texas Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, TEX. HEALTH & SAFETY CODE ANN. (2001), in that, allegedly:

COUNT

The prescription bottle was labeled "tramadol/ace 37.5/325 mg tab." The patient took the incorrect medication and experienced adverse effects, including having leg cramps and diarrhea. The prescription was assigned prescription number 173292.

By letter dated July 2, 2010, ReCept Pharmacy #1 was notified that the matters previously set out in this Order could be disposed of without the scheduling of an informal conference or administrative hearing. By his signature on this Order, Nicky Lee Otts, Corporate President of ReCept Pharmacy LP, for and on behalf of ReCept Pharmacy #1 neither admits nor denies the truth of the matters previously set out in this Order, agrees that the Texas State Board of Pharmacy has jurisdiction in this matter and waives the pharmacy's right to informal conference, to notice of hearing, to a formal administrative hearing, and to judicial review of this Order.

Nicky Lee Otts understands that any failure to comply with the terms of this Order is a basis for discipline under the Texas Pharmacy Act.

Should this Order not be accepted by the Board, it is agreed that neither the presentation of the Order to the Board nor the Board's consideration of the Order, will be deemed to have unfairly or illegally prejudiced the Board or its individual members and, therefore, will not be grounds for precluding the Board or any individual member of the Board from further participation in proceedings related to the matters set forth in the Order.

Nicky Lee Otts, on behalf of ReCept Pharmacy #1, agrees to the entry of an Order disposing of the need for further disciplinary action in this matter and agrees to comply with the terms and conditions set forth in the ORDER OF THE BOARD below.

The committee shall not be solely comprised of a district or regional manager/supervisor and the pharmacist-in-charge and shall not be used for personnel evaluation purposes.

(3) The peer review committee will meet regularly, and no less than quarterly.

(4) The peer review committee will make a record indicating:
- date of meeting

Respondent shall submit a report and/or documentation of such policies and procedures to the Texas State Board of Pharmacy, Enforcement Division, within ninety (90) days after the entry of this Order. Copies of forms used by Respondent to collect the data on errors committed at the pharmacy (i.e., incident report forms) must be submitted to the Texas State Board of Pharmacy, as well as any other peer review forms that have been developed by Respondent. Additionally, records of the peer review committee, as described in subparagraph (4) above, shall be maintained for two (2) years at the location of Respondent and made available for inspection by Texas State Board of Pharmacy employees.

It is further ORDERED that Respondent shall allow the staff of the Texas State Board of Pharmacy, Enforcement Division, to directly contact Respondent on any matter regarding the enforcement of this Order.

RE: Letter of explanation describing State of Maine BOP Reprimand.

Dear State Board of Pharmacy,

Truax Patient Services (TPS) failed to apply for a license within 7 days prior to change of location for the Maine BOP out of state license. I (Brian Truax PIC) did not realize TPS's noncompliance. It is my job to make sure of compliance and I missed it. TPS continued to mail prescriptions to the state of Maine without proper licensure. TPS agreed to reprimand and paid fine. The Maine BOP approved the TPS change of location/new out of state licensure application and TPS is currently licensed in the state of Maine.

Thank you for your consideration,

Brian Truax RPh/PIC

Re: NOTICE OF PRELIMINARY DENIAL (MO 40002380) 2018-PHA-14737

Dear Mr. Truax:

At its meeting on June 7, 2018, the Maine Board of Pharmacy ("the Board") reviewed your initial application for mail order pharmacy license, which was submitted on March 12, 2018. The Board voted to preliminarily deny this application based upon your apparent violation of 32 M.R.S. § 13751 (1) by failing to obtain an active license prior to shipping prescription drugs to Maine. You have reported making twenty (20) shipments to Maine during the period of January 15, 2018, to April 18, 2018. Pursuant to 10 MRS § 8003 (5-A)(A)(1) misrepresentation in obtaining a license specifically a misrepresentation was made in an amended application page you provided on March 20, 2018 indicating the change of location occurred on March 2, 2018.

In lieu of denying your pending application outright, the Board voted to offer you a consent agreement as a means to resolve this issue without an adjudicatory hearing. A consent agreement is a voluntary, negotiated agreement among you, the Board and the Office of the Attorney General. The terms of the consent agreement are spelled out in the enclosed Consent Agreement.

If you do not want to sign the Consent Agreement, by law, you have the right to request a hearing to contest the Board's preliminary denial of your application for licensure. If you wish to request a hearing regarding the preliminary denial of your application, you must do so within thirty (30) days of receipt of this letter by submitting a written request to the Maine Board of Pharmacy, Department of Professional and Financial Regulation, 35 State House Station, Augusta, ME 04333. If you fail to submit a timely written request for hearing to the Board and fail to sign

2.9 Title to Company Property. All of the Company's right, title and interest in the property of Company, including any tangible property, intangible property, real property, personal property and other assets acquired by the Company, shall be held in the name of the Company as an entity. Upon the acquisition of any property, the Members shall execute such documents as may be necessary to reflect the Company's ownership interest in such property and shall record the same in such public offices as shall be necessary to reflect such ownership interest by the Company. No Member shall have an ownership interest in any property of the Company in the Member's own name or right and each Member's percentage Interest shall be personal property for all purposes. Each Member waives any and all rights that it may have to maintain any action for partition of the Company's property.

ARTICLE III
Capital Contributions; Capital Accounts

3.1 Capital Contributions. Each Member agrees to contribute or pay to the Company, in immediately available funds or other property, in one or more installments, each such Member's Capital Commitment as set forth on Exhibit A.

3.2 Funding Notices. The Manager may make a capital call from each Member up to each Member's Available Commitment (each a "Capital Call") by delivering a written notice (each a "Funding Notice") to such Member instructing the Member to pay to the Company all or any portion of its Available Commitment not later than a date (the "Funding Date") that is a business day at least fifteen (15) business days after the date of such Funding Notice; provided, however, that each Funding Notice in respect of any Funding Date shall call for the same proportion of all Members' Available Commitment to be paid to the Company no later than such Funding Date. Each Member shall be obligated to make a Capital Contribution only if the Manager shall have sent a Funding Notice, and then only to the extent set forth in such Funding Notice. No Capital Call with respect to any Member shall be in an amount that exceeds such Member's Available Commitment. The obligation of each Member to pay the balance of its Available Commitment shall accrue regardless of whether one or more of the other Members shall fail to pay all or any portion of their respective Capital Commitments.

3.3 Other Retained or Recalled Distributions. The Manager may retain distributions payable to any Member and offset such amount against any such Member's obligation for any Capital Contribution due to the Company from such Member, all or a portion of any Capital Call made, though not yet due to the Company from such Member, and all or a portion of any Capital Call reasonably expected to be made within thirty (30) business days to any Member. Each Member's Available Commitment shall be reduced by the amount of any distribution or proceeds retained by the Manager pursuant to this Section.

3.4 Default.

3.4.1 The failure by any Member to make, when due or within five (5) business days thereafter, any portion of the Capital Contribution required to be contributed by such Member pursuant to this Agreement or any other payment required to be made by the Member to the Company shall constitute an "Event of Default" by such Member. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, such Member may be deemed a "Defaulting Member" and the following provisions of this Section will apply. The Manager, in its sole discretion, may choose not to designate any Member as a Defaulting Member and may agree to waive or permit the cure of any Event of Default by a Member, subject to such conditions as the Manager and such Member may agree upon.

3.4.2 A Defaulting Member may, in the sole discretion of the Manager, be terminated for Cause.

3.4.3 A Defaulting Member may, in the sole discretion of the Manager, be charged interest on the unpaid balance of any overdue Capital Contributions or other payments, at the Prime Rate from the date such balance was due and payable through the date full payment for such contribution or payment is actually made. No such additional amount or interest shall be treated as a Capital Contribution hereunder or reduce the Available Commitment of such Defaulting Member.

3.4.4 Except as required by the Act, whenever the vote, consent or decision of Members is required or permitted pursuant to this Agreement, a Defaulting Member shall not be entitled to participate in such vote or consent, or to make such decision, and such vote, consent or decision shall be tabulated or made as if such Defaulting Member was not a Member.

3.4.5 The Manager's exercise of any of the foregoing remedies upon an Event of Default does not preclude the Company from seeking injunctive relief, monetary damages or any other legal remedies to which the Company is entitled in connection with an Event of Default.

3.5 Third Party Financing; Personal Guarantees. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if the Manager determines that the Company requires additional capital, the Company may obtain loan(s) from banking facilities or other Persons at a reasonable interest rate. In the event the Company arranges for financing and the party providing such financing requests the personal guarantee of the Members to secure such financing, each Member shall be required to execute such personal guarantees and to meet any and all other requirements required by the party providing the financing. The Company shall use reasonable efforts to limit the guarantee obligations of its Members to limited, several guarantees, rather than unlimited, joint and several guarantees, if reasonably obtainable without material additional cost or burden to the Company. Each Member shall cross indemnify and hold harmless each of the other Members from and against any and all liabilities, claims, causes of action, damages, costs and expenses (including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees) ("Claim") relating to any amounts at issue that have been personally guaranteed by any Member such that each Member shall be responsible for a portion of the Claim amount equal to the product of: the total Claim amount multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which equals that Member's Capital Commitment, and the denominator of which equals the total Capital Commitment of all Members. The Company shall use reasonable efforts to cause the release of a Selling Member from any and all personal guarantees signed by the Selling Member with respect to Company debt, if reasonably obtainable without material additional cost or burden to the Company.

3.6 Failure to Make Additional Contributions. Upon a Member's failure to make any Capital Contribution or submit a personal guarantee, in whole or in part, the Manager shall have the right to terminate such Member for Cause.

3.7 No Personal Liability. Except as otherwise provided in this Article III, no Member shall be required to undertake any personal liability for any obligation of the Company.

3.8 No Interest on Capital Contributions or Capital Accounts. No Member shall be paid interest in respect of either the Member's Capital Contributions or the Member's Capital Account balance.

3.9 Return of Capital Contributions. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or as otherwise required by Applicable Law, no Member shall be entitled to the return of any part of the Member's Capital Contribution. No Member shall have any personal liability for the return of the Capital Contribution of any other Member.

3.10 Form of Distribution. If a Member is entitled to receive a return of any part of the Member's Capital Contribution, the Member shall not have the right to receive anything but cash, unless otherwise determined by the Manager.

3.11 Capital Accounts. A separate Capital Account shall be maintained for each Member, in accordance with Code and the Regulations.

3.12 Additional Members; Dilution. If a new Member shall be admitted to the Company in accordance herewith (each an "Additional Member"), the Manager may issue additional Units to the Additional Member, and the percentage Interests of all existing Members will be diluted on a pro-rata basis proportionate to the percentage Interest held by the existing Members immediately prior to the admission of an Additional Member to the Company. All such dilution of the existing Members will be effected without compensation to the Members from whom such percentage Interests are diluted. As a condition to being admitted to the Company, each Additional Member must comply with the requirements described in this Agreement and must execute and deliver to the Company an agreement to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Upon the admission of any Additional Member, Exhibit A will be amended by the Manager, without any approval or consent of any Member, to reflect the name, address, and percentage Interest of such Additional Member and to adjust, if necessary, the percentage Interests of the other Members to reflect the addition of the Additional Member.

ARTICLE IV
Distributions; Allocations

4.1 Distributions. Subject to maintaining the Company in sound financial and cash position, and establishing such Reserves as are determined by the Manager to be reasonably required for the proper operation of the Company, at times approved by the Manager, the Company shall distribute funds of the Company as provided herein.

4.2 Distribution of Net Capital Proceeds. Net Capital Proceeds shall be distributed and applied by the Company in accordance with the following order and priority:

4.2.1 To the payment of debts and liabilities of the Company then due and outstanding (including all debts due to any Member); then

4.2.2 The balance shall be distributed as follows:

a. To the Members in proportion to their Adjusted Capital Contributions, until their remaining Adjusted Capital Contributions have been paid in full; and

b. The balance, to the Members pro-rata in accordance with their percentage Interest.

4.3 Distribution of Cash Flow. The Cash Flow of the Company shall be distributed to the Members in accordance with their percentage Interest.

4.4 Allocation of Profits and Losses. After giving effect to the special allocations set forth in Section 4.5, Profits and Losses shall be allocated to the Members in accordance with their percentage Interest, provided that no Member shall be allocated a Loss that creates or increases an Adjusted Capital Account Deficit for such Member.

4.5 Regulatory Allocations.

4.5.1 Minimum Gain Chargeback. Except as set forth in Section 1.704-2(f) of the Regulations, if, during any taxable year, there is a net decrease in Minimum Gain, then each Member, prior to any other allocation under this Section 4.5, shall be specially allocated items of gross income and gain for such taxable year (and, if necessary, subsequent taxable years) in an amount equal to that Member's share of the net decrease of Minimum Gain, computed in accordance with Section 1.704-2(g) of the Regulations. Allocations of gross income and gain under this Section 4.5.1 shall be made first from gain recognized from the disposition of Company assets subject to Nonrecourse Liabilities, to the extent of the Minimum Gain attributable to those assets, and thereafter, from a pro-rata portion of the Company's other items of income and gain for the taxable year. It is the intent of the parties that any allocation under this Section 4.5.1 shall constitute a "minimum gain chargeback" under Section 1.704-2(f) of the Regulations.

4.5.2 Member Minimum Gain Chargeback. Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.704-2(i)(4) of the Regulations, if, during any taxable year, there is a net decrease in Member Minimum Gain attributable to a Member Nonrecourse Liability during any taxable year, then each Member who has a share of the Member Minimum Gain attributable to such Member Nonrecourse Liability shall be specially allocated items of gross income and gain for such taxable year (and, if necessary, subsequent taxable years) in an amount equal to that Member's share of the net decrease in the Member Minimum Gain. This allocation shall be made after the allocation under Section 4.5.1, and prior to any other allocation under this Section 4.5. Allocations of gross income and gain under this Section 4.5.2 shall be made first from gain recognized from the disposition of Company assets subject to Member Nonrecourse Liabilities to the extent of Member Minimum Gain attributable to those assets, and thereafter, from a pro-rata portion of the Company's other items of income and gain for the taxable year. It is the intent of the parties that any allocation under this Section 4.5.2 shall constitute a "minimum gain chargeback" under Section 1.704-2(i) of the Regulations.

4.5.3 Qualified Income Offset. If any Member unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6) of the Regulations, then items of gross income and gain shall be specially allocated to each such Member in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the Adjusted Capital Account Deficit of such Member as quickly as possible. An allocation under this Section 4.5.3 shall be made only if and to the extent that such Member would have an Adjusted Capital Account Deficit after all other allocations provided for under this Section 4.5 have been tentatively made as if this Section 4.5.3 were not in the Agreement.

4.5.4 Nonrecourse Deductions. Nonrecourse Deductions for a taxable year or other period shall be specially allocated among the Members on a pro-rata basis in accordance with their percentage Interest.

4.5.5 Member Nonrecourse Deductions. Any Member Nonrecourse Deduction for any taxable year or other period shall be specially allocated to the Member who bears the risk of loss with respect to the Member Nonrecourse Liability to which the Member Nonrecourse Deduction is attributable, as determined in accordance with Section 1.704-2(b) of the Regulations.

4.5.6 Code Section 754 Adjustment. To the extent an adjustment to the tax basis of any Company asset under Code Section 734(b) or Code Section 743(b) is required, under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Regulations, to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of the adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases basis), and the gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted under that section of the Regulations.

4.5.7 Contributed Property and Book-Ups. In accordance with Code Section 704(c) and the Regulations thereunder, as well as Section 1.704-l(b)(2)(iv)(d)(3) of the Regulations, income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to any property contributed (or deemed contributed) to the Company shall, solely for tax purposes, be allocated among the Members so as to take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of the property to the Company for federal income tax purposes and its fair market value at the date of contribution (or deemed contribution). If the adjusted book value of any Company asset is adjusted as provided herein, then subsequent allocations of income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to the asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of the asset for federal income tax purposes and its adjusted book value in the manner required under Code Section 704(c) and the Regulations thereunder. Allocations under this Section 4.5.7 are solely for the purpose of federal, state, and local taxes, and shall not be taken into account in determining any Member's Capital Account and allocable share of Profits and Losses.

4.5.8 Withholding. All amounts required to be withheld under Code Section 1446 or any other provision of Applicable Law shall be treated as amounts actually distributed to the affected Members for all purposes under this Agreement.

4.6 Liquidation and Dissolution.

4.6.1 If the Company is liquidated, then the assets of the Company shall be distributed in accordance with Article VII.

4.6.2 No Member shall be obligated to restore a Negative Capital Account.

4.7 General.

4.7.1 Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, the timing and amount of all distributions shall be determined by the Manager. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent permitted by law, the Company shall endeavor to make such minimum distributions at such times during the calendar year as enables the Members to use such distributions to satisfy, when due, their estimated and final income tax liabilities by reason of income allocated to the Members by the Company for the calendar year.

4.7.2 If any assets of the Company are distributed in kind to the Members, then those assets shall be valued at their fair market value, and any Member entitled to any interest in those assets shall receive that interest as a tenant-in-common with all other Members so entitled. Unless otherwise determined by the Manager, the fair market value of the assets shall be determined by an independent appraiser who shall be selected by the Manager. The Profit or Loss for each unsold asset shall be determined as if the asset had been sold at its fair market value, and the Profit or Loss shall be allocated as provided in Section 4.4 and shall be properly credited or charged to the Capital Accounts of the Members prior to the distribution of the assets.

4.7.3 All Profits and Losses shall be allocated, and all distributions shall be made to the Persons shown on the records of the Company to have been Members as of the last day of the taxable year for which the allocation or distribution is to be made. Notwithstanding the foregoing, unless the Company's taxable year is otherwise separated into two or more short years, if there is a Transfer during the taxable year, the Profits and Losses shall be allocated between the original Member and the successor on the basis of the number of days each was a Member during the taxable year.

4.7.4 The Manager is hereby authorized, upon the advice of the Company's tax counsel, to amend this Article IV to comply with the Code and the Regulations promulgated under Code Section 704(b); provided, however, that no amendment shall materially affect distributions to a Member without the Member's prior written consent.

ARTICLE V
Governance

5.1 Manager.

5.1.1 Management. The management and the control of the Company shall be vested in the Manager. Manager shall initially be Brian Truax. If Brian Truax is no longer the Manager, Tyler Truax shall be appointed Manager indefinitely. If either Brian Truax or Tyler Truax are unable to serve as Manager, a new Manager shall be elected by a majority vote of the Members. Any Manager, except Brian Truax, may be removed for "Cause," as defined herein, by a majority vote of the Members. For purposes of this Section 5.1.1 Cause shall be defined as, (i) a material breach of the Manager's fiduciary duty; (ii) conviction of the Manager of a felony or crime of moral turpitude; and (iii) exclusion from participation in federal healthcare programs. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or Applicable Law (including, without limitation, the Act), the Manager shall have the full, exclusive, and absolute right, power and authority to manage and control the business, property and affairs of the Company. The Manager may bind and otherwise act as an agent of the Company in relation to third parties and outside affairs. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Manager shall have the power and authority to:

a. Make expenditures for the benefit of the Company and to incur obligations on behalf of the Company in order to implement the business and purposes of the Company;

b. Employ or retain Persons, including any Member and any affiliate of any Member, whether full-time or part-time, at the expense of the Company, to perform services in connection with the operation and management of the Company's business on such terms and for such compensation as the Manager shall determine, in its sole and absolute discretion;

c. Negotiate, do any act, or enter into or execute and deliver, in furtherance of any or all of the purposes of the Company, any and all agreements, contracts, documents, certifications and other instruments of any nature deemed necessary, convenient or desirable in connection with the business and affairs of the Company, all of which may contain such terms, provisions and conditions as the Manager, in its sole and absolute discretion, shall deem appropriate;

d. Sell, exchange, convey, trade, surrender, release, abandon or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the assets of the Company, at such price or amount, for cash, securities or other property, and upon such terms and conditions as the Manager, in its sole and absolute discretion, deems advisable, appropriate or convenient and to be in the best interests of the Company;

e. Use the funds of the Company, including the Capital Contributions and borrowings, if any, for any purposes and on any terms that the Manager, in its sole and absolute discretion, determines to be appropriate, including without limitation, the costs of conducting the business and activities of the Company, the payment of its obligations and the repayment of its borrowings, if any;

f. Borrow money and incur indebtedness required for the business and affairs of the Company and, if security is required therefor, to secure the repayment of such borrowings by executing mortgages or deeds of trust, pledging or otherwise encumbering or subjecting to security interests, all or any part of the assets of the Company; obtain replacements of any loan, and repay, in whole or in part, refinance, increase, modify, consolidate, or extend the maturity of any indebtedness created by such borrowings, or any such mortgage, deed of trust, pledge, encumbrance, or other security device, all upon such terms as the Manager deems, in its sole and absolute discretion, to be in the best interests of the Company;

g. Acquire and enter into any contract of insurance which the Manager deems necessary or appropriate for the protection of the Company or for the conservation of Company assets;

h. Prepare or cause to be prepared reports, statements and other relevant information for dissemination to Members;

i. Open accounts and deposit and maintain funds in the name of the Company in banks, trust companies or securities broker-dealers and designate the signatories thereon; provided, however, that the Company's funds shall not be commingled with the funds of any other Person;

j. Establish a record date with respect to all actions to be taken hereunder that require a record date be established, including with respect to allocations and distributions; and

k. Bring and defend on behalf of the Company actions and proceedings at law or in equity before any court or governmental, administrative or other regulatory agency, body or commission or otherwise.

The expression of any power or authority of the Manager in this Agreement shall not in any way limit or exclude any other power or authority which is not specifically or expressly set forth in this Agreement.

5.1.2 Limitations. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager shall not undertake any of the following actions without a Supermajority Vote of the Members:

a. Selling, leasing, exchanging or otherwise disposing of all, or substantially all, of the Company's property and/or assets outside the ordinary course of activities of the Company;

b. Approving a merger, conversion or domestication;

c. Dissolving or liquidating the Company;

d. Amending or modifying this Agreement or the Certificate of Organization, except as otherwise permitted herein;

e. The creation, incurring or assumption of any indebtedness for borrowed money by or on behalf of the Company that requires the personal guarantees of the Members;

f. The acquisition of any equipment, real or personal property by or on behalf of the Company having a cost or value in excess of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00);

g. Any other actions outside the ordinary course of activities of the Company; or

h. Filing of a voluntary petition for relief by the Company under any provision of the United States Bankruptcy Code or any similar or other law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, or other similar relief.

5.1.3 Duties; Outside Activities. The Manager shall devote to the Company's business such time as is necessary for the proper performance of the Manager's duties. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement (including, without limitation, Article X), a Manager: (a) shall have no exclusive duty to act on behalf of the Company; (b) may have other business interests and may engage in other activities in addition to those relating to the Company; and (c) shall not incur any liability to the Company or to any of the Members as a result of engaging in any other business or venture. Neither the Company nor any Member shall have the right, by virtue of this Agreement, to share or participate in any other investments or activities of the Manager or to the income or profits derived therefrom.

5.1.4 Transactions between a Manager and the Company. A Manager does not violate a duty or obligation to the Company (fiduciary or otherwise) and a Manager shall not be liable to the Company, the Members or any other Person merely because the Manager's conduct furthers the Manager's own interests. A Manager may lend money to and transact other business with the Company, including, without limitation, entering into one or more agreements, leases, contracts or other arrangement with the Company for the furnishing of goods, services or space, provided that the rights and obligations of the Manager are substantially the same as those of a Person who is not a Manager. No transaction with the Company shall be voidable solely because a Manager has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction if a majority of the disinterested Members, knowing the material facts of the transaction and the Manager's interest, authorize, approve or ratify the transaction.

5.1.5 Compensation. Any Manager who is also a Member shall not be entitled to any consideration for services provided by that Manager on behalf of the Company, unless approved by a vote of the Members. However, the Company shall reimburse the Manager for all ordinary and necessary out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Manager in his capacity as the Manager on behalf of the Company. If a Manager is appointed who is not also a Member, such Manager shall be entitled to reasonable compensation for his or her efforts in an amount to be mutually agreed upon between the non-Member Manager and the Members.

5.1.6 Amendments by the Manager. This Agreement may be amended by the Manager, without the consent or vote of the Members, if such amendment is: (a) for the purpose of clarification hereof and does not change the substance hereof; (b) necessary or appropriate, in the opinion of counsel for the Company, to comply with Applicable Law, provided such amendment does not adversely affect the interests of the Members; (c) necessary or advisable to comply with the Regulations or the Code, provided that such amendment does not adversely affect the interests of the Members; and (d) necessary or advisable to cure any ambiguity or to correct or to supplement any provisions hereof which may be inconsistent with any other provision hereof, provided such amendment does not adversely affect the interests of the Members.

5.2 Members.

5.2.1 Authority. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or required by any non-waivable provisions of the Act, a Member, in the Member's capacity as such, shall not have: (a) any power or authority to act for, or to undertake or assume any obligation or responsibility on behalf or in the name of the Company; or (b) any right to receive notice of, to be informed of, to participate in, to have any input into, to vote to approve or disapprove or to have any control over the business or affairs of the Company.

5.2.2 Meetings of the Members. A meeting of the Members may be called at any time by the Manager or the Member(s) holding at least forty-nine (49%) percent of the Units.

5.2.3 Place of Meetings. All meetings of the Members shall be held at the principal place of business of the Company or at such other place within the State of Minnesota as the Manager may select from time-to-time. Members may participate in a meeting by means of telephone conference, video conference or similar communications equipment provided that each Member participating in such meeting can hear the other participating Members. Such participation in a meeting will constitute presence in person at the meeting. If all Members are participating by telephone conference, video conference or similar communications equipment, the meeting will be deemed to be held at the principal place of business of the Company.

5.2.4 Notice of Meetings. Not less than five (5) nor more than thirty (30) days before each meeting of the Members, the Manager shall give written notice of the meeting to each Member entitled to vote at the meeting. The notice shall state the time, place and purpose of the meeting. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each Member who is entitled to notice shall be deemed to have waived notice if, before or after the meeting, the Member signs a waiver of the notice that is filed with the records of meetings, or is present at the meeting without objection.

5.2.5 Quorum. The presence, in person or via communication device described above, of the Manager and the Members holding the same or a greater percentage of Units as would be required necessary to effectuate the applicable vote shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present at any meeting of the Members, the Members present may adjourn the meeting without notice other than announcement at the meeting and the meeting shall remain adjourned until a quorum is present, at which time it shall be re-convened.

5.2.6 Voting. Each Member shall have one (1) vote for each Unit (or fraction thereof) held by such Member on all matters being considered by the Members for which such Member is entitled to vote upon hereunder. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the Units held by the Members entitled to vote shall be an act of the Members.

5.2.7 Action without Meeting. Any action or decision that may be made at a meeting of the Members also may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, pursuant to a written instrument or instruments indicating the consent of those Members holding the same or a greater percentage of Units as would be necessary to effectuate the applicable vote. A Member's written consent may be evidenced by such Member's signature on a counterpart of the proposal or by a separate writing (including a facsimile) that identifies the proposal with reasonable specificity and states that the Member consents to such proposal.

5.2.8 Duties; Outside Activities. Each Member shall devote to the Company's business such time as is necessary for the proper performance of the Member's duties. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, a Member: (a) shall have no exclusive duty to act on behalf of the Company; (b) may have other business interests and may engage in other activities in addition to those relating to the Company; and (c) shall not incur any liability to the Company or to any of the Members as a result of engaging in any other business or venture. Neither the Company nor any Member shall have the right, by virtue of this Agreement, to share or participate in any other investments or activities of any other Member or to the income or profits derived therefrom.

5.2.9 Transactions between Members and Company. A Member does not violate a duty or obligation to the Company (fiduciary or otherwise) and a Member shall not be liable to the Company, the Members or any other Person merely because the Member's conduct furthers the Member's own interests. A Member may lend money to and transact other business with the Company, including, without limitation, entering into one or more agreements, leases, contracts or other arrangement with the Company for the furnishing of goods, services or space, provided that the rights and obligations of a Member who lends money to or transacts business with the Company are substantially the same as those of a Person who is not a Member. No transaction with the Company shall be voidable solely because a Member has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction if a majority of the disinterested Members, knowing the material facts of the transaction and the Member's interest, authorize, approve or ratify the transaction.

5.2.10 Termination for Cause. Upon the occurrence of an event constituting Cause (as defined below), the Member (or Affiliated Individual of such Member) to whom such event has occurred shall immediately forfeit the Member's Interest, unless otherwise determined by the Manager. Each Member shall have an affirmative duty to notify the Company in writing within five (5) days after the occurrence of an event constituting Cause hereunder. For purposes of this Agreement, "Cause" means the occurrence of one or more of the following events:

a. A Member's or Affiliated Individual's (i) criminal indictment, (ii) participation in any dishonest act vis-a-vis the assets or income of Company or any Person with which Company is affiliated, whether or not of a criminal nature, (iii) participation in conduct having a reasonable prospect of materially damaging the reputation or integrity of Company or any Person with which Company is affiliated, (iv) participation in any act which materially impairs or jeopardizes Company's status under any agreement or contract Company has with any other Person;

b. A Member's attempt to Transfer the Member's Interest (or any part thereof) without the prior approval of the Manager as set forth herein;

c. A Member's failure to make a Capital Contribution or submit a personal guarantee in accordance with Article III;

d. A Member becoming a Bankrupt Member;

e. A Member's or Affiliated Individual's failure to abide by any the restrictive covenants set forth in Article IX or Article X;

f. A Member's material breach of any term, condition or covenant of this Agreement (except as set forth above), provided that such Member shall be entitled to thirty (30) days prior written notice, during which time the Member shall have the right to attempt to cure such breach to the reasonable satisfaction of Company; provided, however, that no advance notice shall be required if the breach is not reasonably likely to be cured within such thirty (30) day period.

5.3 Limitation on Liability; Indemnification.

5.4.1 Limitation on Liability. Except as otherwise required by any non-waivable provision of the Act or other Applicable Law, no Manager or Member will be personally liable in any manner whatsoever for any debt, liability or other obligation of the Company, whether such debt, liability or other obligation arises in contract, tort, or otherwise.

5.4.2 Indemnification. The Company, its receiver or its trustee will indemnify and hold harmless each Manager and Member (each an "Indemnified Party"), to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law, from and against any and all losses, damages, judgments, liabilities, costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) arising from any claims, suits, demands or other proceeding in which the Indemnified Party may be involved, or threatened to be involved as a party or otherwise, relating to the performance or nonperformance of any act concerning the activities of the Company, if (i) the Indemnified Party acted in good faith and in a manner it believed to be in, or not contrary to, the best interests of the Company, and (ii) the Indemnified Party's conduct did not constitute gross negligence, willful misconduct or knowing violation of law. The termination of an action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, will not, in and of itself, create a presumption or otherwise constitute evidence that the Indemnified Party acted in a manner contrary to that specified in clauses (i) or (ii) above. This Section will not be deemed to create any rights for the benefit of any other Person.

5.4.3 Expenses. The Company may advance to each Indemnified Party the costs of defending any claim, suit or action against such Indemnified Party if the Indemnified Party executes a written instrument, in the form approved by the Company, by which the Indemnified Party undertakes to repay the funds advanced, with interest, if it is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that such Indemnified Party is not entitled to indemnification under Section 5.4.2.

ARTICLE VI
Transfers; Buy-Out

6.1 Transfers to Third Parties.

6.1.1 Restrictions on Transfers. Except as otherwise permitted by this Agreement, no Member may Transfer all or any portion of such Member's Interests, or grant or create any participation in such Member's right to receive distributions or returns of capital from the Company. Any purported Transfer in violation of this Section 6.1 shall be deemed null and void, and of no force or effect. Each Member hereby acknowledges the reasonableness of this provision in view of the purposes of the Company and the relationship of the Members. Any assignee desiring to make a further Transfer will be subject to all of the provisions of this Section 6.1 to the same extent and in the same manner as any other Member desiring to make any Transfer.

6.1.2 Permitted Transfers. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Member may Transfer all or a portion of the Member's Interest with the prior written consent of the Manager, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Following the Transfer of a Member's entire Interest, the transferring Member shall have no further rights as a Member of the Company.

6.1.3 Transfers by Operation of Law. If, notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 6.1, any Person acquires all or any part of the Interest of a Member in violation of this Section 6.1 by operation of law, judicial proceeding or otherwise, the holder(s) of such Interest shall be an assignee and shall be entitled to receive only the share of income, gain, deductions, credits, and losses and the return of contributions to which said Member would otherwise be entitled ("Economic Rights"), and said Person will not be entitled or enabled to exercise any other rights or powers of a Member, including, without limitation, the right to vote on matters coming before the Manager or Members, grant approvals or give consents with respect to such Interest, the right to require any information or accounting of the Company's business, the right to receive any notices provided under this Agreement, the right to inspect the Company's books and records, or have any other rights of a Member under this Agreement or the Act ("Membership Rights").

6.1.4 Substituted Members. No assignee or transferee of a Member's Interest shall become a Member unless the following conditions are satisfied:

a. The Interest to which the assignee or transferee is admitted was acquired by means of Transfer permitted under this Agreement; and

b. The assignee or transferee agrees to bear all costs and expenses, including legal fees, of the Company incurred in effecting such substitution; and

c. The assignee or transferee becomes a party to this Agreement as a Member and executes such documents and instruments as the Company may reasonably request as necessary or appropriate to confirm such assignee or transferee as a Member in the Company and such assignee's or transferee's agreement to be bound by the terms and conditions of this Agreement; and

d. The assignee or transferee furnishes copies of all instruments effecting the transfer, opinions of counsel and such other certificates, instruments and documents as the Company may require.

6.1.5 Rights of Transferees. Until such time, if any, as an assignee or transferee of any Transfer pursuant to this Agreement is admitted to the Company as a Member pursuant to Section 6.1.4: (i) such assignee or transferee will only will receive, to the extent Transferred, the Economic Rights to which the Member that Transferred its Interest would be entitled; and (ii) such assignee or transferee will not be entitled or enabled to exercise any Membership Rights. Additionally, an assignee or transferee of any Transfer pursuant to this Agreement shall be obligated to make any required Capital Contributions to which the Member that Transferred its Interest would be obligated to make in accordance with Article III.

6.1.6 Disputed Transfers. If the ownership of Units is in doubt, or if or there is reasonable doubt as to who is entitled to a distribution of the income realized from Units, the Company may accumulate the income until the issue is finally determined and resolved. Accumulated income will be credited to the capital account of the Member of record whose interest is in question.

6.2 Buy-Out of a Selling Member.

6.2.1 Continuation. The Company shall continue upon any Member becoming a Selling Member.

6.2.2 Triggering Event. In the event a Member becomes a Selling Member ("Triggering Event"), the Selling Member will be deemed to have offered to the remaining Members the Selling Member's entire Interest in the Company ("Offered Interest") within the timeframes and upon the other terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement.

6.2.3 Member Option to Purchase. The remaining Member(s) will have thirty (30) calendar days from receipt of written notice of the applicable Triggering Event within which to exercise, by written notice to the Manager ("Option Notice"), the option to purchase all or a portion of the Offered Interest at the Purchase Price (as set forth below). If more than one (1) remaining Member elects to purchase the Offered Interest, then each purchasing Member will have a right to purchase that portion of the Offered Interest that the number of Units held by such Member bears to the number of Units held by all of the Members electing to purchase the Offered Interest. Each Member electing to purchase will, within fifteen (15) days following receipt of the Option Notice, give notice to the Manager of the maximum portion of the Offered Interest that such Member is willing to purchase. If any Member elects to purchase less than such Member's pro-rata portion of the Offered Interest, the unpurchased portion of such Member's pro-rata portion may be purchased by any of the remaining Members. If more than one (1) Member is willing to purchase the remaining Offered Interest, then each Member will have the option to purchase that portion of the remaining Offered Interest that the number of Units held by such Member bears to the number of Units held by all Members electing to purchase the remaining Offered Interest. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the remaining Members may, by agreement among themselves, determine the proportion in which they will exercise the option granted in this Section 6.2.3.

6.2.4 Company Option to Purchase. If the entire Offered Interest is not purchased by the remaining Members, the Selling Member shall be deemed to have offered the remaining portion of the Offered Interest to the Company.

6.2.5 Unpurchased Units. If all of such Units are not purchased by the remaining Members and/or the Company, then the owner of such Units will only have Economic Rights with respect to such Units and shall continue to be obligated to make any required Capital Contributions the owner would be obligated to make in accordance with Article III.

6.2.6 Purchase Price. Subject to the limitations and reductions set forth herein, the purchase price payable to the Selling Member shall equal the Fair Market Value of the Company as of the Separation Date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which equals the number of Units held by the Selling Member which are subject to repurchase, and the denominator of which equals the total number of Units held by all of the Members (including the Selling Member) ("Purchase Price"); provided, however, that if the Selling Member is terminated for Cause pursuant to Section 3.4.2, then the Purchase Price payable to such Selling Member shall be reduced by the Selling Member's Available Commitment.

6.2.7 Closing. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, the closing of the purchase and sale of an Offered Interest ("Closing") shall take place on a date designated by Company ("Closing Date") in a written notice to the Selling Member, which shall occur no later than ninety (90) days after the date on which written notice to exercise the option is given.

6.2.8 Closing Deliverables. At the Closing, the Selling Member shall deliver the following: (a) good, valid and marketable title to the Offered Interest, free and clear of all liens, adverse claims, pledges, security interests, charges and encumbrances of any kind; (b) a certificate or certificates representing the Offered Interests being purchased endorsed by the Selling Member, if applicable; (c) a written resignation of the Selling Member as an officer, manager and Member of the Company, as applicable; and (d) such other documents which the Company shall deem reasonably necessary to effectuate the sale of the applicable portion of the Offered Interest.

6.2.9 Power of Attorney. Each Member hereby grants the Company an irrevocable power of attorney for the sole purpose of executing such documents as may be necessary and or desirable to evidence the sale of the Offered Interest if the Selling Member fails to do so in accordance herewith.

6.2.10 Payment of the Purchase Price. Each Purchaser may elect to pay all or a portion of the Purchase Price to the Selling Member on the Closing Date. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, to the extent not paid on the Closing Date, each Purchaser shall pay the remaining balance of the Purchase Price in sixty (60) equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal, plus interest at the minimum rate necessary to avoid imputed interest under the Internal Revenue Code, beginning on the first (1st) business day of the third (3rd) month succeeding the month in which the Closing takes place, and continuing on or before the fifteenth (15th) day of each month thereafter until paid in full; provided, however, that the Purchaser(s) shall have the right to prepay all or any part of the principal amount, together with any accrued interest thereon, at any time, without premium or penalty. If a Purchaser shall fail to pay any installment of the Purchase Price within thirty (30) days of the date due, the Selling Member may, after providing written notice to such Purchaser of such default and affording such Purchaser an additional ten (10) days to cure such default, accelerate payment and declare the entire unpaid principal balance, together with accrued interest, immediately due and payable by giving written notice to such Purchaser of such acceleration. Any installments of the Purchase Price not made within thirty (30) days of date due shall bear interest at the rate of one (1%) percent per month. Additionally, the defaulting Purchaser shall be responsible for reimbursing the Selling Member for all costs and expenses incurred by the Selling Member in connection with enforcing the Selling Member's rights to collect the Purchase Price hereunder, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees.

6.2.11 Proxy. During the period beginning on the Separation Date and ending with the Closing Date, this Agreement shall be deemed to be a proxy from the Selling Member to the remaining Member or the remaining Members, as the case may be, to vote the Units owned by the Selling Member on the Separation Date at any and all meetings of Members, whether annual or special. Each remaining Member shall have the right to vote a number of the Units owned by the Selling Member on the Separation Date equal to the product of: the total amount of Units owned by the Selling Member on that date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which shall equal the amount of Units then owned by that remaining Members, and the denominator of which shall equal the total amount of Units then owned by all of the remaining Members. Each remaining Member shall have the full and complete right to vote such Units at the Member's sole discretion and as the Member shall determine with respect to all matters which may come before such meetings, except that the remaining Member shall not have the right to vote such Units to reduce the rights of the Selling Member.

6.2.12 Payment on Death. If a Selling Member dies before the payments of the Purchase Price have been completed, then the Purchaser(s) shall pay the balance of such payments to the legal representative of the Selling Member in the same amounts and under the same terms as would have otherwise been payable to such Selling Member pursuant to this Agreement.

6.2.13 Offsets. The Company shall have the right to offset against the payment or payments of the Purchase Price due to the Selling Member, any negative Capital Account balances of the Selling Member, the amount of all loans or other indebtedness due from the Selling Member to the Company, and to the extent so credited against the Purchase Price, such obligations of the Selling Member shall be deemed to be and shall be canceled and discharged. All such offsets against the Purchase Price owed to the Selling Member shall be made regardless of the due date of any such loan or other indebtedness.

6.2.14 Adjustment for Pre-Paid Expenses. The Purchase Price shall be reduced by the amount of any expenses and benefits paid by the Company for the benefit of a Selling Member which relate to the period after the Selling Member's Separation Date.

6.2.15 Deficit. In the event the amounts owed by a Selling Member to the Company exceed the Purchase Price and any other amounts payable to such Selling Member ("Deficit"), the Selling Member shall pay such Deficit to the Company within thirty (30) days of the Closing Date.

6.2.16 Forfeiture. The provisions of this Section 6 and all payments hereunder are conditioned upon the Selling Member abiding by the restrictive covenants set forth in this Agreement. Any breach by the Selling Member of any restrictive covenants shall make the obligation of the Company to make any further payments of the Purchase Price null and void, and the Selling Member shall be required to repay a sum equal to any payments of the Purchase Price previously received by the Selling Member hereunder.

6.2.17 No Voluntary Withdrawal of Member. No Member shall have the right to voluntarily withdraw as Member.

6.2.18 Relief. The repurchase of all or any portion of the Offered Interest of a Selling Member under this Section 6 does not preclude the Company from seeking injunctive relief, monetary damages or any other legal remedies to which the Company is entitled due to the actions of the Selling Member or failure to comply with the restrictive covenants set forth in Article IX or Article X.

6.2.19 Drag-Along Rights.

a. If the Manager approves the sale of all, or less than all, of the Units held by all of the Members (the "Collective Interests") to a third party in a single transaction or series of transactions, then the Manager shall deliver a written notice ("Sale Notice") to the Members which states the material terms and conditions of the proposed sale (including, without limitation, the total purchase price, and the name, business and residence address of the proposed purchaser(s)) and shall have attached any documentation related to the proposed sale.

b. Upon providing the Sale Notice, the Manager shall have the right to require all of the Members to sell all or a pro-rated portion of their Units according to the same terms and conditions according to the terms and conditions set forth in the offer approved by the Manager, subject to appropriate adjustment for lack of voting rights and for other preferences and privileges set forth herein. The Manager shall arrange for the proposed purchaser to purchase such Units from the Members according to the same terms and conditions as set forth in Sale Notice. The Members hereby agree and covenant to enter into the appropriate sales documents, amended operating agreement of the Company and other documents related to the transaction, as may be required to effectuate the transaction. Failure to abide by the terms of this provision shall be grounds for termination for Cause. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each of the Members hereby grants the Company an irrevocable power of attorney to enter such agreements and documents on behalf of such Member, or as are reasonably required to effectuate the sale of the Collective Interests.

ARTICLE VII
Dissolution and Liquidation

7.1 Events of Dissolution. The Company shall be dissolved upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

7.1.1 Upon the Supermajority Vote of the Members, including the written consent of the sole remaining Member of the Company; or

7.1.2 Any other event causing the dissolution of the Company under the laws of the State of Minnesota, unless provided otherwise herein.

7.2 Continuation. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, upon the occurrence of any of the events specified in Section 7.1, the business of the Company may be continued by the Supermajority Vote of the Members within ninety (90) days of the occurrence of such event.

The assets of the Company shall be sold within a reasonable period of time to the extent necessary to pay or provide for the payment of all debts and liabilities of the Company, and may be sold to the extent deemed practicable and prudent by the Manager.

7.3.2 The Manager shall file, or cause to be filed, all certificates or notices of the dissolution of the Company as required by Applicable Law and perform any other acts necessary or appropriate to wind up the affairs of the Company. Upon the complete liquidation and distribution of the property and assets of the Company, the Members shall cease to be Members of the Company, and the Members shall execute, acknowledge and cause to be filed all certificates and notices required by Applicable Law to terminate the Company.

7.4 Distributions. The net proceeds resulting from the liquidation of the assets of the Company shall be distributed in accordance with the following priorities:

7.4.1 First, to the payment, to the extent required by any lender or creditor, of accrued expenses, debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company;

7.4.2 Second, to the setting up of any Reserve which the Manager deems necessary to provide for any contingent or unforeseen liabilities or obligations of the Company; provided, however, that at the expiration of such period of time as the Manager deems advisable, the balance of such Reserve shall be distributed in the manner hereinafter set forth in this Section 7.4;

7.4.3 Third, to Members to repay any loans or advances made by them to the Company; and

7.4.4 Fourth, the balance shall be distributed to the Members on a pro-rata basis in accordance with their percentage Interest.

7.5 Distributions to Members. Distributions to Members pursuant to this Article VII shall be made by the end of the taxable year of the liquidation, or, if later, ninety (90) days after the date of such liquidation in accordance with Regulations.

ARTICLE VIII
Books, Records, Accounting, and Tax Elections

8.1 Bank Accounts. All funds of the Company shall be deposited in a bank account or accounts opened in the Company's name. The Manager shall determine the institution or institutions at which the accounts will be opened and maintained, the types of accounts, and the Persons who will have authority with respect to the accounts and the funds therein.

8.2 Books and Records.

8.2.1 The Manager shall keep, or cause to be kept, complete and accurate books and records of the Company and supporting documentation of the transactions with respect to the conduct of the Company's business. The records shall include, but not be limited to: (a) complete and accurate information regarding the state of the business and financial condition of the Company; (b) a copy of the Certificate of Organization and this Agreement, all amendments to the Certificate of Organization and this Agreement, and all executed copies of any written powers of attorney pursuant to which this Agreement, any certificate, and all amendments thereto have been executed; (c) a current list of the names and last known business, residence, or mailing addresses of all Members and the dates they became Members; (d) the Company's federal, state, and local tax returns; and (e) true and full information regarding the amount of cash and a description and statement of the agreed value of any other property or services contributed by each Member and which each Member has agreed to contribute in the future.

8.2.2 The books and records shall be maintained in accordance with sound accounting practices and shall be available at the Company's principal office for examination by any Member or the Member's duly authorized representative at any and all reasonable times during normal business hours. The Manager shall have the right to impose reasonable limitations on a Member's right to access books and records, including the type of records accessible to such Member.

8.2.3 Any request for information shall be in writing, and shall state the purpose therefor. Each Member shall reimburse the Company for all costs and expenses incurred by the Company in connection with the Member's inspection and copying of the Company's books and records.

8.3 Annual Accounting Period. The annual accounting period of the Company shall be its taxable year. The Company's taxable year shall be selected by the Manager, subject to the requirements and limitations of the Code.

8.4 Reports. Within ninety (90) days after the end of each taxable year of the Company or as soon thereafter as reasonably practicable, the Manager, at the Company's cost and expense, shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause to be prepared and sent to each Person who was a Member at any time during the accounting year then ended such information concerning the Company which is necessary for the preparation of the Person's income tax returns for that year. All such teports shall be at the expense of the Company. At the request of any Member and at such Member's expense, a Member may cause an audit of the Company's books and records to be prepared by independent accountants for the period requested by the Member.

8.5 Tax Matters Partner. The Manager may appoint a Tax Matters Partner of the Company pursuant to Code Section 6231(a)(7). Tax Matters Partner shall take such action as may be necessary to cause, to the extent possible, each Member to become a "notice partner" within the meaning of Code Section 6223. Tax Matters Partner shall inform each Member of all significant matters that may come to his or her attention in his or her capacity as such by giving notice thereof on or before the fifth (5^{th}) business day after becoming aware thereof and, within that time, shall forward to the Members copies of all significant written communications the Member may receive in that capacity. Tax Matters Partner, in his or her capacity as such, shall take no action without the authorization of the Manager, other than such action as may be required by Applicable Law. Any cost of expense incurred by Tax Matters Partner in connection with his or her duties as "tax matters partner," including the preparation for administrative or judicial proceedings, shall be paid by the Company.

8.6 Tax Elections. The Manager shall have the authority to make all Company elections permitted under the Code, including, but not limited to, elections of methods of depreciation and elections under Code Section 754. The decision to make or not make an election shall be at the sole and absolute discretion of the Manager.

ARTICLE IX
Confidentiality

9.1 Non-Disclosure. Each Member and each Affiliated Individual of a Member acknowledges that they will have access to certain information and data that is confidential and proprietary to the Company. Accordingly, each Member and Affiliated Individual covenants and agrees that, during the period of time the Member is a party to this Agreement and at all times thereafter, such Person shall (a) hold in strict confidence and safeguard the Company's Confidential Information, (b) not disclose, disseminate or make available to any third party the Company's Confidential Information, and (c) not use, copy or otherwise benefit from the Company's Confidential Information, except to their respective duly authorized representatives who need to know such Confidential Information in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or in connection with the Member's performance of duties or exercise of rights under this Agreement. Each Member and each Affiliated Individual of a Member will use all reasonable efforts to cause their respective duly authorized representatives to treat all Confidential Information as confidential, preserve the confidentiality of such Confidential Information and not disclose any Confidential Information. Each Member and each Affiliated Individual of a Member will be responsible for any breach of this Agreement by any of their respective duly authorized representatives. If Confidential Information is disclosed, the Member responsible for such disclosure will immediately notify the Company in writing and take all reasonable steps required to prevent further disclosure.

9.2 Title to Confidential Information. Each Member and each Affiliated Individual of a Member acknowledges and agrees that all Confidential Information shall be the sole and exclusive property of the Company. This Agreement shall not confer upon any Member or any Affiliated Individual (or their respective representatives), or be a basis for implying, any license, interest or rights of any kind in or to the Confidential Information of the Company. In the event a Member becomes a Selling Member, or as soon as possible following Company's written request, the Member and each Affiliated Individual of such Member shall immediately return to the Company any and all Confidential Information that they may have in their possession, and any copies thereof in any format.

9.3 Disclosures Required by Law. If a Member or Affiliated Individual of a Member becomes legally obligated to disclose any Confidential Information, such Person shall provide the Company with prompt written notice so that the Company may seek a protective order or other appropriate remedy and/or waive compliance with the provisions of this Article IX. If such protective order or other remedy is not obtained, or if the Company waives compliance with the provisions of this Article IX, the Member or Affiliated Individual of the Member shall furnish only that portion of Confidential Information which it is legally required to disclose.

9.4 Restrictions on Access. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Manager shall have the right to keep confidential from the Members, for such period of time as the Manager deems reasonable, any information which (a) the Manager believes to be in the nature of trade secrets or other information the disclosure of which the Manager believes is not in the best interests of the Company or could damage the Company or its business, or (b) the Company is required by Applicable Law or by agreement with a third party to keep confidential. The Manager may require, as a condition to giving any Person access to any confidential information, that such Person enter into a confidentiality agreement with the Company in a form and substance satisfactory to the Manager.

9.5 Remedies. In light of the sensitive and proprietary nature of the Confidential Information protected hereunder, each Member acknowledges and agrees that the Company shall be entitled to enforce this Article IX by seeking an injunction to enjoin and restrain the unauthorized disclosure or use of its Confidential Information. Nothing herein shall be construed as limiting the Company's right to seek any other remedies available to the Company for a Member's or Affiliated Individual's breach or threatened breach of this Article IX, including, without limitation, monetary damages. In the event a Member or Affiliated Individual of a Member breaches this Article IX, such Member and each Affiliated Individual of such Member shall be jointly and severally responsible for reimbursing the Company for all costs and expenses incurred by or on behalf of the Company in connection with enforcing its rights hereunder, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees, filing fees, arbitration fees, court fees, expert witness fees, and litigation and pre-litigation expenses.

ARTICLE X
Miscellaneous Provisions

10.1 Notifications. Any notice, demand, consent, election, offer, approval, request, or other communication (collectively a "notice") required or permitted under this Agreement must be in writing and either delivered personally or sent by overnight express mail, certified or registered mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested. A notice to a Member shall be addressed to the Member at the Member's address set forth on Exhibit A or such other address as a Member may designate from time-to-time by notice satisfactory under this Section. A notice to the Company shall be addressed to the Company's principal office. Notices given by mail shall be deemed effectively given on the earlier of the date shown on the proof of receipt of such mail or, unless the recipient proves that the notice was received later or not received, three (3) days after the date of mailing thereof.

10.2 Specific Performance. The parties recognize that irreparable injury will result from a breach of any provision of this Agreement and that money damages will be inadequate to remedy fully the injury. Accordingly, in the event of a breach or threatened breach of one or more of the provisions of this Agreement, any party who may be injured (in addition to any other remedies which may be available to that party) shall be entitled to seek one or more preliminary or permanent orders (a) restraining and enjoining any act which would constitute a breach or (b) compelling the performance of any obligation which, if not performed, would constitute a breach.

10.3 Effect of Waiver or Consent. The Company may give an express or implied waiver or consent to a specific breach or default by a Person of that Person's obligation to the Company. Any specific waiver or consent is not, however, a consent or waiver to any other breach or default in the Person's performance of the Person's same or other obligations to the Company. A Person's failure to complain of any Person's acts or to declare any Person in default with respect to the Company does not waive that Person's rights with respect to that default until the applicable statute-of-limitations period has run.

10.4 Complete Agreement. This Agreement together with the Exhibits attached hereto constitutes the complete and exclusive statement of the agreement among the Members with respect to the subject matter hereof and shall supersede all prior written and oral statements, including any prior representation, statement, condition, or warranty, with respect to such subject matter.

10.5 Applicable Law. This Agreement, including its existence, validity, construction, and operating effect, and the rights of each of the parties hereto, will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Minnesota without regard to otherwise governing principles of conflicts of law. The Members waive any and all rights they may have to punitive, special, exemplary, or consequential damages, in respect of any dispute based on this Agreement.

10.6 Arbitration. Except for alleged breaches of Article IX or Article X, any controversy, dispute or disagreement arising out of or relating to this Agreement, the breach thereof, or the subject matter thereof, shall be settled exclusively by binding arbitration, by a single arbitrator, which shall be conducted in Beltrami County, Minnesota in accordance with the American Health Lawyers Association Alternative Dispute Resolution Service Rules of Procedure for Arbitration, and which to the extent of the subject matter of the arbitration, shall be binding not only on all parties to the Agreement, but on any other entity controlled by, in control of or under common control with the party to the extent that such affiliate joins in the arbitration, and judgment on the award rendered by the arbitrator may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof. A party may initiate such arbitration by making written demand for arbitration on the other party. The demand shall contain a statement setting forth the nature of the dispute, the amount of damages involved, if any, and the remedies sought. The actual cost of the arbitration, including the fees of the arbitrator shall be borne equally by the parties.

10.7 Titles and Captions. All articles, section and paragraph titles and captions contained in this Agreement are for convenience only and do not define or limit the scope, extent, or intent of this Agreement or any of the provisions hereof.

10.8 Use of Certain Terms. All pronouns and any variations thereof are deemed to refer to the masculine, feminine, neuter, singular or plural as the identity of the persons may require. The words "include" and "including" shall be deemed to be followed by the phrase "without limitation"; and the terms "hereof," "herein" and "hereunder" and words of similar import shall be deemed to refer to this Agreement (or such other cross-referenced document) as a whole and not to any particular provision, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

10.9 Binding Effect. This Agreement is binding upon, and inures to the benefit of, the parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, personal and legal representatives, successors, and permitted assigns.

10.10 No Third Party Rights. None of the provisions of this Agreement shall be construed for the benefit of, or enforceable by, any of the creditors of the Company or any creditors of the Members, or any other Person not a party to this Agreement.

10.11 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement shall be deemed by a court of competent jurisdiction to be legally invalid or unenforceable, then the validity and enforceability of the remainder of the Agreement shall not be affected and such provision shall be deemed modified to the minimum extent necessary to make such provision consistent with Applicable Law, and, in its modified form, such provision shall then be enforceable.

10.12 Counterparts; Attestation. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original as against any party whose signature appears thereon, and all of which shall together constitute one and the same instrument. This Agreement shall become binding when one or more counterparts hereof, individually or taken together, shall bear the signatures of all the parties reflected herein as the signatories. Signatures transmitted by facsimile or pdf/email transmission shall be deemed originals for this purpose. The absence of a witness's signature, if such signature is required hereunder, shall not defeat or undermine the execution hereof or the validity of a party's signature as long as each party's respective signature is affixed to the signature page hereof.

10.13 Representation and Warranty. Each Member hereby represents, warrants and covenants that such Member has the right and authority to enter into this Agreement and that the Member's execution hereof and performance hereunder will not violate, conflict with, result in the breach of, or constitute default under, any agreement or arrangement to which the Member is a party or subject to. Such Member shall indemnify, defend and hold the Company and its Members harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, damages, costs and expenses (including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees) arising from or relating to any inaccuracy or breach of any of the foregoing representations and warranties.

10.14 Further Assurances. Each of the Members hereto does hereby covenant and agree on behalf of itself, its successors, and its assigns, without further consideration, to prepare, execute, acknowledge, file, record, publish, and deliver such other instruments, documents and statements, and to take such other action as may be required by Applicable Law or reasonably necessary to effectively carry out the purposes of this Agreement.

Re: Truax Patient Services
Notification of Anticipated Change of Ownership

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter is intended to inform the NEVADA Board of Pharmacy (the "Board") of a proposed change in the ownership structure of Truax Patient Services, located at 1112 Railroad Street SE, Suite 4, Bemidji, Minnesota 56601 (the "Pharmacy"). The Pharmacy's current state license number is PH02866, DEA registration number is FT5596676, and NABP e-profile identification number is 2431461. The Pharmacy is currently licensed in all U.S. states that require non-resident licensure, as well as Washington D.C.

It is the intent of the current sole proprietor of the Pharmacy, Brian W. Truax, to incorporate as a single member limited liability company with no other members, scheduled to take effect pursuant to a closing currently scheduled on or around the anticipated date of December 15, 2020, or as soon as possible thereafter, to the extent permitted by the Board.

In furtherance of the anticipated change in ownership structure, and to limit any downtime associated with the transition to a single member limited liability company, the Pharmacy has sought to provide the Board with advance notice of the anticipated change.

Attached please find the application and supporting documentation required for the applicable pharmacy permit based on the change of ownership. Please note we intend to supplement the application with applicable licenses issued to the limited liability company once approved by the various jurisdictions and agencies.

If you have any questions or require any further information, please feel free to contact me.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Brian W. Truax

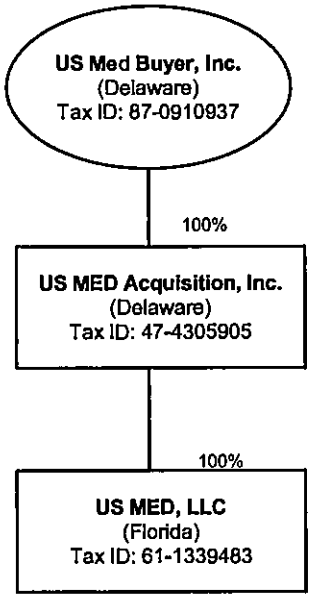
RE: US MED, LLC - License # PH02455

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter provides notice of a change in the indirect ownership of US MED, LLC which holds the above referenced Pharmacy permit. Effective July 21, 2021, US MED Buyer, inc. will become the sole shareholder of US MED Acquisition, Inc. the facility's parent company. The enclosed organizational chart shows the ownership structure after the transaction. As stated above, this change took place two levels above the operating entity.

Importantly US MED, LLC continues to be the direct owner of the facility. There has been a change in officer's, but the facility will:

- Retain the same EIN
- Retain the same name
- Retain the same location
- Retain the same pharmacist in charge
- Retain the same employees
- Retain the same Home State Pharmacy Permit Number



Please let us know if you require any additional information at licensing@usmed.com.

Sincerely,

Mary Ellen Conway

To: Nevada Board of Pharmacy,

Re: Explanation of why Our MDEG Administrator is not always present at our Curitec site.

CURITEC, LLC. is an accredited Medicare Part B supplier of durable medical supplies, namely advanced wound care supplies and surgical dressings to skilled nursing and hospice facilities. The wound care supplies are ordered by staff at these facilities, either in-person or by phone, and the products are then shipped directly to the facilities from one of our contracted wholesalers: Cardinal Health, McKesson, or Twin Med.

Because products are not stored, processed, or shipped from our office location, our MDEG Administrator, Maria Percival, is not always present at our office site.

Sincerely,

Nick Percival, COO

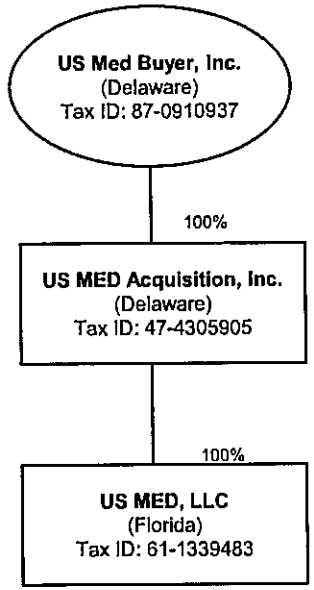
RE: US MED, LLC - License # MP00897

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter provides notice of a change in the indirect ownership of US MED, LLC which holds the above referenced permit. Effective July 21, 2021, US MED Buyer, inc. will become the sole shareholder of US MED Acquisition, Inc. the facility's parent company. The enclosed organizational chart shows the ownership structure after the transaction. As stated above, this change took place two levels above the operating entity.

Importantly US MED, LLC continues to be the direct owner of the facility. There has been a change in officer's, but the facility will:

- Retain the same EIN
- Retain the same name
- Retain the same location
- Retain the same pharmacist in charge
- Retain the same employees
- Retain the same Home State Pharmacy Permit Number



Please let us know if you require any additional information at licensing@usmed.com.

Sincerely,

Mary Ellen Conway

Designated Representative Application

Rev (04/22/2021)

An application for a license, or a licensee with a license, to conduct a pharmacy or to operate as a wholesaler shall designate at least one natural person to serve as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler. The Board will not issue or renew a license of an applicant or licensee that is required to designate a representative of a pharmacy or wholesaler unless the Board determines that the designated natural person meets the following qualifications per NAC 639.5005 (Pharmacy) or NAC 639.5935 (Wholesaler):

1. Is at least 21 years of age;
2. Has been employed for at least 6,000 hours in a pharmacy or with a wholesaler in a capacity related to the dispensing and distribution of, and recordkeeping related to, prescription drugs.

The designated representative of a pharmacy or a wholesaler:

1. Must be actively involved in and aware of the actual daily operations of the pharmacy or wholesaler;
2. Must be employed full-time in a managerial level position with the pharmacy or wholesaler;
3. Must be physically present at site of the pharmacy or at the facility of the wholesaler during regular business hours, except when the absence of the representative is authorized, including sick leaves, vacation leaves and other authorized absences; and
4. May serve in this representative capacity for only one pharmacy or wholesaler at a time

A pharmacy or wholesaler that is required to designate a natural person as its representative shall not open or operate the pharmacy or wholesaler unless that representative is actually employed full-time in the operation of the pharmacy or wholesaler and is physically present at the site of the pharmacy or wholesaler during regular working hours, not including sick leave, vacation leave and other authorized absences from work. If the natural person designated as the representative of a pharmacy leaves the employ of the pharmacy or wholesaler, thus leaving the pharmacy or wholesaler without a representative in violation of this section, the pharmacy or wholesaler shall:

1. Immediately cease conducting business until another qualified natural person is approved by the Board to serve as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler; and
2. Not later than 48 hours after that person leaves its employ, notify the Board that the person designated as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler has left the employ of the pharmacy or wholesaler.

Before a pharmacy or wholesaler, that is in violation of NAC 639.5005 (Pharmacy) or NAC 639.5935 (Wholesaler) because the natural person designated as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler left the employ of the pharmacy or wholesaler, may continue conducting business:

1. The pharmacy or wholesaler must designate, on a form provided by the Board, a new natural person to serve as the representative of the pharmacy; and
2. The Board must approve the natural person so designated.

Designated Representative Application

Rev (04/22/2021)

An application for a license, or a licensee with a license, to conduct a pharmacy or to operate as a wholesaler shall designate at least one natural person to serve as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler. The Board will not issue or renew a license of an applicant or licensee that is required to designate a representative of a pharmacy or wholesaler unless the Board determines that the designated natural person meets the following qualifications per NAC 639.5005 (Pharmacy) or NAC 639.5935 (Wholesaler):

1. Is at least 21 years of age;
2. Has been employed for at least 6,000 hours in a pharmacy or with a wholesaler in a capacity related to the dispensing and distribution of, and recordkeeping related to, prescription drugs.

The designated representative of a pharmacy or a wholesaler:

1. Must be actively involved in and aware of the actual daily operations of the pharmacy or wholesaler;
2. Must be employed full-time in a managerial level position with the pharmacy or wholesaler;
3. Must be physically present at site of the pharmacy or at the facility of the wholesaler during regular business hours, except when the absence of the representative is authorized, including sick leaves, vacation leaves and other authorized absences; and
4. May serve in this representative capacity for only one pharmacy or wholesaler at a time

A pharmacy or wholesaler that is required to designate a natural person as its representative shall not open or operate the pharmacy or wholesaler unless that representative is actually employed full-time in the operation of the pharmacy or wholesaler and is physically present at the site of the pharmacy or wholesaler during regular working hours, not including sick leave, vacation leave and other authorized absences from work. If the natural person designated as the representative of a pharmacy leaves the employ of the pharmacy or wholesaler, thus leaving the pharmacy or wholesaler without a representative in violation of this section, the pharmacy or wholesaler shall:

1. Immediately cease conducting business until another qualified natural person is approved by the Board to serve as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler; and
2. Not later than 48 hours after that person leaves its employ, notify the Board that the person designated as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler has left the employ of the pharmacy or wholesaler.

Before a pharmacy or wholesaler, that is in violation of NAC 639.5005 (Pharmacy) or NAC 639.5935 (Wholesaler) because the natural person designated as the representative of the pharmacy or wholesaler left the employ of the pharmacy or wholesaler, may continue conducting business:

1. The pharmacy or wholesaler must designate, on a form provided by the Board, a new natural person to serve as the representative of the pharmacy; and
2. The Board must approve the natural person so designated.

Owens &Minor™

Discipline Responses

Company General Comments: Owens & Minor, a Fortune 500 company, has been in the same business since 1882. We operate over 40 distribution centers throughout the country and ship into all states. All of our distribution centers are fully licensed in their respective resident and adjacent states and several hold multiple licenses to ship nationwide. We take legal compliance seriously and employ a number of individuals whose sole focus is to ensure that we follow all applicable state and federal laws and regulations. Changes to laws and requirements are subjects of ongoing vigilance. While we regret that we have been the subject of any discipline, we believe that these instances should be considered in the context of our size and overall operations in a field of enterprise highly regulated by a multiplicity of agencies. This is a comprehensive list of discipline that Owens & Minor Distribution, Inc. has received.

- This is an explanation of a Notice of Fine issued by the Louisiana State Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors against Owens & Minor's Wholesale Distribution Center in St. Rose, Louisiana facility. The citation was issued on April 11, 2002, but related to an inspection conducted on February 1, 2002. The citation referenced violations of regulations on customer license records. All issues had already been rectified to the Department's satisfaction prior to a hearing held on April 9, 2002, and the fine of $5,000 has been fully paid.

- This is an explanation of a citation issued by the California Board of Pharmacy against Owens & Minor's Wholesale Distribution Centers in Livermore and Lathrop, California. The citation was issued in May 2006. The citation referenced violations of regulations regarding timely notification of the Board when a facility's Designated Representative changes. All have been rectified to the Department's satisfaction, and the fine of $500 for both facilities has been fully paid.

- This is an explanation of a report of alleged violations issued by the Florida Department of Health against Owens & Minor's Wholesale Distribution Center in Orlando, Florida. The report was issued in February 2007 and referenced alleged violations of regulations regarding licensing and drug pedigrees. All matters raised in the report were resolved to the Department's satisfaction, the fine in the amount of $285,000 has been fully paid, and the matter is closed.

- This is an explanation of a Settlement Agreement and Disciplinary Order entered into between Owens & Minor Distribution, Inc. and the Missouri Board of Pharmacy. The Settlement, executed in May 2008 references violations of regulations regarding temperature controls and monitoring at its Kansas City, Missouri distribution center. The Company remains fully licensed but was placed on probation for a period of 3 years. There was no fine imposed.

- This is an explanation of a Stipulation Order with the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy concerning Owens & Minor's Wholesale Distribution Center in Denver Colorado. The effective date was November 2, 2009. The Order references a violation of regulations regarding the inadvertent purchase and receipt of prescription drugs on March 5, 2009 from one vendor (Hospira) from a location not licensed by the Board to ship Rx products into Colorado. All issues have been rectified to the Board's satisfaction, and the fine of $5,750 has been fully paid.

- This is an explanation of a Settlement Agreement entered into between Owens & Minor Distribution, Inc. and the Florida Department of Health. The Settlement, executed in July 2010, references violations of miscellaneous recordkeeping, personnel and license verification regulations in Owens & Minor's Wholesale Distribution Centers in Gainesville and Jacksonville, Florida. The Company and those facilities remained fully licensed but were under probation for a period of 2 years. The fine of $12,500 has been fully paid and the probation period passed without incident in 2012.

- On March 15, 2011, Owens and Minor entered into a Consent Agreement with the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors ("Louisiana Board") to resolve a finding in an inspection report dated December 8, 2010 that Owens & Minor received a product from supplier not licensed to sell or ship drugs into Louisiana. The agreed upon fine of $3,500 has been paid and this matter is now resolved to the satisfaction of the Louisiana Board.

- On July 27, 2011 Owens and Minor entered into a Stipulation and Consent Order with the Vermont Board of Pharmacy with regard to the application for a Third Party Logistics license by its facility in Redlands, California - Owens & Minor Healthcare Logistics. The basis of the order was discipline incurred by the company in other states. There was no specific non-compliance with Vermont law, or any other state regulation by any Owens & Minor facility. No fine was imposed. The license was issued subject to compliance with the laws of Vermont and reporting of future disciplinary actions.

- Owens & Minor Distribution, Inc. entered into a Stipulation Order with the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy concerning Owens & Minor's Wholesale Distribution Center in Denver, Colorado. The effective date was August 1, 2012. The Order referenced violations of regulations regarding timely notification of the Board when a facility's Designated Representative changes, and imposed the minimum fine. Colorado law requires that each licensed facility must provide the board with the name of a Designated Representative knowledgeable in regulatory requirements. Those named must meet certain criteria for experience and pass a background check. Changes must be submitted within fourteen calendar days. However due to an oversight, notice that the Designated Representative had been laid off was not sent for ninety-five calendar days. This oversight was pointed out during a routine inspection in February 2012 and corrected the same day. The Stipulation requires that any future changes be made within prescribed time limits, that Owens & Minor promptly pay all fines and charges, and that it comply with all other applicable laws and regulations. All have been rectified to the Board's satisfaction, the fine of $1,100 has been fully paid and there have been no subsequent incidents of non-compliance.

- In February 2013 The Hawaii Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs presented Owens & Minor with a Settlement Agreement assessing a fine of $500.00 for having been disciplined in another jurisdiction. No deficiencies were noted in the operations or compliance activities of any specific Owens & Minor distribution center. This was strictly an administrative matter, a fine for being fined essentially. Owens & Minor signed the Settlement Agreement, paid the fine, and the matter is now satisfactorily closed. This action affected no specific Owens & Minor facility.

- In August of 2012 Owens & Minor took over management of a hospital customer's internal warehouse and medical-surgical product distribution activities to the hospital's facilities and clinics in and around Burlingame, Ca. The facility was not licensed by the California Board of Pharmacy at the time management responsibilities changed. Accordingly, Owens & Minor submitted an application for licensure, and during the pre-licensing inspection, the Board representative took note of the presence of prescription drugs and devices that had been received and stored in the warehouse prior to the hospital's decision to outsource this activity to Owens & Minor. No other deficiencies or issues were identified, and the Board issued Owens & Minor a Wholesale Distributor's license shortly thereafter. In March of 2013, the Board issued Owens & Minor a citation for operating an unlicensed facility, assessing a fine of $2,500, but imposing no other sanctions. All issues have been rectified to the Board's satisfaction, the fine has been fully paid, and the matter is now closed. This action involved only the Owens & Minor distribution in Burlingame CA, and no others.

- This is notice of an action by Kentucky Board of Pharmacy. In December 2014, Owens & Minor entered into an Agreed Order with the Board of Pharmacy concerning Owens & Minor's tardy formal notice to the Board of its closing of a wholesale distribution center in Louisville, KY in 2013. The Board assessed a fine of $500.00. Owens & Minor signed the Order, paid the fine and the matter is now satisfactorily closed.

- In June, 2017, the Hawaii Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs presented Owens & Minor with a Settlement Agreement assessing a fine of $250.00 for discipline received from the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy for its Denver, CO facility due to a tardy notification of a change in Designated Representative. This was strictly an administrative fine for being disciplined in another jurisdiction. Owens & Minor signed the Settlement Agreement, paid the fine, and the matter is now satisfactorily closed. It should also be noted that the Honolulu facility closed on December 31, 2016.

- On April 26, 2018, Owens & Minor Distribution, Inc. entered into a Settlement Agreement with the State of Florida Department of Business & Professional Regulation regarding the tardy formal notification to the Board of a change in Designated Representative and the imposition of discipline by another state, also regarding a tardy notification of change in Designated Representative. The Department assessed a fine of $2,250.00 and determined that the agreement will not be deemed to constitute discipline within the meaning of Florida pharmacy laws. Owens & Minor signed the Order, paid the fine and the matter is now closed.

- On November 28, 2018, Owens & Minor Distribution, Inc. entered into a Stipulation and Final Agency Order with the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy regarding the tardy formal notification to the Board of a change in Designated Representative as well as failure to review its policy and procedure manual. The Department assessed a fine of $6,900.00, and the matter is now closed.

- On February 25, 2019, Owens & Minor received a citation issued by the California Board of Pharmacy against Owens & Minor's Louisville facility. The citation referenced violations of regulations regarding timely notification of the Board when a facility's Designated Representative changes. No fine has been assessed with the citation and no proof of abatement has been ordered. The matter is now closed.

- On March 19, 2019, the Florida Department of Business & Professional Regulations presented Owens & Minor with a Settlement Agreement assessing a fine of $3,000.00 for discipline received from the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy for its Denver, CO facility due to a tardy notification of a change in Designated Representative. This was strictly an administrative fine for being disciplined in another jurisdiction. Owens & Minor signed the Settlement Agreement, paid the fine, and the matter is now satisfactorily closed.

- On April 19, 2019, the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies, Division of Professions and Occupations presented Owens & Minor with a Letter of Admonishment recognizing that Owens & Minor failed to timely submit an application and fee for a change of Designated Representative for the Chicago, IL facility. This was strictly an open public record and reportable action and no such fine was given. Owens & Minor did not initiate formal disciplinary hearings to adjudicate the conduct and has accepted the letter for public record. This matter is closed.

- On December 11, 2019, the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies, Division of Professions and Occupations presented Owens & Minor with a Stipulation and Final Agency Order regarding the tardy formal notification to the Board of a change of Designated Representative. The Department assessed a fine of $5,000.00. Owens & Minor signed the Stipulation agreement, paid the fine, and the matter is now satisfactorily closed.

- On September 10, 2020, the Colorado Department of Regulatory Agencies, Division of Professions and Occupations presented Owens & Minor with a Stipulation and Final Agency Order regarding the failure of the Designated Representative to review, sign and date its policy and procedure manual within a year of the previous date it was reviewed. The Department assessed a fine of $1,150. Owens & Minor signed the Stipulation agreement, paid the fine, and the matter is now satisfactorily closed.

- On December 22, 2020 Owens & Minor Distribution, Inc. entered into a Stipulation and Final Agency Order from the State of Florida, Department of Business & Professional Regulation under Case #'s 2020-007156; 2020-007158; 2020-007161; 2020-007162 for the 2019 Colorado State Board of Pharmacy discipline that was issued for failure to notify within 30 days of a change of DR at the facility located at 473 Tower Blvd., Carol Stream, IL 60188. In lieu of a hearing, the Board resolved this case by means of a stipulated agreement pursuant to the following terms: Settlement in the amount of $5000.00. Owens & Minor signed the Order, paid the fine and the matter is now satisfactorily closed.

On behalf of Amicus Therapeutics US, LLC, attached is Amicus Therapeutics US, LLC's application for Virtual Manufacturer of a new facility location in Pennsylvania. On February 1st, 2021 Amicus Therapeutics US, Inc. change their name from Amicus Therapeutics US, Inc. to Amicus Therapeutics US, LLC. An ownership change did not take place, but only a name change as ownership structure and tax ID numbers have remained the same. Amicus also has opened a new location in Pennsylvania effective February 20th, 2021. Due to both changes we are submitting a new initial license application (please see their Pennsylvania license attached).

Amicus Therapeutics US, LLC. is a global biotechnology company at the forefront of advanced therapies to treat a range of devastating rare and orphan diseases. We have a robust development pipeline of treatments for a range of human genetic diseases. Our lead product, Galafold, is a personalized medicine to treat individuals with Fabry disease on the basis of their genetic diagnosis. Fabry disease is an X-linked disease caused by mutations in the GLA gene, which encodes the alpha-Gal A enzyme. These mutations can cause alpha-Gal A, to be either absent or deficient. When alpha-Gal A is absent or deficient the substrate, GL-3 and lyso-Gb 3 accumulate, leading to damage of cells within affected parts of the individual's body and causing the various pathologies seen in Fabry disease. Fabry disease leads to progressive, irreversible organ damage, typically involving the nervous, cardiac, and renal systems, as well as multiple other tissues. The symptoms can be severe, differ from patient to patient, and begin at an early age, resulting in significant clinical, humanistic, and healthcare costs. Fabry disease requires lifelong medical intervention to manage the complications of this devastating disease across multiple organ systems.

Amicus Therapeutics US, LLC, is a "Virtual Manufacturer" whose products are manufactured by a contract manufacturer and distributed by a Third-Party Logistics Provider, who meets licensure requirements to ship pharmaceutical products into your state. At no time is commercial product manufactured at, stored at, or distributed from Amicus Therapeutics US, LLC's office. Amicus Therapeutics US, LLC's product is not a controlled substance.

RISK FACTOR SUMMARY

Our business is subject to a number of risks that if realized could materially affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and access to liquidity. These risks are discussed more fully in the "Risk Factors" section of this Annual Report on Form 10-K. Our principal risks include the following:

- We have incurred significant losses since inception, expect to incur significant and increasing losses for at least the next several years, and may never achieve or maintain profitability. Our net losses were $344.9 million, $304.7 million and $127.5 million for the years ended December 31, 2020, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

- We have not yet successfully obtained marketing approvals nor commercialized any pharmaceutical products, which may make it difficult to evaluate our future prospects. We will need to transition from a company with a development focus to a company capable of supporting commercial activities.

- We will need substantial additional funding, to allow us to support both the systemic and opbthalmological pegcetacoplan programs through commercial launch, and if we are unable to raise capital wben needed, we could be forced to delay, reduce or eliminate certain product development programs or commercialization efforts. We believe that our existing cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities will enable us to fund our operating expenses and capital expenditure requirements at least into the second balf of 2022.

- If we receive regulatory approval for the use of pegcetacoplan as a treatment for PNH or if our agreement with SFJ Pharmaceuticals Group, or SFJ, is terminated prior to receiving such approval in specified circumstances, we will be required to make substantial payments to SFJ pursuant to our development funding agreement. If we do not have sufficient funding or cash flow from our business to meet our payment obligations under the development funding agreement, SFJ could exercise its remedies as a holder of a first priority security interest in our assets and our business could be materially harmed.

- We are dependent on the successful development and commercialization of pegcetacoplan. If we are unable to develop, obtain marketing approval for or successfully commercialize pegcetacoplan or if we experience significant delays in doing so, our business could be harmed.

- The regulatory approval process is expensive, time consuming and uncertain and may prevent us or our collaborators such as Swedish Orphan Biovitrum AB (Publ), or Sobi, from obtaining approvals for the commercialization of pegcetacoplan or any of our product candidates that we develop. As a result, we cannot predict when or if, and in which territories, we, or our collaborators, will obtain marketing approval to commercialize pegcetacoplan or any other product candidate that we develop.

- The COVID-19 pandemic may affect our ability to conduct our ongoing clinical trials, delay the initiation of planned and future clinical trials, disrupt regulatory activities, or have other adverse effects on our business and operations. In addition, the COVID-19 pandemic may adversely impact economies worldwide, which could result in adverse effects on our business and operations and ability to raise capital.

- There are no approved therapies that act by inhibiting C3 and only two approved therapies in our target indications that act by inhibiting the complement system. We may not be able to successfully develop and commercialize pegcetacoplan or other product candidates.

- If clinical trials of our product candidates fail to satisfactorily demonstrate safety and efficacy to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, or FDA, the European Medicines Agency, or EMA, and other regulators, we may incur additional costs or experience delays in completing, or ultimately be able to complete, the development and commercialization of these product candidates.

- We rely on third parties to conduct our clinical trials and to manufacture and distribute our product candidates for our clinical trials. We contract with third parties for the manufacture, storage and distribution of our product candidates for clinical trials as well as in connection with our commercialization efforts. This reliance on third parties increases the risk that we will not have sufficient quantities of our product candidates or such quantities at an acceptable cost, which could delay, prevent or impair our development or commercialization efforts. If these third parties do not perform satisfactorily, our development or commercialization efforts could be delayed or impaired.

- Our prospects for the development and commercialization of our product candidates will depend in significant part on the success of our collaboration with Sobi for the global co-development and commercialization of systemic pegcetacoplan outside of the United States. Our ability to generate revenues from this collaboration will depend on Sobi.

- If we fail to comply with our obligations under our existing and any future intellectual property licenses with third parties, we could lose license rights that are important to our business, including our patent license agreements with the University of Pennsylvania under wbich we license patents with claim that recite a class of compounds generically covering our lead product candidates, pegcetacoplan and APL-9, and that specifically recite the active component.

Item 1. Business.

We are a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company focused on the development of novel therapeutic compounds to treat disease through the inhibition of the complement system, which is an integral component of the immune system, at the level of C3, the central protein in the complement cascade. We believe that this approach can result in broad inhibition of the principal pathways of the complement system and has the potential to effectively control a broad array of complement-dependent autoimmune and inflammatory diseases.

We have the most advanced clinical programs targeting C3 with Phase 3 clinical trials of our lead product candidate, pegcetacoplan, in multiple indications. We believe that pegcetacoplan has the potential to be a best-in-class treatment that may address the limitations of existing treatment options or provide a treatment option where there currently is none. Pegcetacoplan has already shown activity that we believe is clinically meaningful in clinical trials for several distinct medical conditions, including geographic atrophy in age-related macular degeneration, or GA; paroxysmal nocturnal hemoglobinuria, or PNH; cold agglutinin disease, or CAD; and C3 glomerulopathy, or C3G. We are developing pegcetacoplan and other product candidates, including APL-9, targeting C3 through various routes of administration and plan to conduct clinical trials of these compounds in additional complement-dependent indications.

In October 2020, we entered into a collaboration and license agreement, or the collaboration agreement, with Sobi. Under the collaboration agreement, we agreed to co-develop pegcetacoplan for systemic indications, including PNH, CAD and hematopoietic stem cell transplantation-associated thrombotic microangiopathy, or HSCT-TMA, in hematology; C3G and immune complex membranoproliferative glomerulonephritis, or IC-MPGN, in nephrology; and amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, or ALS, in neurology. Sobi has exclusive ex-U.S. commercialization rights for systemic pegcetacoplan. We retain commercialization rights for systemic pegcetacoplan in the United States and worldwide commercial rights for ophthalmological pegcetacoplan, which includes our GA program in addition to worldwide commercialization rights for APL-9 and other product candidates targeting C3.

Ophthalmological pegcetacoplan

GA. We initiated a Phase 3 clinical program consisting of two Phase 3 clinical trials evaluating ophthalmological administration of pegcetacoplan in patients with GA in September 2018. We refer to these trials as the DERBY and OAKS trials. Both trials are fully enrolled and we expect to announce top-line data from these trials in the third quarter of 2021.

In our Phase 2 clinical trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with GA, treatment with pegcetacoplan resulted in a significant reduction in the rate of GA lesion growth over 12 months.

Additionally, data released in October 2020 from a post hoc analysis of seven patients in our Phase 1b trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with advanced GA and low vision demonstrated a trend in reduced lesion growth in eyes treated with pegcetacoplan versus untreated fellow eyes after 18 months of treatment.

Systemic pegcetacoplan

We are developing pegcetacoplan with Sobi for systemic administration in several indications, including PNH, C3G, IC-MPGN, ALS, CAD and HSCT-TMA.

PNH. In June 2018, we initiated a Phase 3 clinical trial evaluating pegcetacoplan in 80 patients with PNH who exhibited signs of moderate to severe anemia, specifically with an inclusion criterion of hemoglobin level of less than 10.5 g/dL, while being treated with eculizumab, an approved therapy for PNH that is marketed as Soliris. We refer to this trial as the PEGASUS trial.

In January 2020, we announced top-line data from the PEGASUS trial that showed that pegcetacoplan met the trial's primary efficacy endpoint, demonstrating superiority to eculizumab, with a statistically significant improvement in adjusted means of 3.8 g/dL of hemoglobin at week 16 ($p < 0.0001$), and promising results in key secondary endpoints. Additional data from the PEGASUS trial presented in June 2020 and December 2020 demonstrated increased hemoglobin levels, reduced transfusion requirements and improved key markers of hemolysis across the patient population, both in patients with high transfusion requirements and in patients with low or no transfusion requirements, which improvements were sustained through 48 weeks of treatment. In the PEGASUS trial, the safety profile of pegcetacoplan was comparable to that of eculizumab.

In September 2019, we initiated a second Phase 3 clinical trial in patients with PNH who have not been treated with eculizumab within three months before entering the trial. We refer to this trial as the PRINCE trial. The PRINCE trial is fully enrolled and we intend to present top-line data in the second quarter of 2021.

We submitted a new drug application, or NDA, to the FDA and a marketing authorization application, or MAA, to the EMA for pegcetacoplan for the treatment of PNH in September 2020. The FDA accepted the NDA and set the Prescription Drug User Fee Act, or PDUFA, target action date for May 14, 2021. The EMA validated the MAA in October 2020, with the potential for a European Commission decision on the MAA in the second half of 2021.

C3G/IC-MPGN. We have initiated and will continue to lead our registrational program in C3G / IC-MPGN. In October 2020, we reported data from the Phase 2 DISCOVERY trial in five C3G patients treated with pegcetacoplan for 48 weeks. We initiated a Phase 2 randomized, controlled trial in up to 12 patients with post-kidney transplant recurrence of C3G or IC-MPGN, in October 2020 and we expect to dose the first patient in this trial in the first half of 2021. We refer to this trial as the NOBLE trial. We also plan to begin a Phase 3 clinical trial in patients with native kidney or post-transplant recurrence of C3G or IC-MPGN, having reduction of proteinuria as its primary endpoint, in the second half of 2021.

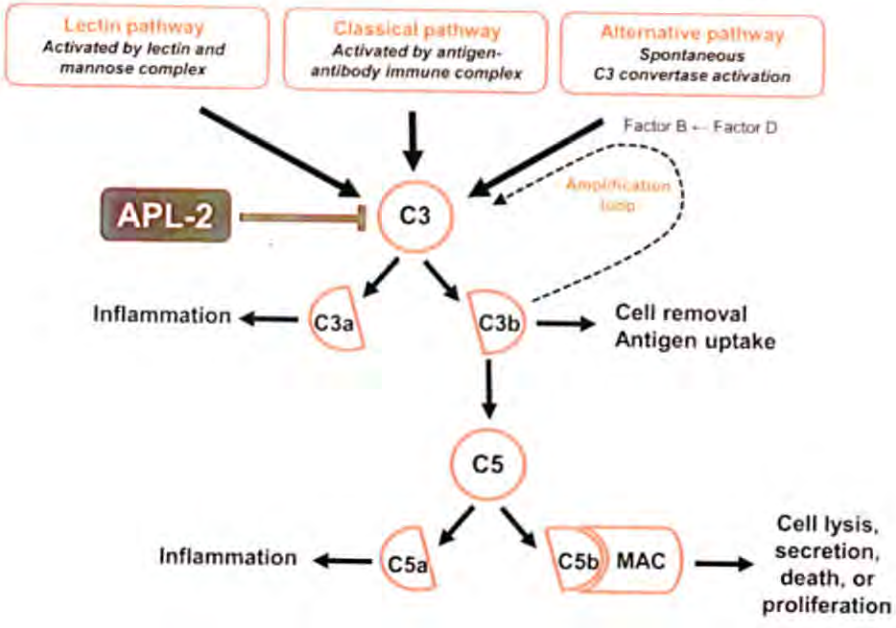
ALS. We have initiated a randomized, placebo-controlled Phase 2 clinical trial of pegcetacoplan in approximately 200 adults with sporadic ALS. We refer to this trial as the MERIDIAN trial. We treated the first patient in the MERIDIAN trial in November 2020 and expect to complete enrollment for the MERIDIAN trial in the second half of 2021.

CAD and HSCT-TMA. Under our collaboration, Sobi will lead development activities for CAD and HSCT-TMA with a Phase 3 clinical trial in CAD and a Phase 2 clinical trial in HSCT-TMA, both planned to begin in 2021. In our Phase 2 clinical trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with CAD, patients achieved increased hemoglobin levels, reduced reticulocytes and bilirubin levels, and reduced LDH levels compared to baseline.

Pipeline

We are developing pegcetacoplan and other product candidates, including APL-9, targeting C3 through various routes of administration. We plan to conduct clinical trials of these compounds in additional complement-dependent indications.

APL-9 is a C3 modulator designed to be intravenously administered for acute use. In May 2020 we initiated a Phase 1/2 randomized, placebo-controlled clinical trial of APL-9 in 66 patients with respiratory failure including acute respiratory distress syndrome, or ARDS, secondary to COVID-19. We expect to report results from this trial in the second quarter of 2021.



We are also developing APL-9 for the prevention of complement immune system activation coincident with adeno-associated virus, or AAV, vector administration for gene therapies and other indications.

We plan to advance three new product candidates into clinical development by the end of 2022.

Our Approach

The complement system plays a pivotal role in both innate and adaptive immune systems. Complement proteins are produced primarily by the liver and circulate in the blood and through the body's tissues. The complement system may be activated through three principal pathways, known as the classical, lectin and alternative pathways, each of which requires the C3 protein to enable three principal immune responses: opsonization, inflammation and formation of the membrane attack complex, or MAC. When C3 is activated, C3 fragments, such as C3b, tag cell surfaces in a process called opsonization, which marks the cells for removal from tissues or the bloodstream. Two other fragments, C3a and C5a, are released, contributing to inflammation in the surrounding tissues. Further complement activation causes membrane attack complex formation on cell surfaces, piercing holes and causing cells to lyse, or rupture, and others to depolarize or lose membrane potential.

The following figure depicts the complement system, its three principal activation pathways and its principal effects:

Under conditions of excessive or uncontrolled activation, the complement system is believed to play a key role in the incidence and progression of several autoimmune and inflammatory diseases. In these diseases, the complement system acts directly through tissue destruction by the membrane attack complex and indirectly by signaling other elements of the immune system to inappropriately target otherwise healthy tissues. Because the contribution of complement activation to the development and progression of these diseases is not fully understood, it has been difficult to develop therapeutics that ameliorate the conditions contributing to these diseases by targeting only one of the complement activation pathways.

Complement activation and its effects can be inhibited in multiple ways. By targeting complement proteins upstream of C3, one of the three principal activation pathways can be inhibited. For example, inhibition of factor B or factor D results in inhibition of the alternative pathway, but not the classical or lectin pathways. The complement system can also be inhibited by targeting complement proteins downstream of C3, which results in limited inhibition of complement effects. For example, inhibition of C5 leads to inhibition of the formation of the membrane attack complex and C5a-mediated inflammation but does not affect opsonization or C3a-mediated inflammation.

We have designed pegcetacoplan to target complement proteins centrally at the level of C3. We believe that this approach can result in broad inhibition of the complement pathways and has the potential to effectively control complement-dependent diseases. We believe that pegcetacoplan has the potential to be a best-in-class treatment and may address the limitations of existing treatment options or provide a treatment option where there is none.

Our Strategy

We aim to become a leading biopharmaceutical company focused on the discovery, development and commercialization of therapeutics to treat autoimmune and inflammatory diseases through complement inhibition. We hold commercialization rights for systemic pegcetacoplan in the United States and worldwide commercialization rights to ophthalmological pegcetacoplan, which includes our GA program, in addition to worldwide commercialization rights for APL-9 and other novel compounds targeting C3. To achieve our goals, we are pursuing the following strategies:

- Complete Phase 3 clinical development and prepare for regulatory submission of pegcetacoplan in GA. We are developing pegcetacoplan as monotherapy for GA, administered by intravitreal injections. We expect to announce data from the DERBY and OAKS trials in the third quarter of 2021 and to prepare submissions to regulatory authorities for marketing approval of pegcetacoplan as a treatment of geographic atrophy.
- Prepare for commercialization of pegcetacoplan in PNH. We are developing pegcetacoplan as monotherapy for patients with PNH, administered by subcutaneous injection, and are preparing to commercialize systemic pegcetacoplan in the United States and to support Sobi's commercialization efforts in the rest of the world. We submitted a new drug application, or NDA, to the FDA and a marketing authorization application, or MAA, to the EMA for pegcetacoplan for the treatment of PNH in September 2020. The FDA accepted the NDA and set the Prescription Drug User Fee Act, or PDUFA, target action date for May 14, 2021. 950

- Continue clinical development of systemic pegcetacoplan in other indications, including ALS and C3G/IC-MPGN. We are developing pegcetacoplan for patients with C3G and C3G/IC-MPGN, administered by subcutaneous injection. Sobi has primary responsibility for the clinical development pegcetacoplan for patients with CAD and HSCT-TMA.
- Continue development and expansion of our pipeline. We plan to continue development of treatments for a broad range of complement-dependent autoimmune and inflammatory diseases with pegcetacoplan and additional new product candidates.

Our Programs

Our lead product candidate, pegcetacoplan, is a C3 inhibitor. Pegcetacoplan is a conjugate of a compstatin analogue, formulated both for ophthalmological administration by injections directly into the eye, and systemic administration by subcutaneous injection, which is an injection into the tissue under the skin. We are developing pegcetacoplan and other product candidates, including APL-9, targeting C3 through various routes of administration.

Ophthalmological pegcetacoplan

We are developing pegcetacoplan to be injected intravitreally as a monotherapy for patients with ophthalmological indications, including geographic atrophy, or GA.

Geographic Atrophy

Background

GA is a type of advanced age-related macular degeneration, or AMD. According to the Brightfocus Foundation, over ten million people in the United States have some form of AMD. AMD is a disorder of the central portion of the retina in the eye, known as the macula, which is responsible for central vision and color perception. AMD affects vision in one or both eyes and results in progressive and chronic degeneration of the macula, often resulting in irreversible vision loss. AMD is a disease of aging, typically occurring after the age of 50. In the early stage of the disease, yellow deposits, or drusen, appear under the retina. Over time, the disease can progress to an intermediate stage where drusen deposits grow larger and other changes reflective of disease progression appear and then to an advanced stage associated with progressive and often severe vision loss which may be characterized as either GA or wet AMD. GA is characterized by a degenerative process resulting in the progressive loss of retinal cells, which over the course of several years results in blindness. Based on published studies, we believe that at least five million people worldwide, including at least one million people in the United States, including have GA.

At the American Academy of Ophthalmology, or AAO, in November 2020, a retrospective study of 69,000 patients diagnosed with GA was presented that analyzed changes in visual acuity and disease progression over two years. The analysis was presented by Verana Health, a data analysis group in retinal diseases under a collaboration with us, and the AAO's IRIS® (Intelligent Researcb in Sight) Registry, the nation's first comprehensive clinical registry for eye disease. Key findings from the real-world clinical data showed:

- At the first study visit, patients presented with relatively preserved vision, especially in eyes with extrafoveal GA lesions (lesions outside the fovea, which is the central portion of the retina). However, patients with extrafoveal and foveal GA lesions progressively lost vision over time at a rate of approximately five letters on a vision chart per year.
- Progression from GA to new onset wet AMD was observed in 4.7% of patients with bilateral GA (GA in both eyes) and 13.3% of patients with wet AMD in the contralateral eye (AMD in the non-treatment eye) during the first 12 months. The rate at 24 months was 8.2% and 21.6% in bilateral GA and wet AMD in the contralateral eye, respectively.
- A large proportion of GA patients did not return for a follow-up visit after two years. Of the GA patients potentially eligible for inclusion in the analysis, only 40% had a follow-up visit after two years and were ultimately included in the study.

The mechanism by which complement activation is upregulated and can damage the retina is poorly understood. However, we believe that the upregulation of complement activation due to immune dysregulation damages retinal cells in two ways. First, retinal cells are damaged by inflammation caused by increased levels of C3a and C5a. Second, the increased deposition of C3b on the cell surface of retinal cells caused by complement activation, combined with the limited ability of cells to remove C3 activated fragments such as C3b, leads to the accumulation of C3 fragments on the retinal cells. The presence of C3a and C5a, as well as C3 fragment deposition on retinal cells, activates macrophages and microglia. Macrophages are large white blood cells that form part of the immune system that engulf and digest cells, debris and foreign substances. Macrophages also play an important role in modulating other parts of the immune system. Microglia are a type of tissue-residing macrophage located in the brain, spinal cord and retina.

Because pegcetacoplan both blocks the production of C3a and C5a and prevents the accumulation of C3 fragments on retinal cells through the inhibition of C3, we believe that pegcetacoplan may control complement activation in the retinal environment to return it to its quiescent state. We do not believe that selective inhibitors of the alternative pathway, which would only partially block the formation of C3b on the retinal cell surface, or C5 inhibitors, which cannot prevent C3b deposition on retinal cells, can cause the retinal environment to return to its quiescent state.

Current Therapies and Their Limitations

There are no therapies approved to treat GA. There are, however, therapies in development for GA including a number of product candidates in late stages of clinical development.

Benefits of Our Approach

We believe pegcetacoplan, with its inhibition of complement activation at the level of C3 in the retinal environment, may provide the following benefits:

- Prevention or reduction of the rate of retinal cell death progression. We believe pegcetacoplan may mitigate or prevent retinal cell death in GA. In our Phase 2 trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with GA, treatment with pegcetacoplan resulted in a significant reduction in the rate of GA lesion growth over 12 months.
- Potential application to all patients with GA independent of complement pathway causing disease progression. Pegcetacoplan, by targeting C3, has been designed to inhibit all three principal complement activation pathways and may therefore be effective in a broad patient population. We believe, based on the genetic marker and other data from our analysis of our Phase 2 trial, that the activity of pegcetacoplan does not depend upon the activation of any particular complement pathway.

Clinical Development

We initiated the DERBY and OAKS Phase 3 clinical trials of pegcetacoplan in patients with GA following completion of our Phase 2 clinical trial in patients with GA, which we refer to as the FILLY trial. In August 2017, we completed the primary endpoint analysis for the 12-month treatment period for the Phase 2 FILLY trial and in February 2018 we completed the analysis of data from the six-month monitoring period from that trial. Prior to the FILLY trial, we completed a Phase 1 clinical trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with wet AMD in 2016. In July 2018, we received fast track designation from the FDA for pegcetacoplan in GA.

Phase 3 Clinical Trials

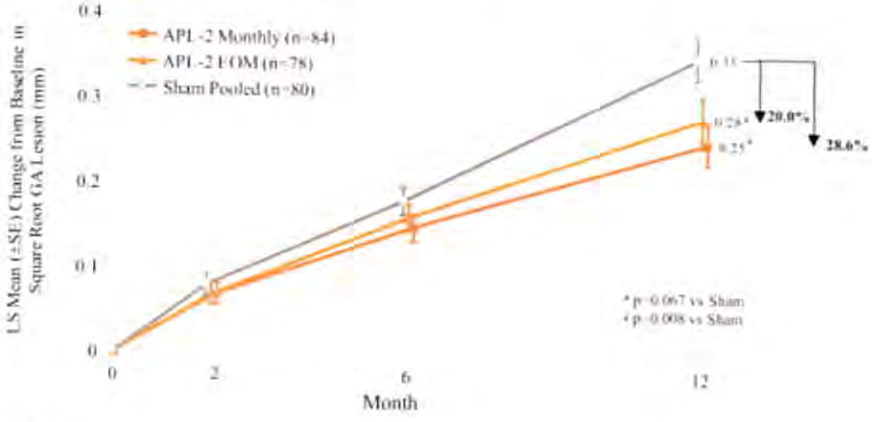
Our ongoing Phase 3 clinical program in GA consists of two 600-patient prospective, multicenter, randomized, double-masked, sham-injection controlled trials (DERBY and OAKS) being conducted at 200 sites worldwide to assess the efficacy and safety of multiple intravitreal injections of pegcetacoplan in patients with GA. Both trials are fully enrolled and we expect to announce top-line data from these trials in the third quarter of 2021.

Patients in each Phase 3 trial receive a dose of 15 mg of pegcetacoplan injected intravitreally in a 0.1 cc volume, monthly or every other month for 24 months. In the sham-injection coborts, patients receive a simulated injection. As with our Phase 2 clinical trial, the primary endpoint of each trial is the change in total area of GA lesions in the study eye from baseline to month 12 compared to sham. The measurements of cbange in lesion size will be analyzed at 12 months (primary endpoint, monthly group) and 24 months. We set statistical significance as a p-value of 0.05 or less, meaning that there is a 1 in 20 or less probability that the observed results occurred by chance. Patients wbo develop new onset exudation in the study eye will continue to be treated with pegcetacoplan along with anti-VEGF injections, the current standard of care for wet AMD.

The observation intervals in pivotal studies in AMD are typically 24 months in total duration to meet regulatory requirements for long-term safety and to demonstrate durability of the treatment effect on anatomical and functional endpoints. However, based on our experience in the Phase 2 FILLY trial, we believe that pegcetacoplan can show treatment effect at 12 months and we therefore plan to analyze the data after all patients have completed 12 months of treatment in the trial in addition to a second assessment after 24 months of treatment. This design is in line with the recommendations of the FDA and the EMA.

We are using a liquid formulation of pegcetacoplan in our Phase 3 trials instead of the freeze-dried formulation that we used in the Phase 2 FILLY trial, wbich we believe may reduce the incidence of endophthalmitis.

In October 2018, we announced that we voluntarily implemented a pause in dosing in our Phase 3 clinical trials in patients with GA due to observed cases of non-infectious inflammation in patients treated from a single manufacturing lot of pegcetacoplan intravitreal drug product. Four patients in the Phase 3 GA program were treated with pegcetacoplan from this manufacturing lot and each patient developed non-infectious inflammation. Inflammation in all patients completely resolved. We reviewed these events with the data safety monitoring board for our GA trials, conducted a series of non-human studies and introduced improvements to the manufacturing process. Based on these efforts, we believe that the source of inflammation resided in a contaminant or impurity in the active pharmaceutical ingredient. We resumed the trials in March 2019.



Phase 2 Clinical Trial

In the third quarter of 2015, we initiated a Phase 2 multicenter, randomized, single-masked, sbam-controlled clinical trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with GA, which we refer to as the FILLY trial, at more than 40 clinical sites, primarily located in the United States. We enrolled 246 patients in the trial. Patients were randomized in a 2:2:1:1 manner to receive pegcetacoplan monthly, pegcetacoplan every other month, sham injection monthly or sbam injection every other month. Patients in the pegcetacoplan arms received a dose of 15 mg of pegcetacoplan injected intravitreally in a 0.1 cc volume, monthly or every other month for 12 months followed by six months of monitoring without treatment. In the sham-injection cohorts, patients receive a simulated injection. Study eyes received up to 13 injections in the monthly arm, and up to seven injections in the every other month arm. Eyes were evaluated for GA at the end of months two, six, 12 and 18.

We conducted this trial to assess the safety, tolerability, pharmacokinetics, or PK, and evidence of activity of multiple intravitreal injections of pegcetacoplan in patients with GA in at least one eye. The primary efficacy endpoint was change in the square root of GA lesion size from baseline to month 12 in each treatment arm when compared to sham in the modified intent to treat population, which included 84 patients receiving administration of pegcetacoplan every month, 78 patients receiving administration of pegcetacoplan every other month and 80 patients in the group receiving sham injections. The primary safety endpoint was the number and severity of local and systemic treatment emergent adverse events. The trial was monitored by a safety monitoring committee.

We announced 12-month results of the Phase 2 trial in August 2017. After 12 months, patients treated monthly with pegcetacoplan showed a 29% reduction in the rate of GA lesion growth compared to sham, with a p-value of 0.008, and patients treated every other month showed a 20% reduction compared to sham, with a p-value of 0.067. The rate of GA lesion growth in the sham was consistent with the rate of lesion growth in patients with GA in third-party historical studies. These data are shown in the figure below. 953

EOM = Every other month

We set statistical significance as a p-value of 0.1 or less, meaning that there is a 1-in-10 or less statistical probability that the observed results occurred by chance rather than as a result of a treatment effect. Because the p-value of these results was less than 0.1, they are statistically significant.

After the 12-month treatment period, patients were monitored for a further six months without treatment. During the monitoring period, the GA lesions in the previously treated groups grew at a rate similar to sham but the treatment effect was maintained for the full 18 months. Patients who received monthly pegcetacoplan, and for whom images were available at 12 and 18 months showed a 12% reduction in the growth rate of lesions over the six-month monitoring period compared to sham, while patients who received every other month administration of pegcetacoplan showed a 9% reduction in the growth rate of lesions over the six-month monitoring period compared to sham. These differences are not considered to be statistically significant. In the modified intent to treat population over the full 18-month period, patients who received monthly pegcetacoplan showed a 20% reduction in the growth rate of lesions over the full 18-month period compared to sham, while patients who received every other month administration of pegcetacoplan showed a 16% reduction in the growth rate of lesions over the full 18-month period compared to sham.

The most frequently reported adverse events in the trial were associated with the injection procedure in the study eye. These adverse events included two cases of confirmed endophthalmitis and one case of presumed endophthalmitis where the culture tested negative for bacterial growth. In the latter case, the patient fully recovered visual acuity. In our Phase 2 trial, we observed an incidence rate of endophthalmitis of 0.21% per injection.

In addition, during the 12-month treatment period and the six-month monitoring period, we observed a higher incidence of new onset exudation in the study eyes treated with pegcetacoplan as compared to sham, predominantly in patients with a history of wet AMD in the fellow eye. Specifically, we observed that, after the 12-month treatment period and the six-month monitoring period, 18 patients (21%) receiving administration of pegcetacoplan every month and seven patients (9%) receiving administration of pegcetacoplan every other month showed new onset exudation in the study eye, as compared to one patient (1%) in the sham group.

Patients who experienced new onset exudation in the study eye were discontinued from treatment with pegcetacoplan and, in all but one case, treated with standard of care anti-VEGF injections under supervision. There was no meaningful negative impact on visual acuity resulting from the new onset exudations.

Phase 1b Clinical Trial in Low Vision Geography Atrophy

We are conducting a Phase 1b clinical trial to evaluate the safety of monthly intravitreal treatments with pegcetacoplan in 12 patients with bilateral GA secondary to AMD and with low vision, which we initiated in September 2018. Patients are dosed monthly with pegcetacoplan in one eye using the fellow eye as an untreated control. In April 2020, we reported results in patients demonstrating a trend in reduced GA lesion growth in treated eyes versus the lesion growth in untreated fellow eyes. In October 2020, we reported data from an 18-month post hoc analysis based on the seven study patients for whom data were available for at least 18 months. In this population, the growth rate of GA lesions in the treated eye was on average 52% (mean square root) slower than the untreated fellow eye (p=0.01). It has been shown in third-party studies that lesions in both eyes tend to grow at the same rate in patients with bilateral GA. Of the 12 enrolled patients, there were no reported cases of inflammation and one patient (8%) developed new-onset exudation at month 12.

Phase 1b/2 Clinical Trial in Wet AMD

We conducted a Phase 1b/2, multi-center, open label clinical trial to evaluate the safety of intravitreal pegcetacoplan therapy when administered in parallel with anti-VEGF treatments in patients with wet AMD in the study eye in the second quarter of 2018. As with our Phase 3 program in GA, we voluntarily implemented a pause in our Phase 1b/2 trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with wet AMD in October 2018. We discontinued the Phase 1b/2 trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with wet AMD.

Phase 1 Clinical Trial

We conducted a Phase 1 open label, ascending single-dose clinical trial of pegcetacoplan administered by intravitreal injection in patients with wet AMD who were receiving anti-VEGF therapy. We conducted the trial at multiple clinical sites both within and outside the United States to assess safety, tolerability and PK of pegcetacoplan. In this trial, patients received a single dose of pegcetacoplan by intravitreal injection followed by 113 days of monitoring. We enrolled eighteen patients in the trial, in three cohorts, at doses of 5 mg (3 patients), 10 mg (3 patients) and 20 mg (12 patients) of pegcetacoplan. Pegcetacoplan was well tolerated, and no serious adverse events were reported. Based on the results, we determined to evaluate a dose of 15 mg in our Phase 2 trial.

Preclinical Studies

We have conducted preclinical studies in monkeys to assess the safety of pegcetacoplan injected intravitreally. A full toxicological review, including histopathological examinations of both eyes and of multiple additional tissues from each monkey revealed no evidence of pegcetacoplan -related toxicity changes at any of the doses tested.

Systemic Pegcetacoplan

We and Sobi plan to jointly advance the clinical development of systemic pegcetacoplan in five parallel registrational programs across hematology, nephrology, and neurology. These include new registrational programs in CAD and HSCT-TMA. We will lead clinical development for PNH, C3G/IC-MPGN and ALS, and Sobi will lead development activities for a Phase 3 trial in CAD and a Pbase 2 trial in HSCT-TMA, both planned to start in 2021.

Paroxysmal Nocturnal Hemoglobinuria

Background

PNH is a rare, chronic, debilitating blood disorder that is most frequently acquired in early adulthood and usually continues throughout the life of the patient. Some of the prominent symptoms of PNH include severe anemia, a condition that results from having too few red blood cells, severe abdominal pain, severe beadaches, back pain, excessive weakness, fatigue and recurrent infections. If not treated, PNH results in the death of approximately 35% of affected individuals within five years of diagnosis and 50% of affected individuals within ten years of diagnosis, primarily due to the formation of life-threatening blood clots inside the blood vessels, or thrombosis. Based on prevalence data published in an abstract in a peer-reviewed journal, we estimate that there are approximately 4,700 patients with PNH in the United States and approximately15,000 patients with PNH worldwide.

PNH is caused by the presence of mutant stem cells in the bone marrow that lack important proteins on their surface that protect against activation of the complement system. In patients with PNH, an autoimmune response targets and eliminates normal stem cells, enabling mutant cells to become dominant in the bone marrow. These mutant stem cells lead to mutant platelets and red blood cells that, unlike normal cells, are overly susceptible to activation or destruction by the complement system. Mutant platelets, activated by the membrane attack complex, increase the risk of thrombosis, which is the leading cause of mortality in patients with PNH. Mutant red blood cells are susceptible to destruction by intravascular and extravascular hemolysis. Intravascular hemolysis, whicb involves the destruction of blood cells within the blood vessels, is caused by the formation of the membrane attack complex on the surface of red blood cells causing them to rupture. Intravascular hemolysis causes severe anemia and contributes to the risk of thrombosis. Extravascular bemolysis, which involves the destruction of blood cells outside the blood vessels, is caused by C3-related opsonization on red blood cells leading to removal of the cells from the blood stream by the liver and the spleen. Extravascular hemolysis further contributes to severe anemia and transfusion dependency in patients with PNH.

Current Therapies and Their Limitations

Eculizumab, marketed as Soliris, and ravulizumab, marketed as Ultomiris, both by Alexion Pharmaceuticals, Inc., or Alexion are the only therapies that have been approved for the treatment of PNH. Eculizumab, which is administered every two weeks intravenously, or directly into the veins, is designed to treat PNH by targeting C5 and preventing the formation of the membrane attack complex and intravascular hemolysis. Many patients with PNH on treatment with eculizumab continue to be anemic. Ravulizumab is administered intravenously every week and subcutaneously once per week and is designed to have a longer half-life and greater inhibition of C5 than eculizumab. Ravulizumab was tested in two Phase 3 non-inferiority trials with eculizumab and was found to be non-inferior to eculizumab. 955

Retrospective third-party studies have reported that up to 70% of patients with PNH who are on treatment with eculizumab remained anemic and up to 36% of patients on eculizumab continued to require at least one transfusion per year. In these studies, 100% of patients with PNH on eculizumab showed evidence of C3-related opsonization on their red blood cells. We believe that uncontrolled extravascular hemolysis is responsible in part for these continuing complications.

Benefits of Our Approach

We believe that, because pegcetacoplan inhibits complement activation at the level of C3, pegcetacoplan may provide the following benefits in controlling PNH:

- Prevention of intravascular hemolysis and its consequences. Pegcetacoplan may prevent the formation of the membrane attack complex on blood cells and may thereby prevent the activation of mutant platelets and intravascular hemolysis, thus reducing the risk of thrombosis, the leading cause of mortality in PNH, as well as reducing anemia.
- Prevention of extravascular hemolysis and its consequences. Pegcetacoplan may prevent C3b opsonization, on blood cells, and may thereby prevent extravascular hemolysis, further reducing anemia and transfusion dependency in patients with PNH.
- Ease and convenience of use. We believe that the ability to self-administer pegcetacoplan by subcutaneous injection on a regular basis could improve the quality of life for patients with PNH by eliminating the need to travel to a health care facility for intravenous treatment.

Regulatory Matters

We submitted an NDA to the FDA and an MAA to the EMA for pegcetacoplan for the treatment of PNH in September 2020. The FDA accepted the NDA and set the PDUFA target action date for May 14, 2021. The EMA validated the MAA in October 2020, with the potential for a European Commission decision on the MAA in the second half of 2021.

In April 2014, we received orphan drug designation from the FDA for pegcetacoplan for PNH. In February 2019 we received fast track designation from the FDA for pegcetacoplan for patients with PNH, which superseded the fast track designation we received in December 2016 for pegcetacoplan for the subset of patients with PNH who continue to require transfusions despite receiving therapy with eculizumab.

Clinical Development

If we are able to obtain marketing approval for pegcetacoplan for PNH, we plan to allow PNH patients on treatment with eculizumab to assess the benefit of pegcetacoplan in co-treatment with eculizumab for a limited time, before deciding to switch to pegcetacoplan monotherapy or to revert to eculizumab monotherapy.

If pegcetacoplan is approved for the treatment of patients with PNH, we believe that pegcetacoplan could be a best-in-class therapy for PNH, differentiated by mechanism, and that pegcetacoplan has the potential to significantly increase the quality of life of patients with PNH as compared to the current standard of care.

Phase 3 Clinical Trial - PEGASUS

We initiated the Phase 3 PEGASUS trial in patients in June 2018. The PEGASUS trial was an 80-patient randomized head-to-head trial comparing pegcetacoplan monotherapy to eculizumab monotherapy in patients with PNH currently on treatment with eculizumab who have a hemoglobin level of less than 10.5 g/dL, regarding of eculizumab dose or transfusion history. The primary efficacy endpoint of the trial was the change in hemoglobin level from baseline at week 16.

The treatment period of the trial consisted of three parts: a four-week run-in period, a 16-week randomized treatment period and a 32-week open-label pegcetacoplan only period. During the run-in period, all patients received twice-weekly subcutaneous doses of 1,080 mg of pegcetacoplan in addition to patients' then current dose of eculizumab. The run-in period was designed to provide patients with sufficient plasma concentration of pegcetacoplan to provide for what we expected to be adequate complement inhibition before withdrawing eculizumab. Following completion of the run-in period, patients received either 1,080 mg of pegcetacoplan twice per week or their current dose of eculizumab through the duration of the 16-week randomized treatment period. Following completion of the randomized treatment period with either pegcetacoplan monotherapy or eculizumab monotherapy, all 80 patients had the option to receive pegcetacoplan monotherapy for 32 weeks in an open-label treatment period.

In January 2020, we announced top-line data from the PEGASUS trial that showed that pegcetacoplan met the primary efficacy endpoint, demonstrating superiority to eculizumab with a statistically significant improvement in adjusted means of 3.8 g/dL of hemoglobin at week 16 ($p < 0.0001$). At week 16, pegcetacoplan-treated patients (n = 41) had an adjusted mean hemoglobin increase of 2.4 g/dL from a baseline of 8.7 g/dL, compared to eculizumab-treated patients (n = 39) who had a change of -1.5 g/dL from a baseline of 8.7 g/dL. Additionally, pegcetacoplan showed promising results in key secondary endpoints. Pegcetacoplan met non-inferiority on transfusion avoidance and absolute reticulocyte count. Pegcetacoplan did not meet pre-specified criteria for non-inferiority on mean LDH levels. Pegcetacoplan showed positive trends on LDH and fatigue as measured by the FACIT-fatigue score. The statistical analysis plan for the PEGASUS trial provided for use of the mixed model—repeated measures (MMRM) method. To avoid the effect of transfusions in hemoglobin levels during the 16-week randomization period of the trial, if a patient received a transfusion during the 16-week randomization period, any measurements after the first transfusion were censored from the data used in the MMRM analysis. The treatment effects using observed data from the trial, which included all post-transfusion measurements, were consistent with and supportive of the reported results from the MMRM analysis.

All patients who completed the 16 week randomization period in both groups (77/80) entered the 32-week open-label pegcetacoplan treatment period. At week 48, patients treated with pegcetacoplan during the 16 week randomization period and through the 32 week open-label period sustained increases in hemoglobin levels, with a mean improvement from baseline of 2.7 g/dL, equal to the 2.7 g/dL mean increase seen at week 16 in the same patients. Additionally, patients treated with eculizumab in the randomized period who switched to pegcetacoplan during the open-label period experienced sustained improvements in hemoglobin and other hematological and clinical measures, similar to patients treated with pegcetacoplan monotherapy during the randomized controlled period. In addition to a sustained improvement in hemoglobin, the pegcetacoplan-treated patients group maintained improvements across key secondary endpoints. Througbout the 48-week study, 73% of patients treated with pegcetacoplan during the randomized period remained transfusion free. For comparison, 25% of patients were transfusion free over the year prior to entering the PEGASUS study while on treatment with eculizumab. Improvements across additional markers of disease, such as reticulocyte count, lactate dehydrogenase, or LDH, levels, and the FACIT-fatigue scores, were observed in both groups at week 48 after 32 weeks of open-label treatment with pegcetacoplan.

In the PEGASUS trial, the safety profile of pegcetacoplan was comparable to eculizumab and consistent with previously reported data. After the 48-week study period, twenty-four of 80 pegcetacoplan monotherapy-treated patients (30%) experienced a serious adverse event (SAE). Five of the SAEs (6%) were assessed to be possibly related to study treatment. No cases of meningitis were reported. One death was reported due to COVID-19 and was unrelated to study treatment. The most common adverse events (AEs) reported throughout the study were injection site reactions (36%), hemolysis (24%), and diarrhea (21%). Twelve out of 80 patients (15%) discontinued due to adverse events, with five discontinuations due to hemolysis. Sixty-four of the 67 patients (96%) who completed the open-label period opted to enter the extension study.

Phase 3 Clinical Trial – PRINCE

We initiated the Phase 3 PRINCE trial in September 2019. The PRINCE trial is a 54-patient randomized, multicenter, open-label trial to evaluate the efficacy of pegcetacoplan in treatment-naïve PNH patients. The primary endpoints are avoidance of a greater than 1 g/dL decrease in hemoglobin level from baseline in the absence of transfusion through week 26 and reduction in LDH level from baseline to week 26, in patients with PNH who are currently not being treated with complement inhibitors. Secondary endpoints include hemoglobin response (defined as an increase in hemoglobin levels greater than or equal to 1 g/dL), change in absolute reticulocyte count, change in hemoglobin levels, number of packed red blood cells transfused, change in FACIT score, hemoglobin normalization and LDH normalization. This trial is fully enrolled and we expect to present top-line data in the second quarter of 2021.

Phase 1b Clinical Trials – PHAROAH and PADDOCK

Prior to commencing our two Phase 3 trials, we conducted two clinical trials of pegcetacoplan as part of our PNH program: a Phase 1b clinical trial (PHAROAH) in patients with PNH being treated with eculizumab, which has concluded, and a Phase 1b clinical trial (PADDOCK) in treatment-naïve patients. These trials were designed to assess safety and tolerahility and whether pegcetacoplan has the potential to control PNH. In these trials, we measured hemoglobin levels, which are significantly lower in patients with PNH, whether or not treated with eculizumah, and blood reticulocyte count, which is an indicator of overall hemolysis (both intravascular and extravascular) in patients on eculizumab. We also measured intravascular hemolysis based on LDH levels, which can be ten times higher than normal in patients with PNH, bilirubin, which is a breakdown product of hemoglobin and may be higher in patients who experience hemolysis, and the clonal distributions of normal red blood cells and mutant red blood cells unprotected from the membrane attack complex.

PHAROAH was a Phase 1b open-label, single and multiple ascending dose clinical trial of pegcetacoplan in patients with PNH who are receiving eculizumab, conducted at multiple clinical sites in the United States. In the PHAROAH trial, doses of pegcetacoplan

SPECIAL NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q may contain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 about us and our industry that involve substantial risks and uncertainties. All statements other than statements of historical facts contained in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, including statements regarding our strategy, future financial condition, future operations, projected costs, prospects, plans, objectives of management and expected market growth, are forward-looking statements. We have based these forward-looking statements largely on our current expectations and projections about future events and financial trends that we believe may affect our financial condition, results of operations, business strategy and financial needs. These forward-looking statements are subject to a number of known and unknown risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including risks described in the section titled "Risk Factors" in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q:

The foregoing list of risks is not exhaustive. Other sections of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q may include additional factors that could harm our business and financial performance. Moreover, we operate in a very competitive and rapidly changing environment. New risk factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for our management to predict all risk factors nor can we assess the impact of all factors on our business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in, or implied by, any forward-looking statements.

You should refer to the sections titled "Risk Factors" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" for a discussion of important factors that may cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by our forward-looking statements. Operations and Business Applied Therapeutics, Inc. (the "Company") is a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company developing a pipeline of novel product candidates against validated molecular targets in indications of high unmet medical need. In particular, the Company is currently targeting treatments for rare metabolic diseases such as galactosemia, and diabetic complications including diabetic cardiomyopathy. The Company was incorporated in Delaware on January 20, 2016 and is headquartered in New York, New York.

On May 16, 2019, the Company completed an initial public offering (the "IPO") in which the Company issued and sold 4,000,000 shares of its common stock at a public offering price of $10.00 per share, for aggregate gross proceeds of $40.0 million. The Company received net of proceeds $34.6 million, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and offering costs. Prior to the completion of the IPO, the Company primarily funded its operations with proceeds from the sale of convertible preferred stock (see Note 8).

In connection with the IPO, the Company effected a 55.2486-for-1 stock split of its issued and outstanding shares of common stock and convertible preferred stock. The stock split became effective on April 26, 2019. Stockholders entitled to fractional shares as a result of the forward stock split received cash payment in lieu of receiving fractional shares. All share and per share amounts for all periods presented in the accompanying condensed financial statements and notes thereto have been retroactively adjusted, where applicable, to reflect this stock split. Shares of common stock underlying outstanding stock options and other equity instruments were proportionately increased and the respective per share value and exercise prices, if applicable, were proportionately decreased in accordance with the terms of the agreements governing such securities.

Upon the closing of the IPO on May 16, 2019, all of the then-outstanding shares of convertible preferred stock automatically converted into 7,538,671 shares of common stock on a one-for-one basis. Subsequent to the closing of the IPO, there were no shares of convertible preferred stock outstanding.

On November 12, 2019, the Company completed a private placement (the "Private Placement"), pursuant to which it issued and sold 1,380,344 shares of the Company's commou stock at a price of $14.50 per share, for net proceeds of $18.4 million after deducting placement agent discounts and commissions and offering costs.

On January 28, 2020, the Company completed its secondary public offering (the "Secondary Public Offering"), pursuant to which it issued and sold 2,741,489 shares of common stock at a public offering price of $45.50 per share, with an additional 411,223 shares sold pursuant to the underwriters' full exercise of their option to purchase additional shares. The aggregate net proceeds received by the Company from the offering, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and offering costs, were $134.1 million.

On June 4, 2020, the Company filed a shelf registration statement on Form S-3 (the "Shelf Registration Statement") under which the Company may, from time to time, sell securities in one or more offerings having an aggregate offering price of up to $300.0 million. The Shelf Registration Statement was declared effective as of June 15, 2020. As of the filing date of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, no securities have been sold under this shelf registration.

On June 12, 2020, the Company entered into an equity distribution agreement (the "Equity Distribution Agreement") with Goldman Sachs & Co. LLC ("Goldman"), as a sales agent to sell shares of the Company's common stock, from time to time, having an aggregate offering price of up to $100 million. To Whom It May Concern:

On behalf of Applied Therapeutics, Inc. ("Applied") attached is Applied's Initial application.

Applied is in Englewood Cliffs, NJ and is developing a pipeline of novel products that target molecules and pathways with proven roles in disease biology. Aldose Reductase is an enzyme involved in the pathophysiology of numerous diseases with high unmet medical need. Applied has developed a new generation of ARIs that are in clinical development for conditions such as Galactosemia and Diabetic Cardiomyopathy. Utilizing advanced crystallography, the company has developed a unique understanding of structural changes within the enzyme active site, which has enabled functional design of new compounds to improve binding affinity and specificity. These new compounds have higher Aldose Reductase inhibitory activity and less off-target activity. The leading drug product set for launch October 2021 is AT-007. AT-007 is a potent and selective compound, which crosses the blood brain barrier into the Central Nervous System (CNS penetrant). AT-007 has received both Orphan Drug and Pediatric Rare Disease designations from the FDA for the treatment of Galactosemia, a rare metabolic disease, and Phosphomannomutase 2 Deficiency – a Congenital Disorder of Glycosylation (PMM2-CDG).

Applied is a "Virtual Manufacturer" whose products are manufactured by a contract manufacturer and distributed by a Third-Party Logistics Provider, who meets licensure requirements to ship pharmaceutical products into your state. At no time is commercial product manufactured at, stored at, or distributed from Applied's office. Applied's product is not a controlled substance. At the time of this filing, Applied holds a license in its home state of New Jersey.

I hope this narrative is helpful as you review Applied's application. If you have a question regarding this application, please contact me at 216-406-0178 or via email at cheryl.midian@twolabs.com. 2017

On July 27, 2017, Celgene Corporation agreed to pay $280 million to resolve allegations that is sold and promoted its drugs thalidomide (Thalomid) and lenalidomide (Revlimid) in violation of federal and state laws. The case was brought by a former Celgene sales representative, Beverly Brown, under the federal False Claims Act (FCA) and state analogues. The federal civil settlement agreement encompasses allegations that Celgene promoted Thalomid and Revlimid for off-label uses that were not approved by the FDA, were in many cases unsafe, and were not properly reimbursable by federal insurance programs. The suit also alleged that Celgene offered kickbacks in an effort to influence health care providers to select its products for use, regardless of whether they were reimbursable by federal or state health care programs or were medically necessary. Celgene said the litigation related primarily to allegations that Celgene promoted Thalomid for off-label uses before its 2006 FDA approval for newly diagnosed multiple myeloma. Under the settlement, Celgene paid a total of $280 million to the United States, 28 states, the District of Columbia, and the City of Chicago to resolve the litigation. Celgene noted that the Department of Justice and the other governmental entities declined to intervene in the litigation.

CONSENT ORDER

Background

The Maryland Board of Pharmacy (the "Board") was advised by State License Servicing, LLC, on behalf of by Celgene Corporation, a wholesale drug distributor licensed in Maryland under Permit No D02255, that Celgene had been disciplined by the Maine Board of Pharmacy on May 17, 2013, for failing to disclose disciplinary action taken against Celgene by the Oregon Board of Pharmacy on July 17, 2008. Upon receiving this information, the Board reviewed previous applications filed by Celgene and determined that Celgene also did not previously disclose the Oregon disciplinary action to the Board.

In lieu of instituting formal proceedings against Celgene, in accordance with the Maryland Pharmacy Act, Md. Code Ann., Health Occ. § 12-101 et seq., the Board and Celgene have agreed to resolve this matter as set forth in this Consent Order.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On or about June 2013, the Board received credible information from State License Services, on behalf of Celgene Corporation, that Celgene had been disciplined by the Maine Board of Pharmacy on May 17, 2013, for failing to disclose prior discipline it received from the Oregon Board of Pharmacy in 2008. The Maine Board issued a Warning, and a civil penalty of $500 against Celgene.

2. The Oregon Board of Pharmacy entered into a Consent Order with Celgene Corporation on July 17, 2008, based on Celgene's unauthorized distribution of drugs into Oregon without duly registering as a drug outlet. The Oregon Board issued a civil penalty against Celgene in the amount of $500.
3. Upon receipt of the above information, the Board reviewed the renewal application filed by Celgene Corporation on December 29, 2008. Based on the Board's review, it determined that Celgene failed to disclose the disciplinary action taken against it by the Oregon Board of Pharmacy in July 2008.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Based on the foregoing Findings of Fact, the Board concludes that Celgene Corporation, is subject to discipline in accordance with Md. Code Ann., Health Occ. §§ 12-6C-11 and COMAR 10.34.22.05A(3) and (4).

ORDER

Based upon an affirmative vote of a majority of the Board under the authority of Md. Code Ann., Health Occ. § 12-6C-11 and COMAR 10.34.22.05, it this 30th day of May, 2014, hereby,

ORDERED that Celgene Corporation, Permit No. D02255, shall pay a FINE in the amount of $500.00, payable to the Maryland Board of Pharmacy within ninety (90) days of the date of this Order; and be it further,

ORDERED that Celgene Corporation shall comply with all laws and regulations governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs and devices into, out of, and within the State of Maryland; and be it further,

ORDERED that in the event that Celgene Corporation violates any of the terms above, the Board, after notice and an opportunity for a hearing, and a determination of a violation, may impose any disciplinary sanction it deems appropriate, including suspension, revocation, and fines, said violation being proven by a preponderance of the evidence; and be it further, ORDERED that this is a formal order and as such is a public document pursuant to Md. Code Ann., State Gov't § 10-611 et seq. (2004).

Hi Stacie,

In further review of the application, we noticed the Certificate of Good Standing in the application is the incorporation certificate. Can you provide the regular Certificate of Good Standing? Usually it does not include the incorporation documents submitted, I attached an example.

Thank you,

PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

Overview

We are a medical technology company focused on the development of products for the treatment of neurological symptoms caused by disease or trauma. We seek to develop, license or acquire unique and noninvasive platform technologies that amplify the brain's ability to heal itself.

Many patients with brain injury or brain-related disease have disrupted neural networks that result in their brains being unable to correctly or efficiently carry neural impulses, which are responsible for directing bodily functions like movement control or sensory perception. Our first product in development, known as the portable neuromodulation stimulator or PoNS®, device, is designed to enhance the brain's ability to compensate for this damage. The PoNS Treatment is a combination of our PoNS device and functional, targeted physical or cognitive therapy, and is currently being developed for the treatment of movement, gait and balance disorders in patients with traumatic brain injury, or TBI, and other chronic neurological diseases.

We recently completed our registrational clinical trial of the PoNS Treatment for mild- to moderate TBI, in which we observed statistically and clinically significant increases in composite sensory observation test scores. Based on the safety and efficacy results from this clinical trial, we intend to submit a request for FDA marketing authorization for the treatment of chronic balance deficit due to mild- to moderate-TBI via the FDA's de novo classification process in the first half of 2018. In addition, we intend to submit applications for marketing authorizations in Canada, the European Union and Australia during the first half of 2018.

The PoNS Treatment

The PoNS Treatment consists of an investigational medical device that is comprised of two major components, an electric pulse generator and a replaceable mouthpiece combined with physical or cognitive therapy. The PoNS device delivers specially-patterned electrical stimulation developed to mirror nerve impulses to the brain through 143 gold-plated electrodes on the mouthpiece which is placed on the tongue. For 20 minutes the electrical stimulation, called translingual neurostimulation, is coupled with physical or cognitive therapy, which consists of condition specific physical, relaxation and cognitive exercises, based on the patient's functional deficits. Clinical research has shown that electrical stimulation of the tongue activates two major cranial nerves – the lingual nerve, a part of the trigeminal nerve, and the chorda tympani, a part of the facial nerve. Electrical stimulation of the cranial nerves creates a flow of neural impulses that are then delivered directly into the brain stem and cerebellum – the main control centers for multiple life functions including sensory perception and movement. From the brain stem, these impulses travel throughout the brain and activate or reactivate neurons and structures involved in human function such as the cortex, spinal cord and potentially the entire central nervous system. Researchers believe that sustained stimulation initiates a sequential cascade of changes in the actual interconnected nuclei, or neuronal network, the fundamental connections between the anatomical components of the brain. The PoNS device is also a smart device with built in technology to allow tracking of the patient use, including time and intensity of treatments.

Design

The PoNS device is ergonomically designed for patient comfort, is relatively light, contains a replaceable hygienic mouthpiece, and a rechargeable battery with built-in technology that allows for technical data logging and communications. See Figure 1.

PART I

Item 1. BUSINESS

Overview

Novavax, Inc., together with our wholly-owned Swedish subsidiary, Novavax AB, is a late-stage biotechnology company that promotes improved global health through the discovery, development and commercialization of innovative vaccines to prevent serious infectious diseases. Using innovative proprietary recombinant nanoparticle vaccine technology, we produce vaccine candidates to efficiently and effectively respond to both known and emerging disease threats.

We were incorporated in 1987 under the laws of the State of Delaware. Our principal executive offices are located at 21 Firstfield Road, Gaithersburg, Maryland, 20878, and our telephone number is (240) 268-2000. Our common stock is listed on the Nasdaq Global Select Market under the symbol "NVAX."

Our vaccine candidates, including our lead candidates, NanoFlu™ and ResVax™, are genetically engineered, three-dimensional nanostructures of recombinant proteins critical to disease pathogenesis and may elicit differentiated immune responses, which may be more efficacious than naturally occurring immunity or traditional vaccines. Our technology targets a variety of infectious diseases. We are also developing proprietary immune stimulating saponin-based adjuvants at Novavax AB, our wholly owned Swedish subsidiary. Our lead adjuvant, Matrix-M™, has been shown to enhance immune responses and has been well-tolerated in multiple clinical trials.

A summary and status of these vaccine programs follows:

Seasonal Influenza

NanoFlu Program (Older Adults)

Influenza is a world-wide infectious disease with serious illness generally occurring in more susceptible populations such as children under 18 years old and older adults, but also occurring in the general population. According to influenza vaccines forecasts by Datamonitor in 2013, the market for seasonal influenza vaccines is expected to grow from approximately $3.2 billion in the 2015-16 flu season to approximately $5.3 billion in the 2021-22 flu season (in the countries comprising the top seven markets). Recent flu seasons have shown an increase in the influenza disease burden. For the 2017-18 flu season, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates that influenza in the U.S. resulted in 48.8 million illnesses, 959,000 hospitalizations and 79,400 deaths, a dramatic increase across all categories compared to previous years.

In October 2019, we initiated a pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial of NanoFlu in older adults (65 years and older). This randomized, observer-blinded, active-controlled trial will evaluate the immunogenicity and safety of NanoFlu with its proprietary Matrix-M adjuvant, compared to a U.S.-licensed quadrivalent vaccine, Fluzone® Quadrivalent. The trial's primary objective is to demonstrate non-inferior immunogenicity as measured by hemagglutination inhibition ("HAI") titers of vaccine homologous influenza strains compared to a licensed seasonal vaccine, and to describe its safety profile. In October 2019, we completed enrollment of 2,652 healthy older adults across 19 clinical sites in the U.S. and we expect to report top-line clinical data by the end of the first quarter of 2020. Positive data will support a subsequent U.S. biologics license application ("BLA") and licensure of NanoFlu using the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's ("FDA") accelerated approval pathway.

In January 2020, we announced that the FDA granted NanoFlu Fast Track designation, which is intended for products that treat serious or life-threatening diseases or conditions and that demonstrate the potential to address unmet medical needs for such diseases or conditions. The program is designed to facilitate development and expedite review of drugs to treat serious and life-threatening conditions so that approved products can reach the market expeditiously. Specifically, Fast Track designation facilitates meetings to discuss all aspects of development to support licensure and provides the opportunity to submit sections of a BLA on a rolling basis as data become available. This permits the FDA to review modules of the BLA as they are received instead of waiting for the entire BLA submission. In addition, priority review (six-month review versus standard 10-month review) is an additional benefit that may potentially be available for NanoFlu in the future.

In June 2019, we announced that the FDA acknowledged that the accelerated approval pathway is available for NanoFlu. An accelerated approval may be granted for certain biological products that have been studied for their safety and effectiveness in treating serious or life-threatening illnesses and that provide meaningful therapeutic benefit over existing treatments. Such an approval will be based on adequate and well-controlled clinical trials establishing that the biological product has an effect on a surrogate endpoint that is reasonably likely to predict clinical benefit. For seasonal influenza vaccines, the HAI antibody response is considered an acceptable surrogate marker of activity that is reasonably likely to predict clinical benefit. To be considered for accelerated approval, a BLA for a new seasonal influenza vaccine should include results from one or more well-controlled studies designed to meet immunogenicity endpoints along with a commitment to conduct confirmatory post-marketing studies of clinical effectiveness in preventing influenza.

Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV)

Currently, there is no approved RSV vaccine available to combat the estimated 64 million RSV infections that occur globally each year. We have identified three susceptible target populations that we believe could benefit from the development of our respiratory syncytial virus fusion (F) protein nanoparticle vaccine candidate ("RSV F Vaccine") in different formulations: (1) infants via maternal immunization, (2) older adults (60 years and older) and (3) children six months to five years old ("pediatrics"). With our current estimates of the annual global cost burden of RSV in excess of $88 billion, we believe our RSV F Vaccine represents a multi-billion dollar worldwide opportunity.

ResVax Program (Infants via Maternal Immunization)

ResVax is our adjuvanted RSV F Vaccine for infants via maternal immunization. RSV is the most common cause of lower respiratory tract infections ("LRTI") and the leading viral cause of severe lower respiratory tract disease in infants and young children worldwide. In the U.S., RSV is the leading cause of hospitalization of infants and, globally, is second only to malaria as a cause of death in children under one year of age.

Data from our Prepare trial, which was initiated in December 2015, was announced in February 2019. The Prepare trial was conducted to determine whether ResVax reduced incidence of medically significant RSV-positive LRTI in infants through a minimum of the first 90 days of life and up through the first six months of life. While these data did not meet the trial's primary efficacy endpoint, it did demonstrate efficacy against a secondary objective by reducing RSV LRTI hospitalizations in treated infants. ResVax is thus the first RSV vaccine to show efficacy in a Phase 3 clinical trial, and in addition, showed important effects against a variety of pre-specified exploratory endpoints and post-hoc analyses. This included a ~60% reduction in RSV-related severe hypoxemia and a ~74% reduction in RSV-related, radiographically-confirmed pneumonia through day 90. As in previous clinical trials, ResVax also showed favorable safety and tolerability results. In light of the fact that the trial failed to meet the primary endpoints, the FDA and European Medicines Agency ("EMA") recommended that we conduct an additional Phase 3 clinical trial to confirm efficacy. BMGF has supported the Prepare trial for ResVax through a grant of up to $89.1 million; BMGF continues to financially support our efforts to conduct certain follow-on analyses of the Phase 3 data. We are currently in discussions with multiple potential commercial partners about the opportunity to bring ResVax to market globally, including assisting us with the regulatory licensure pathways in the U.S., the European Union and other geographies.

RSV Older Adults Program

Older adults (60 years and older) are at increased risk for RSV disease due in part to immunosenescence, the age-related decline in the human immune system. RSV infection can also lead to exacerbation of underlying co-morbidities such as chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, asthma and congestive heart failure. In the U.S. alone, a reported RSV incidence rate of 5.5% in older adults would account for approximately 2.5 million infections per year. We estimate that approximately 900,000 medical interventions are caused by RSV disease in this U.S. population each year. We followed up the 2016 Phase 3 clinical trial of our RSV F Vaccine, which failed to meet its pre-specified primary or secondary efficacy objectives, with a 2017 Phase 2 clinical trial in older adults, to assess safety and immunogenicity of one and two dose regimens of our RSV F Vaccine, with and without aluminum phosphate or our proprietary Matrix-M adjuvant. Immunogenicity results from the 2017 trial indicate that both adjuvants increase the magnitude, duration and quality of the immune response versus the non-adjuvanted RSV F Vaccine. We continue to assess the development opportunities for our RSV F Vaccine in older adults.

RSV Pediatrics Program

By the age of five, essentially all children will have been exposed to RSV and will likely develop natural immunity against the virus; however, children under five remain vulnerable to RSV disease, offering a strong rationale for a pediatric vaccine that could offer enhanced protection. In 2015, we announced positive results in our Phase 1 clinical trial evaluating the safety and immunogenicity of our RSV F Vaccine in healthy children between two and six years of age. We continue to assess the development opportunities for our RSV F Vaccine for pediatrics.

Combination Seasonal Influenza/RSV F Vaccine

With the ongoing development of our NanoFlu and RSV F Vaccine, a strong rationale exists for developing a combination respiratory vaccine that is designed to protect susceptible populations against both diseases. Although testing is at an early stage, we believe that a combination vaccine against both influenza and RSV may be achievable.

Ebola Virus

Ebola virus ("EBOV") is a filovirus that produces severe, often fatal illness in humans. Within the last decade, it has produced two large outbreaks in Sub-Saharan Africa with high mortality. There are currently no licensed treatments proven to prevent EBOV, although a range of blood, immunological and drug therapies are under development.

We have developed an EBOV glycoprotein vaccine candidate ("Ebola GP Vaccine") expressed in insect cells, using our core recombinant baculovirus technology. In five separate studies, carried out in collaboration with the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Disease, active immunization with Ebola GP Vaccine was shown to be highly immunogenic and efficacious in preventing lethal disease in non-human primates challenged with EBOV. Our 2015 Phase 1 clinical trial demonstrated that our Ebola GP Vaccine is highly immunogenic in humans, well-tolerated and, in conjunction with our proprietary Matrix-M adjuvant, demonstrated marked antigen dose-sparing and induced significant increases in neutralizing antibody titers. While we intend to advance our Ebola GP Vaccine, doing so will be dependent upon funding or a partner.

Coronavirus

Coronaviruses ("CoV"), so named for their "crown-like" appearance, are a large family of viruses that spread from animals to humans and include diseases such as Middle East Respiratory Syndrome ("MERS") and Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome ("SARS"). Historically, we developed a vaccine candidate against MERS, a novel coronavirus first identified in 2012, as well as a vaccine candidate against SARS in 2005. In 2012, within weeks of obtaining the sequence of the circulating MERS strain, we successfully produced a vaccine candidate designed to provide protection. Our MERS candidate was based on the major surface spike protein, which we had previously identified as the antigen of choice in our work with our SARS vaccine candidate. In 2014, in collaboration with the University of Maryland, School of Medicine, we published results that showed our MERS and SARS vaccine candidates both blocked infection in laboratory studies.

Recently, a new strain of coronavirus ("COVID-19") causing pneumonia-like symptoms has emerged in China, marking the beginning of a spread of the virus across the globe. Researchers have now confirmed that the virus can spread via human-to-human transmission. There are currently no licensed treatments proven to prevent COVID-19, although a range of vaccine candidates are under development. We have successfully produced a vaccine candidate designed to provide protection against COVID-19. Using our recombinant nanoparticle technology, we have generated antigen for our initial vaccine candidate derived from the coronavirus spike (S) protein. This vaccine candidate has been engineered from the genetic sequence of COVID-19 virus and binds efficiently with the same human receptors targeted by the virus, a critical aspect for effective vaccine protection. We intend to combine our proprietary Matrix-M adjuvant into our experimental vaccine candidate to potentially provide an additional immune response. We were recently awarded initial funding from the Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness Innovations ("CEPI") to facilitate our development of a COVID-19 vaccine in preparation for potential future clinical trials. A subsequent CEPI award may be available to cover our program expenditures through Phase 1 clinical trial results.

CPLB Joint Venture

CPL Biologicals Private Limited ("CPLB"), our joint venture between Novavax and Cadila Pharmaceuticals Limited ("Cadila"), is actively developing a number of vaccine candidates in India. CPLB is owned 20% by Novavax and 80% by Cadila.

Vaccine Technology

Our recombinant protein nanoparticle vaccine technology is based on self-assembly of surface protein antigens from pathogenic organisms including viruses, bacteria or parasites. The conformations of these nanoparticles are similar but not identical to the natural structure of surface antigens of disease organisms, and lack the genetic material required for replication and therefore are not infectious. Potential immunological advantages of protein nanoparticles may be associated with the nanoparticle conformation and the presentation of key functional epitopes that are often immunologically hidden in the native pathogen. This leads to efficient recognition by the immune system's antigen presenting cells that trigger robust immune responses. Recognition of the nanoparticle vaccine's repeating protein patterns by the antigen presenting cells' toll-like receptors to stimulate innate immunity and the high purity and lack of synthetic material adds to the potential safety of recombinant nanoparticle vaccines. Protein nanoparticle vaccine technology has expanded our early-stage vaccines in development to include both virus and non-virus disease targets. Our most advanced protein nanoparticle vaccine candidate is our RSV F Vaccine, which self-assembles from our highly purified F-protein antigen.

Matrix Adjuvants

Adjuvants are predominantly used to enable a vaccine to increase the amplitude of the immune response and qualitatively change it, broadening the immune system's attack against microorganisms and allowing for effective immunization with much lower doses of antigen. Novavax AB has developed a number of adjuvant formulations, all based on our proprietary Matrix technology. These adjuvant formulations possess excellent immunostimulatory features with the ability to increase and prolong the protective benefits of vaccines.

While adjuvants based on novel, poorly characterized substances have been hampered by safety concerns and limited efficacy, Matrix adjuvants stimulate strong antibody and cell-mediated immune responses. Matrix adjuvants may allow for lower antigen doses, longer-duration immune responses and carry a lower risk for allergic reactions or other adverse events. Our Matrix technology typically induces strong cellular activation of both Th1 and Th2 types, thereby generating all classes and subclasses of antibodies, as well as potent cellular responses, including cytotoxic T lymphocytes. Our Matrix-M adjuvant provides a potent adjuvant effect that has been well-tolerated in clinical trials. We also believe that the strong immune response and opportunity to reduce the quantity of antigen dose can significantly reduce the production cost of our vaccines. This means that our Matrix-M adjuvant has the potential to be of significant value when there is inadequate vaccine manufacturing capacity during an emerging disease threat such as an influenza pandemic.

Competition in RSV and Influenza

The vaccine market is intensely competitive, characterized by rapid technological progress. Our technology is based upon utilizing the baculovirus expression system in insect cells to make recombinant vaccines. We believe this system offers many advantages when compared to other technologies and is uniquely well-suited for developing RSV and influenza vaccines, as well as vaccines against a number of other infectious diseases.

There is currently no approved RSV vaccine for sale in the world; however, a number of vaccine manufacturers, academic institutions and other organizations currenly have, or have had, programs to develop such a vaccine. These groups are developing products to prevent disease caused by RSV using a variety of technology platforms, including viral vectors, nucleic acid (RNA/DNA), live attenuated chimeric, antigens or monoclonal antibodies ("Mab") and competitive recombinant technologies. Despite the announcement of results from the Prepare trial of ResVax, we continue to believe that our RSV F vaccine candidate, which is a recombinant prefusogenic F-protein nanoparticle, is likely to be as effective as other RSV vaccine candidates or other products in development by our competitors, and may prove effective. We further believe that ResVax, our RSV vaccine program for infants via maternal immunization, is the only RSV vaccine to have ever demonstrated some degree of efficacy in a Phase 3 clinical trial. At this time, there are a number of companies and other organizations with vaccine candidates in Pbase 1 and 2 trials, including Pfizer, GlaxoSmithKline, Sanofi, Bavarian Nordic, Janssen, Moderna, Ablynx, Immunovaccine, Intravaac, Vaxart and the NIAID. Presently, the two lead Mab programs seeking to develop product candidates to prevent RSV in infants are being conducted by AstraZeneca PLC ("AstraZeneca"), and Merck. The AstraZeneca Mab, Nirsevimab (previously known as MEDI-8897), which is partnered with Sanofi Pasteur and Swedish Orphan Biovitrum AB, completed Phase 2 trials for preterm infants and is in Phase 3 trial for full-term infants. Additionally, it has obtained Breakthrough designation from the FDA. The Merck Mab MK-1654 is currenly in Phase 2 trials in preterm and full-term infants.

There are a number of companies developing and selling vaccines for seasonal influenza employing both traditional (egg-based) and new vaccine technologies (cell-based). Many seasonal influenza vaccines are currently approved and marketed, and most of these are marketed by major pharmaceutical companies that have significantly greater financial and technical resources, experience and expertise. Competition in the sale of seasonal influenza vaccines is intense. For the older adult segment, Sanofi currently supplies Fluzone-HD® and Flublok® to the majority (>60%) of U.S. older adults. Therefore, newly developed and approved products must be differentiated from existing vaccines in order to have commercial success. In order to show differentiation in the seasonal influenza market, a product may need to be more efficacious and/or be less expensive and quicker to manufacture. Many of our competitors are working on new products and new generations of current products, some by adding an adjuvant that is used to increase the immunogenicity of that product, each of which is intended to be more efficacious than currenly marketed products. Despite the significant competition and advancing technologies, some of which are similar to our own, based on our completed Phase 2 trial results, we believe that NanoFlu, our adjuvanted nanoparticle seasonal influenza product could be as efficacious as, or more so than, current products or products being developed by our competitors. However, our seasonal influenza vaccine may not prove to be efficacious or our manufacturing system may not prove to be sufficiently effective and differentiated to ensure commercial success.

In general, competition among pharmaceutical products is based in part on product efficacy, safety, reliability, availability, price and patent position. An important factor is the relative timing of the market introduction of our products and our competitors' products. Accordingly, the speed with which we can develop products, complete the clinical trials and approval processes and supply commercial quantities of the products to the market is an important competitive factor. Our competitive position also may depend upon our ability to show differentiation with a product that is more efficacious and/or less expensive and quicker to manufacture. Other factors affecting our competitive position include our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel, obtain patent protection or otherwise develop proprietary products or processes and secure sufficient capital resources for the lengthy period between technological conception and commercial sale.

Patents and Proprietary Rights

We generally seek patent protection for our tecbnology and product candidates in the U.S. and abroad. The patent position of biotechnology and pharmaceutical firms generally is highly uncertain and involves complex legal and factual questions. Our success will depend, in part, on whether we can:

- obtain patents to protect our own technologies and product candidates;
- obtain licenses to use the technologies of third-parties, which may be protected by patents;
- protect our trade secrets and know-how; and
- operate without infringing the intellectual property and proprietary rights of others.

Patent Rights; Licenses.

We have intellectual property (patents, licenses, know-how) related to our vaccines, manufacturing processes and other technologies. Currently, we have or have rights to over 400 U.S. patents and corresponding foreign patents and patent applications relating to vaccines and vaccine-related technologies.

Patents related to our VLP program include U.S. Patent No. 7,763,450, which covers, in part, the use of influenza gene sequences for high-yield production of consistent influenza VLP vaccines to protect against current and future seasonal and pandemic strains of influenza viruses. Corresponding European patent, European Patent No. 1644037 also covers this technology. U.S. Patent Nos. 8,080,255, 8,551,756, 8,506,967 and 8,592,197 are directed to methods of producing VLPs and inducing substantial immunity to an influenza virus infection by administering VLPs comprising HA and NA proteins, and our M1 protein derived from the avian influenza strain, A/Indonesia/5/05. Certain claims also encompass similar methods and compositions where the M1 protein is from a different strain of influenza virus than the influenza HA protein and the influenza NA protein. Related patent protection in Europe is provided by European Patent No. 2343084, which covers, in part, vaccine compositions containing VLPs that contain M1, HA, and NA proteins. Our VLP patent portfolio contains many other patents, including U.S. Patent Nos. 8,951,537, 8,992,939, 9,144,607, 9,050,290, 9,180,180, 9,381,239, 9,464,276, 9,474,799, and other patents in multiple ex-U.S. jurisdictions.

We also have issued patents directed to other core programs, including our RSV and influenza programs. Issued patents directed to various aspects of the RSV program include U.S. Patent Nos. 8,715,692, 9,675,685, 9,731,000, 9,717,786, 10,022,437, and 10,426,829. Additional patents in the family include EP237009 in Europe, as well as others throughout the world. Patents related to our rabies program include 9,724,405 and 10,086,065 in the U.S. and EP2635257 in Europe. Related patents have been issued in other world markets. In addition to our focus on vaccine programs, we also pursue patent protection for our Matrix Adjuvant program. Issued U.S. Patent Nos. 7,838,019, 9,205,147, 9,901,634 and 8,821,881 provide examples of patents related to our Matrix Adjuvant program.

We continue to prepare, file, and prosecute patent applications to provide broad and strong protection of our proprietary rights, including next generation applications focused on our RSV Program, our influenza nanoparticle program, and our adjuvant program.

The Federal Technology Transfer Act of 1986 and related statutory guidance encourages the dissemination of science and technology innovation. While our expired contract with the Department of Health and Human Services, Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority ("HHS BARDA") provided us with the right to retain ownership in our inventions that may have arisen during performance of that contract, with respect to certain other collaborative research efforts with the U.S. government, certain developments and results that may have commercial potential are to be freely published, not treated as confidential, and we may be required to negotiate a license to developments and results in order to commercialize products. There can be no assurance that we will be able to successfully obtain any such license at a reasonable cost, or that such development and results will not be made available to our competitors on an exclusive or non-exclusive basis.

Trade Secrets.

We also rely significantly on trade secret protection and confidentiality agreements to protect our interests. It is our policy to require employees, consultants, contractors, manufacturers, collaborators and other advisors to execute confidentiality agreements upon the commencement of employment, consulting or collaborative relationships with us. We also require confidentiality agreements from any entity that is to receive confidential information from us. With respect to employees, consultants and contractors, the agreements generally provide that all inventions made by the individual while rendering services to us shall be assigned to us as our property.

Government Regulations

The development, production and marketing of biological products, which include the vaccine candidates being developed by Novavax or our collaborators, are subject to regulation for safety, efficacy and quality by numerous governmental authorities in the U.S. and other countries. Although we focus on the U.S. regulatory process and the standards imposed by the FDA, the International Conference on Harmonisation ("ICH") and other agencies because we believe meeting U.S. and ICH standards generally allows us to satisfy regulatory agencies in other countries where we intend to do business; however, we are mindful that expectations in some venues, notably in the European Union, differ to some degree and we take proactive steps to address such differences by maintaining regular filings and correspondence and attending regular meetings with many other non-U.S. regulatory agencies. In the U.S., the development, manufacturing and marketing of human pharmaceuticals and vaccines are subject to extensive regulation under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, and biological products are subject to regulation under provisions of that act and the Public Health Service Act. The FDA not only assesses the safety and efficacy of these products but it also regulates, among other things, the testing, manufacture, labeling, storage, record-keeping, advertising and promotion of such products. The process of obtaining FDA licensure for a new vaccine is costly and time-consuming.

Vaccine clinical development follows the same general regulatory pathway as drugs and other biologics. Before applying for FDA licensure to market any new vaccine candidate, we expect to first submit an investigational new drug application ("IND") that explains to the FDA, among other things, the results of preclinical toxicology testing conducted in laboratory animals, the method of manufacture, quality control tests for release, the stability of the investigational product and what we propose to do for human testing. At this stage, the FDA decides whether it is reasonably safe to move forward with testing the vaccine candidate in humans. We must then conduct Phase 1 clinical trials and larger-scale Phase 2 and 3 clinical trials that demonstrate the safety, immunogenicity and efficacy of our vaccine candidate to the satisfaction of the FDA. Following successful completion of all three phases of clinical development, a BLA can be submitted to the FDA requesting licensure of the vaccine for marketing based on the vaccine's safety and efficacy. Similar pathways exist in Europe and other geographies.

The FDA will ouly approve a BLA if the vaccine is demonstrated to be safe, pure and potent. During the FDA's review of a BLA, the proposed manufacturing facility undergoes a pre-approval inspection during whicb the FDA examines in detail the production of the vaccine, the manufacturing facility and the quality documentation related to the vaccine. Vaccine licensure also requires the provision of adequate product labeling to allow health care providers to understand the vaccine's proper use, including its potential benefits and risks, to communicate with patients and parents, and to safely deliver the vaccine to the public. Until a vaccine is given to the general population, all potential adverse events cannot be anticipated. Thus, the FDA typically requires Phase 4 post-marketing clinical trials for vaccines after licensure to continue gathering safety, and sometimes effectiveness/efficacy data in the indicated and additional populations.

In order to ensure continuing safety, the FDA and most other non-U.S. based regulatory agencies continue to oversee the production of vaccines even after the vaccine and manufacturing processes are approved. For example, monitoring of the vaccine and of production activities, including periodic facility inspections, must continue as long as the manufacturer holds a license for the product. Manufacturers may also be required to submit the results of their own tests for potency, safety and purity for each vaccine lot, if requested by the relevant regulatory agency. They may also be required to submit samples of each vaccine lot to the agency for testing.

In addition to obtaining FDA licensure for each product, each domestic manufacturing establishment must be registered with the FDA, is subject to FDA inspection and must comply with current Good Manufacturing Practices ("GMP") regulations. To supply products for use either in the U.S. or outside the U.S., including clinical trials, U.S. and foreign manufacturing establishments, including third-party facilities, must comply with GMP regulations and are subject to periodic inspection by the FDA or by corresponding regulatory agencies in their home country.

In 1992, the FDA instituted regulations that allow accelerated approval of certain products that treat serious or life-threatening illnesses and provide meaningful therapeutic benefit over existing treatments based on a surrogate endpoint, versus a clinical outcome, which can take many more years to demonstrate. Surrogate endpoints, generally a laboratory measurement or other physical sign shown to have some correlation with clinical benefit, can considerably shorten the development time leading up to FDA licensure. The FDA bases its decision on whether to accept a proposed surrogate endpoint on the scientific support for that endpoint. The company developing the product is required to conduct further studies to confirm the clinical benefit in Phase 4 confirmatory efficacy trials. In June 2019, we announced that the FDA acknowledged that the accelerated approval pathway is available for NanoFlu.

In addition to regulatory approvals that must be obtained in the U.S., an investigational product is also subject to regulatory approval in other countries in which it is intended to be marketed. No such product can be marketed in a country until the regulatory authorities of that country have approved an appropriate marketing application. FDA licensure does not guarantee approval by other regulatory authorities. In addition, in many countries, the government is involved in the pricing of the product. In such cases, the pricing review period often begins after market approval is granted.

We are also subject to regulation under the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Environmental Protection Act, the Toxic Substances Control Act, the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act and other present and potential federal, state or local regulations, including national and local regulations that govern our facility in Sweden. These and other laws govern our use, handling and disposal of various biological and chemical substances used in, and waste generated by our operations. Our research and development involves the controlled use of hazardous materials, chemicals and viruses. Although we believe that our safety procedures for handling and disposing of such materials comply with the standards prescribed by state and federal regulations, the risk of accidental contamination or injury from these materials cannot be completely eliminated. In the event of such an accident, we could be held liable for any damages that result and any such liability could exceed our resources. Additionally, for formulations containing controlled substances, we are subject to Drug Enforcement Act regulations.

In both domestic and foreign markets, sales of any products for which we receive regulatory approval for commercial sale will depend in part on the availability of reimbursement from third-party payers. Third-party payers include government authorities or programs, private health insurers (including managed care plans) and other organizations. These third-party payers are increasingly challenging the price and examining the cost-effectiveness of medical products and services. In addition, significant uncertainty exists as to the reimbursement status of newly approved healthcare products. We may need to conduct expensive pharmacoeconomic studies in order to demonstrate the cost-effectiveness of our products. Our product candidates may not be considered cost-effective at certain prices. Adequate third-party reimbursement may not be available in certain markets to enable us to maintain price levels sufficient to realize an appropriate return on our investment in product development. Third-party payers may also control access to, or manage utilization of, our products with various utilization management techniques.

Within the U.S., if we obtain appropriate approval in the future to market any of our product candidates, those products could potentially be covered by various government health benefit programs as well as purchased by government agencies. The participation in such programs or the sale of products to such agencies is subject to regulation. In exchange for coverage, we may be obligated to provide rebates or offer discounts under government health programs or to government and private purchasers.

The U.S. and state governments continue to propose and pass legislation designed to reform delivery of, or payment for, health care, including initiatives to reduce the cost of healthcare. For example, in March 2010, the U.S. Congress enacted the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act ("Healthcare Reform Act") which includes changes to the coverage and reimbursement of drug products under government health care programs. Under the Trump administration, there have been ongoing efforts to modify or repeal all or certain provisions of the Healthcare Reform Act, and some modifications have been implemented. Recently, there has been considerable public and government scrutiny in the U.S. of pharmaceutical pricing and proposals to address the perceived high cost of pharmaceuticals. There have also been several recent state legislative efforts to address drug costs, which generally have focused on increasing transparency around drug costs or limiting drug prices or price increases. Adoption of new legislation at the federal or state level could affect demand for, or pricing of, our product candidates if approved for sale. We cannot predict the ultimate content, timing or effect of any federal and state reform efforts. There is no assurance that federal or state health care reform will not adversely affect our future business and financial results.

Within the U.S., we may be subject to various federal and state laws pertaining to health care "fraud and abuse," including anti-kickback laws and false claims laws, for activities related to future sales of any of our product candidates that may in the future receive regulatory and marketing approval. Anti-kickback laws generally prohibit a pharmaceutical manufacturer from soliciting, offering, receiving or paying any remuneration to generate business, including the purchase, prescription or use of a particular drug. Althougb the specific provisions of these laws vary, their scope is generally broad and there may not be regulations, guidance or court decisions that apply the laws to particular industry practices. There is therefore a possibility that our practices might be challenged under such anti-kickback laws. False claims laws prohibit anyone from knowingly and willingly presenting, or causing to be presented, any claims for payment for reimbursed drugs or services to third party payers (including Medicare and Medicaid) that are false or fraudulent.

Laws and regulations have been enacted by the federal government and various states to regulate the sales and marketing practices of pharmaceutical manufacturers with marketed products. The laws and regulations generally limit financial interactions between manufacturers and health care providers and/or require disclosure to the government and public of such interactions. Many of these laws and regulations contain ambiguous requirements or require administrative guidance for implementation. Given the lack of clarity in laws and their implementation, any future activities (if we obtain approval and/or reimbursement from federal healthcare programs for our product candidates) could be subject to challenge.

Manufacturing

Our primary manufacturing facility is located in Uppsala, Sweden, where Novavax AB produces our Matrix adjuvants in an approximately 24,000 square foot facility comprised of GMP manufacturing, laboratory and office space.

Sources of Supply

Most of the raw materials and other supplies required in our business are generally available from established vendors in quantities adequate to meet our needs. In some cases, only one vendor has been qualified for certain of our manufacturing components. Prior to the initiation of commercial production, we plan, where feasible, to qualify multiple vendors of critical raw materials. One key vendor is GE Healthcare Company ("GEHC"), which supplies disposable components, resins, media and buffers used in our manufacturing process. GEHC and other vendors that supply our key manufacturing materials have been or will be audited for compliance with GMP standards.

An important component of our Matrix adjuvant technology is extracted from a species of soap-bark tree (Quillaja saponaria) that grows mainly in Chile, and we have been able to acquire high-quality quillaja extract as needed from our current suppliers.

Business Development

We strive to create sustainable value by evaluating all options, including working to obtain non-dilutive funding, similar to our agreement with BMGF related to our maternal RSV program, from both governmental and non-governmental funding sources, that would allow for:

- continued development of our vaccine candidates until such vaccines can be licensed;
- retained commercial rights in one or more major markets;
- product sales revenue; and/or
- commercialization through partners and other strategic relationships.

Employees

As of March 6, 2020, we have 165 full-time employees, of whom 24 hold M.D. or Ph.D. degrees and 51 of whom hold other advanced degrees. Of our total workforce, 127 are engaged primarily in research, development and manufacturing activities and 38 are engaged primarily in executive, business development, finance and accounting, legal and administrative functions. None of our U.S. employees are represented by labor unions or covered by collective bargaining agreements; 48 of our 49 Swedish employees are covered by typical collective bargaining agreements. We consider our relations with our employees to be good.

Item 1A. RISK FACTORS

You should carefully consider the following risk factors in evaluating our business. A number of risk factors could cause our actual results to differ materially from those that are indicated by forward-looking statements. Some risks relate principally to our business and the industry in which we operate. Others relate principally to the securities market and ownership of our common stock. The risks and uncertainties described below are not the only ones we face. Additional risks and uncertainties of which we are unaware, or that we currently deem immaterial, also may become important factors that affect us. If any of the following risks occur, our business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. You also should consider the other information included in this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

RISKS RELATED TO OUR BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

We have a history of losses and our future profitability is uncertain.

Our expenses have exceeded our revenue since our formation in 1987, and our accumulated deficit at December 31, 2019 was $1.4 billion. Our revenue for the last three fiscal years was $18.7 million in 2019, $34.3 million in 2018, and $31.2 million in 2017. We may not be successful in entering into collaborations, strategic alliances and marketing, distribution or licensing arrangements with other companies or government agencies that result in significant revenue to offset our expenses. Our net losses for the last three fiscal years were $132.7 million in 2019, $184.7 million in 2018, and $183.8 million in 2017.

Historically, our losses have resulted predominantly from research and development expenses for our vaccine candidates, manufacturing-related expenses, costs related to protection of our intellectual property and other general operating expenses. Our expenses have exceeded our revenue since inception, and we believe our expenses will fluctuate over time, and may substantially increase some years, as a result of continuing research and development efforts to support our vaccine development efforts, and, if our product candidates are approved, future commercialization efforts.

Although certain specified costs associated with the development of ResVax, our RSV vaccine program for infants via maternal immunization, may be reimbursed under our contract with BMGF, we expect to continue to incur significant operating expenses and anticipate significant losses over time as we seek to:

- conduct clinical trials for RSV F Vaccine and other potential vaccine candidates;
- conduct preclinical studies for other potential vaccine candidates;
- work with third-party manufacturers to commercially scale the manufacturing process; and
- maintain, expand and protect our intellectual property portfolio.

As a result, we expect our cumulative operating losses to increase until such time, if ever, that product sales, licensing fees, royalties, milestones, contract research and other sources generate sufficient revenue to fund our operations. We may never achieve profitability and may not sustain profitability, if achieved.

We have limited financial resources and we may not be able to maintain our current level of operations or be able to fund the further development of our vaccine candidates.

We do not expect to generate revenue from product sales, licensing fees, royalties, milestones, contract research or other sources in amounts sufficient to fully fund our operations for the foreseeable future, and we will therefore use our cash resources, and expect to require additional funds, to maintain our operations, continue our research and development programs, commence future preclinical studies and clinical trials, seek regulatory approvals and manufacture and market our products.

We anticipate seeking such additional funds through a combination of public or private equity or debt financings, as well as potential collaborations, strategic alliances and marketing, distribution or licensing arrangements and non-dilutive funding from governmental and non-governmental funding entities, as well as other sources. While we may continue to apply for contracts or grants from academic institutions, non-profit organizations and governmental entities, we may not be successful. Adequate additional funding may not be available to us on acceptable terms, if at all. If we cannot raise the additional funds required for our anticipated operations, we may be required to delay significantly, reduce the scope of or eliminate one or more of our research or development programs, downsize our organization, or seek alternative measures to avoid insolvency, including arrangements with collaborative partners or others that may require us to relinquish rights to certain of our technologies or vaccine candidates. If we raise additional funds through future offerings of shares of our common stock or other securities, such offerings would cause dilution of current stockholders' percentage ownership in the Company, which could be substantial. Future offerings also could have a material and adverse effect on the price of our common stock.

Economic uncertainty may adversely affect our access to capital, cost of capital and ability to execute our business plan as scheduled.

Generally, worldwide economic conditions remain uncertain. Access to capital markets is critical to our ability to operate. Traditionally, biotechnology companies have funded their research and development expenditures through raising capital in the equity markets. Declines and uncertainties in these markets in the past have severely restricted raising new capital and have affected companies' ability to continue to expand or fund existing research and development efforts. We require significant capital for research and development for our vaccine candidates and clinical trials. The general economic and capital market conditions, both in the U.S. and worldwide, have been volatile in the past and at times have adversely affected our access to capital and increased the cost of capital. There is no certainty that the capital and credit markets will be available to raise additional capital on favorable terms. If economic conditions become worse, our future cost of equity or debt capital and access to the capital markets could be adversely affected. In addition, if we are unable to access the capital markets on favorable terms, our ability to execute our business plan as scheduled would be compromised. Moreover, we rely and intend to rely on third-parties, including clinical research organizations, contract manufacturing organizations and other important vendors and consultants. Global economic conditions may result in a disruption or delay in the performance of our third-party contractors and suppliers. If such third-parties are unable to adequately satisfy their contractual commitments to us in a timely manner, our business could be adversely affected.

The United Kingdom's withdrawal from the European Union could result in increased regulatory and legal complexity, which may make it more difficult for us to do business in Europe and impose additional challenges in securing regulatory approval of our product candidates in Europe.

The United Kingdom's exit from the European Union, or Brexit, and the related negotiations have caused political and economic uncertainty, including in the regulatory framework applicable to our operations and vaccine candidates in the United Kingdom and the European Union, and this uncertainty may persist for years. Brexit could, among other outcomes, disrupt the free movement of goods, services and people between the United Kingdom and the European Union, and result in increased legal and regulatory complexities, as well as potential higher costs of conducting business in Europe. For instance, preparations for Brexit have resulted in the decision to move the European Medicines Agency from the United Kingdom to the Netherlands. This transition may cause disruption or delays in granting clinical trial authorization or opinions for marketing authorization, disruption of importation and export of active substance and other components of new drug formulations, and disruption of the supply chain for clinical trial product and final authorized formulations.

The cumulative effects of the disruption to the regulatory framework may add considerably to the development lead time to marketing authorization and commercialization of products in the European Union and/or the United Kingdom. It is possible that there will be increased regulatory complexities, which can disrupt the timing of our clinical trials and regulatory approvals. In addition, changes in, and legal uncertainty with regard to, national and international laws and regulations may present difficulties for our clinical and regulatory strategy. Any delay in obtaining, or an inability to obtain, any marketing approvals, as a result of Brexit or otherwise, would prevent us from commercializing our product candidates in the United Kingdom and/or the European Union and restrict our ability to generate revenues and achieve and sustain profitability.

In addition, as a result of Brexit, other European countries may seek to conduct referenda with respect to their continuing membership with the European Union. Given these possibilities and others we may not anticipate, as well as the absence of comparable precedent, it is unclear what financial, regulatory and legal implications the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union will have, how such withdrawal will affect us, and the full extent to which our business could be adversely affected.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Amendment No. 1 on Form 10-K/A (this "Amendment") to the Annual Report on Form 10-K of Anika Therapeutics, Inc. for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2020, initially filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on March 5, 2021 (the "Original Filing"), is being filed principally to correct typographical errors that resulted during the creation of the EDGAR version of the Original Filing. As the result of these errors, the Original Filing failed to include the following, all of which are included in this Amendment:

- The entire paragraph, except for the word "Research", in the section captioned "Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Results of Operations – Year ended December 31, 2020 compared to yeor ended December 31, 2019 – Statement of Operations Detail – Research and development."
- The words "a per share and tax effected basis." at the end of the first paragraph in the section captioned "Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Results of Operations – Non-GAAP Financial Measures – Adjusted Net Income (Loss) and Adjusted EPS."
- The words "To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Anika Therapeutics, Inc." in the beginning of the "Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm" contained within the section captioned "Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data."
- The conformed signature of Deloitte & Touche LLP on the "Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm" contained within the section captioned "Item 9A. Controls and Procedures." The Company received the manually signed Internal Control Report from Deloitte & Touche prior to filing the Original Filing.

In addition, this Amendment is being filed to update the explanation surrounding employees added in 2020 in the third sentence of the third full paragraph of the section captioned "Item 1. Business – Human Capital Management."

This Amendment amends the cover page and includes Items 1, 7, 8, and 9A in their entirety without change from the Original Filing except as described above. In addition, pursuant to Rule 12b-15 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, we are including with this Amendment new certifications of our principal executive officer and principal financial officer pursuant to Sections 302 and 906 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. Accordingly, Item 15 of Part IV has also been amended to reflect the filing of these new certifications.

Except for the foregoing amended information, this Amendment does not amend or update any other information contained in the Original Filing. This Amendment does not reflect events occurring after the date of the filing of the Original Filing or modify or update those disclosures that may be affected by subsequent events. Accordingly, this Amendment should be read in conjunction with the Original Filing and with our other filings with the SEC.

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This amended Annual Report on Form 10-K/A contains "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 concerning our business, consolidated financial condition, and results of operations. The Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, encourages companies to disclose forward-looking statements so that investors can better understand a company's future prospects and make informed investment decisions. Forward-looking statements are subject to risks and uncertainties, many of which are outside our control, which could cause actual results to differ materially from these statements. Therefore, you should not rely on any of these forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements can be identified by such words as "will," "likely," "may," "believe," "expect," "anticipate," "intend," "seek," "designed," "develop," "would," "future," "can," "could," and other expressions that are predictions of or indicate future events and trends and that do not relate to historical matters. All statements other than statements of historical facts included in this Annual Report regarding our strategies, prospects, financial condition, operations, costs, plans, and objectives are forward-looking statements. Examples of forward-looking statements include, among others, statements regarding expected future operating results, expectations regarding the timing and receipt of regulatory results, anticipated levels of capital expenditures, and expectations of the effect on our financial condition of claims, litigation, and governmental and regulatory proceedings.

Please refer to "Item 1A. Risk Factors" contained in the Original Filing for important factors that we believe could cause actual results to differ materially from those in our forward-looking statements. Any forward-looking statement made by us in this amended Annual Report on Form 10-K/A is based only on information currently available to us and speaks only as of the date on which it is made. We undertake no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statement, whether written or oral, that may be made from time to time, whether as a result of new information, future developments, or otherwise.

PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

Overview

Founded in 1992, Anika Therapeutics, Inc. is a global joint preservation company that creates and delivers meaningful advancements in early intervention orthopedic care. Based on our collaborations with clinicians to understand what they need most to treat their patients, we develop minimally invasive products that restore active living for people around the world. We are committed to leading in high opportunity spaces within orthopedics, including osteoarthritis ("OA") pain management, regenerative solutions, soft tissue repair and bone preserving joint technologies.

We have nearly thirty years of global expertise developing, manufacturing and commercializing products based on our hyaluronic acid, or HA, technology platform. HA is a naturally occurring polymer found throughout the body that is vital for proper joint health and tissue function. Our proprietary technologies for modifying the HA molecule allow product properties to be tailored specifically to multiple uses, including enabling longer residence time to support OA pain management and creating a solid form of HA called HYAFF, which is the platform for our regenerative solutions portfolio.

In early 2020, we expanded our overall technology platform and significantly enhanced our commercial infrastructure, especially in the United States, through our strategic acquisitions of Parcus Medical, LLC, or Parcus Medical, a sports medicine implant and instrumentation solutions provider focused on sports medicine and soft tissue repair, and Arthrosurface, Inc., or Arthrosurface, a company specializing in less invasive, bone preserving partial and total joint replacement solutions. Through these acquisitions, we have transformed our company. We expanded our addressable market from the over $1 billion global OA pain management market to the over $8 billion joint preservation market (which includes the faster growing sports medicine and extremities segments), improved our commercial capabilities, and expanded our product pipeline and research and development expertise in our target markets.

As we look towards the future, our business is positioned to capture value within our target market of joint preservation. We believe our success will be driven by our:

- Decades of experience in HA-based regenerative solutions and early intervention orthopedics combined under new, common management with a strong financial foundation for future investment in meaningful solutions for our customers;
- Robust network of stakeholders in our target markets to identify evolving unmet patient treatment needs;
- Prioritized investment in differentiated research and development programs;
- Expansion of our commercial capabilities globally within joint preservation;
- Opportunity to pursue strategic inorganic growth opportunities, including potential partnerships and acquisitions, leveraging our strong financial foundation and operational capabilities; and
- Energized and experienced team focused on strong values, talent, and culture.

2012 – 2014 General Counsel Somerset, New Jersey

I direct legal and compliance programs for the U.S. subsidiaries of Meda AG, of Solna, Sweden, as well as supporting projects in Canada, Europe and Australia. The U.S. subsidiaries have approximately 570 employees in sales, marketing, manufacturing and various support roles. Our U.S. products include over 30 branded prescription drugs, and (through subsidiaries) generics, over-the-counter products, cosmetics and dietary supplements.

My primary functions include directing:

- prosecution of "Paragraph IV" patent cases and trademark litigation, including five Delaware federal court cases, as well as Canadian counterpart litigation;

- defense of over 5,000 failure-to-warn product liability cases;

- negotiation and drafting of patent and trademark and license agreements, as well as authorized generic marketing agreements;

- negotiating, documenting and assisting in the implementation of contract manufacturing, quality and associated agreements for inbound API, process and finished product manufacturing and outbound finished product manufacturing;

- equipment, consultant, software, data, and other service contract negotiation, drafting, filing and responsible party systems;

- commercial dispute resolution (including mediation, arbitrations and litigations); and

- employee matters.

My daily duties also regularly include regulatory matters regarding FDA, as well as FTC and other agencies. I review labeling and promotional materials and programs for FDA, FTC and CMS compliance. I often arrange for specialized legal and regulatory expertise to support development projects, including OTC switch projects. The Internal Audit function reports to me and I work on the development of the audit plan. I also support financial accounting processes and internal controls with policy development.

Particular projects have included a key role in presenting the company for sale through the investment banking process, defense of a National Advertising Division challenge of marketing claims; California consumer protection litigation, Proposition 65 allegation defense; bringing claims to enforce insurance coverage; advising on product life cycle decisions; product acquisition due diligence; divestiture of assets; patent and trademark portfolio transparency.

I have developed strong relationships across the company, which has fostered a more transparent, trusting and responsive approach to compliance with legal requirements, as well as adoption of practices that promote efficiency and equivalence across risks and resource allocation. My scope of responsibility in the company has continually been expanded, with promotion to General Counsel and then to Vice President.

2011 – 2012 Corporate Compliance Officer Marietta, Georgia / Somerset, New Jersey

I developed and operated programs for three prescription product sales forces, the marketing departments, the grants and sponsorship programs, as well as the company's presentation and publication of research data. My primary duties included reviewing all of the company's promotional materials and providing guidance to the sales team. Key accomplishments included:

- Providing legal representation for a product launch which included disease state awareness communications, data publication and presentation, market research and a variety of commercial activities.
- Writing a guide for Product Managers and vendors on the requirements for prescription product promotional materials.
- Leading the revision of the process, forms and software application for review of promotional materials for prescription, OTC, and other company products.
- Overseeing the cataloging of company trademarks, and preparing and teaching colleagues on registering, renewing and properly using marks.
- Revising the procedures for approval of company participation in medical society events, and events in which the sales team interacts with patients.
- Rewriting sales force guidance, replacing the SOP format and articulating clear instructions on what to do, and not do, in detailing products.
- Working with the Information Technology, Accounts Payable, and other departments to implement revisions to the expense entry system to capture payments to physicians for reporting under the Physician Payments Sunshine Act.
- Overseeing a fair market value assessment and process for approval of programs.

2006 – 2011 Shionogi Pharma, Inc. (formerly Sciele Pharma, Inc.) Atlanta, Georgia

Senior Director of Compliance

Shionogi is the U.S. subsidiary of an international pharmaceutical company which had a field force of over 700 Sales Representatives in the U.S. as well as multiple co-promotion arrangements, diverse promotional activities and substantial clinical trial programs. I developed, implemented and managed programs to ensure that promotion was consistent with product labeling, that interactions with healthcare providers were ethical and in accordance with applicable restrictions, that data submitted to state and federal programs was accurate, and that clinical trial data was valid and disclosed and published in accordance with federal, European and professional organization standards. My role included preparing SOPs, manuals and other controlled documents setting forth performance standards for procedural tasks and soft skills. Specific programs developed and implemented included:

- Prescription drug sample and voucher distribution and accounting controls
- A Compliance Field Manual and intranet guidance for the sales teams
- Training to prevent off-label promotion and kick-back allegations
- Audit programs for field activities, including product detailing, speaker programs, and advisory boards
- Good documentation practices and document retention procedures
- Learning management system selection and implementation
- Foreign Corrupt Practices Act compliance
- Crisis management preparation

In this role I developed and presented training programs to gatherings of 150+ managers, directors and executives on compliance topics, and I led the development and supervised the operation of training programs for field personnel on a variety of compliance matters. I was a standing member of the company's Promotional Review Board, reviewing all promotional materials, and established and led the Event Review Committee, reviewing all programs that involved interactions with physicians, including speaker programs and advisory boards. I revised the fair market value assessments and process for selecting physicians for participation.

The compliance programs at Shionogi that I developed were clear, effective and comprehensively documented. We received very positive reviews from audits by sanofi-aventis, Novo Nordisk and independent auditors, including The Hudson Group, Deloitte, and Lachman Consultants. Our programs fostered a cooperative culture among our compliance staff and both senior and mid-level managers in the Sales and Marketing Departments. That approach heightened our ability to understand activities across the organization and target programs to address compliance concerns.

2005-2006 Compliance Implementation Services, LLC Media, Pennsylvania
Program Development Director
At CIS I worked on team that developed and implemented compliance programs for prescription product promotion and government pricing. Particular projects included Medical Science Liaison guidance and training for Shire Pharmaceuticals, and PDMA (product samples) compliance for Stiefel Laboratories. I led projects that assessed entire operations and identified compliance risks based upon the business structure, range of activities and product mix

1994-2004 Powell, Goldstein, Frazer & Murphy, LLP (now Bryan Cave LLP) Atlanta, Georgia
Attorney at Law
Handled a wide variety of litigation and corporate law matters, with regulatory work in environmental and securities law. PART I

In this Annual Report on Form 10-K, all references to "we," "our," "us," "La Jolla" or "the Company" refer to La Jolla Pharmaceutical Company, a California corporation, and our wholly owned subsidiaries, including La Jolla Pharma, LLC and Tetraphase Pharmaceuticals, Inc., on a consolidated basis.

Item 1. Business

Overview

We are dedicated to the development and commercialization of innovative therapies that improve outcomes in patients suffering from life-threatening diseases. GIAPREZA™ (angiotensin II) injection is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") as a vasoconstrictor indicated to increase blood pressure in adults with septic or other distributive shock. XERAVA™ (eravacycline) for injection is approved by the FDA as a tetracycline class antibacterial indicated for the treatment of complicated intra-abdominal infections ("cIAI") in patients 18 years of age and older.

On July 28, 2020, La Jolla completed its acquisition of Tetraphase Pharmaceuticals, Inc. ("Tetraphase"), a biopharmaceutical company focused on commercializing XERAVA, for $43 million in upfront cash plus potential future cash payments of up to $16 million. Financial results for the period ending December 31, 2020 include Tetraphase's financial results subsequent to the acquisition closing date of July 28, 2020.

On January 12, 2021, La Jolla Pharmaceutical Company and certain of its wholly owned subsidiaries, including La Jolla Pharma, LLC and Tetraphase, entered into an exclusive licensing agreement (the "PAION License") with PAION AG and its wholly owned subsidiary (collectively, "PAION") to commercialize GIAPREZA and XERAVA in the European Economic Area, the United Kingdom and Switzerland whereby La Jolla is entitled to receive an upfront cash payment of $22.5 million plus potential commercial milestone payments of up to $109.5 million and double-digit tiered royalty payments.

As of December 31, 2020, La Jolla had $21.2 million of cash and cash equivalents. On a pro forma basis, adjusting for $18.9 million of upfront net proceeds from the PAION License, net of the amounts due under the George Washington University and Harvard University license agreements, La Jolla had cash and cash equivalents of $40.1 million.

For the three and twelve months ended December 31, 2020, GIAPREZA U.S. net sales were $8.7 million and $29.3 million, respectively, up 19% and 27%, respectively, from the same periods in 2019. Subsequent to July 28, 2020 and through December 31, 2020, XERAVA U.S. net sales were $4.2 million. For the three and twelve months ended December 31, 2020, including the period prior to the acquisition of Tetraphase, XERAVA U.S. net sales were $2.3 million and $8.2 million, respectively, up 53% and 128%, respectively, from the same periods in 2019.

(1) U.S.: GIAPREZA is a vasoconstrictor to increase blood pressure in adults with septic or other distributive shock
European Union: GIAPREZA is indicated for the treatment of refractory hypotension in adults with septic or other distributive shock who remain hypotensive despite adequate volume restitution and application of catecholamines and other available vasopressor therapies
(2) U.S.: XERAVA is a tetracycline class antibacterial indicated for the treatment of cIAIs in patients 18 years of age and older
European Union: XERAVA is indicated for the treatment of cIAI in adults

GIAPREZA™ (angiotensin II)

GIAPREZA™ (angiotensin II) injection is approved by the FDA as a vasoconstrictor indicated to increase blood pressure in adults with septic or other distributive shock. GIAPREZA is approved by the European Commission ("EC") for the treatment of refractory hypotension in adults with septic or other distributive shock who remain hypotensive despite adequate volume restitution and application of catecholamines and other available vasopressor therapies. GIAPREZA mimics the body's endogenous angiotensin II peptide, which is central to the renin-angiotensin-aldosterone system ("RAAS"), which in turn regulates blood pressure. GIAPREZA is marketed in the U.S. by La Jolla Pharmaceutical Company on behalf of La Jolla Pharma, LLC, its wholly owned subsidiary, and will be marketed in Europe by PAION AG on behalf of La Jolla Pharma, LLC.

Distributive shock is the most common form of shock (Vincent et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2013; 369(18):1726−1734).

Types of Shock(1)

(1) Vincent et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2013; 369(18):1726−1734

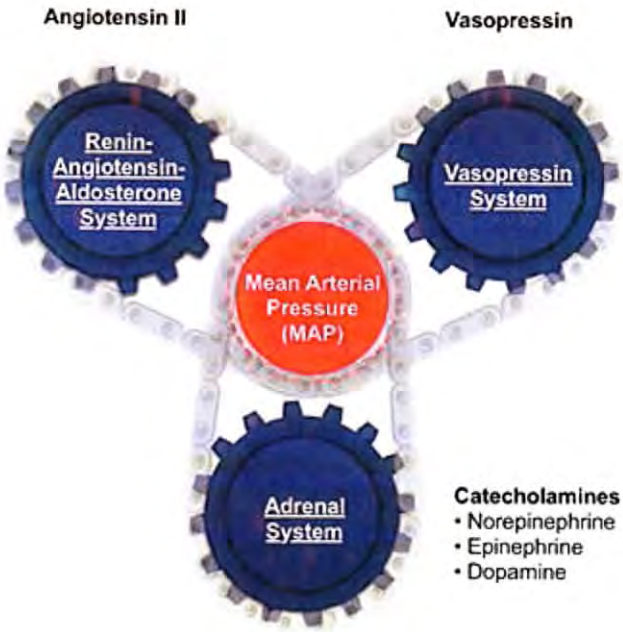
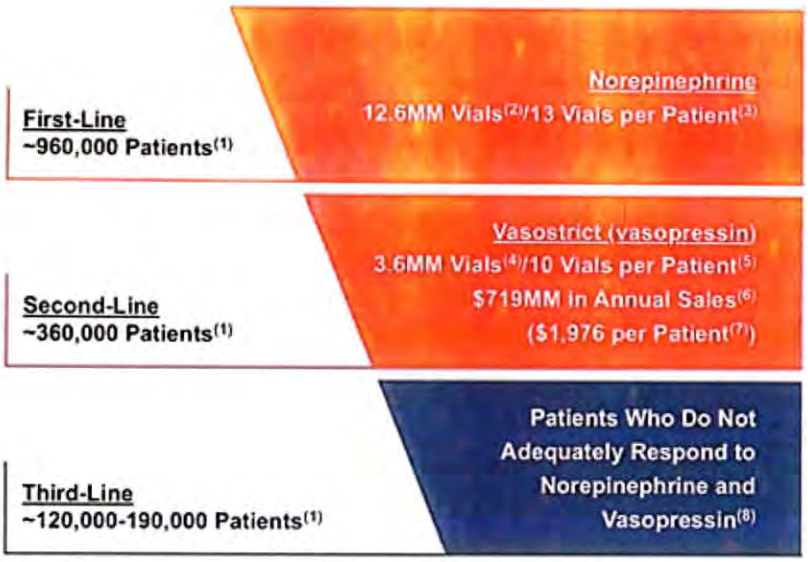
Distributive shock is a leading cause of death in hospitalized patients. Septic shock accounts for more than 90% of distributive shock (Vincent et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2013; 369(18):1726–1734). Shock affects one-third of patients in the intensive care unit ("ICU") (Sakr et al, Critical Care Medicine 2006; 34:589–597). The mortality rate of distributive shock exceeds that of most acute conditions requiring hospitalization.

Mortality Rate



(1) Based on the 28-day mortality rates of: (i) 35% from the vasopressin arm of Russell et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2008; 358:877–87; (ii) 49% from the norepinephrine arm of De Backer et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2010; 362:779–89; and (iii) 54% from the placebo arm (high-dose norepinephrine or equivalent) of Khanna et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2017; 377:419–430

(2) 30-day mortality rate from Medicare.gov



The RAAS is one of three systems that work in harmony to regulate blood pressure. GIAPREZA regulates blood pressure through the RAAS. Other therapeutic options regulate blood pressure through the adrenal system and vasopressin system.

In Healthy Individuals, Three Systems Work in Harmony to Regulate Blood Pressure

Annually in the U.S., approximately 130,000–200,000 patients fail to respond to current vasopressor options.

Angiotensin II for the Treatment of High-Output Shock ("ATHOS-3")

GIAPREZA was approved by the FDA and the EC based on the results of ATHOS-3, which were published in the New England Journal of Medicine in August 2017. ATHOS-3 was a multinational, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study in which 321 adults with septic or other distributive shock who remained hypotensive despite fluid and vasopressor therapy received either GIAPREZA or placebo, both in addition to background vasopressor therapy. The primary endpoint was mean arterial pressure ("MAP") response, defined as a MAP of 75 mm Hg or higher or an increase in MAP from baseline of at least 10 mm Hg without an increase in the dose of background vasopressors at Hour 3 (Khanna et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2017; 377:419–430).

(1) Khanna et al, New England Journal of Medicine 2017; 377:419–430
(2) Standard-of-care vasopressors included norepinephrine, epinephrine, dopamine and vasopressin

GIAPREZA significantly improved blood pressure response. Specifically, the primary endpoint was achieved by 70% of GIAPREZA-treated patients compared to 23% of placebo-treated patients (p <0.0001).

(1) GIAPREZA FDA prescribing information
(2) MAP response of 75 mm Hg or higher or an increase from baseline of at least 10 mm Hg at Hour 3 without an increase in the dose of background vasopressors

GIAPREZA provides the ability to rapidly achieve and adjust therapeutic response. GIAPREZA rapidly increased MAP with a median time to MAP response of approximately 5 minutes. The plasma half-life of GIAPREZA is less than 1 minute.

In addition, a positive survival trend was observed. Mortality through Day 28 was 46% on GIAPREZA and 54% on placebo (hazard ratio 0.78; 95% confidence interval 0.57–1.07).

XERAVA™ (eravacycline)

XERAVA™ (eravacycline) for injection is approved by the FDA as a tetracycline class antibacterial indicated for the treatment of complicated intra-abdominal infections ("cIAI") in patients 18 years of age and older. XERAVA is approved by the EC for the treatment of cIAI in adults. XERAVA is marketed in the U.S. by Tetraphase Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of La Jolla, and will be marketed in Europe by PAION AG on behalf of Tetraphase Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

cIAIs are the second most common source of severe sepsis in the ICU (Brun-Buisson et al, JAMA 1995; 274(12):968–974). cIAIs are defined as consequences of perforations of the gastrointestinal tract that result in contamination of the peritoneal space (Solomkin et al, Clinical Infectious Diseases 2018; 69(6):921–929).

Source of Severe Sepsis in the ICU (%)(1)

(1) Brun-Buisson et al, JAMA 1995; 274(12):968–974

The use of antimicrobial agents that have activity against gram-negative, gram-positive and anaerobic pathogens is strongly recommended for the empiric treatment (treatment without a specific pathogen diagnosis) of patients with cIAI. The increased prevalence of resistant bacteria makes the selection of appropriate treatment more challenging (Mazuski et al, Surgical Infections 2017; 18(1):1–76).

Investigating Gram-negative Infections Treated with Eravacycline ("IGNITE")

XERAVA was approved by the FDA and the EC based on the results of IGNITE1 and IGNITE4, which were published in JAMA Surgery in March 2017 and Clinical Infectious Diseases in December 2018, respectively.

IGNITE1 was a multinational, randomized, double-blind, active-controlled study in 538 patients with clinical evidence of cIAIs requiring urgent surgical or percutaneous intervention who received either XERAVA or ertapenem. The primary endpoint was clinical cure, defined as complete resolution or significant improvement of signs or symptoms of the index infection, at the test of cure ("TOC") visit. The TOC visit was conducted 25 to 31 calendar days after the first dose of the study drug was administered.

IGNITE4 was a multinational, randomized, double-blind, active controlled study in 499 patients with clinical evidence of cIAIs requiring urgent surgical or percutaneous intervention who received either XERAVA or meropenem. The primary endpoint was clinical cure, defined as complete resolution or significant improvement of signs or symptoms of the index infection, at the TOC visit. The TOC visit was conducted 25 to 31 calendar days after the first dose of the study drug was administered.

(3) TOC visit was conducted 25 to 31 calendar days after the first dose of the study drug was administered

XERAVA demonstrated statistical noninferiority in clinical cure rate in the micro-ITT population, which included all randomized subjects who had baseline bacterial pathogens that caused cIAIs and against at least one of which the investigational drug has in vitro (in a test tube) antibacterial activity (N=846).

(2) Noninferiority margins of 10% and 12.5% were used for IGNITE1 and IGNITE4, respectively

Product Candidates

In connection with the acquisition of Tetraphase, we acquired the following product candidates that are in early stage clinical or preclinical development: (1) TP-6076, an IV formulation of a fully synthetic fluorocycline derivative for the treatment of certain multidrug-resistant gram-negative bacteria; (2) TP-271, an IV and oral formulation of a fully synthetic fluorocycline for the treatment of respiratory disease caused by bacterial biothreat and antibiotic-resistant public health pathogens, as well as bacterial pathogens associated with community-acquired bacterial pneumonia; and (3) TP-2846, an IV formulation of a tetracycline for the treatment of acute myeloid leukemia. At this time, there are no active studies nor anticipated future studies for any of these product candidates. We intend to seek out-licensing opportunities for these product candidates; however, at this time, we are unable to predict the likelihood of successfully out-licensing any of these product candidates.

Sales and Marketing Organization

La Jolla employs an experienced sales and marketing team dedicated to the commercialization of GIAPREZA and XERAVA. As of December 31, 2020, this team consisted of 39 professionals, including 29 critical care specialists.

Customers

During the year ended December 31, 2020, 521 hospitals in the U.S. purchased GIAPREZA. During the year ended December 31, 2020, 750 hospitals and other healthcare organizations in the U.S. purchased XERAVA. Hospitals and other healthcare organizations purchase our products through a network of specialty and wholesale distributors. We do not believe that the loss of any one of these distributors would significantly impact our ability to distribute GIAPREZA or XERAVA, as we expect that sales volume would be absorbed by the remaining distributors. Due to the relatively short lead-time required to fill orders for GIAPREZA and XERAVA, backlog is not material to our business.

Competition

Catecholamines (primarily norepinephrine), which are available as generics and inexpensive, are typically used first line to treat distributive shock, while Vasostrict® (Endo International plc) is typically used second line. In the randomized, Phase 3 study ATHOS-3, GIAPREZA demonstrated clinical benefit in patients who were not adequately responding to available vasopressors, including catecholamines and Vasostrict. GIAPREZA's principal competition as a treatment in patients not adequately responding to available vasopressors is the use of these same vasopressors, particularly norepinephrine, at increased doses. If we are unable to successfully change treatment practices, the commercial prospects for GIAPREZA will be limited, and our business will suffer.

XERAVA competes with a number of antibiotics that are currently marketed for the treatment of cIAI and other multidrug resistant infections, including: AVYCAZ (ceftazidime and avibactam, marketed by AbbVie Inc.); MERREM IV® (meropenem, marketed by AstraZeneca PLC); PRIMAXIN® (imipenem and cilastatin, marketed by Merck & Co., Inc.); RECARBRIO™ (imipenem, cilastatin, and relebactam, marketed by Merck & Co., Inc.); TYGACIL® (tigecycline, marketed by Pfizer Inc.); VABOMERE™ (meropenem and vaborbactam, marketed by Melinta Therapeutics, Inc.); ZERBAXA® (ceftolozane and tazobactam, marketed by Merck & Co., Inc.); ZOSYN® (piperacillin and tazobactam, marketed by Pfizer Inc.); and current and future generic versions of marketed antibiotics. If we are unable to successfully change treatment practices, the commercial prospects for XERAVA will be limited, and our business will suffer.

Manufacturing

We do not currently own or operate manufacturing facilities for the production of GIAPREZA or XERAVA. We rely on third-party manufacturers to produce GIAPREZA and XERAVA and expect to continue to do so to meet our development and commercial needs. In all of our manufacturing agreements, we require that contract manufacturers produce active pharmaceutical ingredients ("APIs") and drug products in accordance with the FDA's current Good Manufacturing Practices ("cGMPs") and all other applicable laws and regulations. We maintain confidentiality agreements with potential and existing manufacturers in order to protect our proprietary rights related to GIAPREZA and XERAVA. The long-term commercial success of GIAPREZA and XERAVA will depend in part on the ability of our contract manufacturers to supply cGMP-compliant API and drug product without interruption.

Regulatory Exclusivity

GIAPREZA and XERAVA are New Chemical Entities ("NCEs") approved by the FDA. In the U.S., NCEs approved by the FDA are eligible for market exclusivity under the U.S. Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act ("FDCA"), which can prevent the approval of generic versions of the NCE for 5 to 7.5 years from the date of the initial approval of the NCE. Specifically, the FDCA provides a 5-year period of marketing exclusivity within the U.S. to the applicant that gains approval of an NDA for an NCE. A drug is an NCE if the FDA has not previously approved any other new drug containing the same active moiety, which is the molecule or ion responsible for the action of the drug substance. During the exclusivity period, the FDA may not accept for review an Abbreviated New Drug Application ("ANDA") or a 505(b)(2) NDA submitted by another company for another version of such drug where the applicant does not own or have a legal right of reference to all of the data required for approval. However, an application may be submitted 4 years after the NDA approval of the NCE if it contains a certification of patent invalidity or non-infringement. This certification will trigger an automatic stay in the approval of any generic competition until the earlier of: (a) 30 months from the certification; or (b) a court ruling of patent invalidity or non-infringement for the relevant patents. In the absence of a court ruling, the 30-month stay will be extended by such amount of time (if any) that is required for 7.5 years to have elapsed from the date of NDA approval of the NCE.

Under the Generating Antibiotic Incentives Now ("GAIN") provisions of the Food and Drug Administration Safety and Innovation Act ("FDASIA"), the FDA may designate a product as a qualified infectious disease product ("QIDP"). In order to receive this designation, a drug must qualify as an antibacterial or antifungal drug for human use intended to treat serious or life-threatening infections. We obtained a QIDP designation for the IV formulation of XERAVA for cIAI in July 2013. Upon approving an application for a QIDP, the FDA will extend by an additional five years any non-patent marketing exclusivity period awarded, such as a five-year exclusivity period awarded for an NCE. This extension is in addition to any pediatric exclusivity extension awarded. XERAVA has been awarded this five-year exclusivity under FDASIA.

Intellectual Property

Patents and other proprietary rights are important to our business. As of February 19, 2021, the intellectual property portfolio relating to GIAPREZA included 12 issued U.S. patents, 8 pending U.S. patent applications, 8 issued foreign patents, 45 pending foreign patent applications, and 1 international patent application filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty ("PCT"). The issued U.S. patents, and patents that may issue from the pending U.S. patent applications, will expire between 2029 and 2038, absent any disclaimers, extensions, or adjustments of patent term. The foreign patents, and patents that may issue from the pending foreign patent applications, will expire between 2034 and 2037, absent any disclaimers, extensions, or adjustments of patent term. Patents that may issue from applications claiming priority to the PCT application will expire in 2040, absent any disclaimers, extensions, or adjustments of patent term.

As of February 19, 2021, we owned 2 issued U.S. patents, 1 pending U.S. patent application, 17 issued foreign patents and 5 pending foreign patent applications relating to XERAVA. The issued U.S. patents, and the patent that may issue from the pending U.S. patent application, will have an expiration date of August 7, 2029, absent any disclaimers, extensions or adjustments of patent term. The term of one of the U.S. patents has received 508 days of patent term adjustment. The foreign patents, and patents that may issue from the pending foreign applications, will likewise have an expiration date of August 7, 2029, absent any disclaimers, extensions or adjustments of patent term.

As of February 19, 2021, we also filed applications for Supplementary Protection Certificates based on European Patent No. 2323972 covering the composition of matter and use of XERAVA. Some applications have been granted and others are pending.

As of February 19, 2021, we also owned 1 pending U.S. patent application and 10 pending foreign patent applications that relate to crystalline forms of eravacycline. Any U.S. patent that may issue from the pending patent application will expire in 2037 absent any disclaimers, extensions, or adjustments of patent term. Likewise, any foreign patents that may issue from the pending foreign patent applications will expire in 2037.

The following table summarizes our issued patents and pending applications for GIAPREZA, XERAVA and other tetracycline-related intellectual property.

Government Regulation

Pharmaceutical products, including GIAPREZA and XERAVA, are subject to extensive government regulation. In the U.S., the FDA regulates pharmaceutical products. FDA regulations govern the testing, research and development activities, manufacturing, quality, storage, advertising, promotion, labeling, sale and distribution of pharmaceutical products. Accordingly, there is a rigorous process for the approval of new drugs and ongoing oversight of marketed products. We may also be subject to foreign regulatory requirements governing clinical studies and drug products if products are tested or marketed abroad. The approval process outside of the U.S. varies from jurisdiction to jurisdiction and the time required may be longer or shorter than that required for FDA approval.

Regulation in the U.S.

The FDA testing and approval process requires substantial time, effort and financial resources. We cannot assure you that any of our product candidates will ever obtain approval. The FDA approval process for new drugs includes, without limitation:

- preclinical studies;
- submission in the U.S. of an IND for clinical studies conducted in the U.S.;
- adequate and well-controlled clinical studies to establish safety and efficacy of the product;
- review and approval of an NDA in the U.S.; and
- inspection of the facilities used in the manufacturing of the drug to assess compliance with the FDA's cGMP regulations.

Any products manufactured or distributed by us pursuant to FDA approvals are subject to continuing regulation by the FDA, including record-keeping requirements and reporting of adverse experiences with the drug. Drug manufacturers and their subcontractors are required to register their establishments with the FDA and certain state agencies and are subject to periodic unannounced inspections by the FDA and certain state agencies for compliance with cGMPs, which impose certain procedural and documentation requirements on us and our third-party manufacturers. Even after regulatory approval is obtained, under certain circumstances, such as later discovery of previously unknown safety risks, the FDA can withdraw approval or subject the drug to additional restrictions.

The FDA closely regulates the marketing and promotion of drugs. Drugs may only be marketed in a manner consistent with their FDA-approved labeling. Approval may be subject to post-marketing surveillance and other record-keeping and reporting obligations. Product approvals may be withdrawn if compliance with regulatory standards is not maintained or if problems occur following initial marketing.

The failure to comply with FDA's requirements may result in adverse publicity, warning letters, corrective advertising, restrictions on marketing or manufacturing, refusals to review pending product applications, refusals to permit the import or export of products, seizures, injunctions, and civil and criminal penalties.

Third-party Payor Coverage and Reimbursement

In the U.S. and most major foreign markets, drugs like GIAPREZA and XERAVA that are administered in the hospital must be purchased by the hospital and generally are not reimbursed by third-party payors. Hospitals instead are reimbursed for patient cases based on patients' diagnosed conditions under the U.S. Medicare diagnosis-related group ("DRG") system or other like systems for non-Medicare patients in the U.S. and in most major foreign markets. Adoption of new drugs that are administered in the hospital generally occurs more slowly than adoption of new drugs that are taken on an outpatient basis, which generally are paid for by third-party payors.

U.S. Health Care Fraud and Abuse Laws and Compliance Requirements

We are subject to various federal and state laws targeting fraud and abuse in the health care industry. These laws may impact, among other things, our sales and marketing efforts. In addition, we may be subject to patient privacy regulation by both the federal government and the states in which we conduct our business. The laws that may affect our ability to operate include:

- The federal Anti-Kickback Statute, which prohibits, among other things, persons from soliciting, receiving, offering or paying remuneration, directly or indirectly, in cash or in kind, to induce or reward, or in return for, either the referral of an individual for, or the purchase, order or recommendation of, an item or service reimbursable under a federal health care program, such as the Medicare and Medicaid programs. The term "remuneration" has been broadly interpreted to include anything of value, including for example gifts, cash payments, donations, the furnishing of supplies or equipment, waivers of payment, ownership interests, and providing any item, service or compensation for something other than fair market value.
- Federal false claims and civil monetary penalties laws, including the federal civil False Claims Act, which prohibits anyone from, among other things, knowingly presenting, or causing to be presented, for payment to federal programs (including Medicare and Medicaid) claims for items or services that are false or fraudulent. Although we may not submit claims directly to payors, manufacturers can be held liable under these laws in a variety of ways. These include: providing inaccurate billing or coding information to customers; improperly promoting a product's off-label use; violating the federal Anti-Kickback Statute; or misreporting pricing information to government programs.
- Provisions of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 ("HIPAA"), which created new federal criminal statutes that prohibit, among other things, knowingly and willfully executing a scheme to defraud any health care benefit program or making false statements in connection with the delivery of or payment for health care benefits, items or services.
- The federal Physician Payment Sunshine Act requirements, under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act ("PPACA"), which require manufacturers of certain drugs and biologics to track and report to U.S. Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS") payments and other transfers of value they make to U.S. physicians and teaching hospitals as well as physician ownership and investment interests in the manufacturer.
- Provisions of HIPAA, as amended by the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act and its implementing regulations ("HITECH"), which impose certain requirements relating to the privacy, security and transmission of individually identifiable health information.
- Section 1927 of the Social Security Act, which requires that manufacturers of drugs and biological products covered by Medicaid report pricing information to CMS on a monthly and quarterly basis, including the best price available to any customer of the manufacturer, with certain exceptions for government programs, and pay prescription rebates to state Medicaid programs based on a statutory formula derived from reported pricing information.
- State law equivalents of each of the above federal laws, such as the recently effective California Consumer Privacy Act, many of which differ from each other in significant ways and may not have the same effect, which complicates our compliance efforts.

Regulation in Non-U.S. Jurisdictions

In addition to regulations in the U.S., we may be subject to a variety of foreign regulations governing clinical studies and commercial sales and distribution of GIAPREZA, XERAVA or future products. For example, clinical studies conducted in the European Union must be done under a clinical trial application ("CTA"), which is usually supported by an Investigational Medicinal Product Dossier ("IMPD"), and the oversight of ethics committees. If we market GIAPREZA in foreign countries, we also will be subject to foreign regulatory requirements governing marketing approval for pharmaceutical products. The requirements governing the conduct of clinical studies, product approval, pricing and reimbursement vary widely from country to country. Whether or not FDA approval has been obtained, approval of a product by the regulatory authorities of foreign countries must be obtained before marketing the product in those countries. The approval process varies from country to country, and the time required for such approvals may differ substantially from that required for FDA approval. Foreign regulatory approval processes involve many of the risks associated with FDA marketing approval discussed above. There is no assurance that any FDA approval of any of our product candidates will result in similar foreign approvals or vice versa. The process for clinical studies in the European Union and other countries is similar, and studies are heavily scrutinized by the designated ethics committees and regulatory authorities. In addition, foreign regulations may include applicable post-marketing requirements, including safety surveillance, anti-fraud and abuse laws, and implementation of corporate compliance programs and reporting of payments or other transfers of value to health care professionals and entities.

In Europe, the European Union General Data Protection Regulation (2016/679) ("GDPR") contains provisions specifically directed at the processing of health information. The GDPR provides for potentially significant sanctions and contains extraterritoriality measures intended to bring non-EU companies under the regulation. In addition to the GDPR, individual countries in Europe and elsewhere in the world have enacted similar data privacy legislation. This legislation imposes increased compliance obligations and regulatory risk, including the potential for significant fines for noncompliance.

Other Laws and Regulations

We are subject to a variety of financial disclosure and securities trading regulations as a public company in the U.S., including laws relating to the oversight activities of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and the regulations of the Nasdaq Capital Market, on which our shares of common stock are traded. We are also subject to various laws and regulations relating to safe working conditions, laboratory practices and the experimental use of animals.

Human Capital

As of December 31, 2020, we employed 59 full-time equivalent employees. None of our employees are represented by labor unions or covered by collective bargaining agreements, and we consider our relations with our employees to be good. We also hire consultants and contract with third parties, as needed, to provide additional resources to support our business activities.

Our key human capital management objectives are to identify, recruit, integrate, retain and motivate our new and existing employees. Additionally, we grant equity awards in order to allow for directors, officers, employees and consultants of La Jolla to share in the performance of the Company.
