Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Annual Report on Form 10-K (this "Annual Report") contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. We intend such forward-looking statements to be covered by the safe harbor provisions for forward-looking statements contained in Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Forward-looking statements include all statements that are not historical facts. Words such as "anticipate," "assume," "believe" "contemplate," "continue," "could," "estimate," "expect," "foreseeable," "intend," "may," "plan," "potentially," "predict," "project," "seek," "should," "will," or "would," or similar words or phrases that convey uncertainty of future events or outcomes, are intended to identify forward-looking statements in this Annual Report. These forward-looking statements relate to matters such as our industry, business strategy, costs, and costs savings, impacts of accounting standards and guidance, goals and expectations, market position, future operations, margins, profitability, capital expenditures, liquidity and capital resources, legal matters, trends, and other financial and operating information. The forward-looking statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to various risks, uncertainty, and changes in circumstances, many of which are beyond our control, that could cause actual results to differ materially. Although we believe that the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, level of activity, performance, or achievements. Factors that may cause actual results to differ from expected results include those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and Part II, "Item 7—Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations". The forward-looking statements included in this Annual Report speak only as of the date of this Annual Report or as of the date they are made, as applicable. Except as otherwise required by law, we disclaim any intent or obligation to update any "forward-looking statement" made in this Annual Report to reflect changed assumptions, the occurrence of unanticipated events, or changes to future operating results over time.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

CERTAIN DEFINITIONS

As used in this Annual Report, unless otherwise noted or the context requires otherwise, the following terms have the following meanings:

- "Class A Units" refers to the interests in Medline Holdings called "Class A Units" that were outstanding prior to the Reclassification. In connection with the Reclassification, (i) Class A Units held by Common Unitholders were converted into Common Units and (ii) Class A Units held by Exchanging Class A Unitholders were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock.
- "Class B Units" refers to the interests in Medline Holdings called "Class B Units" that were outstanding prior to the Reclassification, and does not include CUPI Units. In connection with the Reclassification, (i) Class B Units held by Incentive Unitholders were converted into Incentive Units and (ii) Class B Units held by Exchanging Class B Unitholders were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock (in the case of vested Class B Units) and/or restricted shares of Class A common stock (in the case of unvested Class B Units).

- "Common Units" refers to the new class of units of Medline Holdings created by the Reclassification and does not include Incentive Units.
- "Common Unitholders" refers to certain pre-IPO holders of Class A Units and/or CUPI Units who hold Common Units following the Reclassification.
- "Incentive Unitholders" refers to certain pre-IPO holders of Class B Units who will hold Incentive Units following the Reclassification, as described under "Organizational Structure."
- "Continuing Unitholders" refers collectively to Common Unitholders and Incentive Unitholders.
- "CUPI Units" refers to the interests in Medline Holdings that were designated as "Catch-Up Class B Units" and outstanding prior to the Reclassification. In connection with the Reclassification, (i) CUPI Units held by Common Unitholders were converted into Common Units and (ii) CUPI Units held by Exchanging CUPI Unitholders were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock.
- "Designating Stockholder" refers to each of our Principal Stockholders with whom we entered into separate director nomination agreements.
- "Exchanging Class A Unitholder" refers to pre-IPO holders of Class A Units whose Class A Units were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock following the Reclassification.
- "Exchanging Class B Unitholder" refers to pre-IPO holders of Class B Units whose Class B Units were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock (in the case of vested Class B Units) and/or restricted shares of Class A common stock (in the case of unvested Class B Units) following the Reclassification.
- "Exchanging CUPI Unitholder" refers to pre-IPO holders of CUPI Units whose CUPI Units were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock following the Reclassification.
- "Exchanging Unitholders" refers collectively to Exchanging Class A Unitholders, Exchanging CUPI Unitholders, and Exchanging Class B Unitholders.
- "Incentive Units" refers to the new class of units of Medline Holdings created by the reclassification of the Class B Units in the Reclassification. The Incentive Units are "profit interests" having economic characteristics similar to stock appreciation rights and having the right to share in any equity value of Medline Holdings above specified participation thresholds. Vested Incentive Units may be converted to Common Units and be subsequently exchanged for shares of Class A common stock.
- "Principal Stockholders" refers collectively to investment funds associated with Blackstone Inc., The Carlyle Group Inc. and Hellman & Friedman LLC, and members of the Mills family.
- "Reclassification" refers to the reclassification of the partnership interests of Medline Holdings prior to the IPO.
- "Sponsors" refers collectively to Blackstone Inc., The Carlyle Group Inc., and Hellman & Friedman LLC.
- "Units" refers collectively to Common Units and Incentive Units.

Summary of Risk Factors

The following is a summary of the principal factors that make an investment in our securities speculative or risky, all of which are more fully described below. This summary should be read together with the risk factors described under Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and should not be relied upon as an exhaustive summary of the material risks facing our business. In addition to the following summary, you should consider the information set forth below and the other information contained in this Annual Report before investing in our securities.

- Our global operations are subject to inherent risks that could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- We may be unable to derive fully the anticipated benefits from our existing or future acquisitions, joint ventures, investments, dispositions, or other strategic transactions.
- Consolidation in the healthcare industry could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- We operate in a highly competitive industry, with accelerating pricing pressure and changes in technology.
- Changes to the U.S. and global healthcare environments may not be favorable to us.
- Increases in shipping costs or service issues with our third-party shippers could harm our business.

- Significant challenges or delays in our sourcing of new products and technologies could have an adverse impact on our long-term success.
- We have concentration in and dependence on certain healthcare provider customers and GPOs.
- Our business and operations depend on the proper functioning of our critical facilities and distribution networks and could be negatively impacted by events outside our control.
- Quality problems and product liability claims have in the past led, and could in the future lead, to recalls or safety alerts, reputational harm, adverse verdicts, or costly settlements, and could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline.
- If we experience increased pressure to maintain or decrease the price of our goods and services and we are unable to reduce our expenses, there may be a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Any failure by or loss of a third-party manufacturer or supplier or other manufacturing or supply-related impacts could result in delays and increased costs, which may adversely affect our business.
- We rely on the proper function, security, and availability of our information technology systems and data, as well as those of third parties throughout our global supply chain, to operate our business.
- We are subject to extensive and complex laws and governmental regulations and any adverse regulatory action may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition both inside and outside the United States.
- We are subject to complex and rapidly evolving data privacy, security, and data protection laws and regulations and the costs to comply with such laws and regulations or any ineffective compliance efforts with such laws and regulations may adversely impact our business.
- Our use or our third-party service providers' or business partners' use of AI, automated decision-making and machine learning technologies and the evolving regulatory framework in this area may subject us to risks or heightened costs that could adversely affect business, results of operation and financial condition.
- Our failure to comply with laws and regulations relating to reimbursement of healthcare goods and services may subject us to penalties and adversely impact our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.
- Uncertain global and domestic macro-economic and political conditions could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our substantial indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition, our ability to operate our business or react to changes in the economy or our industry, prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under our debts, and divert our cash flow from operations for debt payments.
- The credit agreement that governs the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the indentures that govern the Senior Notes will each impose significant operating and financial restrictions on our subsidiaries, which may prevent us from capitalizing on business opportunities.
- Medline Inc. is a holding company and its only material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, and it is accordingly dependent upon distributions from Medline Holdings to pay taxes, make payments under the tax receivable agreement, and pay any dividends.
- The Designating Stockholders hold a significant percentage of our stock, and their interests may conflict with ours or yours in the future.
- Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation does not limit the ability of our Sponsors, the Mills family, and certain other pre-IPO investors to compete with us, and they may have investments in businesses whose interests conflict with ours.

The market price of shares of our Class A common stock may be volatile or may decline regardless of our operating performance, which could cause the value of your investment to decline.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

Trademarks

We own or have the right to use trademarks, trade names, and service marks used in connection with our business, including, but not limited to, Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima. All trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report are the property of their respective owners. We do not intend our use or display of other companies' trade names, trademarks, or service marks to imply a relationship with, or endorsement or sponsorship of us by, these other companies. Solely for convenience, our trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report may appear without the ®, ™ or SM symbols, but such references are not intended to indicate, in any way, that we will not assert, to the fullest extent under applicable law, our rights or the right of the applicable licensor to these trademarks, trade names, and service marks.

PART I

Item 1. Business

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

Our Prime Vendor Model

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

510(k) Clearance Process

To obtain 510(k) clearance, we must submit a premarket notification to the FDA demonstrating the proposed device to be substantially equivalent to a predicate device. A device is substantially equivalent if, with respect to the predicate device, it has the same intended use and it has either the same technological characteristics, or it has different technological characteristics, but the information provided in the 510(k) submission demonstrates that the device does not raise new questions of safety or effectiveness. The standard review process for 510(k)s is between six to nine months, dependent upon the type of 510(k) filing submitted. Although many 510(k) premarket notifications are cleared without clinical data, in some cases, the FDA may require clinical data to support substantial equivalence. In reviewing a premarket notification, the FDA may request additional information, including clinical data, which may significantly prolong the review process and clearance is never assured. Clinical trials generally require the submission of an investigational device exemption ("IDE") to the FDA for a specified number of patients and study sites, unless the product is deemed a non-significant risk device eligible for more abbreviated IDE requirements. Clinical trials are subject to numerous requirements and institutional review board approval, oversight, and monitoring. Even if a trial is conducted, the results of clinical testing may not adequately demonstrate the safety and effectiveness of the device or be sufficient to obtain FDA clearance or approval for marketing.

After a device receives 510(k) clearance, any subsequent modification of the device that could significantly affect its safety or effectiveness, or that would constitute a major change in its intended use, requires a new 510(k) clearance or could require submission and approval of a de novo 510(k) or a PMA application in cases where new indications are sought for which there is no predicate. Non-significant changes are handled via internal documentation by the Company. Each manufacturer must judge the significance of modifications based on FDA 510(k) regulatory requirements and guidance documents. The FDA may review any such decision and may disagree with a manufacturer's determination. If the FDA disagrees with a manufacturer's determination, the FDA may require the manufacturer to cease marketing and distribution and/or recall the modified device until 510(k) clearance or PMA approval is obtained. In the future, we may make modifications to our products after they have received FDA clearance and, in appropriate circumstances, determine that new clearance is unnecessary. However, the FDA may disagree with our determination, and, if the FDA requires us to seek 510(k) clearance or submit new PMA applications for any modifications to a previously cleared product, we may be required to cease marketing or distributing or recall the modified device until we obtain the required clearance or approval. We may also market or acquire products that are marketed without a 510(k) clearance, appropriate labeling, or that otherwise are marketed in violation of FDA requirements, since medical devices can be marketed only for the indications for which they are cleared or approved. Under these circumstances, we may also be subject to warning letters, significant regulatory fines, or other penalties, and we may no longer be able to market particular products for which a 510(k) clearance is required.

Post-Marketing Requirements

Numerous FDA regulatory requirements apply to devices we manufacture and distribute, including: compliance with the QSR, which require manufacturers and their suppliers to follow the applicable design, testing, processes, control, documentation, labeling, and other quality assurance procedures during the manufacturing process; establishment registration, which requires establishments involved in the production and distribution of medical devices intended for commercial distribution in the United States to register with the FDA; medical device listing, which requires manufacturers to list the devices they have in commercial distribution with the FDA; labeling regulations, which prohibit "misbranded" devices from entering the market, as well as prohibit the promotion of products for unapproved or off-label uses and impose other restrictions on labeling; post-market surveillance, including medical device reporting requirements which requires manufacturers to report to the FDA if their device may have caused or contributed to a death or serious injury, or malfunctioned in a way that would likely cause or contribute to a death or serious injury if it were to recur; and corrections and removal reporting regulations, which require that manufacturers report to the FDA field corrections and product recalls or removals if undertaken to reduce a risk to health posed by the device or to remedy a violation of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that may present a risk to health. The FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities actively enforce the laws and regulations prohibiting the promotion of off-label uses, and a company that is found to have improperly promoted off-label uses may be subject to significant liability.

The FDA enforces these requirements by inspection and market surveillance. Domestic facility records and manufacturing processes are subject to periodic unscheduled inspections by the FDA. The FDA may also inspect foreign facilities that export products to the United States. Failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements may result in enforcement action or other actions by the FDA, which may include one or more of the following sanctions: adverse press releases and safety communications; requests to stop shipments; untitled letters or warning letters; fines, injunctions, and civil penalties; mandatory recall or seizure of our products; customer notifications and repairs or replacements; administrative detention or banning of our products; consent decrees; operating restrictions, partial suspension or total shutdown of production; refusing our request for 510(k) clearances for new product versions or modifications to existing product versions; revocation of 510(k) clearances previously granted; refusal to grant export approval for our products; and criminal prosecution and penalties. If any of these events were to occur, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

International Regulation of Medical Devices

Sales of medical devices outside the United States are subject to foreign government regulations, which vary substantially from country to country. In order to market our products in other countries, we must comply with applicable regulatory requirements and authorizations and approvals and safety and quality regulations in each country in which the product is marketed. The time required to obtain authorization, approval, or certification by a foreign country may be longer or shorter than that required for FDA clearance, and the requirements may differ significantly.

EU Regulation of Medical Devices

In the European Union ("EU") until May 25, 2021, medical devices were regulated by the Council Directive 93/42/EEC, which has been repealed and replaced by the Medical Device Regulation ("EU MDR"). Unlike directives, regulations are directly applicable in all EU member states without the need for member states to implement into national law. The EU extended the EU MDR transitional periods for certain medical devices until December 31, 2027 or December 31, 2028, depending on a device's risk class and subject to certain conditions to ensure continued access to medical devices for patients and to allow medical devices already placed on the market in accordance with the current legal framework to remain on the market, provided that the requirements of the transitional provisions are fulfilled.

In the EU, there is currently no premarket government review of medical devices. However, all medical devices placed on the EU market must meet general safety and performance requirements, and compliance with the general safety and performance requirements is a prerequisite for European conformity marking without which medical devices cannot be marketed or sold in the EU. EU MDR requirements regarding the distribution, marketing, and sale, including quality systems and post-market surveillance, have to be observed by manufacturers, importers, and distributors as of the application date (i.e., since May 26, 2021), including registration of economic operators and of devices (once the relevant modules of Eudamed are functional), surveillance, and vigilance requirements. The aforementioned EU rules are generally applicable in the European Economic Area which consists of the 27 EU member states plus Norway, Liechtenstein, and Iceland.

The NDA Approval Process

For any new drug products regulated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act such as our ReadyPrep CHG cloth, a sponsor must submit a New Drug Application ("NDA"), to the FDA for review and approval. The NDA review and approval process may take multiple years and involves steps including the following:

- completion of preclinical studies and analytical and stability testing in accordance with applicable regulations;
- submission to the FDA of an Investigational New Drug ("IND") application, which must become effective before clinical trials may begin and must be updated annually and amended when certain changes are made;
- approval by an institutional review board, or IRB, or independent ethics committee, or IEC, at each clinical trial site before each trial may be initiated;
- performance of adequate and well-controlled clinical trials in accordance with applicable IND regulations, good clinical practice, or GCP, requirements, including informed consent, financial disclosure by investigators, and other clinical trial-related regulations, to establish the safety and efficacy of the investigational product for each proposed indication and other condition of use;
- preparation and submission to the FDA of an NDA;

- satisfactory completion of one or more FDA pre-approval inspections of the manufacturing facility or facilities where the drug will be produced to assess compliance;
- satisfactory completion of FDA inspection of select clinical trial sites involved in conducting pivotal studies that generated the data in support of the NDA;
- payment of user fees for FDA review of the NDA; and
- FDA review and approval of the NDA, including of the proposed prescribing information and, where applicable, consideration of the views of any FDA advisory committee, prior to any commercial marketing or sale of the drug in the United States.

Any approvals that we may ultimately receive could be withdrawn if required post-marketing trials or analyses do not meet the FDA requirements, which could materially harm the commercial prospects for our products.

Even if a product candidate receives regulatory approval, the approval may be limited to specific disease states, patient populations and dosages, or might contain significant limitations on use in the form of warnings, precautions or contraindications, or in the form of onerous risk management plans, restrictions on distribution, or post-marketing study requirements. Further, even after regulatory approval is obtained, later discovery of previously unknown problems with a product may result in restrictions on the product or even complete withdrawal of the product from the market. Delay in obtaining, or failure to obtain, regulatory approval for our candidate products, or obtaining approval but for significantly limited use, would harm our business. In addition, we cannot predict what adverse governmental regulations may arise from future U.S. or foreign governmental action.

Trade Regulations

The movement of products, services, and investment across borders subjects us to extensive trade regulations. A variety of laws and regulations in the countries in which we transact business apply to the sale, shipment, and provision of goods, services, and technology across borders. These laws and regulations govern, among other things, our import, export, and other business activities. We are also subject to the risk that these laws and regulations could change in a way that would expose us to additional costs, penalties, or liabilities. Some governments also impose economic sanctions against certain countries, governments, persons, and entities, both for unlawful or malign conduct and to discourage or prevent entities from abiding by other countries' laws. In addition to our need to comply with such regulations in connection with our direct activities, we also sell and provide goods, technology, and services to agents, representatives, and distributors who may export such items to customers and end-users. If we, or the third parties through which we do business, are not in compliance with applicable import, export control, or economic sanctions laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability. Such actions may disrupt or delay sales of our products or services or result in restrictions on our distribution and sales of products or services that may materially impact our business.

Anti-Boycott Laws

Under U.S. laws and regulations, U.S. companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates are prohibited from participating or agreeing to participate in unsanctioned foreign boycotts in connection with certain business activities, including the sale, purchase, transfer, shipping, or financing of goods or services within the United States or between the United States and countries outside of the United States. If we, or certain third parties through which we sell or provide goods or services, violate U.S. anti-boycott laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability.

09/06/2008	10601 Southport Dr. Orlando, FL 32824 _____ 401 Commerce Blvd. Oldsmar, FL 34677 _____ 4750 118th Ave N Clearwater, FL 33762	Case #: 2007-11783; 2007-36555; 2007-38894; 2007-38895; 2007-38896; 2007-39073; 2008-02011; 2008-11215 Agency: Florida Department of Health Entity: Medline Industries, Inc.; Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC Type: Administrative Disposition: Settlement Agreement Summary: Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008. Corrective Actions Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Medline was also cited for failure to access policies and procedures during the inspection. Corrections were made and the facility re-inspected, to the satisfaction of the state. Medline entered a stipulation order effective 02/04/2009 to resolve the matter. Corrective Actions: Medline installed a locked fence to separate the hospital's owned products. SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT BETWEEN STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY AND MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.

Come now Medline Industries, Inc. ("Respondent") and the Missouri Board of Pharmacy ("Board" or "Petitioner") and enter into this Settlement Agreement for the purpose of resolving the question of whether Respondent's license as a drug distributor will be subject to discipline.

Pursuant to the terms of § 536.060, RSMo (2000), the parties hereto waive the right to a hearing by the Administrative Hearing Commission of the State of Missouri and, additionally, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board under § 621.110, RSMo (2000), and stipulate and agree that a final disposition of this matter may be effectuated as described below.

Respondent acknowledges that it understands the various rights and privileges afforded it by law, including the right to a hearing of the charges against it; the right to appear and be represented by legal counsel; the right to have all charges against it proved upon the record by competent and substantial evidence; the right to cross-examine any witnesses appearing at the hearing against it; the right to a decision upon the record by a fair and impartial administrative hearing commissioner concerning the charges pending against it and, subsequently, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board at which time it may present evidence in mitigation of discipline; and the right to recover attorney's fees incurred in defending this action against its license. Being aware of these rights provided it by operation of law, Respondent knowingly and voluntarily waives each and every one of these rights and freely enters into this Settlement Agreement and agrees to abide by the terms of this document, as they pertain to it.

Respondent acknowledges that it has received a copy of the draft complaint to be filed with the Board, the investigative report, and other documents relied upon by the Board in determining there was cause for discipline against Respondent's license. For the purpose of settling this dispute, Respondent stipulates that the factual allegations contained in this

Settlement Agreement are true and stipulates with the Board that Respondent's temporary license as a drug distributor, License Number DD2003031660, is subject to disciplinary action by the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 621 and Chapter 338, RSMo 2000. 1. Respondent's drug distributor license shall be placed on PROBATION for five (5) years pursuant to the provisions of Chapters 338 and 620, RSMo. During the period of probation, Respondent will be entitled to operate as a drug distributor pursuant to Chapter 338, RSMo provided Respondent adheres to the following terms of probation:

A. Respondent shall report to the Board, on a preprinted form supplied by the Board office, once every six (6) months, beginning six (6) months after this Order/Agreement becomes effective, stating truthfully whether or not it has complied with all terms and conditions of this disciplinary order.

B. Respondent shall pay all required fees for licensing to the Board and shall renew its license prior to October 31 for each licensing year.

C. Respondent shall comply with all provisions of Chapter 338, Chapter 195, and all applicable federal and state drug laws, rules and regulations and with all federal and state criminal laws. "State" here includes the State of Missouri and all other states and territories of the United States.

D. If, after disciplinary sanctions have been imposed, Respondent ceases to keep its Missouri license current, the period of unlicensed status shall not be deemed or taken as any part of the time of discipline so imposed.

E. The parties to this Order/Agreement understand that the Board of Pharmacy will maintain this Order/Agreement as an open record of the Board as provided in Chapters 338, 610 and 620, RSMo.

2. Upon the expiration of said discipline, Respondent's license as a drug distributor in Missouri shall be fully restored if all other requirements of law have been satisfied; provided, however, that in the event the Board determines that the Respondent has violated any term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, the Board may, in its discretion, after an evidentiary hearing, vacate and set aside the discipline imposed herein and may suspend, revoke, or otherwise lawfully discipline the Respondent.

3. No order shall be entered by the Board pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Settlement Agreement without notice and an opportunity for hearing before the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 536, RSMo.

4. If the Board determines that Respondent has violated a term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, which violation would also be actionable in a proceeding before the Administrative Hearing Commission or the circuit court, the Board may elect to pursue any lawful remedies or procedures afforded it and is not bound by this Settlement Agreement in its determination of appropriate legal actions concerning that violation. If any alleged violation of this Settlement Agreement occurred during the disciplinary period, the Board may choose to conduct a hearing before it either during the disciplinary period, or as soon thereafter as a hearing can be held to determine whether a violation occurred and, if so, it may impose further discipline. The Board retains jurisdiction to hold a hearing to determine if a violation of this Settlement Agreement has occurred.

5. The terms of this Settlement Agreement are contractual, legally enforceable, binding, and not merely recitals. Except as otherwise contained herein, neither this Settlement Agreement nor any of its provisions may be changed, waived, discharged, or terminated, except by an instrument in writing signed by the party against whom the enforcement of the change, waiver, discharge, or termination is sought.

6. Respondent hereby waives and releases the Board, its members and any of its employees, agents, or attorneys, including any former board members, employees, agents, and attorneys, of, or from, any liability, claim, actions, causes of action, fees, costs and expenses, and compensation, including, but not limited to, any claims for attorney's fees and expenses, including any claims pursuant to § 536.087, RSMo, or any claim arising under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which may be based upon, arise out of, or relate to any of the matters raised in this litigation, or from the negotiation or execution of this Settlement Agreement. The parties acknowledge that this paragraph is severable from the remaining portions of this Settlement Agreement in that it survives in perpetuity even in the event that any court of law deems this Settlement Agreement or any portion thereof void or unenforceable.

Andrew Stolarski
Vice President of Operations
Medline Industries, Inc.
9101 Riverside Parkway
Lithia Springs, GA 30122

RE: Prescription Drug Wholesaler Permit No. 23:01470

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. Mr. David L. Magruder, the designated representative identified for permit no. 23:01470 has resigned his position. We have not received a "Notification of Designated Representative" form identifying a certified individual to replace him. As a result Medline Industries, Inc. does not have a designated representative as required by s. 499.012(11), F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(b)4., F.S., to be certified as a designated representative, a person must receive a passing score of at least 75 percent on an examination given by the department regarding federal laws governing distribution of prescription drugs and ss. 499.001-499.081 and the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs.

Accordingly, and pursuant to the above referenced facts and law, the department hereby intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler because you have not complied with s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S. and otherwise do not have a designated certified representative on file with the Department that meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S. which is a substantial failure to comply with ss. 499.001 – 499.081, F.S. and is a failure to meet the requirements for the permit, for which the suspension is authorized pursuant to Sections 499.067 (1) (a); 499.067 (1) (b) 2. F.S.

Therefore, the department concludes that Medline Industries, Inc. no longer meets the requirements to continue to operate as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler in Florida and the permit will be suspended until you have designated in writing to the department a person with an active certification to serve as a designated representative who meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S.

Dear Lara Simmons:

As you may recall, the Board is mandated by law to license and regulate the wholesale distribution of legend drugs and devices in Louisiana in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors. This letter is also intended to respond to any inquiries you may have regarding the deficiencies found during the inspection which occurred on 3/5/2008 at MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s Covington LA distribution facility.

Pursuant to the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee should maintain copies of current licenses which authorizes a customer to procure and possess legend drugs and devices. If these customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customers including customer names, addresses, license number, and the license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.

On 3/5/2008, the Board's inspector discovered that copies of customer licenses which authorize the customer to procure and possess legend drugs/devices or a listing of customers' license information were not being maintained at the Covington LA facility.

A verbal request was made by the inspector of a customer list which should have been maintained at the Covington LA facility. After receiving and reviewing a copy of the customer list, as referred to by Medline as their "Pedigree List", the inspector requested copies of 30 customer licenses from the listing. Of the requested customer license copies, the inspector found that 70% of the licenses requested were either not acceptable licenses or were not available.

It is evident that MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. was in violation of LAC 46:XCI.311.D at the time of the inspection on 3/5/2008. The Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors, more particularly LA RS 37:3474.1, provides that, after due notice and hearing, MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license may be sanctioned and/or it may be assessed a fine for its actions or omissions. Fines alone may include an assessment of $1,000 per violation per day. It is the Board's objective to regulate the industry by correcting behavior. Such is accomplished by imposing sanctions for wrongful conduct.

It is hoped that the above detailed violation(s) as corrected will not occur in the future. Therefore, in an effort to amicably resolve the issues regarding the violation(s) which did occur, I, as the Board's appointed investigating/compliance officer, extend an offer to you which would impose a total fine of $2,000. This proposed sanction does not impose any restrictions on MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license.

If MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is agreeable to these terms, I have enclosed a Consent Order for your review and execution. Please have an authorized representative for your company sign the Consent Order in front of a Notary and two witnesses. Return the original, executed Consent Order along with a check made to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors in the amount of the $2,000 fine to the Board's office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter. You and/or a company representative will not be required to attend the evidentiary hearing at which the executed Consent Order will be presented to the full Board for acceptance, however you and/or another representative are welcome to attend.

In the event MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is not agreeable to this amicable resolution and wishes to contest the investigative findings in a hearing before the full Board, it has the right to do so. If such occurs, the current offer being proposed in this letter will no longer be viable.

We would like to bring this matter to disposition either by this amicable resolution or the pursuit of a formal hearing against MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. before the Board at the next scheduled Board meeting. To do so, either way, we will need to prepare the necessary paperwork with all resolution documents. Again, please respond to this offer either by returning the executed Consent Order and fine payment or by written request for an administrative hearing. If your response is not received at the Board office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter, the Board will begin steps towards the formal hearing with the issuance of subpoenas for witnesses and records.

We wish to keep an open line of communication with you. Please contact the Board office in the event you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Respectfully,

Wayne Gremillion
Board Member/Compliance Officer

Re: RICO Case No. PHA 2008-71-L

Dear Ms. Wolfe:

I received the signed Settlement Agreement. One correction had to be made, and I apologize that we did not notice this earlier. On page 3, paragraph 5, the citation to HRS section 436B-19(13) was changed to HRS section 436B-19(15) which is the correct citation. Enclosed is a copy of the corrected replacement page. I will now forward the document to the executive officer of the Board of Pharmacy, and we will be notified as to whether it gets approved or not by the Board.

Very truly yours,

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2008-17-L.

11. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008.

Corrective Actions
Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Dear Ms. Hornick:

As you know, an inspector for the Department of Regulation and Licensing inspected Medline Industries on May 9, 2008. He found that several policies were missing, and the facility was storing prescription drugs in a non-secure location. It has been determined that these violations are grounds for discipline. I am the prosecuting attorney assigned to the case.

I have enclosed a proposed stipulation and order, which would resolve this matter without a hearing. If you are willing to resolve this case by agreement, please sign and return the stipulation and order by December 9, 2008. I will then present it to the Pharmacy Examining Board at its next meeting. The stipulation and order is not binding unless and until it is accepted by the board.

If you do not return the signed stipulation and order by December 9, 2008, I will file a formal complaint and initiate the hearing process. Please be aware that it is the policy of the Department to assess costs against respondents whenever any discipline is imposed. Your costs are presently $100. If we have to take this matter through a hearing, they will escalate quickly and could reach several thousand dollars.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Jeanette Lytle

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT PRIOR TO FILING OF PETITION
FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION AND BOARD'S FINAL ORDER

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. (hereinafter "Respondent"), enter into this Settlement Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth below.

A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number PWD 115. The license was issued on or about October 3, 2005. The license will expire on or about December 31, 2009.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ATTACHED IS A TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE ORIGINAL ON FILE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE & CONSUMER AFFAIRS.

2. Respondent's mailing address for purposes of this action is Dianna Wolfe, Corporate Regulatory Affairs Specialist, Medline Industries, Inc., One Medline Place, Mundelein, Illinois 60060.

3. Respondent timely reported that disciplinary action had been taken against Respondent by the State of Wisconsin. Respondent had entered into a Stipulation with the State of Wisconsin's Pharmacy Examining Board. Pursuant to the terms of a Final Order, Respondent was reprimanded and ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $2,000.00. This action was based on the results of an inspection which revealed that certain policies were missing and that Respondent was storing pre-packaged kits for surgeries (which included various types and quantities of prescription drugs) in a warehouse that was shared with another company. These kits were not secured and employees of the other company had access to the kits. A true and correct copy of the Stipulation and Final Decision and Order which was approved on February 4, 2009 is attached as Exhibit "1."

4. RICO alleges that Respondent was disciplined by another state for a reason provided by the licensing laws in Hawaii. Specifically, the Respondent was disciplined for professional misconduct.

5. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 461-21(a)(2) (professional misconduct). Per Hawaii Administrative Rules §§ 16-95-30(c)(6) and (9), a licensee's facility must be secure from unauthorized entry and entry into areas where prescription drugs are held must be limited to authorized personnel.

6. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein licensed as a wholesale prescription drug distributor by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the license and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2009-7-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of ONE THOUSAND AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($1,000.00). Payment shall be made by cashier's check, company check, or money order made payable to "DCCA - Compliance Resolution Fund" and mailed to the Regulated Industries Complaints Office, Attn: Bobbi Lum-Mew, Esq., 235 S. Beretania Street, 9th Floor, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813. Payment of the fine shall be due within thirty (30) days after this Settlement Agreement is approved by the Board.

2. Failure to Comply with Settlement Agreement. If Respondent fails to fully and timely comply with the terms of this Settlement Agreement as set forth in paragraph C.1 above, Respondent's license shall be automatically revoked upon RICO's filing of an affidavit with the Board attesting to such failure. In case of such revocation, Respondent shall turn in all indicia of the license to the Executive Officer of the Board within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the revocation. In case of such revocation, Respondent understands Respondent cannot apply for a new license until the expiration of at least five (5) years after the effective date of the revocation. Respondent understands that if Respondent desires to become licensed again, Respondent must apply to the Board for a new license pursuant to and subject to HRS §§ 92-17, 436B-21, and all other applicable laws and rules in effect at the time.

3. Possible further sanction. The Board, at its discretion, may pursue additional disciplinary action as provided by law to include further fines and other sanctions as the Board may deem appropriate if Respondent violates any provision of the statutes or rules governing the conduct of wholesale prescription drug distributors in the State of Hawaii, or if Respondent fails to abide by the terms of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5, C.6, C.7 and C.8 below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board.

5. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

6. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

7. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any representation of fact, opinion or promise to Respondent to induce entry into this Settlement Agreement, and Respondent is not relying upon any statement, representation or opinion or promise made by RICO or any of its agents, employees, representatives or attorneys concerning the nature, extent or duration of exposure to legal liability arising from the subject matter of this Settlement Agreement or concerning any other matter.

8. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have signed this Settlement Agreement on the date(s) set forth below.

STATE OF COLORADO

Case No. 2010-002994

STIPULATION AND FINAL AGENCY ORDER

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE LICENSE TO PRACTICE AS A OUT-OF-STATE WHOLESALER IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.,

Wholesaler Applicant.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and Medline Industries, Inc. ("Wholesaler Applicant") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2010-002994 as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Wholesaler Applicant, its application for registration as an out-of-state wholesaler and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act at Title 12, Article 22, C.R.S.

2. Wholesaler Applicant admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

3. Wholesaler Applicant entered into a Settlement Agreement with the Missouri State Board of Pharmacy, which was effective on August 3, 2005 ("Missouri Settlement Agreement").

4. In the Missouri Settlement Agreement, Wholesaler Applicant was placed on probation for five (5) years for various violations of Missouri state and federal law involving recordkeeping, storage of prescription drugs, change of location without informing the Missouri Board of Pharmacy, lack of a policy and procedure manual, and distribution of prescription drugs under a lapsed registration.

12-22-125. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline.

(1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(III) Any state or federal law pertaining to drugs.

12-22-125.2. Disciplinary actions.

(1) The board may deny or discipline an applicant, licensee, or registrant when the board determines that such applicant, licensee, or registrant has engaged in activities that are grounds for discipline.

6. On January 14, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted an out-of-state wholesaler application, which application was denied by the Board.

7. On March 1, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted a written request asking that the Board accept its application by granting a conditional license.

8. The Board finds and concludes, and Wholesaler Applicant agrees, that based upon Wholesaler Applicant's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances as a condition of its registration as an out-of-state wholesaler.

DISPOSITION

Conditional Registration / Probation / Compliance / Terms

9. Conditional Registration. Wholesaler Applicant shall be granted a registration as an out-of-state wholesaler upon execution of this Final Agency Order and satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

10. Probation. Wholesaler Applicant's registration shall be placed on probation for a period of time equal to the time of probation remaining under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Credit toward satisfying the period of probation under this Final Agency Order shall be given only during such periods of time that Respondent is in total compliance with all provisions of this Final Agency Order and the Missouri Settlement Agreement.

11. Compliance. Wholesaler Applicant shall at all times remain in compliance with §§12-22-801, et seq. C.R.S. and shall not at any time distribute prescription drugs into Colorado without being registered as an out-of-state wholesaler in the State of Colorado at the time of distribution.

12. Other Requirements. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that, as a condition of this Final Agency Order and probation, Wholesaler Applicant shall:

    a. promptly pay all Wholesaler Applicant's own fees and costs associated with this Final Agency Order;

    b. comply fully with this Final Agency Order; and

    c. comply fully with the Pharmacists and Pharmaceuticals Act, all Board rules and regulations, and any other state and federal laws and regulations related to pharmacists and pharmaceuticals in the State of Colorado.

13. Discharge. Discharge from the requirements of this Final Agency Order must be requested in writing by Wholesaler Applicant. The Board will consider any request for discharge during the ordinary course of business. In any request for discharge it shall be Wholesaler Applicant's sole responsibility to establish, through written and other documentation, that Wholesaler Applicant has met all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order and, in addition, has been released from probation by the Missouri Board of Pharmacy under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Wholesaler Applicant's probation under this Final Agency Order shall continue until formally discharged by the Board by way of Board order.

14. Advisements and Waivers. Wholesaler Applicant enters into this Final Agency Order freely and voluntarily, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges its understanding that it has the following rights:

    a. To have a formal notice of hearing and charges served upon it;
    b. To respond to said formal notice of charges;
    c. To have a formal disciplinary hearing pursuant to §12-22-125, C.R.S.; and
    d. To appeal this Board order.

    Wholesaler Applicant freely waives these rights, and acknowledges that such waiver is made voluntarily in consideration for Board's limiting the action taken against it to the sanctions imposed herein.

15. Acknowledgments. The undersigned authorized agent of Wholesaler Applicant has read this Final Agency Order in its entirety and acknowledges, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel, that Wholesaler Applicant understands the legal consequences and agrees that none of the terms or conditions herein are unconscionable.

16. Violations. Time is of the essence to this Final Agency Order. It is the responsibility of Wholesaler Applicant to take all appropriate steps to comply fully with this Final Agency Order. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that any violation of this Final Agency Order may be sanctioned as provided under §12-22-125.2(4), C.R.S., and may be sufficient grounds for additional discipline, including but not limited to revocation of its registration. The pendency of any suspension or disciplinary action arising out of an alleged violation of this Final Agency Order shall not affect the obligation of Wholesaler Applicant to comply with all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order.

17. Integration and Severability. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall represent the entire and final agreement of and between the parties. In the event any provision of this Final Agency Order is deemed invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, it shall be severed and the remaining provisions of this Final Agency Order shall be given full force and effect.

18. Public Record. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall be a public record, maintained in the custody of the Board.

19. Effective Date. This Final Agency Order shall become effective upon signature of a Board member or representative.

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 1040 Enterprise Parkway South, West Jefferson, OH 43162 (OH License #01-30000190) entered a settlement agreement with the Ohio Board of Pharmacy for alleged sales of dangerous drugs to an unlicensed entity. Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

CERTAIN DEFINITIONS

As used in this Annual Report, unless otherwise noted or the context requires otherwise, the following terms have the following meanings:

- "Class A Units" refers to the interests in Medline Holdings called "Class A Units" that were outstanding prior to the Reclassification. Summary of Risk Factors

The following is a summary of the principal factors that make an investment in our securities speculative or risky, all of which are more fully described below. This summary should be read together with the risk factors described under Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and should not be relied upon as an exhaustive summary of the material risks facing our business. In addition to the following summary, you should consider the information set forth below and the other information contained in this Annual Report before investing in our securities.

- Our global operations are subject to inherent risks that could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- We may be unable to derive fully the anticipated benefits from our existing or future acquisitions, joint ventures, investments, dispositions, or other strategic transactions.
- Consolidation in the healthcare industry could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- We operate in a highly competitive industry, with accelerating pricing pressure and changes in technology.
- Changes to the U.S. and global healthcare environments may not be favorable to us.
- Increases in shipping costs or service issues with our third-party shippers could harm our business.

- Significant challenges or delays in our sourcing of new products and technologies could have an adverse impact on our long-term success.
- We have concentration in and dependence on certain healthcare provider customers and GPOs.
- Our business and operations depend on the proper functioning of our critical facilities and distribution networks and could be negatively impacted by events outside our control.
- Quality problems and product liability claims have in the past led, and could in the future lead, to recalls or safety alerts, reputational harm, adverse verdicts, or costly settlements, and could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline.
- If we experience increased pressure to maintain or decrease the price of our goods and services and we are unable to reduce our expenses, there may be a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Any failure by or loss of a third-party manufacturer or supplier or other manufacturing or supply-related impacts could result in delays and increased costs, which may adversely affect our business.
- We rely on the proper function, security, and availability of our information technology systems and data, as well as those of third parties throughout our global supply chain, to operate our business.
- We are subject to extensive and complex laws and governmental regulations and any adverse regulatory action may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition both inside and outside the United States.
- We are subject to complex and rapidly evolving data privacy, security, and data protection laws and regulations and the costs to comply with such laws and regulations or any ineffective compliance efforts with such laws and regulations may adversely impact our business.
- Our use or our third-party service providers' or business partners' use of AI, automated decision-making and machine learning technologies and the evolving regulatory framework in this area may subject us to risks or heightened costs that could adversely affect business, results of operation and financial condition.
- Our failure to comply with laws and regulations relating to reimbursement of healthcare goods and services may subject us to penalties and adversely impact our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.
- Uncertain global and domestic macro-economic and political conditions could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our substantial indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition, our ability to operate our business or react to changes in the economy or our industry, prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under our debts, and divert our cash flow from operations for debt payments.
- The credit agreement that governs the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the indentures that govern the Senior Notes will each impose significant operating and financial restrictions on our subsidiaries, which may prevent us from capitalizing on business opportunities.
- Medline Inc. is a holding company and its only material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, and it is accordingly dependent upon distributions from Medline Holdings to pay taxes, make payments under the tax receivable agreement, and pay any dividends.
- The Designating Stockholders hold a significant percentage of our stock, and their interests may conflict with ours or yours in the future.
- Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation does not limit the ability of our Sponsors, the Mills family, and certain other pre-IPO investors to compete with us, and they may have investments in businesses whose interests conflict with ours.

The market price of shares of our Class A common stock may be volatile or may decline regardless of our operating performance, which could cause the value of your investment to decline.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

Trademarks

We own or have the right to use trademarks, trade names, and service marks used in connection with our business, including, but not limited to, Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima. All trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report are the property of their respective owners. We do not intend our use or display of other companies' trade names, trademarks, or service marks to imply a relationship with, or endorsement or sponsorship of us by, these other companies. Solely for convenience, our trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report may appear without the ®, ™ or SM symbols, but such references are not intended to indicate, in any way, that we will not assert, to the fullest extent under applicable law, our rights or the right of the applicable licensor to these trademarks, trade names, and service marks.

PART I

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

Our Prime Vendor Model

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

510(k) Clearance Process

To obtain 510(k) clearance, we must submit a premarket notification to the FDA demonstrating the proposed device to be substantially equivalent to a predicate device. A device is substantially equivalent if, with respect to the predicate device, it has the same intended use and it has either the same technological characteristics, or it has different technological characteristics, but the information provided in the 510(k) submission demonstrates that the device does not raise new questions of safety or effectiveness. The standard review process for 510(k)s is between six to nine months, dependent upon the type of 510(k) filing submitted. Although many 510(k) premarket notifications are cleared without clinical data, in some cases, the FDA may require clinical data to support substantial equivalence. In reviewing a premarket notification, the FDA may request additional information, including clinical data, which may significantly prolong the review process and clearance is never assured. Clinical trials generally require the submission of an investigational device exemption ("IDE") to the FDA for a specified number of patients and study sites, unless the product is deemed a non-significant risk device eligible for more abbreviated IDE requirements. Clinical trials are subject to numerous requirements and institutional review board approval, oversight, and monitoring. Even if a trial is conducted, the results of clinical testing may not adequately demonstrate the safety and effectiveness of the device or be sufficient to obtain FDA clearance or approval for marketing.

After a device receives 510(k) clearance, any subsequent modification of the device that could significantly affect its safety or effectiveness, or that would constitute a major change in its intended use, requires a new 510(k) clearance or could require submission and approval of a de novo 510(k) or a PMA application in cases where new indications are sought for which there is no predicate. Non-significant changes are handled via internal documentation by the Company. Each manufacturer must judge the significance of modifications based on FDA 510(k) regulatory requirements and guidance documents. The FDA may review any such decision and may disagree with a manufacturer's determination. If the FDA disagrees with a manufacturer's determination, the FDA may require the manufacturer to cease marketing and distribution and/or recall the modified device until 510(k) clearance or PMA approval is obtained. In the future, we may make modifications to our products after they have received FDA clearance and, in appropriate circumstances, determine that new clearance is unnecessary. However, the FDA may disagree with our determination, and, if the FDA requires us to seek 510(k) clearance or submit new PMA applications for any modifications to a previously cleared product, we may be required to cease marketing or distributing or recall the modified device until we obtain the required clearance or approval. We may also market or acquire products that are marketed without a 510(k) clearance, appropriate labeling, or that otherwise are marketed in violation of FDA requirements, since medical devices can be marketed only for the indications for which they are cleared or approved. Under these circumstances, we may also be subject to warning letters, significant regulatory fines, or other penalties, and we may no longer be able to market particular products for which a 510(k) clearance is required.

Post-Marketing Requirements

Numerous FDA regulatory requirements apply to devices we manufacture and distribute, including: compliance with the QSR, which require manufacturers and their suppliers to follow the applicable design, testing, processes, control, documentation, labeling, and other quality assurance procedures during the manufacturing process; establishment registration, which requires establishments involved in the production and distribution of medical devices intended for commercial distribution in the United States to register with the FDA; medical device listing, which requires manufacturers to list the devices they have in commercial distribution with the FDA; labeling regulations, which prohibit "misbranded" devices from entering the market, as well as prohibit the promotion of products for unapproved or off-label uses and impose other restrictions on labeling; post-market surveillance, including medical device reporting requirements which requires manufacturers to report to the FDA if their device may have caused or contributed to a death or serious injury, or malfunctioned in a way that would likely cause or contribute to a death or serious injury if it were to recur; and corrections and removal reporting regulations, which require that manufacturers report to the FDA field corrections and product recalls or removals if undertaken to reduce a risk to health posed by the device or to remedy a violation of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that may present a risk to health. The FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities actively enforce the laws and regulations prohibiting the promotion of off-label uses, and a company that is found to have improperly promoted off-label uses may be subject to significant liability.

The FDA enforces these requirements by inspection and market surveillance. Domestic facility records and manufacturing processes are subject to periodic unscheduled inspections by the FDA. The FDA may also inspect foreign facilities that export products to the United States. Failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements may result in enforcement action or other actions by the FDA, which may include one or more of the following sanctions: adverse press releases and safety communications; requests to stop shipments; untitled letters or warning letters; fines, injunctions, and civil penalties; mandatory recall or seizure of our products; customer notifications and repairs or replacements; administrative detention or banning of our products; consent decrees; operating restrictions, partial suspension or total shutdown of production; refusing our request for 510(k) clearances for new product versions or modifications to existing product versions; revocation of 510(k) clearances previously granted; refusal to grant export approval for our products; and criminal prosecution and penalties. If any of these events were to occur, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

International Regulation of Medical Devices

Sales of medical devices outside the United States are subject to foreign government regulations, which vary substantially from country to country. In order to market our products in other countries, we must comply with applicable regulatory requirements and authorizations and approvals and safety and quality regulations in each country in which the product is marketed. The time required to obtain authorization, approval, or certification by a foreign country may be longer or shorter than that required for FDA clearance, and the requirements may differ significantly.

EU Regulation of Medical Devices

In the European Union ("EU") until May 25, 2021, medical devices were regulated by the Council Directive 93/42/EEC, which has been repealed and replaced by the Medical Device Regulation ("EU MDR"). Unlike directives, regulations are directly applicable in all EU member states without the need for member states to implement into national law. The EU extended the EU MDR transitional periods for certain medical devices until December 31, 2027 or December 31, 2028, depending on a device's risk class and subject to certain conditions to ensure continued access to medical devices for patients and to allow medical devices already placed on the market in accordance with the current legal framework to remain on the market, provided that the requirements of the transitional provisions are fulfilled.

In the EU, there is currently no premarket government review of medical devices. However, all medical devices placed on the EU market must meet general safety and performance requirements, and compliance with the general safety and performance requirements is a prerequisite for European conformity marking without which medical devices cannot be marketed or sold in the EU. EU MDR requirements regarding the distribution, marketing, and sale, including quality systems and post-market surveillance, have to be observed by manufacturers, importers, and distributors as of the application date (i.e., since May 26, 2021), including registration of economic operators and of devices (once the relevant modules of Eudamed are functional), surveillance, and vigilance requirements. The aforementioned EU rules are generally applicable in the European Economic Area which consists of the 27 EU member states plus Norway, Liechtenstein, and Iceland.

The NDA Approval Process

For any new drug products regulated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act such as our ReadyPrep CHG cloth, a sponsor must submit a New Drug Application ("NDA"), to the FDA for review and approval. The NDA review and approval process may take multiple years and involves steps including the following:

- completion of preclinical studies and analytical and stability testing in accordance with applicable regulations;
- submission to the FDA of an Investigational New Drug ("IND") application, which must become effective before clinical trials may begin and must be updated annually and amended when certain changes are made;
- approval by an institutional review board, or IRB, or independent ethics committee, or IEC, at each clinical trial site before each trial may be initiated;
- performance of adequate and well-controlled clinical trials in accordance with applicable IND regulations, good clinical practice, or GCP, requirements, including informed consent, financial disclosure by investigators, and other clinical trial-related regulations, to establish the safety and efficacy of the investigational product for each proposed indication and other condition of use;
- preparation and submission to the FDA of an NDA;

- satisfactory completion of one or more FDA pre-approval inspections of the manufacturing facility or facilities where the drug will be produced to assess compliance;
- satisfactory completion of FDA inspection of select clinical trial sites involved in conducting pivotal studies that generated the data in support of the NDA;
- payment of user fees for FDA review of the NDA; and
- FDA review and approval of the NDA, including of the proposed prescribing information and, where applicable, consideration of the views of any FDA advisory committee, prior to any commercial marketing or sale of the drug in the United States.

Any approvals that we may ultimately receive could be withdrawn if required post-marketing trials or analyses do not meet the FDA requirements, which could materially harm the commercial prospects for our products.

Even if a product candidate receives regulatory approval, the approval may be limited to specific disease states, patient populations and dosages, or might contain significant limitations on use in the form of warnings, precautions or contraindications, or in the form of onerous risk management plans, restrictions on distribution, or post-marketing study requirements. Further, even after regulatory approval is obtained, later discovery of previously unknown problems with a product may result in restrictions on the product or even complete withdrawal of the product from the market. Delay in obtaining, or failure to obtain, regulatory approval for our candidate products, or obtaining approval but for significantly limited use, would harm our business. In addition, we cannot predict what adverse governmental regulations may arise from future U.S. or foreign governmental action.

Trade Regulations

The movement of products, services, and investment across borders subjects us to extensive trade regulations. A variety of laws and regulations in the countries in which we transact business apply to the sale, shipment, and provision of goods, services, and technology across borders. These laws and regulations govern, among other things, our import, export, and other business activities. We are also subject to the risk that these laws and regulations could change in a way that would expose us to additional costs, penalties, or liabilities. Some governments also impose economic sanctions against certain countries, governments, persons, and entities, both for unlawful or malign conduct and to discourage or prevent entities from abiding by other countries' laws. In addition to our need to comply with such regulations in connection with our direct activities, we also sell and provide goods, technology, and services to agents, representatives, and distributors who may export such items to customers and end-users. If we, or the third parties through which we do business, are not in compliance with applicable import, export control, or economic sanctions laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability. Such actions may disrupt or delay sales of our products or services or result in restrictions on our distribution and sales of products or services that may materially impact our business.

Anti-Boycott Laws

Under U.S. laws and regulations, U.S. companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates are prohibited from participating or agreeing to participate in unsanctioned foreign boycotts in connection with certain business activities, including the sale, purchase, transfer, shipping, or financing of goods or services within the United States or between the United States and countries outside of the United States. If we, or certain third parties through which we sell or provide goods or services, violate U.S. anti-boycott laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability.

Subject: RE: Licensure Requirements- Manufacturers/Virtual Manufacturers

[External]

Good Afternoon,

I was requested to respond to your question. Please refer to Business and Professions Code section 4160(h) which states a drug manufacturer premises licensed by the Food and Drug Administration or licensed pursuant to Section 11615 of the Health and Safety Code that only distributes dangerous drugs and dangerous devices of it own manufacture is exempt from this section and section 4161.

Therefore, if you are a virtual manufacturer/manufacturer, licensure as a wholesaler or nonresident wholesaler with the California State Board of Pharmacy is not required if you only distribute dangerous drugs and dangerous devices that [redacted] has the NDA or manufactures.

However, if XXXX also distributes dangerous or dangerous devices, which they are not listed with the FDA or the California Dept of Public Health, State Food and Drug Branch (CDPH, SFDB), as the manufacturer or does not hold the NDA, then a wholesaler license (if located in CA) or nonresident wholesaler license (outside of CA and within the United States or a territory of the U.S.) is required.

I hope this answers your question. Otherwise, my contact information is below if you have any additional questions.

Sincerely,

Janice Dang, Pharm.D.
Supervising Inspector
California State Board of Pharmacy

Overview

We are a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company with a pipeline of novel biologic therapeutic candidates, developed using our proprietary modular protein engineering platforms. We leverage our innovative protein engineering technologies and deep understanding of target biology to create therapeutic candidates with attributes and mechanisms we believe to be superior to current approaches and applicable to a range of challenging, validated targets with high potential.

Recent Developments

Separation from Former Parent

In January 2024, Inhibrx, Inc., or the Former Parent, announced its intent to effect the spin-off of INBRX-101, an optimized, recombinant alpha-1 antitrypsin, or AAT, augmentation therapy in a registrational trial for the treatment of patients with alpha-1 antitrypsin deficiency. On May 29, 2024, the Former Parent completed a distribution to holders of its shares of common stock of 92% of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock of the Company, or the Distribution. On May 30, 2024, the Former Parent completed a series of internal restructuring transactions, or the Separation.

On May 30, 2024, the Former Parent completed the merger of Art Acquisition Sub, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Aventis Inc., or the Acquirer, a wholly owned subsidiary of Sanofi S.A., or Sanofi, with and into the Former Parent with the Former Parent continuing as the surviving entity. Pursuant to the merger (i) all assets and liabilities primarily related to INBRX-101, or the 101 Business, were transferred to the Acquirer; and (ii) by way of the Separation, the Company acquired the assets and liabilities and corporate infrastructure associated with its ongoing programs, INBRX-106 and ozekibart (INBRX-109), and its discovery pipeline, as well as the remaining close-out obligations related to its previously terminated program, INBRX-105.

Upon the closing, each Former Parent stockholder received: (i) $30.00 per share in cash, (ii) one contingent value right per share, representing the right to receive a contingent payment of $5.00 in cash upon the achievement of a regulatory milestone, and (iii) one SEC-registered, publicly listed, share of Inhibrx for every four shares of the Former Parent's common stock held.

From and after the closing, Inhibrx continues to operate as a stand-alone, publicly traded company focused on its clinical programs, ozekibart (INBRX-109) and INBRX-106.

Transactions with Related Parties

We entered into a Separation and Distribution Agreement and various agreements relating to transition services, licenses, and certain other matters with the Former Parent, which govern our relationship with the Former Parent prior to, at, and after the Former Parent completed the Distribution. These agreements include the allocation of employee benefits, taxes, and certain other liabilities and obligations attributable to periods prior to, at and after the Distribution.

Current Clinical Pipeline

Our current clinical pipeline of therapeutic candidates includes ozekibart (INBRX-109) and INBRX-106, both of which utilize our multivalent formats where the precise valency can be optimized in a target-centric way to mediate what we believe to be the most appropriate agonist function:

Our Leadership Team

We have assembled a team with deep scientific, manufacturing, and clinical experience in discovering and developing protein therapeutics, as well as an accomplished commercial team with the expertise we believe to successfully bring our therapeutic candidates, if approved, to market. Our in-house capabilities span the disciplines of discovery, protein engineering, cell biology, translational research, chemistry, manufacturing and controls, or CMC, clinical development, and commercialization. Members of our team bring experience from multiple organizations including Genentech, Inc., Gilead Sciences, Inc., Merck & Co., Novartis AG, Pfizer Inc., and Roche. Our board of directors is comprised of individuals with proven business and scientific accomplishments and significant operating knowledge of our company.

Our Strategy

Our mission is to discover and develop effective biologic treatments for people with life-threatening conditions and to evolve the Company into a biopharmaceutical company with a differentiated and sustainable product portfolio by focusing on the following:

Rapidly advance and optimize the clinical development of our lead programs.

Both of our clinical stage programs have key data or milestone events expected in 2025. Since entering the clinic, we have made great strides in our trials for both programs.

Apply our protein engineering platforms to create differentiated, next-generation therapeutics in focused disease areas with particular emphasis on oncology.

We continue to focus our internal clinical development where we believe we can create effective and flexible solutions to address the challenges of validated targets in areas with a high unmet medical need. Our modular protein engineering platforms enable us to efficiently identify optional therapeutic formats customized to the target biology.

Maintain our culture of innovation, execution and efficiency.

We have successfully built an innovative culture that encourages scientific risk-taking within the bounds of our data-driven philosophy. This enables our research and development team to discover numerous promising preclinical candidates cost effectively, from which we select what we believe are highly differentiated programs for clinical development.

Maximize the potential of our therapeutic pipeline.

We have a disciplined strategy to maximize the potential of our therapeutic pipeline in order to bring the greatest value to our stockholders and the most significant impact to patients. We are continuously looking to streamline operations to increase efficiency and to ensure maximum value is achieved with the capital we raise. Additionally, we will enter into strategic partnerships and transactions in instances where we believe partnering will accelerate our development timelines and/or maximize the commercial potential of any approved therapeutic candidate.

Our Pipeline

ozekibart (INBRX-109)

Ozekibart was originally known as INBRX-109, but was granted the "ozekibart" generic name in 2023 by both International Nonproprietary Names, or INN, and United States Adopted Names, or USAN. Ozekibart (INBRX-109) is a precisely engineered tetravalent therapeutic candidate targeting death-receptor 5, or DR5, a TNFRSF member, also known as tumor necrosis factor-related apoptosis-inducing ligand, or TRAIL, receptor 2. DR5 activation induces cancer-specific programmed cell death. The valency of ozekibart (INBRX-109) was selected to maximize the therapeutic index.

Background on DR5

Apoptosis is a critical process for maintaining healthy tissue homeostasis, but this process is frequently altered in cancer patients leading to the accumulation of malignant cells. Apoptotic signaling pathways are tightly regulated by the balance of pro- and anti-apoptotic factors, and their therapeutic modulation has the potential to be exploited for the treatment of cancer. Targeting the anti-apoptotic proteins has been a clinically successful strategy. For example, Venetoclax, an inhibitor of B-cell lymphoma 2, or Bcl-2, was approved by the FDA for the treatment of chronic lymphocytic leukemia in 2016.

Alternatively, we believe therapeutically targeting pro-apoptotic proteins such as DR5 is a promising oncology treatment strategy. DR5 signaling is induced by clustering of multiple receptors, which initiates an apoptotic signaling pathway resulting in cell death. The strength of apoptotic signaling is proportional to the degree of DR5 clustering. Importantly, although DR5 is expressed throughout the body, cancer cells have been shown to be more sensitive to DR5 signaling compared to healthy cells of normal tissues.

The promise of inducing cancer-specific cell death has led to extensive efforts by pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies to therapeutically exploit the DR5 pathway for the treatment of cancer. These initial efforts centered around developing recombinant versions of the DR5 ligand, TRAIL, and agonistic bivalent DR5 antibodies. Despite demonstrated clinical safety as single agents and in combination with chemotherapies, these first generation DR5 agonists failed to meet clinical efficacy endpoints. We believe these failures were caused by insufficient clustering of DR5, which is necessary for activation of this pathway.

Unmet Medical Need

We are currently investigating ozekibart (INBRX-109) in chondrosarcoma, Ewing sarcoma, and colorectal cancer. These are some of the most aggressive diseases, some of which are also orphan oncology indications that have shown signs of activity in preclinical studies. These indications and many of these cancer subtypes do not respond well to currently approved therapies and represent a significant unmet need.

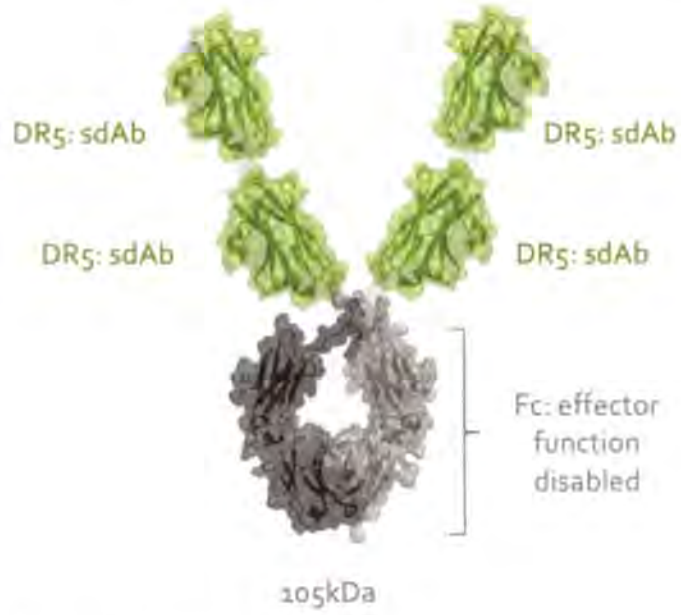
Chondrosarcoma is a rare malignant bone tumor composed of cartilage matrix-producing cells. It is reported to be the second most common primary bone sarcoma with an incidence of 1 in 200,000 per year globally. The incidence in the United States is reported to be about 1,400 cases per year. There is currently no approved systemic treatment for patients with unresectable or metastatic disease.



Ewing sarcoma is a rare type of cancer that occurs in bones or in the soft tissue around the bones and is more commonly found in children. The incidence of Ewing sarcoma for all ages is approximately 1.3 cases per 1 million people in the U.S., corresponding to approximately 430 new patients diagnosed per year in the U.S. The median age at diagnosis of patients with Ewing sarcoma is 15. Current treatment for Ewing sarcoma typically includes a combination of chemotherapy, surgery, and/or radiation therapy. Despite aggressive treatment, outcomes remain poor for patients with metastatic or relapsed disease, with five-year survival rates dropping below 30% in these cases, highlighting the need for more efficacious options.

Colorectal adenocarcinoma, or CRC, is the third most frequent cancer globally and the second leading cause of cancer-related death. According to the WHO, there were nearly 2,000,000 new cases of CRC in 2020, with nearly 1,000,000 deaths. Effective therapies beyond the second-line setting are limited. In the U.S., the five-year relative survival rate in patients with metastatic CRC is 15.7%, underscoring the need for better treatments.

Our Solution — ozekibart (INBRX-109)

Ozekibart (INBRX-109) is a tetravalent agonist of DR5 that we designed with our proprietary single domain antibody, or sdAb, platform to drive cancer-selective programmed cell death and to maximize potency while minimizing on-target liver toxicity arising from hepatocyte apoptosis. We believe ozekibart (INBRX-109) has the potential to overcome the limitations of previous DR5 agonists. As shown in the diagram below, ozekibart (INBRX-109) is comprised of four DR5 targeted sdAbs fused to an Fc region that has been modified to prevent Fc receptor interactions. In preclinical studies, we have observed that ozekibart (INBRX-109) has the ability to potently agonize DR5 through efficient receptor clustering, causing cancer cell death. Based upon experience with earlier generation DR5 agonists, hepatocytes appear to be a non-cancerous cell type particularly sensitive to DR5 agonism. We have engineered ozekibart (INBRX-109) with our proprietary sdAb modifications to reduce recognition by pre-existing anti-drug antibodies in humans, which can lessen the potential for hyper-clustering and thereby reduce potential hepatotoxicity.

ozekibart (INBRX-109): Tetravalent DR5 Agonistic Antibody

Phase 1 Clinical Trial of ozekibart (INBRX-109)

We initiated a Phase 1 clinical trial in the United States in November 2018. This Phase 1 clinical trial is designed as an open-label, three-part trial in patients with locally advanced or metastatic solid tumors. Primary objectives of the Phase 1 trial are safety, tolerability, and determination of the maximum tolerated dose, or MTD, and recommended Phase 2 dose. For some of the expansion cohorts in part 2 and part 3, clinical anti-tumor efficacy, such as response rate, was also included as one of the primary objectives. Secondary objectives are serum exposure and immunogenicity, as measured by frequency of anti-drug antibodies. Exploratory objectives include clinical anti-tumor efficacy, based on response rate, duration of response, disease control rate, progression-free survival and overall survival, as well as evaluation of potential predictive diagnostic and pharmacodynamic biomarkers.

Part 1

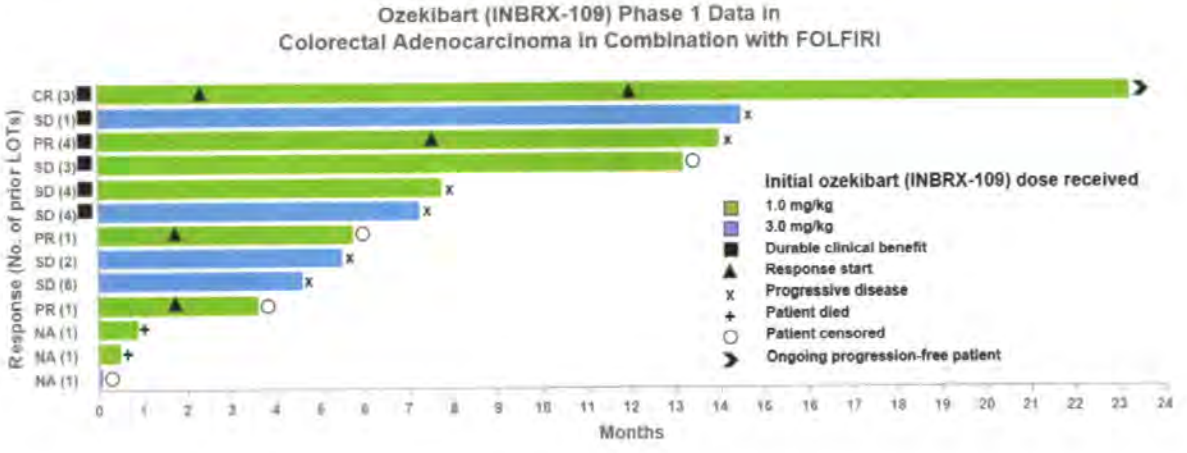
Part 1 of the trial utilized a traditional 3+3 dose escalation design escalating ozekibart (INBRX-109) as a single agent from 0.3 mg/kg to 30 mg/kg. Twenty patients were enrolled in this portion of the trial, which was completed in August 2019. Ozekibart (INBRX-109) was observed to be well-tolerated without significant toxicities observed at doses up to and including the maximum administered dose of 30 mg/kg. No MTD was reached.

Part 2

In September 2019, we commenced single agent dose expansion cohorts. Part 2 is now complete and enrolled 116 patients in single agent dose cohorts in the following tumor types: colorectal and gastric adenocarcinomas, malignant pleural mesothelioma, chondrosarcoma, synovial sarcoma, and solid tumors.

Part 3

In February 2021, we initiated chemotherapy combination cohorts in Part 3 of this trial. We are currently investigating ozekibart (INBRX-109) in Ewing sarcoma, colorectal adenocarcinoma, and chondrosarcoma in Part 3 of this trial.



Interim Results from the Phase 1 cohort in Ewing Sarcoma

In November 2023, we announced interim efficacy and safety data from the cohort of the Phase 1 trial evaluating ozekibart (INBRX-109) in combination with Irinotecan, or IRI, and Temozolomide, or TMZ, for the treatment of advanced or metastatic, unresectable Ewing sarcoma. Among the 13 patients evaluable as of the data cut of September 8, 2023, the observed disease control rate was 76.9%, or 10 out of 13 patients as measured by RECISTv1.1, with seven patients achieving partial responses (53.8%) and three patients achieving stable disease (23.1%). Overall, ozekibart (INBRX-109) in combination with IRI/TMZ was well-tolerated from a safety perspective. We have expanded recruitment of this cohort by 50 patients as a result of these preliminary findings and expect to have interim data during the second half of 2025.

Interim Results from the Phase 1 cohort in Colorectal Adenocarcinoma

In January 2025, we announced interim efficacy and safety data from the cohort of the Phase 1 trial evaluating ozekibart (INBRX-109) in combination with FOLFIRI for the treatment of advanced or metastatic, unresectable colorectal adenocarcinoma, or CRC. Efficacy was assessed in 10 of the 13 patients who received at least one dose of ozekibart, based on RECIST v1.1 criteria. Interim results as of the cutoff date of December 2, 2024 demonstrated one complete response, or CR, three partial responses, or PR, and six cases of stable disease, or SD. Durable disease control lasting ≥180 days was observed in 46.2% of patients, with a median progression-free survival of 7.85 months. All patients had received at least one prior line of systemic therapy (median: two; range: 1–6). Notably, the patient achieving a CR had undergone three prior lines of therapy, and two PRs occurred in patients who had failed prior FOLFIRI-based treatments. Ozekibart-related treatment-emergent adverse events, or TEAEs, were reported in 84.6% of patients, with most being grade 1 or 2 in severity. Grade ≥3 TEAEs were observed in 30.8% of patients. The most common ozekibart-related TEAEs included nausea, increased alanine aminotransferase, diarrhea, and fatigue, with the majority being low-grade.

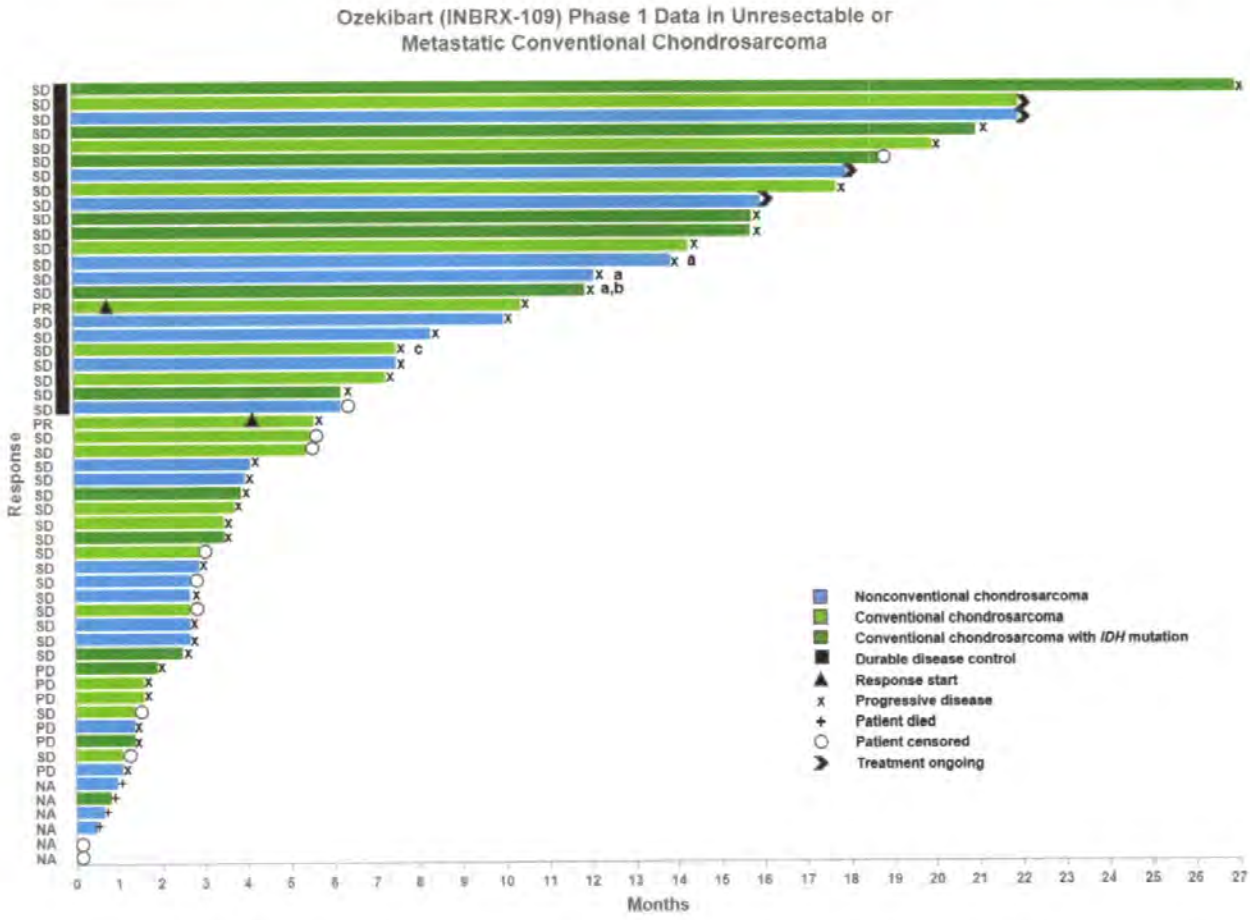
CR, n (%)	1 (7.7)
PR, n (%)	3 (23.1)
SD, n (%)	6 (46.2)
DCR, n (%)	10 (76.9)



We have expanded recruitment of this cohort by 50 patients as a result of these preliminary findings in order to validate these findings in a more uniform patient population. The cohort is expected to enroll up to 50 patients, each with two to three prior lines of systemic therapy, and data are anticipated in the third quarter of 2025.

Interim Results from the Phase 1 cohort in Chondrosarcoma

In January 2021, the FDA granted Fast Track designation to ozekibart (INBRX-109) for the treatment of patients with unresectable or metastatic conventional chondrosarcoma. In November 2021, the FDA granted orphan drug designation for ozekibart (INBRX-109) for the treatment of chondrosarcoma. In August 2022, the European Commission granted orphan designation for ozekibart (INBRX-109) for the treatment of chondrosarcoma.

In November 2024, we announced interim efficacy and safety data from the ongoing Phase 1 expansion cohort evaluating ozekibart (INBRX-109) for the treatment of chondrosarcoma. Among the 31 patients evaluable as of August 9, 2024, the observed disease control rate was 77.8%, or 42 out of 54 patients as measured by RECISTv1.1, with two patients achieving partial responses (3.7%) and 40 patients achieving stable disease (74.1%). Disease control was observed in patients with and without IDH1/IDH2 mutations. Of those achieving stable disease, 55.0% had decreases from baseline in tumor size. 23 of 42 patients (54.8%) who achieved disease control maintained control for longer than 6 months, and the longest duration of stable disease observed was 27 months. At the time of evaluation, the median progression-free survival, or PFS, was 7.42 months, and one patient remained on study.

Data cutoff: August 9, 2024; presented at the CTOS Annual Meeting, November 13-16, 2024, San Diego, CA

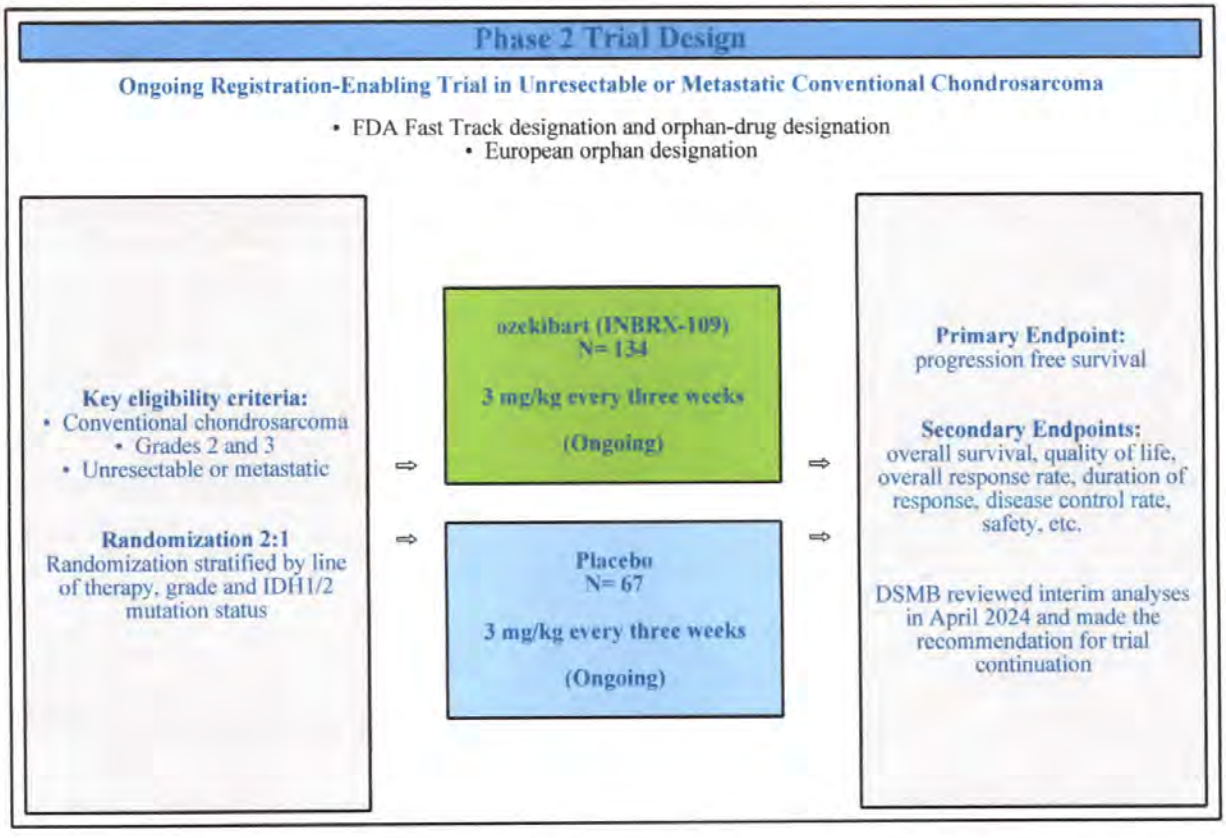
b. Patient received priming dose of ozekibart 0.3 mg/kg in cycle 1; in all subsequent cycles, the patient received 3 mg/kg.



c. Patient received ozekibart at a dose of 10 mg/kg.

Phase 2 ozekibart (INBRX-109) in Chondrosarcoma

In June 2021, we initiated a Phase 2 trial in patients with metastatic conventional chondrosarcoma, which will enroll approximately 200 patients in total at 50 different sites worldwide. Primary objectives of the ongoing Phase 2 trial are to evaluate the efficacy of ozekibart (INBRX-109) as measured by median PFS, assessed by central real-time independent radiology review. Secondary objectives are to evaluate the overall survival, median PFS by investigator assessment, quality of life, objective response rate, duration of response, disease control rate, safety and tolerability, pharmacokinetics and anti-drug antibodies to ozekibart (INBRX-109).

In early 2023, the Phase 2 trial was placed on partial clinical hold by the FDA, and we paused patient enrollment in the trial following the occurrence of a fatal (grade 5) serious adverse event of hepatotoxicity (or hepatic failure) event triggering the predefined stopping rules built into the protocol. The additional insight gained on patients at risk of significant hepatotoxicity led us to believe that elderly patients with fatty liver disease are the at higher-risk population. We implemented the Hepatic Steatosis Index, or HSI, into the protocol and excluded those higher-risk elderly patients with an HSI score of 36 or higher, which has helped to mitigate the risk of severe hepatotoxicity. The FDA lifted the hold in April 2023 after we amended the trial protocol.

The safety and integrity of the Phase 2 trial is overseen by an independent group of qualified experts, known as a data safety monitoring board, or DSMB, committee. This group provides the recommendation of whether a trial may move forward at designated check points based on access that only the group maintains to available data from the trial. Suspension or termination of development occurs if it is determined that the participants or patients are being exposed to an unacceptable health risk. In April 2024, the DSMB committee reviewed the interim analyses for the Phase 2 trial and made the recommendation that we continue forward with the current trial. We expect to announce data from this trial around the third quarter of 2025.

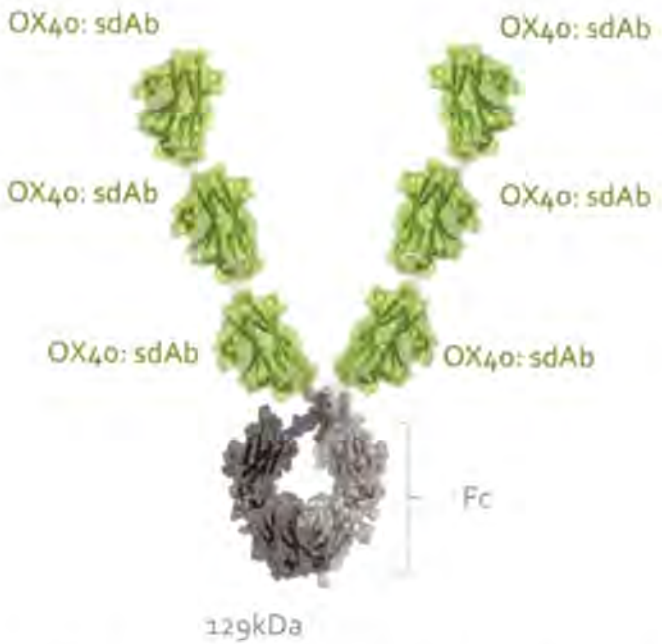
INBRX-106

INBRX-106 is a hexavalent OX40 agonist, currently being investigated as a single agent and in combination with KEYTRUDA® (pembrolizumab), a PD-1 blocking checkpoint inhibitor, in patients with locally advanced or metastatic solid tumors. KEYTRUDA® is a registered trademark of Merck Sharp & Dohme LLC, a subsidiary of Merck & Co., Inc., Rahway, NJ, USA.

Background on Immunotherapy

A notable recent success in cancer treatment is the approval of checkpoint inhibitor immunotherapies as therapeutic agents. Immune checkpoints are key mechanisms that fine-tune and control the body's immune response. In the cancer setting, tumors have developed strategies for hijacking these checkpoints, preventing an immune response to the cancer and allowing the tumor cells to proliferate unchecked. Checkpoint inhibitor immunotherapies were developed to overcome this phenomenon by relieving immune cell inhibition, resulting in a potentially long-lasting amplification of the anti-tumor immune response. Therapies against checkpoint proteins, such as PD-1 and PD-L1, produced impressive results in clinical development, resulting in marketing approvals in a number of malignancies.

Background on OX40



OX40, a member of the TNFRSF, is predominately expressed and is a key co-stimulatory receptor on activated T-cells. Signaling through OX40 provides co-stimulation that promotes T-cell expansion, enhanced effector function and memory cell formation, and prevents activation-induced cell death. The natural mechanism of OX40 activation is via the interaction with its trimeric ligand, OX40L, which serves to effectively cluster multiple OX40 molecules and facilitate downstream signaling leading to nuclear factor kappa-light-chain-enhancer of activated B cells, or NFkB, activation. Based on the capacity for OX40 signaling to enhance anti-tumor immunity in preclinical studies, there have been many efforts to therapeutically exploit this pathway for cancer immunotherapy. Most previously developed agents were bivalent OX40 agonists, the configuration of which we believe to be poorly suited for efficient receptor clustering, evidenced by the lack of clinical responses observed for such molecules.

Unmet Medical Need

Despite unprecedented clinical response rates, the majority of patients fail to respond to therapies targeting PD-1 and PD-L1. We believe this is in part because T-cells require co-stimulation for full functionality. Thus, checkpoint inhibition alone is likely insufficient to fully enable the immune system to attack a tumor, and we believe further benefit could be derived by the addition of immune co-stimulatory agents.

Our Solution

INBRX-106 is a precisely engineered hexavalent sdAb-based therapeutic candidate targeting OX40, designed to be an optimized agonist of this co-stimulatory receptor. As shown in the diagram below, INBRX-106 is composed of six OX40 targeting sdAbs and a functional Fc domain.

As a hexavalent therapeutic candidate, INBRX-106 is designed to bind six OX40 molecules on the cell surface to mediate efficient receptor clustering and downstream signaling. In preclinical studies, we observed that INBRX-106 elicited superior OX40 agonism when compared to the bivalent antibodies, 1A7 (analog of MOXR-0916) or 1D10 using an OX40 expressing NFkB reporter cell line, wherein clustering of OX40 receptor mediated signaling culminated in luciferase expression. We also observed that INBRX-106 can mediate T-cell co-stimulation and reduce the suppressive activity of regulatory T-cells. Additionally, INBRX-106 is able to exploit IgG-mediated effector function via the Fc domain.

Clinical Data

We initiated a Phase 1/2 clinical trial in December 2019 for INBRX-106. This trial is designed as an open-label, four-part trial in patients with locally advanced or metastatic solid tumors. Primary objectives of the trial are safety and tolerability, and the determination of the MTD and recommended Phase 2 dose of INBRX-106 as a single agent and in combination with Keytruda. For some of the expansion cohorts in part 4, clinical anti-tumor efficacy, such as response rate, was also included as one of the primary objectives. Secondary objectives are serum exposure, immunogenicity, as measured by the frequency of anti-drug antibodies, and clinical anti-tumor efficacy per RECIST (version 1.1) and immune RECIST based on response rate, duration of response, disease control rate, progression-free survival and overall survival. Exploratory objectives will include evaluation of potential predictive diagnostic and pharmacodynamic biomarkers.

Part 1 of the trial utilized a traditional 3+3 algorithm for single agent dose escalation from 0.0003 mg/kg to 3 mg/kg in twenty patients. INBRX-106 was observed to be generally well tolerated in humans. The most common adverse events, or AEs, reported for INBRX-106 were Grade 1 and 2 and notably, cutaneous toxicities, which are common immune-related AEs associated with immune checkpoint inhibitors. These AEs, which were mostly mild or moderate non-serious adverse events and likely immune-related toxicities were in line with the mechanism of action of this candidate therapeutic. The maximum administered dose was 3 mg/kg and the MTD level was not reached.

Part 2 of the trial, single agent dose expansion, administered INBRX-106 in different dosing schedules to patients with tumor types responsive to checkpoint inhibitors. Part 2 treatment cohorts of this trial were in the following tumor types: NSCLC, melanoma, HNSCC, gastric or gastroesophageal junction adenocarcinoma, renal cell carcinoma, and urothelial (transitional) cell carcinoma.

In Parts 3 and 4 of this trial, INBRX-106 is being evaluated in combination with Keytruda. In the all-comer Part 3 of the trial, INBRX-106 was escalated in combination with Keytruda and enrolled patients with locally advanced or

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT BETWEEN STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY AND MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.

Come now Medline Industries, Inc. ("Respondent") and the Missouri Board of Pharmacy ("Board" or "Petitioner") and enter into this Settlement Agreement for the purpose of resolving the question of whether Respondent's license as a drug distributor will be subject to discipline.

Pursuant to the terms of § 536.060, RSMo (2000), the parties hereto waive the right to a hearing by the Administrative Hearing Commission of the State of Missouri and, additionally, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board under § 621.110, RSMo (2000), and stipulate and agree that a final disposition of this matter may be effectuated as described below.

Respondent acknowledges that it understands the various rights and privileges afforded it by law, including the right to a hearing of the charges against it; the right to appear and be represented by legal counsel; the right to have all charges against it proved upon the record by competent and substantial evidence; the right to cross-examine any witnesses appearing at the hearing against it; the right to a decision upon the record by a fair and impartial administrative hearing commissioner concerning the charges pending against it and, subsequently, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board at which time it may present evidence in mitigation of discipline; and the right to recover attorney's fees incurred in defending this action against its license. Being aware of these rights provided it by operation of law, Respondent knowingly and voluntarily waives each and every one of these rights and freely enters into this Settlement Agreement and agrees to abide by the terms of this document, as they pertain to it.

Respondent acknowledges that it has received a copy of the draft complaint to be filed with the Board, the investigative report, and other documents relied upon by the Board in determining there was cause for discipline against Respondent's license. For the purpose of settling this dispute, Respondent stipulates that the factual allegations contained in this

1. Respondent's drug distributor license shall be placed on PROBATION for five (5) years pursuant to the provisions of Chapters 338 and 620, RSMo. During the period of probation, Respondent will be entitled to operate as a drug distributor pursuant to Chapter 338, RSMo provided Respondent adheres to the following terms of probation:

A. Respondent shall report to the Board, on a preprinted form supplied by the Board office, once every six (6) months, beginning six (6) months after this Order/Agreement becomes effective, stating truthfully whether or not it has complied with all terms and conditions of this disciplinary order.

B. Respondent shall pay all required fees for licensing to the Board and shall renew its license prior to October 31 for each licensing year.

C. Respondent shall comply with all provisions of Chapter 338, Chapter 195, and all applicable federal and state drug laws, rules and regulations and with all federal and state criminal laws. "State" here includes the State of Missouri and all other states and territories of the United States.

D. If, after disciplinary sanctions have been imposed, Respondent ceases to keep its Missouri license current, the period of unlicensed status shall not be deemed or taken as any part of the time of discipline so imposed.

E. The parties to this Order/Agreement understand that the Board of Pharmacy will maintain this Order/Agreement as an open record of the Board as provided in Chapters 338, 610 and 620, RSMo.

2. Upon the expiration of said discipline, Respondent's license as a drug distributor in Missouri shall be fully restored if all other requirements of law have been satisfied; provided, however, that in the event the Board determines that the Respondent has violated any term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, the Board may, in its discretion, after an evidentiary hearing, vacate and set aside the discipline imposed herein and may suspend, revoke, or otherwise lawfully discipline the Respondent.

3. No order shall be entered by the Board pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Settlement Agreement without notice and an opportunity for hearing before the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 536, RSMo.

4. If any alleged violation of this Settlement Agreement occurred during the disciplinary period, the Board may choose to conduct a hearing before it either during the disciplinary period, or as soon thereafter as a hearing can be held to determine whether a violation occurred and, if so, it may impose further discipline. The Board retains jurisdiction to hold a hearing to determine if a violation of this Settlement Agreement has occurred.

5. The terms of this Settlement Agreement are contractual, legally enforceable, binding, and not merely recitals. Except as otherwise contained herein, neither this Settlement Agreement nor any of its provisions may be changed, waived, discharged, or terminated, except by an instrument in writing signed by the party against whom the enforcement of the change, waiver, discharge, or termination is sought.

6. Respondent hereby waives and releases the Board, its members and any of its employees, agents, or attorneys, including any former board members, employees, agents, and attorneys, of, or from, any liability, claim, actions, causes of action, fees, costs and expenses, and compensation, including, but not limited to, any claims for attorney's fees and expenses, including any claims pursuant to § 536.087, RSMo, or any claim arising under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which may be based upon, arise out of, or relate to any of the matters raised in this litigation, or from the negotiation or execution of this Settlement Agreement. The parties acknowledge that this paragraph is severable from the remaining portions of this Settlement Agreement in that it survives in perpetuity even in the event that any court of law deems this Settlement Agreement or any portion thereof void or unenforceable.

CERTIFIED MAIL/RETURN RECEIPT REQUESTED

December 7, 2006

Andrew Stolarski
Vice President of Operations
Medline Industries, Inc.
9101 Riverside Parkway
Lithia Springs, GA 30122

RE: Prescription Drug Wholesaler Permit No. 23:01470

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. Mr. David L. Magruder, the designated representative identified for permit no. 23:01470 has resigned his position. We have not received a "Notification of Designated Representative" form identifying a certified individual to replace him. As a result Medline Industries, Inc. does not have a designated representative as required by s. 499.012(11), F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(b)4., F.S., to be certified as a designated representative, a person must receive a passing score of at least 75 percent on an examination given by the department regarding federal laws governing distribution of prescription drugs and ss. 499.001-499.081 and the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs.

Accordingly, and pursuant to the above referenced facts and law, the department hereby intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler because you have not complied with s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S. and otherwise do not have a designated certified representative on file with the Department that meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S. which is a substantial failure to comply with ss. 499.001 – 499.081, F.S. and is a failure to meet the requirements for the permit, for which the suspension is authorized pursuant to Sections 499.067 (1) (a); 499.067 (1) (b) 2. F.S.

Therefore, the department concludes that Medline Industries, Inc. no longer meets the requirements to continue to operate as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler in Florida and the permit will be suspended until you have designated in writing to the department a person with an active certification to serve as a designated representative who meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S.

NOTICE OF RIGHTS TO HEARING AND APPEAL

You have the right to request an administrative hearing pursuant to sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., if you wish to challenge the intended agency action to suspend your permit. Such proceedings are governed by sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., and Rules 28-106 and 28-107, Florida Administrative Code. Request for a hearing, formal or informal, must comply with Rule 28-107.004, Florida Administrative Code.

You have the right to be represented by counsel or other qualified representative, at your expense; to present evidence and argument; to call and cross-examine witnesses; and to have subpoena and subpoena duces tecum issued on your behalf if a hearing is requested.

A petition for administrative hearing must be in writing and must be received by the Agency Clerk for the Department, within twenty-one (21) days from the receipt of this complaint. The address of the Agency Clerk is 4052 Bald Cypress Way, BIN # A02, Tallahassee FL 32399-1703. The Agency Clerk's facsimile number is 850-410-1448.

Mediation is not available as an alternative remedy.

Your failure to submit a petition for hearing within 21 days from receipt of this complaint will constitute a waiver of your right to an administrative hearing, under Florida Administrative Code Rule 28-106.111 and this complaint shall become a "final order".

Should this correspondence become a final order, a party who is adversely affected by it is entitled to judicial review pursuant to s 120.68, F.S. Review proceedings are governed by the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure. Such proceedings may be commenced by filing one copy of a Notice of Appeal with the Agency Clerk of the Department of Health and a second copy, accompanied by the filing fees required by law, with the Court of Appeal in the appropriate District Court. The notice must be filed within 30 days of rendition of the final order.

In review of evidence presented to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors (the "Board") addressing specific violation(s) of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors by MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC., Covington LA facility (the "Respondent", "Licensee"), acting herein by its authorized agent, to-wit: "Copies of current licenses for customers who are authorized by law or regulation to procure or possess drugs or devices shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices. If customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customer names, addresses, licenses numbers, and license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.", La. R.S. Title 37, Chapter 54, Section 3467, and LAC, Title 46, Part XCI, Section 311.D and "violating provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors", La. R.S. Title 37, Chapter 54, Section 3474.1 and LAC Title 46, Part XCI, Section 101.

Upon consideration of the evidence presented to the Board, this Consent Order is voluntarily entered into by and between Respondent and the Board. Respondent acting through its authorized agent, hereby waives formal Notice of and its attendance at the Evidentiary Hearing for presentation of the Consent Order to the Board. However, as a condition precedent to submission of the proposed Consent Order to the Board, Respondent hereby acknowledges and understands that information may be presented to the Board with regards to the details of the case for the Board to understand the circumstances. It is further acknowledged and understood by Respondent that in the event the Board is not agreeable to enter into the proposed Consent Order and an Administrative Hearing is ultimately conducted, the Board which will be presiding over the case will possibly have heard information which may later be submitted at the scheduled hearing. If such hearing occurs, Respondent waives any right that it may have to recuse or remove any or all members of the Board for the purposes of an Administrative Hearing in the event the proposed Consent Order is not accepted by the Board, or if Respondent withdraws his consent to the proposed Consent Order prior to its final approval by the Board. Furthermore, Respondent has had the opportunity to, or has in fact consulted with, legal counsel with regards to the Consent Order and the waivers contained herein.

FINDINGS OF FACTS

1. Respondent possesses Louisiana License No. 4318 issued by the Board to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices in the State of Louisiana. Such license was in effect on 3/5/2008 through the date of the evidentiary hearing in this matter.

2. Pursuant to LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee is required to maintain copies of current licenses for customer who are authorized by law or regulation to procure or possess legend drugs or devices for all customers that are shipped or sold legend drugs or devices; if these license copies are maintained off site, a list of customers with customer names, addresses, license number, and license expiration dates shall be maintained on site for all customers shipped or sold legend drugs or devices.
3. On 3/5/2008, an inspection was conducted by the Board's representative which revealed that copies of customer licenses were not at the Covington LA facility. A verbal request to provide a customer listing which should be maintained at the Covington LA facility was made. The customer license list was not available.
4. Information was thereafter submitted by Respondent to the Board's inspector as per the inspector's request. In review of a customer listing ("Pedigree List") as provided by the Respondent, the inspector requested copies of customer licenses for 15 of the customers listed. Verbal explanation was given was that customer licenses are verified and the customer is entered electronically into the system as an authorized recipient but that no hard copy of the customer license is being maintained.
5. Respondent's conduct in failing to maintain customer license documents and/or a customer listing at the Covington LA site is in violation of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D.
6. Disciplinary sanctions and/or fines are applicable against Respondent in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. It is unlawful for Respondent, as a licensee to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices, to not maintain current customer license documents and/or a current customer listing on-site. LAC 46:XCI.311.D.
2. It is unlawful for Respondent, as a licensee to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices, to violate any of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors. La. R.S. 37:3474.1 and LAC 46:XCI.101
3. Respondent's violations of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors constitute lawful grounds for the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors, upon due notice of hearing and proof of such violations, to assess a fine, revoke, suspend, or otherwise discipline Respondent's license as provided by law. RE: Louisiana License No. 4318
Administrative Docket No. 2008006

CERTIFIED MAIL
No. 7007 3020 0000 1431 0031
Return Receipt Requested

Dear Lara Simmons:

As you may recall, the Board is mandated by law to license and regulate the wholesale distribution of legend drugs and devices in Louisiana in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors. This letter will acknowledge receipt of your response dated 4/3/2008. This letter is also intended to respond to any inquiries you may have regarding the deficiencies found during the inspection which occurred on 3/5/2008 at MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s Covington LA distribution facility.

Pursuant to the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee should maintain copies of current licenses which authorizes a customer to procure and possess legend drugs and devices. If these customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customers including customer names, addresses, license number, and the license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.

On 3/5/2008, the Board's inspector discovered that copies of customer licenses which authorize the customer to procure and possess legend drugs/devices or a listing of customers' license information were not being maintained at the Covington LA facility.

A verbal request was made by the inspector of a customer list which should have been maintained at the Covington LA facility. After receiving and reviewing a copy of the customer list, as referred to by Medline as their "Pedigree List", the inspector requested copies of 30 customer licenses from the listing. Of the requested customer license copies, the inspector found that 70% of the licenses requested were either not acceptable licenses or were not available.

It is evident that MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. was in violation of LAC 46:XCI.311.D at the time of the inspection on 3/5/2008. The Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors, more particularly LA RS 37:3474.1, provides that, after due notice and hearing, MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license may be sanctioned and/or it may be assessed a fine for its actions or omissions. Fines alone may include an assessment of $1,000 per violation

Bob Broadus, Chairman; William Crates, Vice-Chairman; Randall Brooks, Secretary/Treasurer; John Liggio, Executive Director/Inspector
Hershal Paul, Board Member; Andy Milligan, Board Member; Wayne Gremillion, Board Member; Eric Vuitton, Board Member; Kimberly B. Barper, Executive Assistant

per day. It is the Board's objective to regulate the industry by correcting behavior. Such is accomplished by imposing sanctions for wrongful conduct.

It is hoped that the above detailed violation(s) as corrected will not occur in the future. Therefore, in an effort to amicably resolve the issues regarding the violation(s) which did occur, I, as the Board's appointed investigating/compliance officer, extend an offer to you which would impose a total fine of $2,000. This proposed sanction does not impose any restrictions on MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license.

If MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is agreeable to these terms, I have enclosed a Consent Order for your review and execution. Please have an authorized representative for your company sign the Consent Order in front of a Notary and two witnesses. Return the original, executed Consent Order along with a check made to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors in the amount of the $2,000 fine to the Board's office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter. You and/or a company representative will not be required to attend the evidentiary hearing at which the executed Consent Order will be presented to the full Board for acceptance, however you and/or another representative are welcome to attend.

In the event MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is not agreeable to this amicable resolution and wishes to contest the investigative findings in a hearing before the full Board, it has the right to do so. If such occurs, the current offer being proposed in this letter will no longer be viable.

We would like to bring this matter to disposition either by this amicable resolution or the pursuit of a formal hearing against MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. before the Board at the next scheduled Board meeting. To do so, either way, we will need to prepare the necessary paperwork with all resolution documents. Again, please respond to this offer either by returning the executed Consent Order and fine payment or by written request for an administrative hearing. If your response is not received at the Board office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter, the Board will begin steps towards the formal hearing with the issuance of subpoenas for witnesses and records.

We wish to keep an open line of communication with you. Please contact the Board office in the event you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Respectfully,

Wayne Gremillion
Board Member/Compliance Officer

Re: RICO Case No. PHA 2008-71-L

Dear Ms. Wolfe:

I received the signed Settlement Agreement. One correction had to be made, and I apologize that we did not notice this earlier. On page 3, paragraph 5, the citation to HRS section 436B-19(13) was changed to HRS section 436B-19(15) which is the correct citation. Enclosed is a copy of the corrected replacement page. I will now forward the document to the executive officer of the Board of Pharmacy, and we will be notified as to whether it gets approved or not by the Board.

Very truly yours,

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2008-17-L.

11. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008.

Corrective Actions
Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries Inc. distribution center at 5450 W. Stewart Ave., Wausau, WI 54401 (WI # 1116-045) cited for missing policies and procedures and storage of drugs in a non-secure location following an inspection by the Wisconsin Department of Regulation & Licensing. Medline managed a portion of a Wisconsin hospital's warehouse. The inspector cited Medline for failure to install a dividing fence between the Medline warehouse and the hospital portion of the facility. All hospital products were owned by the hospital. Medline was also cited for failure to access policies and procedures during the inspection. Corrections were made and the facility re-inspected, to the satisfaction of the state. Medline entered a stipulation order effective 02/04/2009 to resolve the matter.

Corrective Actions:
Medline installed a locked fence to separate the hospital's owned products. Medline also completed a review of all facilities to ensure proper separation of products. On-site staff provided additional training on how to access current policies and procedures during an inspection.

Re: 08 PHM 037

Dear Ms. Hornick:

As you know, an inspector for the Department of Regulation and Licensing inspected Medline Industries on May 9, 2008. He found that several policies were missing, and the facility was storing prescription drugs in a non-secure location. It has been determined that these violations are grounds for discipline. I am the prosecuting attorney assigned to the case.

I have enclosed a proposed stipulation and order, which would resolve this matter without a hearing. If you are willing to resolve this case by agreement, please sign and return the stipulation and order by December 9, 2008. I will then present it to the Pharmacy Examining Board at its next meeting. The stipulation and order is not binding unless and until it is accepted by the board.

If you do not return the signed stipulation and order by December 9, 2008, I will file a formal complaint and initiate the hearing process. Please be aware that it is the policy of the Department to assess costs against respondents whenever any discipline is imposed. Your costs are presently $100. If we have to take this matter through a hearing, they will escalate quickly and could reach several thousand dollars.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Jeanette Lytle

FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION AND BOARD'S FINAL ORDER

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. (hereinafter "Respondent"), enter into this Settlement Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth below.

A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number PWD 115. The license was issued on or about October 3, 2005. The license will expire on or about December 31, 2009.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ATTACHED IS A TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE ORIGINAL ON FILE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE & CONSUMER AFFAIRS.

2. Respondent's mailing address for purposes of this action is Dianna Wolfe, Corporate Regulatory Affairs Specialist, Medline Industries, Inc., One Medline Place, Mundelein, Illinois 60060.

3. Respondent timely reported that disciplinary action had been taken against Respondent by the State of Wisconsin. Respondent had entered into a Stipulation with the State of Wisconsin's Pharmacy Examining Board. Pursuant to the terms of a Final Order, Respondent was reprimanded and ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $2,000.00. This action was based on the results of an inspection which revealed that certain policies were missing and that Respondent was storing pre-packaged kits for surgeries (which included various types and quantities of prescription drugs) in a warehouse that was shared with another company. These kits were not secured and employees of the other company had access to the kits. A true and correct copy of the Stipulation and Final Decision and Order which was approved on February 4, 2009 is attached as Exhibit "1."

4. RICO alleges that Respondent was disciplined by another state for a reason provided by the licensing laws in Hawaii. Specifically, the Respondent was disciplined for professional misconduct.

5. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 461-21(a)(2) (professional misconduct). Per Hawaii Administrative Rules §§ 16-95-30(c)(6) and (9), a licensee's facility must be secure from unauthorized entry and entry into areas where prescription drugs are held must be limited to authorized personnel.

6. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein licensed as a wholesale prescription drug distributor by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the license and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2009-7-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of ONE THOUSAND AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($1,000.00). Payment shall be made by cashier's check, company check, or money order made payable to "DCCA - Compliance Resolution Fund" and mailed to the Regulated Industries Complaints Office, Attn: Bobbi Lum-Mew, Esq., 235 S. Beretania Street, 9th Floor, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813. Payment of the fine shall be due within thirty (30) days after this Settlement Agreement is approved by the Board.

2. Failure to Comply with Settlement Agreement. If Respondent fails to fully and timely comply with the terms of this Settlement Agreement as set forth in paragraph C.1 above, Respondent's license shall be automatically revoked upon RICO's filing of an affidavit with the Board attesting to such failure. In case of such revocation, Respondent shall turn in all indicia of the license to the Executive Officer of the Board within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the revocation. In case of such revocation, Respondent understands Respondent cannot apply for a new license until the expiration of at least five (5) years after the effective date of the revocation. Respondent understands that if Respondent desires to become licensed again, Respondent must apply to the Board for a new license pursuant to and subject to HRS §§ 92-17, 436B-21, and all other applicable laws and rules in effect at the time.

3. Possible further sanction. The Board, at its discretion, may pursue additional disciplinary action as provided by law to include further fines and other sanctions as the Board may deem appropriate if Respondent violates any provision of the statutes or rules governing the conduct of wholesale prescription drug distributors in the State of Hawaii, or if Respondent fails to abide by the terms of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5, C.6, C.7 and C.8 below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board.

5. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

6. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

7. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any representation of fact, opinion or promise to Respondent to induce entry into this Settlement Agreement, and Respondent is not relying upon any statement, representation or opinion or promise made by RICO or any of its agents, employees, representatives or attorneys concerning the nature, extent or duration of exposure to legal liability arising from the subject matter of this Settlement Agreement or concerning any other matter.

8. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have signed this Settlement Agreement on the date(s) set forth below.

STATE OF COLORADO

Case No. 2010-002994

STIPULATION AND FINAL AGENCY ORDER

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE LICENSE TO PRACTICE AS A OUT-OF-STATE WHOLESALER IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.,

Wholesaler Applicant.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and Medline Industries, Inc. ("Wholesaler Applicant") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2010-002994 as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Wholesaler Applicant, its application for registration as an out-of-state wholesaler and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act at Title 12, Article 22, C.R.S.

2. Wholesaler Applicant admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

3. Wholesaler Applicant entered into a Settlement Agreement with the Missouri State Board of Pharmacy, which was effective on August 3, 2005 ("Missouri Settlement Agreement").

4. In the Missouri Settlement Agreement, Wholesaler Applicant was placed on probation for five (5) years for various violations of Missouri state and federal law involving recordkeeping, storage of prescription drugs, change of location without informing the Missouri Board of Pharmacy, lack of a policy and procedure manual, and distribution of prescription drugs under a lapsed registration.

5. Wholesaler Applicant's conduct, as set forth above, constitutes violations of the following sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes:

12-22-125. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline.

(1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(III) Any state or federal law pertaining to drugs.

12-22-125.2. Disciplinary actions.

(1) The board may deny or discipline an applicant, licensee, or registrant when the board determines that such applicant, licensee, or registrant has engaged in activities that are grounds for discipline.

6. On January 14, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted an out-of-state wholesaler application, which application was denied by the Board.

7. On March 1, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted a written request asking that the Board accept its application by granting a conditional license.

8. The Board finds and concludes, and Wholesaler Applicant agrees, that based upon Wholesaler Applicant's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances as a condition of its registration as an out-of-state wholesaler.

DISPOSITION

Conditional Registration / Probation / Compliance / Terms

9. Conditional Registration. Wholesaler Applicant shall be granted a registration as an out-of-state wholesaler upon execution of this Final Agency Order and satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

10. Probation. Wholesaler Applicant's registration shall be placed on probation for a period of time equal to the time of probation remaining under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Credit toward satisfying the period of probation under this Final Agency Order shall be given only during such periods of time that Respondent is in total compliance with all provisions of this Final Agency Order and the Missouri Settlement Agreement.

11. Compliance. Wholesaler Applicant shall at all times remain in compliance with §§12-22-801, et seq. C.R.S. and shall not at any time distribute prescription drugs into Colorado without being registered as an out-of-state wholesaler in the State of Colorado at the time of distribution.

12. Other Requirements. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that, as a condition of this Final Agency Order and probation, Wholesaler Applicant shall:

    a. promptly pay all Wholesaler Applicant's own fees and costs associated with this Final Agency Order;

    b. comply fully with this Final Agency Order; and

    c. comply fully with the Pharmacists and Pharmaceuticals Act, all Board rules and regulations, and any other state and federal laws and regulations related to pharmacists and pharmaceuticals in the State of Colorado.

13. Discharge. Discharge from the requirements of this Final Agency Order must be requested in writing by Wholesaler Applicant. The Board will consider any request for discharge during the ordinary course of business. In any request for discharge it shall be Wholesaler Applicant's sole responsibility to establish, through written and other documentation, that Wholesaler Applicant has met all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order and, in addition, has been released from probation by the Missouri Board of Pharmacy under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Wholesaler Applicant's probation under this Final Agency Order shall continue until formally discharged by the Board by way of Board order.

14. Advisements and Waivers. Wholesaler Applicant enters into this Final Agency Order freely and voluntarily, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges its understanding that it has the following rights:

    a. To have a formal notice of hearing and charges served upon it;
    b. To respond to said formal notice of charges;
    c. To have a formal disciplinary hearing pursuant to §12-22-125, C.R.S.; and
    d. To appeal this Board order.

    Wholesaler Applicant freely waives these rights, and acknowledges that such waiver is made voluntarily in consideration for Board's limiting the action taken against it to the sanctions imposed herein.

15. Acknowledgments. The undersigned authorized agent of Wholesaler Applicant has read this Final Agency Order in its entirety and acknowledges, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel, that Wholesaler Applicant understands the legal consequences and agrees that none of the terms or conditions herein are unconscionable.

16. Violations. Time is of the essence to this Final Agency Order. It is the responsibility of Wholesaler Applicant to take all appropriate steps to comply fully with this Final Agency Order. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that any violation of this Final Agency Order may be sanctioned as provided under §12-22-125.2(4), C.R.S., and may be sufficient grounds for additional discipline, including but not limited to revocation of its registration. The pendency of any suspension or disciplinary action arising out of an alleged violation of this Final Agency Order shall not affect the obligation of Wholesaler Applicant to comply with all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order.

17. Integration and Severability. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall represent the entire and final agreement of and between the parties. In the event any provision of this Final Agency Order is deemed invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, it shall be severed and the remaining provisions of this Final Agency Order shall be given full force and effect.

18. Public Record. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall be a public record, maintained in the custody of the Board.

19. Effective Date. This Final Agency Order shall become effective upon signature of a Board member or representative.

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 1040 Enterprise Parkway South, West Jefferson, OH 43162 (OH License #01-30000190) entered a settlement agreement with the Ohio Board of Pharmacy for alleged sales of dangerous drugs to an unlicensed entity. Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

Trademarks

We own or have the right to use trademarks, trade names, and service marks used in connection with our business, including, but not limited to, Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima. All trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report are the property of their respective owners. We do not intend our use or display of other companies' trade names, trademarks, or service marks to imply a relationship with, or endorsement or sponsorship of us by, these other companies. Solely for convenience, our trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report may appear without the ®, ™ or SM symbols, but such references are not intended to indicate, in any way, that we will not assert, to the fullest extent under applicable law, our rights or the right of the applicable licensor to these trademarks, trade names, and service marks.

PART I

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

Our Prime Vendor Model

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

510(k) Clearance Process

To obtain 510(k) clearance, we must submit a premarket notification to the FDA demonstrating the proposed device to be substantially equivalent to a predicate device. A device is substantially equivalent if, with respect to the predicate device, it has the same intended use and it has either the same technological characteristics, or it has different technological characteristics, but the information provided in the 510(k) submission demonstrates that the device does not raise new questions of safety or effectiveness. The standard review process for 510(k)s is between six to nine months, dependent upon the type of 510(k) filing submitted. Although many 510(k) premarket notifications are cleared without clinical data, in some cases, the FDA may require clinical data to support substantial equivalence. In reviewing a premarket notification, the FDA may request additional information, including clinical data, which may significantly prolong the review process and clearance is never assured. Clinical trials generally require the submission of an investigational device exemption ("IDE") to the FDA for a specified number of patients and study sites, unless the product is deemed a non-significant risk device eligible for more abbreviated IDE requirements. Clinical trials are subject to numerous requirements and institutional review board approval, oversight, and monitoring. Even if a trial is conducted, the results of clinical testing may not adequately demonstrate the safety and effectiveness of the device or be sufficient to obtain FDA clearance or approval for marketing.

After a device receives 510(k) clearance, any subsequent modification of the device that could significantly affect its safety or effectiveness, or that would constitute a major change in its intended use, requires a new 510(k) clearance or could require submission and approval of a de novo 510(k) or a PMA application in cases where new indications are sought for which there is no predicate. Non-significant changes are handled via internal documentation by the Company. Each manufacturer must judge the significance of modifications based on FDA 510(k) regulatory requirements and guidance documents. The FDA may review any such decision and may disagree with a manufacturer's determination. If the FDA disagrees with a manufacturer's determination, the FDA may require the manufacturer to cease marketing and distribution and/or recall the modified device until 510(k) clearance or PMA approval is obtained. In the future, we may make modifications to our products after they have received FDA clearance and, in appropriate circumstances, determine that new clearance is unnecessary. However, the FDA may disagree with our determination, and, if the FDA requires us to seek 510(k) clearance or submit new PMA applications for any modifications to a previously cleared product, we may be required to cease marketing or distributing or recall the modified device until we obtain the required clearance or approval. We may also market or acquire products that are marketed without a 510(k) clearance, appropriate labeling, or that otherwise are marketed in violation of FDA requirements, since medical devices can be marketed only for the indications for which they are cleared or approved. Under these circumstances, we may also be subject to warning letters, significant regulatory fines, or other penalties, and we may no longer be able to market particular products for which a 510(k) clearance is required.

Post-Marketing Requirements

Numerous FDA regulatory requirements apply to devices we manufacture and distribute, including: compliance with the QSR, which require manufacturers and their suppliers to follow the applicable design, testing, processes, control, documentation, labeling, and other quality assurance procedures during the manufacturing process; establishment registration, which requires establishments involved in the production and distribution of medical devices intended for commercial distribution in the United States to register with the FDA; medical device listing, which requires manufacturers to list the devices they have in commercial distribution with the FDA; labeling regulations, which prohibit "misbranded" devices from entering the market, as well as prohibit the promotion of products for unapproved or off-label uses and impose other restrictions on labeling; post-market surveillance, including medical device reporting requirements which requires manufacturers to report to the FDA if their device may have caused or contributed to a death or serious injury, or malfunctioned in a way that would likely cause or contribute to a death or serious injury if it were to recur; and corrections and removal reporting regulations, which require that manufacturers report to the FDA field corrections and product recalls or removals if undertaken to reduce a risk to health posed by the device or to remedy a violation of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that may present a risk to health. The FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities actively enforce the laws and regulations prohibiting the promotion of off-label uses, and a company that is found to have improperly promoted off-label uses may be subject to significant liability.

The FDA enforces these requirements by inspection and market surveillance. Domestic facility records and manufacturing processes are subject to periodic unscheduled inspections by the FDA. The FDA may also inspect foreign facilities that export products to the United States. Failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements may result in enforcement action or other actions by the FDA, which may include one or more of the following sanctions: adverse press releases and safety communications; requests to stop shipments; untitled letters or warning letters; fines, injunctions, and civil penalties; mandatory recall or seizure of our products; customer notifications and repairs or replacements; administrative detention or banning of our products; consent decrees; operating restrictions, partial suspension or total shutdown of production; refusing our request for 510(k) clearances for new product versions or modifications to existing product versions; revocation of 510(k) clearances previously granted; refusal to grant export approval for our products; and criminal prosecution and penalties. If any of these events were to occur, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

International Regulation of Medical Devices

Sales of medical devices outside the United States are subject to foreign government regulations, which vary substantially from country to country. In order to market our products in other countries, we must comply with applicable regulatory requirements and authorizations and approvals and safety and quality regulations in each country in which the product is marketed. The time required to obtain authorization, approval, or certification by a foreign country may be longer or shorter than that required for FDA clearance, and the requirements may differ significantly.

EU Regulation of Medical Devices

In the European Union ("EU") until May 25, 2021, medical devices were regulated by the Council Directive 93/42/EEC, which has been repealed and replaced by the Medical Device Regulation ("EU MDR"). Unlike directives, regulations are directly applicable in all EU member states without the need for member states to implement into national law. The EU extended the EU MDR transitional periods for certain medical devices until December 31, 2027 or December 31, 2028, depending on a device's risk class and subject to certain conditions to ensure continued access to medical devices for patients and to allow medical devices already placed on the market in accordance with the current legal framework to remain on the market, provided that the requirements of the transitional provisions are fulfilled.

In the EU, there is currently no premarket government review of medical devices. However, all medical devices placed on the EU market must meet general safety and performance requirements, and compliance with the general safety and performance requirements is a prerequisite for European conformity marking without which medical devices cannot be marketed or sold in the EU. EU MDR requirements regarding the distribution, marketing, and sale, including quality systems and post-market surveillance, have to be observed by manufacturers, importers, and distributors as of the application date (i.e., since May 26, 2021), including registration of economic operators and of devices (once the relevant modules of Eudamed are functional), surveillance, and vigilance requirements. The aforementioned EU rules are generally applicable in the European Economic Area which consists of the 27 EU member states plus Norway, Liechtenstein, and Iceland.

The NDA Approval Process

For any new drug products regulated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act such as our ReadyPrep CHG cloth, a sponsor must submit a New Drug Application ("NDA"), to the FDA for review and approval. The NDA review and approval process may take multiple years and involves steps including the following:

- completion of preclinical studies and analytical and stability testing in accordance with applicable regulations;
- submission to the FDA of an Investigational New Drug ("IND") application, which must become effective before clinical trials may begin and must be updated annually and amended when certain changes are made;
- approval by an institutional review board, or IRB, or independent ethics committee, or IEC, at each clinical trial site before each trial may be initiated;
- performance of adequate and well-controlled clinical trials in accordance with applicable IND regulations, good clinical practice, or GCP, requirements, including informed consent, financial disclosure by investigators, and other clinical trial-related regulations, to establish the safety and efficacy of the investigational product for each proposed indication and other condition of use;
- preparation and submission to the FDA of an NDA;

- satisfactory completion of one or more FDA pre-approval inspections of the manufacturing facility or facilities where the drug will be produced to assess compliance;
- satisfactory completion of FDA inspection of select clinical trial sites involved in conducting pivotal studies that generated the data in support of the NDA;
- payment of user fees for FDA review of the NDA; and
- FDA review and approval of the NDA, including of the proposed prescribing information and, where applicable, consideration of the views of any FDA advisory committee, prior to any commercial marketing or sale of the drug in the United States.

Any approvals that we may ultimately receive could be withdrawn if required post-marketing trials or analyses do not meet the FDA requirements, which could materially harm the commercial prospects for our products.

Even if a product candidate receives regulatory approval, the approval may be limited to specific disease states, patient populations and dosages, or might contain significant limitations on use in the form of warnings, precautions or contraindications, or in the form of onerous risk management plans, restrictions on distribution, or post-marketing study requirements. Further, even after regulatory approval is obtained, later discovery of previously unknown problems with a product may result in restrictions on the product or even complete withdrawal of the product from the market. Delay in obtaining, or failure to obtain, regulatory approval for our candidate products, or obtaining approval but for significantly limited use, would harm our business. In addition, we cannot predict what adverse governmental regulations may arise from future U.S. or foreign governmental action.

Trade Regulations

The movement of products, services, and investment across borders subjects us to extensive trade regulations. A variety of laws and regulations in the countries in which we transact business apply to the sale, shipment, and provision of goods, services, and technology across borders. These laws and regulations govern, among other things, our import, export, and other business activities. We are also subject to the risk that these laws and regulations could change in a way that would expose us to additional costs, penalties, or liabilities. Some governments also impose economic sanctions against certain countries, governments, persons, and entities, both for unlawful or malign conduct and to discourage or prevent entities from abiding by other countries' laws. In addition to our need to comply with such regulations in connection with our direct activities, we also sell and provide goods, technology, and services to agents, representatives, and distributors who may export such items to customers and end-users. If we, or the third parties through which we do business, are not in compliance with applicable import, export control, or economic sanctions laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability. Such actions may disrupt or delay sales of our products or services or result in restrictions on our distribution and sales of products or services that may materially impact our business.

Anti-Boycott Laws

Under U.S. laws and regulations, U.S. companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates are prohibited from participating or agreeing to participate in unsanctioned foreign boycotts in connection with certain business activities, including the sale, purchase, transfer, shipping, or financing of goods or services within the United States or between the United States and countries outside of the United States. If we, or certain third parties through which we sell or provide goods or services, violate U.S. anti-boycott laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability.

09/06/2008	10601 Southport Dr. Orlando, FL 32824 _____ 401 Commerce Blvd. Oldsmar, FL 34677 _____ 4750 118th Ave N Clearwater, FL 33762	Case #: 2007-11783; 2007-36555; 2007-38894; 2007-38895; 2007-38896; 2007-39073; 2008-02011; 2008-11215 Agency: Florida Department of Health Entity: Medline Industries, Inc.; Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC Type: Administrative Disposition: Settlement Agreement Summary: Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008. Corrective Actions Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Medline was also cited for failure to access policies and procedures during the inspection. Corrections were made and the facility re-inspected, to the satisfaction of the state. Medline entered a stipulation order effective 02/04/2009 to resolve the matter. Corrective Actions: Medline installed a locked fence to separate the hospital's owned products. Medline also completed a review of all facilities to ensure proper separation of products. On-site staff provided additional training on how to access current policies and procedures during an inspection.

2/19/2022	9670 NW 112th Ave Miami, FL 33178	Case: 2022-031132 Agency: FL Dept. Business and Professional Regulation, Div. of Drugs, Devices, and Cosmetics Entity: Medline Industries, LP Type: Administrative Disposition: Settlement Agreement Summary: Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices. Corrective Actions: Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. Come now Medline Industries, Inc. ("Respondent") and the Missouri Board of Pharmacy ("Board" or "Petitioner") and enter into this Settlement Agreement for the purpose of resolving the question of whether Respondent's license as a drug distributor will be subject to discipline.

Pursuant to the terms of § 536.060, RSMo (2000), the parties hereto waive the right to a hearing by the Administrative Hearing Commission of the State of Missouri and, additionally, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board under § 621.110, RSMo (2000), and stipulate and agree that a final disposition of this matter may be effectuated as described below.

Respondent acknowledges that it understands the various rights and privileges afforded it by law, including the right to a hearing of the charges against it; the right to appear and be represented by legal counsel; the right to have all charges against it proved upon the record by competent and substantial evidence; the right to cross-examine any witnesses appearing at the hearing against it; the right to a decision upon the record by a fair and impartial administrative hearing commissioner concerning the charges pending against it and, subsequently, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board at which time it may present evidence in mitigation of discipline; and the right to recover attorney's fees incurred in defending this action against its license. Being aware of these rights provided it by operation of law, Respondent knowingly and voluntarily waives each and every one of these rights and freely enters into this Settlement Agreement and agrees to abide by the terms of this document, as they pertain to it.

Respondent acknowledges that it has received a copy of the draft complaint to be filed with the Board, the investigative report, and other documents relied upon by the Board in determining there was cause for discipline against Respondent's license. 1. Respondent's drug distributor license shall be placed on PROBATION for five (5) years pursuant to the provisions of Chapters 338 and 620, RSMo. During the period of probation, Respondent will be entitled to operate as a drug distributor pursuant to Chapter 338, RSMo provided Respondent adheres to the following terms of probation:

A. Respondent shall report to the Board, on a preprinted form supplied by the Board office, once every six (6) months, beginning six (6) months after this Order/Agreement becomes effective, stating truthfully whether or not it has complied with all terms and conditions of this disciplinary order.

B. Respondent shall pay all required fees for licensing to the Board and shall renew its license prior to October 31 for each licensing year.

C. Respondent shall comply with all provisions of Chapter 338, Chapter 195, and all applicable federal and state drug laws, rules and regulations and with all federal and state criminal laws. "State" here includes the State of Missouri and all other states and territories of the United States.

D. If, after disciplinary sanctions have been imposed, Respondent ceases to keep its Missouri license current, the period of unlicensed status shall not be deemed or taken as any part of the time of discipline so imposed.

E. The parties to this Order/Agreement understand that the Board of Pharmacy will maintain this Order/Agreement as an open record of the Board as provided in Chapters 338, 610 and 620, RSMo.

2. Upon the expiration of said discipline, Respondent's license as a drug distributor in Missouri shall be fully restored if all other requirements of law have been satisfied; provided, however, that in the event the Board determines that the Respondent has violated any term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, the Board may, in its discretion, after an evidentiary hearing, vacate and set aside the discipline imposed herein and may suspend, revoke, or otherwise lawfully discipline the Respondent.

3. No order shall be entered by the Board pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Settlement Agreement without notice and an opportunity for hearing before the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 536, RSMo.

4. If any alleged violation of this Settlement Agreement occurred during the disciplinary period, the Board may choose to conduct a hearing before it either during the disciplinary period, or as soon thereafter as a hearing can be held to determine whether a violation occurred and, if so, it may impose further discipline. The Board retains jurisdiction to hold a hearing to determine if a violation of this Settlement Agreement has occurred.

5. The terms of this Settlement Agreement are contractual, legally enforceable, binding, and not merely recitals. Except as otherwise contained herein, neither this Settlement Agreement nor any of its provisions may be changed, waived, discharged, or terminated, except by an instrument in writing signed by the party against whom the enforcement of the change, waiver, discharge, or termination is sought.

6. Respondent hereby waives and releases the Board, its members and any of its employees, agents, or attorneys, including any former board members, employees, agents, and attorneys, of, or from, any liability, claim, actions, causes of action, fees, costs and expenses, and compensation, including, but not limited to, any claims for attorney's fees and expenses, including any claims pursuant to § 536.087, RSMo, or any claim arising under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which may be based upon, arise out of, or relate to any of the matters raised in this litigation, or from the negotiation or execution of this Settlement Agreement. The parties acknowledge that this paragraph is severable from the remaining portions of this Settlement Agreement in that it survives in perpetuity even in the event that any court of law deems this Settlement Agreement or any portion thereof void or unenforceable.

CERTIFIED MAIL/RETURN RECEIPT REQUESTED

Andrew Stolarski
Vice President of Operations
Medline Industries, Inc.
9101 Riverside Parkway
Lithia Springs, GA 30122

RE: Prescription Drug Wholesaler Permit No. 23:01470

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. Mr. David L. Magruder, the designated representative identified for permit no. 23:01470 has resigned his position. We have not received a "Notification of Designated Representative" form identifying a certified individual to replace him. As a result Medline Industries, Inc. does not have a designated representative as required by s. 499.012(11), F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(b)4., F.S., to be certified as a designated representative, a person must receive a passing score of at least 75 percent on an examination given by the department regarding federal laws governing distribution of prescription drugs and ss. 499.001-499.081 and the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs.

Accordingly, and pursuant to the above referenced facts and law, the department hereby intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler because you have not complied with s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S. and otherwise do not have a designated certified representative on file with the Department that meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S. which is a substantial failure to comply with ss. 499.001 – 499.081, F.S. and is a failure to meet the requirements for the permit, for which the suspension is authorized pursuant to Sections 499.067 (1) (a); 499.067 (1) (b) 2. F.S.

Therefore, the department concludes that Medline Industries, Inc. no longer meets the requirements to continue to operate as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler in Florida and the permit will be suspended until you have designated in writing to the department a person with an active certification to serve as a designated representative who meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S.

NOTICE OF RIGHTS TO HEARING AND APPEAL

You have the right to request an administrative hearing pursuant to sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., if you wish to challenge the intended agency action to suspend your permit. Such proceedings are governed by sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., and Rules 28-106 and 28-107, Florida Administrative Code. Request for a hearing, formal or informal, must comply with Rule 28-107.004, Florida Administrative Code.

You have the right to be represented by counsel or other qualified representative, at your expense; to present evidence and argument; to call and cross-examine witnesses; and to have subpoena and subpoena duces tecum issued on your behalf if a hearing is requested.

A petition for administrative hearing must be in writing and must be received by the Agency Clerk for the Department, within twenty-one (21) days from the receipt of this complaint. The address of the Agency Clerk is 4052 Bald Cypress Way, BIN # A02, Tallahassee FL 32399-1703. The Agency Clerk's facsimile number is 850-410-1448.

Mediation is not available as an alternative remedy.

Your failure to submit a petition for hearing within 21 days from receipt of this complaint will constitute a waiver of your right to an administrative hearing, under Florida Administrative Code Rule 28-106.111 and this complaint shall become a "final order".

Should this correspondence become a final order, a party who is adversely affected by it is entitled to judicial review pursuant to s 120.68, F.S. Review proceedings are governed by the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure. Such proceedings may be commenced by filing one copy of a Notice of Appeal with the Agency Clerk of the Department of Health and a second copy, accompanied by the filing fees required by law, with the Court of Appeal in the appropriate District Court. The notice must be filed within 30 days of rendition of the final order.

Upon consideration of the evidence presented to the Board, this Consent Order is voluntarily entered into by and between Respondent and the Board. Respondent acting through its authorized agent, hereby waives formal Notice of and its attendance at the Evidentiary Hearing for presentation of the Consent Order to the Board. However, as a condition precedent to submission of the proposed Consent Order to the Board, Respondent hereby acknowledges and understands that information may be presented to the Board with regards to the details of the case for the Board to understand the circumstances. FINDINGS OF FACTS

1. Respondent possesses Louisiana License No. 4318 issued by the Board to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices in the State of Louisiana. Such license was in effect on 3/5/2008 through the date of the evidentiary hearing in this matter.

2. Pursuant to LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee is required to maintain copies of current licenses for customer who are authorized by law or regulation to procure or possess legend drugs or devices for all customers that are shipped or sold legend drugs or devices; if these license copies are maintained off site, a list of customers with customer names, addresses, license number, and license expiration dates shall be maintained on site for all customers shipped or sold legend drugs or devices.
3. On 3/5/2008, an inspection was conducted by the Board's representative which revealed that copies of customer licenses were not at the Covington LA facility. A verbal request to provide a customer listing which should be maintained at the Covington LA facility was made. The customer license list was not available.
4. Information was thereafter submitted by Respondent to the Board's inspector as per the inspector's request. In review of a customer listing ("Pedigree List") as provided by the Respondent, the inspector requested copies of customer licenses for 15 of the customers listed. Administrative Docket No. 2008006

No. 7007 3020 0000 1431 0031
Return Receipt Requested

Dear Lara Simmons:

As you may recall, the Board is mandated by law to license and regulate the wholesale distribution of legend drugs and devices in Louisiana in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors. This letter will acknowledge receipt of your response dated 4/3/2008. This letter is also intended to respond to any inquiries you may have regarding the deficiencies found during the inspection which occurred on 3/5/2008 at MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s Covington LA distribution facility.

Pursuant to the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee should maintain copies of current licenses which authorizes a customer to procure and possess legend drugs and devices. If these customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customers including customer names, addresses, license number, and the license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.

On 3/5/2008, the Board's inspector discovered that copies of customer licenses which authorize the customer to procure and possess legend drugs/devices or a listing of customers' license information were not being maintained at the Covington LA facility.

A verbal request was made by the inspector of a customer list which should have been maintained at the Covington LA facility. After receiving and reviewing a copy of the customer list, as referred to by Medline as their "Pedigree List", the inspector requested copies of 30 customer licenses from the listing. Of the requested customer license copies, the inspector found that 70% of the licenses requested were either not acceptable licenses or were not available.

It is evident that MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. was in violation of LAC 46:XCI.311.D at the time of the inspection on 3/5/2008. The Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors, more particularly LA RS 37:3474.1, provides that, after due notice and hearing, MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license may be sanctioned and/or it may be assessed a fine for its actions or omissions. Fines alone may include an assessment of $1,000 per violation per day. It is the Board's objective to regulate the industry by correcting behavior. Such is accomplished by imposing sanctions for wrongful conduct.

Hershal Paul, Board Member; Andy Milligan, Board Member; Wayne Gremillion, Board Member; Eric Vidrine, Board Member; Kimberly B. Barper, Executive Assistant

It is hoped that the above detailed violation(s) as corrected will not occur in the future. Therefore, in an effort to amicably resolve the issues regarding the violation(s) which did occur, I, as the Board's appointed investigating/compliance officer, extend an offer to you which would impose a total fine of $2,000. This proposed sanction does not impose any restrictions on MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license.

If MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is agreeable to these terms, I have enclosed a Consent Order for your review and execution. Please have an authorized representative for your company sign the Consent Order in front of a Notary and two witnesses. Return the original, executed Consent Order along with a check made to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors in the amount of the $2,000 fine to the Board's office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter. You and/or a company representative will not be required to attend the evidentiary hearing at which the executed Consent Order will be presented to the full Board for acceptance, however you and/or another representative are welcome to attend.

In the event MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is not agreeable to this amicable resolution and wishes to contest the investigative findings in a hearing before the full Board, it has the right to do so. If such occurs, the current offer being proposed in this letter will no longer be viable.

We would like to bring this matter to disposition either by this amicable resolution or the pursuit of a formal hearing against MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. before the Board at the next scheduled Board meeting. To do so, either way, we will need to prepare the necessary paperwork with all resolution documents. Again, please respond to this offer either by returning the executed Consent Order and fine payment or by written request for an administrative hearing. If your response is not received at the Board office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter, the Board will begin steps towards the formal hearing with the issuance of subpoenas for witnesses and records.

We wish to keep an open line of communication with you. Please contact the Board office in the event you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Respectfully,

Wayne Gremillion

Re: RICO Case No. PHA 2008-71-L

Dear Ms. Wolfe:

I received the signed Settlement Agreement. One correction had to be made, and I apologize that we did not notice this earlier. On page 3, paragraph 5, the citation to HRS section 436B-19(13) was changed to HRS section 436B-19(15) which is the correct citation. Enclosed is a copy of the corrected replacement page. I will now forward the document to the executive officer of the Board of Pharmacy, and we will be notified as to whether it gets approved or not by the Board.

Very truly yours,

11. Complete Agreement. Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008.

Corrective Actions
Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Medline Industries Inc. distribution center at 5450 W. Stewart Ave., Wausau, WI 54401 (WI # 1116-045) cited for missing policies and procedures and storage of drugs in a non-secure location following an inspection by the Wisconsin Department of Regulation & Licensing. The inspector cited Medline for failure to install a dividing fence between the Medline warehouse and the hospital portion of the facility. All hospital products were owned by the hospital. Corrective Actions:
Medline installed a locked fence to separate the hospital's owned products. Medline also completed a review of all facilities to ensure proper separation of products. On-site staff provided additional training on how to access current policies and procedures during an inspection.

Dear Ms. Hornick:

As you know, an inspector for the Department of Regulation and Licensing inspected Medline Industries on May 9, 2008. He found that several policies were missing, and the facility was storing prescription drugs in a non-secure location. It has been determined that these violations are grounds for discipline. I am the prosecuting attorney assigned to the case.

I have enclosed a proposed stipulation and order, which would resolve this matter without a hearing. If you are willing to resolve this case by agreement, please sign and return the stipulation and order by December 9, 2008. I will then present it to the Pharmacy Examining Board at its next meeting. The stipulation and order is not binding unless and until it is accepted by the board.

If you do not return the signed stipulation and order by December 9, 2008, I will file a formal complaint and initiate the hearing process. Please be aware that it is the policy of the Department to assess costs against respondents whenever any discipline is imposed. Your costs are presently $100. If we have to take this matter through a hearing, they will escalate quickly and could reach several thousand dollars.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT PRIOR TO FILING OF PETITION
FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION AND BOARD'S FINAL ORDER

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. (hereinafter "Respondent"), enter into this Settlement Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth below.

A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number PWD 115. The license was issued on or about October 3, 2005. The license will expire on or about December 31, 2009.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ATTACHED IS A TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE ORIGINAL ON FILE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE & CONSUMER AFFAIRS.

2. Respondent's mailing address for purposes of this action is Dianna Wolfe, Corporate Regulatory Affairs Specialist, Medline Industries, Inc., One Medline Place, Mundelein, Illinois 60060.

3. Respondent timely reported that disciplinary action had been taken against Respondent by the State of Wisconsin. Respondent had entered into a Stipulation with the State of Wisconsin's Pharmacy Examining Board. Pursuant to the terms of a Final Order, Respondent was reprimanded and ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $2,000.00. This action was based on the results of an inspection which revealed that certain policies were missing and that Respondent was storing pre-packaged kits for surgeries (which included various types and quantities of prescription drugs) in a warehouse that was shared with another company. These kits were not secured and employees of the other company had access to the kits. A true and correct copy of the Stipulation and Final Decision and Order which was approved on February 4, 2009 is attached as Exhibit "1."

4. RICO alleges that Respondent was disciplined by another state for a reason provided by the licensing laws in Hawaii. Specifically, the Respondent was disciplined for professional misconduct.

5. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 461-21(a)(2) (professional misconduct). Per Hawaii Administrative Rules §§ 16-95-30(c)(6) and (9), a licensee's facility must be secure from unauthorized entry and entry into areas where prescription drugs are held must be limited to authorized personnel.

6. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein licensed as a wholesale prescription drug distributor by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the license and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2009-7-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of ONE THOUSAND AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($1,000.00). Payment shall be made by cashier's check, company check, or money order made payable to "DCCA - Compliance Resolution Fund" and mailed to the Regulated Industries Complaints Office, Attn: Bobbi Lum-Mew, Esq., 235 S. Beretania Street, 9th Floor, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813. Payment of the fine shall be due within thirty (30) days after this Settlement Agreement is approved by the Board.

2. Failure to Comply with Settlement Agreement. If Respondent fails to fully and timely comply with the terms of this Settlement Agreement as set forth in paragraph C.1 above, Respondent's license shall be automatically revoked upon RICO's filing of an affidavit with the Board attesting to such failure. In case of such revocation, Respondent shall turn in all indicia of the license to the Executive Officer of the Board within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the revocation. In case of such revocation, Respondent understands Respondent cannot apply for a new license until the expiration of at least five (5) years after the effective date of the revocation. Respondent understands that if Respondent desires to become licensed again, Respondent must apply to the Board for a new license pursuant to and subject to HRS §§ 92-17, 436B-21, and all other applicable laws and rules in effect at the time.

3. Possible further sanction. The Board, at its discretion, may pursue additional disciplinary action as provided by law to include further fines and other sanctions as the Board may deem appropriate if Respondent violates any provision of the statutes or rules governing the conduct of wholesale prescription drug distributors in the State of Hawaii, or if Respondent fails to abide by the terms of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5, C.6, C.7 and C.8 below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board.

5. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

6. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

7. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any representation of fact, opinion or promise to Respondent to induce entry into this Settlement Agreement, and Respondent is not relying upon any statement, representation or opinion or promise made by RICO or any of its agents, employees, representatives or attorneys concerning the nature, extent or duration of exposure to legal liability arising from the subject matter of this Settlement Agreement or concerning any other matter.

8. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have signed this Settlement Agreement on the date(s) set forth below.

STATE OF COLORADO

Case No. 2010-002994

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE LICENSE TO PRACTICE AS A OUT-OF-STATE WHOLESALER IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.,

Wholesaler Applicant.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and Medline Industries, Inc. ("Wholesaler Applicant") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2010-002994 as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Wholesaler Applicant, its application for registration as an out-of-state wholesaler and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act at Title 12, Article 22, C.R.S.

2. Wholesaler Applicant admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

3. Wholesaler Applicant entered into a Settlement Agreement with the Missouri State Board of Pharmacy, which was effective on August 3, 2005 ("Missouri Settlement Agreement").

4. In the Missouri Settlement Agreement, Wholesaler Applicant was placed on probation for five (5) years for various violations of Missouri state and federal law involving recordkeeping, storage of prescription drugs, change of location without informing the Missouri Board of Pharmacy, lack of a policy and procedure manual, and distribution of prescription drugs under a lapsed registration.

5. Wholesaler Applicant's conduct, as set forth above, constitutes violations of the following sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes:

12-22-125. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline.

(1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(III) Any state or federal law pertaining to drugs.

12-22-125.2. Disciplinary actions.

(1) The board may deny or discipline an applicant, licensee, or registrant when the board determines that such applicant, licensee, or registrant has engaged in activities that are grounds for discipline.

6. On January 14, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted an out-of-state wholesaler application, which application was denied by the Board.

7. On March 1, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted a written request asking that the Board accept its application by granting a conditional license.

8. The Board finds and concludes, and Wholesaler Applicant agrees, that based upon Wholesaler Applicant's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances as a condition of its registration as an out-of-state wholesaler.

DISPOSITION

Conditional Registration / Probation / Compliance / Terms

9. Conditional Registration. Wholesaler Applicant shall be granted a registration as an out-of-state wholesaler upon execution of this Final Agency Order and satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

10. Probation. Wholesaler Applicant's registration shall be placed on probation for a period of time equal to the time of probation remaining under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Credit toward satisfying the period of probation under this Final Agency Order shall be given only during such periods of time that Respondent is in total compliance with all provisions of this Final Agency Order and the Missouri Settlement Agreement.

11. Compliance. Wholesaler Applicant shall at all times remain in compliance with §§12-22-801, et seq. C.R.S. and shall not at any time distribute prescription drugs into Colorado without being registered as an out-of-state wholesaler in the State of Colorado at the time of distribution.

12. Other Requirements. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that, as a condition of this Final Agency Order and probation, Wholesaler Applicant shall:

    a. promptly pay all Wholesaler Applicant's own fees and costs associated with this Final Agency Order;

    b. comply fully with this Final Agency Order; and

    c. comply fully with the Pharmacists and Pharmaceuticals Act, all Board rules and regulations, and any other state and federal laws and regulations related to pharmacists and pharmaceuticals in the State of Colorado.

13. Discharge. Discharge from the requirements of this Final Agency Order must be requested in writing by Wholesaler Applicant. The Board will consider any request for discharge during the ordinary course of business. In any request for discharge it shall be Wholesaler Applicant's sole responsibility to establish, through written and other documentation, that Wholesaler Applicant has met all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order and, in addition, has been released from probation by the Missouri Board of Pharmacy under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Wholesaler Applicant's probation under this Final Agency Order shall continue until formally discharged by the Board by way of Board order.

14. Advisements and Waivers. Wholesaler Applicant enters into this Final Agency Order freely and voluntarily, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges its understanding that it has the following rights:

    a. To have a formal notice of hearing and charges served upon it;
    b. To respond to said formal notice of charges;
    c. To have a formal disciplinary hearing pursuant to §12-22-125, C.R.S.; and
    d. To appeal this Board order.

    Wholesaler Applicant freely waives these rights, and acknowledges that such waiver is made voluntarily in consideration for Board's limiting the action taken against it to the sanctions imposed herein.

15. Acknowledgments. The undersigned authorized agent of Wholesaler Applicant has read this Final Agency Order in its entirety and acknowledges, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel, that Wholesaler Applicant understands the legal consequences and agrees that none of the terms or conditions herein are unconscionable.

16. Violations. Time is of the essence to this Final Agency Order. It is the responsibility of Wholesaler Applicant to take all appropriate steps to comply fully with this Final Agency Order. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that any violation of this Final Agency Order may be sanctioned as provided under §12-22-125.2(4), C.R.S., and may be sufficient grounds for additional discipline, including but not limited to revocation of its registration. The pendency of any suspension or disciplinary action arising out of an alleged violation of this Final Agency Order shall not affect the obligation of Wholesaler Applicant to comply with all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order.

17. Integration and Severability. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall represent the entire and final agreement of and between the parties. In the event any provision of this Final Agency Order is deemed invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, it shall be severed and the remaining provisions of this Final Agency Order shall be given full force and effect.

18. Public Record. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall be a public record, maintained in the custody of the Board.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

These forward-looking statements relate to matters such as our industry, business strategy, costs, and costs savings, impacts of accounting standards and guidance, goals and expectations, market position, future operations, margins, profitability, capital expenditures, liquidity and capital resources, legal matters, trends, and other financial and operating information. The forward-looking statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to various risks, uncertainty, and changes in circumstances, many of which are beyond our control, that could cause actual results to differ materially. Although we believe that the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, level of activity, performance, or achievements. Factors that may cause actual results to differ from expected results include those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and Part II, "Item 7—Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations". The forward-looking statements included in this Annual Report speak only as of the date of this Annual Report or as of the date they are made, as applicable. Except as otherwise required by law, we disclaim any intent or obligation to update any "forward-looking statement" made in this Annual Report to reflect changed assumptions, the occurrence of unanticipated events, or changes to future operating results over time.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

CERTAIN DEFINITIONS

As used in this Annual Report, unless otherwise noted or the context requires otherwise, the following terms have the following meanings:

- We are subject to extensive and complex laws and governmental regulations and any adverse regulatory action may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition both inside and outside the United States.
- We are subject to complex and rapidly evolving data privacy, security, and data protection laws and regulations and the costs to comply with such laws and regulations or any ineffective compliance efforts with such laws and regulations may adversely impact our business.
- Our use or our third-party service providers' or business partners' use of AI, automated decision-making and machine learning technologies and the evolving regulatory framework in this area may subject us to risks or heightened costs that could adversely affect business, results of operation and financial condition.
- Our failure to comply with laws and regulations relating to reimbursement of healthcare goods and services may subject us to penalties and adversely impact our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

- Our substantial indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition, our ability to operate our business or react to changes in the economy or our industry, prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under our debts, and divert our cash flow from operations for debt payments.
- The credit agreement that governs the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the indentures that govern the Senior Notes will each impose significant operating and financial restrictions on our subsidiaries, which may prevent us from capitalizing on business opportunities.
- Medline Inc. is a holding company and its only material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, and it is accordingly dependent upon distributions from Medline Holdings to pay taxes, make payments under the tax receivable agreement, and pay any dividends.
- The Designating Stockholders hold a significant percentage of our stock, and their interests may conflict with ours or yours in the future.

The market price of shares of our Class A common stock may be volatile or may decline regardless of our operating performance, which could cause the value of your investment to decline.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

Trademarks

We own or have the right to use trademarks, trade names, and service marks used in connection with our business, including, but not limited to, Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima. All trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report are the property of their respective owners. We do not intend our use or display of other companies' trade names, trademarks, or service marks to imply a relationship with, or endorsement or sponsorship of us by, these other companies. Solely for convenience, our trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report may appear without the ®, ™ or SM symbols, but such references are not intended to indicate, in any way, that we will not assert, to the fullest extent under applicable law, our rights or the right of the applicable licensor to these trademarks, trade names, and service marks.

PART I

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

Our Prime Vendor Model

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

510(k) Clearance Process

To obtain 510(k) clearance, we must submit a premarket notification to the FDA demonstrating the proposed device to be substantially equivalent to a predicate device. A device is substantially equivalent if, with respect to the predicate device, it has the same intended use and it has either the same technological characteristics, or it has different technological characteristics, but the information provided in the 510(k) submission demonstrates that the device does not raise new questions of safety or effectiveness. The standard review process for 510(k)s is between six to nine months, dependent upon the type of 510(k) filing submitted. Although many 510(k) premarket notifications are cleared without clinical data, in some cases, the FDA may require clinical data to support substantial equivalence. In reviewing a premarket notification, the FDA may request additional information, including clinical data, which may significantly prolong the review process and clearance is never assured. Clinical trials generally require the submission of an investigational device exemption ("IDE") to the FDA for a specified number of patients and study sites, unless the product is deemed a non-significant risk device eligible for more abbreviated IDE requirements. Clinical trials are subject to numerous requirements and institutional review board approval, oversight, and monitoring. Even if a trial is conducted, the results of clinical testing may not adequately demonstrate the safety and effectiveness of the device or be sufficient to obtain FDA clearance or approval for marketing.

After a device receives 510(k) clearance, any subsequent modification of the device that could significantly affect its safety or effectiveness, or that would constitute a major change in its intended use, requires a new 510(k) clearance or could require submission and approval of a de novo 510(k) or a PMA application in cases where new indications are sought for which there is no predicate. Non-significant changes are handled via internal documentation by the Company. Each manufacturer must judge the significance of modifications based on FDA 510(k) regulatory requirements and guidance documents. The FDA may review any such decision and may disagree with a manufacturer's determination. If the FDA disagrees with a manufacturer's determination, the FDA may require the manufacturer to cease marketing and distribution and/or recall the modified device until 510(k) clearance or PMA approval is obtained. In the future, we may make modifications to our products after they have received FDA clearance and, in appropriate circumstances, determine that new clearance is unnecessary. However, the FDA may disagree with our determination, and, if the FDA requires us to seek 510(k) clearance or submit new PMA applications for any modifications to a previously cleared product, we may be required to cease marketing or distributing or recall the modified device until we obtain the required clearance or approval. We may also market or acquire products that are marketed without a 510(k) clearance, appropriate labeling, or that otherwise are marketed in violation of FDA requirements, since medical devices can be marketed only for the indications for which they are cleared or approved. Under these circumstances, we may also be subject to warning letters, significant regulatory fines, or other penalties, and we may no longer be able to market particular products for which a 510(k) clearance is required.

Post-Marketing Requirements

Numerous FDA regulatory requirements apply to devices we manufacture and distribute, including: compliance with the QSR, which require manufacturers and their suppliers to follow the applicable design, testing, processes, control, documentation, labeling, and other quality assurance procedures during the manufacturing process; establishment registration, which requires establishments involved in the production and distribution of medical devices intended for commercial distribution in the United States to register with the FDA; medical device listing, which requires manufacturers to list the devices they have in commercial distribution with the FDA; labeling regulations, which prohibit "misbranded" devices from entering the market, as well as prohibit the promotion of products for unapproved or off-label uses and impose other restrictions on labeling; post-market surveillance, including medical device reporting requirements which requires manufacturers to report to the FDA if their device may have caused or contributed to a death or serious injury, or malfunctioned in a way that would likely cause or contribute to a death or serious injury if it were to recur; and corrections and removal reporting regulations, which require that manufacturers report to the FDA field corrections and product recalls or removals if undertaken to reduce a risk to health posed by the device or to remedy a violation of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that may present a risk to health. The FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities actively enforce the laws and regulations prohibiting the promotion of off-label uses, and a company that is found to have improperly promoted off-label uses may be subject to significant liability.

The FDA enforces these requirements by inspection and market surveillance. Domestic facility records and manufacturing processes are subject to periodic unscheduled inspections by the FDA. The FDA may also inspect foreign facilities that export products to the United States. Failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements may result in enforcement action or other actions by the FDA, which may include one or more of the following sanctions: adverse press releases and safety communications; requests to stop shipments; untitled letters or warning letters; fines, injunctions, and civil penalties; mandatory recall or seizure of our products; customer notifications and repairs or replacements; administrative detention or banning of our products; consent decrees; operating restrictions, partial suspension or total shutdown of production; refusing our request for 510(k) clearances for new product versions or modifications to existing product versions; revocation of 510(k) clearances previously granted; refusal to grant export approval for our products; and criminal prosecution and penalties. If any of these events were to occur, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

International Regulation of Medical Devices

Sales of medical devices outside the United States are subject to foreign government regulations, which vary substantially from country to country. In order to market our products in other countries, we must comply with applicable regulatory requirements and authorizations and approvals and safety and quality regulations in each country in which the product is marketed. The time required to obtain authorization, approval, or certification by a foreign country may be longer or shorter than that required for FDA clearance, and the requirements may differ significantly.

EU Regulation of Medical Devices

In the European Union ("EU") until May 25, 2021, medical devices were regulated by the Council Directive 93/42/EEC, which has been repealed and replaced by the Medical Device Regulation ("EU MDR"). Unlike directives, regulations are directly applicable in all EU member states without the need for member states to implement into national law. The EU extended the EU MDR transitional periods for certain medical devices until December 31, 2027 or December 31, 2028, depending on a device's risk class and subject to certain conditions to ensure continued access to medical devices for patients and to allow medical devices already placed on the market in accordance with the current legal framework to remain on the market, provided that the requirements of the transitional provisions are fulfilled.

In the EU, there is currently no premarket government review of medical devices. However, all medical devices placed on the EU market must meet general safety and performance requirements, and compliance with the general safety and performance requirements is a prerequisite for European conformity marking without which medical devices cannot be marketed or sold in the EU. EU MDR requirements regarding the distribution, marketing, and sale, including quality systems and post-market surveillance, have to be observed by manufacturers, importers, and distributors as of the application date (i.e., since May 26, 2021), including registration of economic operators and of devices (once the relevant modules of Eudamed are functional), surveillance, and vigilance requirements. The aforementioned EU rules are generally applicable in the European Economic Area which consists of the 27 EU member states plus Norway, Liechtenstein, and Iceland.

The NDA Approval Process

For any new drug products regulated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act such as our ReadyPrep CHG cloth, a sponsor must submit a New Drug Application ("NDA"), to the FDA for review and approval. The NDA review and approval process may take multiple years and involves steps including the following:

- completion of preclinical studies and analytical and stability testing in accordance with applicable regulations;
- submission to the FDA of an Investigational New Drug ("IND") application, which must become effective before clinical trials may begin and must be updated annually and amended when certain changes are made;
- approval by an institutional review board, or IRB, or independent ethics committee, or IEC, at each clinical trial site before each trial may be initiated;
- performance of adequate and well-controlled clinical trials in accordance with applicable IND regulations, good clinical practice, or GCP, requirements, including informed consent, financial disclosure by investigators, and other clinical trial-related regulations, to establish the safety and efficacy of the investigational product for each proposed indication and other condition of use;
- preparation and submission to the FDA of an NDA;

- satisfactory completion of one or more FDA pre-approval inspections of the manufacturing facility or facilities where the drug will be produced to assess compliance;
- satisfactory completion of FDA inspection of select clinical trial sites involved in conducting pivotal studies that generated the data in support of the NDA;
- payment of user fees for FDA review of the NDA; and
- FDA review and approval of the NDA, including of the proposed prescribing information and, where applicable, consideration of the views of any FDA advisory committee, prior to any commercial marketing or sale of the drug in the United States.

Any approvals that we may ultimately receive could be withdrawn if required post-marketing trials or analyses do not meet the FDA requirements, which could materially harm the commercial prospects for our products.

Even if a product candidate receives regulatory approval, the approval may be limited to specific disease states, patient populations and dosages, or might contain significant limitations on use in the form of warnings, precautions or contraindications, or in the form of onerous risk management plans, restrictions on distribution, or post-marketing study requirements. Further, even after regulatory approval is obtained, later discovery of previously unknown problems with a product may result in restrictions on the product or even complete withdrawal of the product from the market. Delay in obtaining, or failure to obtain, regulatory approval for our candidate products, or obtaining approval but for significantly limited use, would harm our business. In addition, we cannot predict what adverse governmental regulations may arise from future U.S. or foreign governmental action.

Trade Regulations

The movement of products, services, and investment across borders subjects us to extensive trade regulations. A variety of laws and regulations in the countries in which we transact business apply to the sale, shipment, and provision of goods, services, and technology across borders. These laws and regulations govern, among other things, our import, export, and other business activities. We are also subject to the risk that these laws and regulations could change in a way that would expose us to additional costs, penalties, or liabilities. Some governments also impose economic sanctions against certain countries, governments, persons, and entities, both for unlawful or malign conduct and to discourage or prevent entities from abiding by other countries' laws. In addition to our need to comply with such regulations in connection with our direct activities, we also sell and provide goods, technology, and services to agents, representatives, and distributors who may export such items to customers and end-users. If we, or the third parties through which we do business, are not in compliance with applicable import, export control, or economic sanctions laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability. Such actions may disrupt or delay sales of our products or services or result in restrictions on our distribution and sales of products or services that may materially impact our business.

Anti-Boycott Laws

Under U.S. laws and regulations, U.S. companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates are prohibited from participating or agreeing to participate in unsanctioned foreign boycotts in connection with certain business activities, including the sale, purchase, transfer, shipping, or financing of goods or services within the United States or between the United States and countries outside of the United States. If we, or certain third parties through which we sell or provide goods or services, violate U.S. anti-boycott laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability.

Credentials were presented to and a Notice of Inspection issued to Ms. Nicole DeVirgiliis. VP Quality Assurance. She accompanied me throughout the inspection and provided procedures and other information requested.

Background

The past visit on 03/13/2025 was an initial inspection of this pharmaceutical office facility for maintaining a Prescription Drug Virtual Manufacturer license. The purpose of this inspection was to verify compliance with NCGS §106 Article 12A (Wholesale Prescription Drug Distributors).

There were no significant objectionable conditions noted during this inspection, and no observation sheet was issued.

Operations

Milestone Pharmaceuticals will use this facility for administrative matters and communication with the 3PL in Memphis, Tn (Eversana Life Science Service). So far, no products have been shipped to or stored at this facility. No controlled drugs are to be handled by this firm per management. Sales are expected to occur within all 50 states. A Third-Party Logistics Provider in Tennessee is expected to expedite all orders generated and shipped to specialty pharmacies, wholesalers, hospital and retail pharmacies. A contract manufacturer, Catalent Pharma Solutions in Morrisville, NC will provide the product. Operating hours at this time will be 9am-5pm, Monday through Friday.

The facility is located in a mixed-use commercial office complex and contains approximately 13,000 square feet of administrative and storage space. It is secured against unauthorized entry by means of a Enterprise Security System. The office (approx. 225 sq ft.) to be utilized for potential temporary drug storage has a locking door and locking storage and quarantine cabinets. Climate control is via HVAC systems and is thermostatically controlled.

Written procedures have been established that provide the requirements for the receipt, storage and distribution of prescription drugs. Storage conditions will be monitored and recorded electronically; this includes temperature as required on the product label.

To date, one Rx product has been reviewed by the FDA; that being Cardamyst containing 70mg of etripamil.

Observations

There were no significant objectionable conditions noted during this inspection, and the Prescription Drug Virtual Manufacturer license was approved for release.

Compliance

Future inspections of this facility by NCDA&CS will be conducted on a routine annual or as needed basis.

SPECIAL NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Annual Report on Form 10-K contains forward-looking statements about us and our industry that involve substantial risks and uncertainties. All statements other than statements of historical facts contained in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, including statements regarding our strategy, future financial condition, future operations, projected costs, prospects, plans, objectives of management and expected market growth, are forward-looking statements. In some cases, you can identify forward-looking statements by terminology such as "aim," "anticipate," "assume," "believe," "contemplate," "continue," "could," "design," "due," "estimate," "expect," "goal," "intend," "may," "objective," "plan," "predict," "positioned," "potential," "seek," "should," "target," "will," "would" and other similar expressions that are predictions of or indicate future events and future trends, or the negative of these terms or other comparable terminology.

We have based these forward-looking statements largely on our current expectations and projections about future events and financial trends that we believe may affect our financial condition, results of operations, business strategy and financial needs. These forward-looking statements are subject to a number of known and unknown risks, uncertainties and assumptions, including risks described in the section titled "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, regarding, among other things:

- the initiation, timing, progress and results of our current and future clinical trials of etripamil, including our Phase 3 clinical trials of etripamil for the treatment of paroxysmal supraventricular tachycardia, our Phase 2 clinical trial of etripamil for the treatment of atrial fibrillation and rapid ventricular rate, and of our research and development programs;
- uncertain impacts that public health crises may have on our business, strategy, clinical trial progress and research and development efforts;
- our ability to develop and, if approved by regulatory authorities, commercialize etripamil in China and Taiwan through our license agreement with Ji Xing Pharmaceuticals;
- our plans to develop and commercialize etripamil and any future product candidates;
- our estimates regarding expenses, future revenue, capital requirements and needs for additional financing;
- our ability to successfully acquire or in-license additional product candidates on reasonable terms;
- our ability to establish collaborations or obtain additional funding;
- our ability to obtain regulatory approval of our current and future product candidates;
- our expectations regarding the potential market size and the rate and degree of market acceptance of etripamil and any future product candidates;
- our ability to fund our working capital requirements and expectations regarding the sufficiency of our capital resources;

- the implementation of our business model and strategic plans for our business, etripamil and any future product candidates;
- our intellectual property position and the duration of our patent rights;
- developments or disputes concerning our intellectual property or other proprietary rights;
- our expectations regarding government and third-party payor coverage and reimbursement;
- our ability to compete in the markets we serve;
- the impact of government laws and regulations;
- developments relating to our competitors and our industry; and
- the factors that may impact our financial results.

The foregoing list of risks is not exhaustive. Other sections of this Annual Report on Form 10-K may include additional factors that could harm our business and financial performance. Moreover, we operate in a very competitive and rapidly changing environment. New risk factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for our management to predict all risk factors nor can we assess the impact of all factors on our business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in, or implied by, any forward-looking statements.

In light of the significant uncertainties in these forward-looking statements, you should not rely upon forward-looking statements as predictions of future events. Although we believe that we have a reasonable basis for each forward-looking statement contained in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, we cannot guarantee that the future results, levels of activity, performance or events and circumstances reflected in the forward-looking statements will be achieved or occur at all. You should refer to the section titled "Risk Factors" for a discussion of important factors that may cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by our forward-looking statements. Furthermore, if our forward-looking statements prove to be inaccurate, the inaccuracy may be material. Except as required by law, we undertake no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Act, do not protect any forward-looking statements that we make in connection with this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

SUMMARY OF RISK FACTORS

Our business is subject to numerous risks and uncertainties, including those described in Item 1A "Risk Factors". These risks include, but are not limited to the following:

- We have incurred significant operating losses since inception and anticipate that we will continue to incur substantial operating losses for the foreseeable future and may never achieve or maintain profitability.
- We will require substantial additional funding to finance our operations. If we are unable to raise capital when needed, we could be forced to delay, reduce or terminate our development of etripamil or other operations.
- Raising additional capital may cause dilution to our shareholders, restrict our operations or require us to relinquish rights to our product candidates.
- Economic uncertainty, including related to inflation, may adversely affect our results of operations.
- We have only one product candidate, etripamil, for which we are currently pursuing clinical development. Our future success is substantially dependent on the successful clinical development and regulatory approval of etripamil. If we are not able to obtain required regulatory approvals for etripamil or any future product candidates, we will not be able to commercialize etripamil or any future product candidates and our ability to generate revenue will be adversely affected.
- We may not be successful in our efforts to expand our pipeline of product candidates beyond etripamil for paroxysmal supraventricular tachycardia.
- The development of additional product candidates is risky and uncertain.
- Success in preclinical studies or earlier clinical trials may not be indicative of results in future clinical trials and we cannot assure you that any ongoing, planned or future clinical trials will lead to results sufficient for the necessary regulatory approvals.
- Our business, operations and clinical development timelines and plans have been adversely affected by the effects of health epidemics, and could be affected by future health epidemics.
- We may encounter substantial delays or difficulties in our clinical trials.
- Enrollment and retention of patients in clinical trials is an expensive and time-consuming process and could be delayed, made more difficult or rendered impossible by multiple factors outside our control.
- If we are unable to establish sales and marketing capabilities or enter into agreements with third parties to market and sell etripamil or any future product candidates, we may not be successful in commercializing etripamil or any future product candidates, if and when they are approved.
- Even if etripamil or any future product candidates receive marketing approval, they may fail to achieve market acceptance by physicians, patients, third-party payors or others in the medical community necessary for commercial success.
- Even if we successfully obtain approval for etripamil, its success will be dependent on its use in accordance with labeled instructions for use.
- If the market opportunities for etripamil and any future product candidates are smaller than we estimate, our business may suffer.
- Coverage and adequate reimbursement may not be available for etripamil or any future product candidates, which could make it difficult for us to gain market acceptance.
- Even if we obtain and maintain approval for etripamil or any future product candidates from the Food and Drug Administration, or FDA, we may never obtain approval of etripamil or any future product candidates outside of the United States, which would limit our market opportunities and could harm our business.
- Even if we obtain regulatory approval for etripamil or any future product candidates, they will remain subject to ongoing regulatory oversight.

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

Company Overview

We are a biopharmaceutical company focused on the development and commercialization of innovative cardiovascular medicines. Our lead product candidate etripamil is a novel and potent calcium channel blocker that we designed as a rapid-onset nasal spray to be self-administered by patients. We are developing etripamil for the treatment of specific arrhythmias with a lead indication to treat paroxysmal supraventricular tachycardia, or PSVT, and a subsequent indication to treat atrial fibrillation with rapid ventricular rate, or AFib-RVR.

PSVT is a highly symptomatic and impactful heart arrhythmia characterized by unpredictable attacks of a racing heart, often exceeding 150 beats per minute. Symptoms of PSVT often arise suddenly and include palpitations, sweating, chest pressure or pain, shortness of breath, sudden onset of fatigue, lightheadedness or dizziness, fainting, and anxiety, causing many patients to interrupt their daily activities at the time of symptom-onset. The impact and morbidity from an episode of PSVT can be especially detrimental in patients with underlying cardiovascular or medical conditions, such as heart failure, obstructive coronary disease, or dehydration. The uncertainty of when such an attack of PSVT will strike or how long it will persist is anxiety-provoking, reduces patients' quality of life and prevents participation in many desired activities. Drugs approved for the treatment of PSVT attacks include adenosine, verapamil, and diltiazem, with all being administered intravenously under medical supervision, usually in the emergency department. Other oral drugs are sometimes used to treat attacks in a concept called "pill in the pocket." However, those drugs have never been proven effective or safe and are not approved for this use. Doctors are frustrated by the lack of effective treatment options besides a prolonged, unpleasant, and costly trip to the emergency department or, for some patients, an invasive ablation procedure. PSVT is traumatic for patients, frustrating for healthcare providers, and costly for payers. With no pharmaceutical innovation in the treatment of PSVT for over 30 years and a movement in the healthcare system to enable patient centered care, there is an opportunity to help patients living with PSVT to take greater control over their PSVT attacks.

Atrial Fibrillation, or AFib, is a common form of arrhythmia with an irregular and often rapid heart rate that is often markedly symptomatic and, without proper treatment, can increase the risk of stroke, heart failure, and other cardiovascular complications. A common complication of AFib is a rapid ventricular rate, or AFib-RVR, which is frequently defined as a heart rate $\geq$ 110 beats per minute. The occurrence of a rapid ventricular rate in patients with atrial fibrillation increases the likelihood of symptoms including heart palpitations, shortness of breath and weakness. There are two commonly used pharmacological approaches to chronically manage AFib, rhythm control and rate control. Regardless of the chronic approach, when faced with an episode of AFib-RVR, acute rate control is called for most commonly in the form of oral AV-nodal targeted drugs such as a beta blocker or calcium channel blockers. However, these oral rate control drugs, when used acutely, do not adequately provide immediate ventricular rate control due to a 30- to 60-minute delayed onset of action, and, as a result, many patients seek faster and more certain rate reduction and symptom resolution by going to the emergency department for acute treatment utilizing intravenous rate control and/or electrical cardioversion of their atrial fibrillation. Similar to PSVT, patients feel a loss of control by needing to visit the emergency department for overcoming their atrial fibrillation attack, doctors are frustrated by the lack of options for patients to self-manage these acute rate attacks and payer organizations would prefer to treat the AFib-RVR attacks in a more cost effective and time-efficient manner.

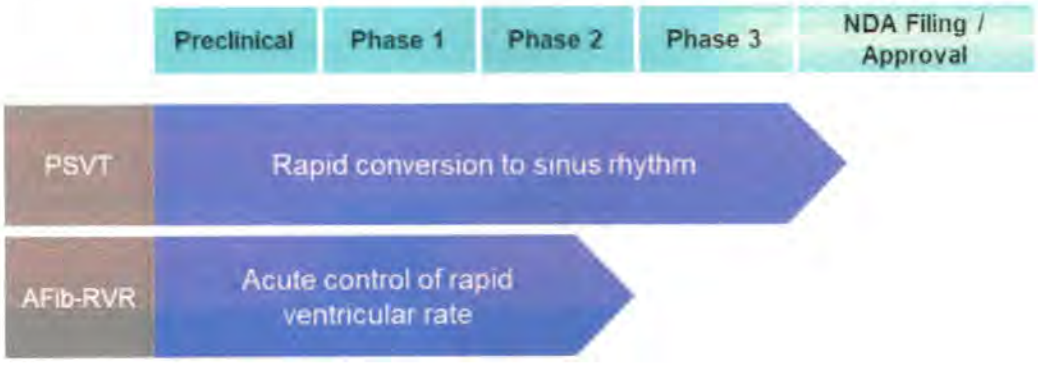
Our objective is to develop and commercialize etripamil as a fast-acting nasal spray to be prescribed by the doctor so that the patient can carry etripamil with them for use wherever and whenever an attack occurs. We have completed patient conduct (last patient last visit) in the Phase 3 clinical trials for the lead indication and we plan to submit a New Drug Application, or NDA, for marketing approval in the United States for etripamil for the treatment of PSVT mid-2023. If approved, we believe that etripamil will provide the patient with a portable treatment to stop an attack at-home and to reduce the reliance on the emergency department. We believe that this may help patients to live their lives with less concern over when their next PSVT attack will occur. For health care providers, etripamil could represent a new tool they can offer to their patients to better self-manage their PSVT attacks resulting in fewer calls to their office, a more efficient use of healthcare resources, and more empowered, satisfied patients.



Etripamil is currently in Phase 2 clinical development for assessing its safety and effectiveness in AFib-RVR. Similar to our approach for PSVT, we believe that etripamil has the potential to help the patient experiencing a symptomatic episode of AFib-RVR to self-manage their condition by conveniently, reliably and quickly reducing their elevated heart rate wherever and whenever the episode occurs, thereby reducing the need for emergency department utilization that many patients currently seek.

We believe that PSVT is a large and under-recognized market that we estimate affects approximately two million Americans and results in over 150,000 emergency department visits and hospital admissions and up to 80,000 ablations per year. From this diagnosed population, we define the target addressable market for etripamil as the 40 to 60% of patients who experience frequent and longer, moderate to severe episodes each year. After being exposed to the data from the RAPID clinical study in market research, Cardiologists reported a willingness to prescribe etripamil to approximately 50% of the patients with PSVT in their care, which suggests 500,000 to 800,000 patients can potentially be treated with etripamil in the peak year. Additionally, we believe that these target patients will use etripamil to treat a median of five episodes per year based on the projected number of longer or more intense episodes (self-reported) experienced by the patient. This implies demand in the US for etripamil of 2.5 million to 4 million episodes treated in the peak year.

The American Heart Association estimates a prevalence for AFib of seven million by 2030, while the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) reports this prevalence as increasing to 12 million over the same time period. According to the Healthcare and Utilization Project, AFib resulted in 660,000 patient visits to the emergency department and 465,000 admissions to the hospital in 2016. From market research we estimate the target addressable market for etripamil in patients with AFib and rapid ventricular rate (RVR) as approximately 30 to 40% of the diagnosed prevalent population, defined as patients experiencing at least one symptomatic episode of AFib-RVR requiring treatment per year.

Our Pipeline

PSVT Phase 3 Program Highlights: The RAPID, NODE-301, NODE-302, and NODE-303 Trials

On October 17, 2022, we announced positive and statistically significant topline efficacy and safety data from the Phase 3 RAPID clinical trial of etripamil in patients with PSVT. These results were further presented shortly thereafter, on November 7, 2022, as a Late-Breaking Clinical Trial at the American Heart Association Scientific Meetings (Chicago, IL). RAPID, our multi-center, randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled, event-driven Phase 3 trial, enrolled 706 patients across clinical sites in North America and Europe. Patients were randomized 1:1 to a regimen of self-administering a first dose etripamil nasal spray, with a repeat dose 10 minutes later if symptoms persisted, or a matching placebo regimen. Self-administration was prompted by a patient's customary symptoms and was performed in the at-home setting without medical supervision. The RAPID trial achieved its primary endpoint, with patients taking the etripamil regimen demonstrating a highly statistically significant and clinically meaningful difference in time to SVT conversion as compared to placebo. A Kaplan Meier analysis demonstrated a significantly greater proportion of patients who took etripamil converted within thirty minutes compared to placebo (64.3% vs. 31.2%; hazard ratio, or HR, 2.62; 95% CI 1.66, 4.15; $p<0.001$). By 90 minutes post-study drug administration, 80.6% of etripamil patients converted versus 60.7% of placebo patients (HR = 1.93; 95% CI 1.349, 2.752; $p<0.001$) and statistical significance was maintained throughout the 5-hour observation window. Statistically significant reductions in time to conversion in patients who took etripamil were evident early and persisted throughout the observation window of the study compared to placebo. The median time to conversion for patients in RAPID who self-administered etripamil was 17.2 minutes compared to 53.3 minutes for patients on placebo. The safety and tolerability data from the RAPID trial continue to support the potential self-administration use of etripamil, with findings consistent with those observed in prior trials. The most common randomized-treatment emergent adverse events, or RTEAEs, adverse events, or AEs, which occurred within 24 hours of etripamil administration, were related to the nasal local administration site. Overall, the majority of RTEAEs were reported as mild (68%) or moderate (31%). There were no serious AEs related to etripamil.

The use of additional medical interventions and emergency department utilization were important secondary measures of efficacy for both the RAPID and NODE-301 studies, although with the understanding that neither study was individually powered to expect statistical differences. In a pre-planned analysis across both studies, patients who self-administered etripamil sought additional medical interventions 43% less frequently (15% vs. 25%; $p=0.013$) and had 39% fewer emergency department visits (14% vs. 22%; $p=0.035$) than patients in the placebo arm.

NODE-303 is a Phase 3, multi-center, open-label safety trial, evaluating primarily the safety of etripamil when self-administered without medical supervision over multiple, separate SVT episodes. After consultation with the regulatory authorities, it was concluded that the test doses procedure was an unnecessary step for the self-administration of etripamil and it was removed from the requirements of the NODE-303 safety study. The NODE-303 trial was initiated with an etripamil 70 mg single-dose regimen and the 70 mg optional repeat-dose regimen was introduced into the trial starting in the second half of 2021 following FDA acceptance of the protocol amendment. The trial was sized in order to add to the safety data from the remainder of the development program, including those data already obtained from the RAPID, NODE-301 and NODE-302 trials, in order to fulfill the safety and exposure dataset needed for NDA filing. Following the results from the RAPID study, initially obtained in October 2022, and the assessment of the total exposures to etripamil in the development program to date, we believe we have the safety dataset needed for review of the NDA for PSVT and have moved to the closure stage of the NODE-303 study.

We are conducting patient access programs to provide further access to etripamil to patients who have participated in the clinical development registration trials to treat their future SVT episodes. These programs are tailored to meet the regulatory requirements in the territories in which the clinical sites are located.

The NODE-301 trial is a placebo-controlled Phase 3 safety and efficacy trial and the first trial ever conducted to treat attacks of PSVT in the at-home setting. NODE-301 enrolled 431 patients across 65 sites in the United States and Canada. Although the study did not meet its primary endpoint of time to conversion of SVT to sinus rhythm compared to placebo over the five-hour period following study drug administration in which patients wore a cardiac monitor, both prespecified and post hoc analyses at earlier time periods, namely at 30 minutes, showed significant treatment effects in favor of etripamil. For example, in a post hoc analysis of the NODE-301 data, 54% of etripamil patients vs. 35% of placebo patients converted within 30 minutes (HR 1.87, p=0.02). The safety and tolerability data from the NODE-301 trial support the potential self-administration use of etripamil, with the most common randomized treatment emergent adverse events, or RTEAEs, adverse events, or AEs, which occurred within 24 hours of etripamil administration, being related to the nasal local administration site. Overall, the majority of RTEAEs were reported as mild (85%) to moderate (15%). There were no serious AEs related to etripamil. After reviewing the data from NODE-301 with the FDA in July 2020, the Agency indicated that an analysis period shorter than 5 hours would be appropriate to measure the efficacy of etripamil. The FDA indicated that two trials, the RAPID and NODE-301 trials could potentially fulfill the efficacy requirement for our planned NDA for etripamil in patients with PSVT, both using time to conversion over the first 30 minutes with a target p-value of less than 0.05 as the primary endpoint.

NODE-302 is a Phase 3 multi-center, open-label safety extension of the NODE-301 trial. Patients who completed NODE-301 and enrolled in NODE-302 could administer open-label drug for up to an additional 11 episodes of PSVT. The study's objective is to evaluate the safety of etripamil nasal spray when self-administered by patients without medical supervision for spontaneous episodes of SVT in an outpatient setting over recurrent episodes. While the primary purpose of the trial is safety, efficacy assessments were also performed. We presented data from the NODE-302 study at a late-breaking session of the Heart Rhythm Society's Heart Rhythm 2022 Annual conference. Of 198 eligible NODE-301 patients, 169 (85%) enrolled in NODE-302 and 105 (62%) experienced a perceived episode of PSVT, self-administered etripamil and were included in the safety population. Overall, the rate of conversion of PSVT to normal sinus rhythm at 30 minutes following etripamil administration was 60.2% with a median time to conversion of 15.5 minutes (95% CI, 11.3-22.1 minutes), findings consistent with those from other studies, even those of a different design, indicating robustness of results. Among 40 patients who self-treated two separate episodes, 21 of 26 (81%) who converted on their first episode were also successfully converted on their second episode. Moreover, the need for an external medical intervention (e.g., an intravenous therapy administered in an emergency department) to terminate a PSVT episode was low (13% of patients and 8.5% of positively adjudicated PSVT episodes). Etripamil was generally well-tolerated, with adverse events consistent with those observed in previous trials; most adverse events related to treatment were localized to the nasal administration site and were mild and transient.

AFIB RVR Phase 2 Proof of Concept Trial: Reduction of Ventricular Rate in Patients with Atrial Fibrillation (ReVeRA)

The Phase 2, double-blind, placebo-controlled, proof-of-concept study, Reduction of Ventricular Rate in Patients with Atrial Fibrillation (ReVeRA), in patients with atrial fibrillation with rapid ventricular response (AFib/RVR), is being conducted in Canada and the Netherlands in collaboration with the Montreal Heart Institute, the WCN network, and other research centers. The ReVeRA study is expected to enroll approximately 50 patients randomized 1:1 to receive either 70 mg of etripamil nasal spray or placebo to patients presenting with symptomatic AFib/RVR. The primary endpoint will assess reduction in ventricular rate, with key secondary endpoints including the time to achieve the maximum reduction in rate and the duration of the effect. The trial is being conducted in the emergency department setting under medical supervision.

Our Strategy

Our goal is to identify, develop and commercialize innovative cardiovascular medicines, including etripamil for the treatment of PSVT, AFib-RVR and other cardiovascular indications, and additional clinical stage compounds for other cardiovascular conditions. The key elements of our business strategy to achieve this goal include the following:

- Successfully complete development and obtain regulatory approval of etripamil for the treatment of PSVT. We are focused on efficiently developing and obtaining approval for etripamil to treat patients with PSVT. We intend to first seek regulatory approval in the United States, followed by Europe and other major markets.

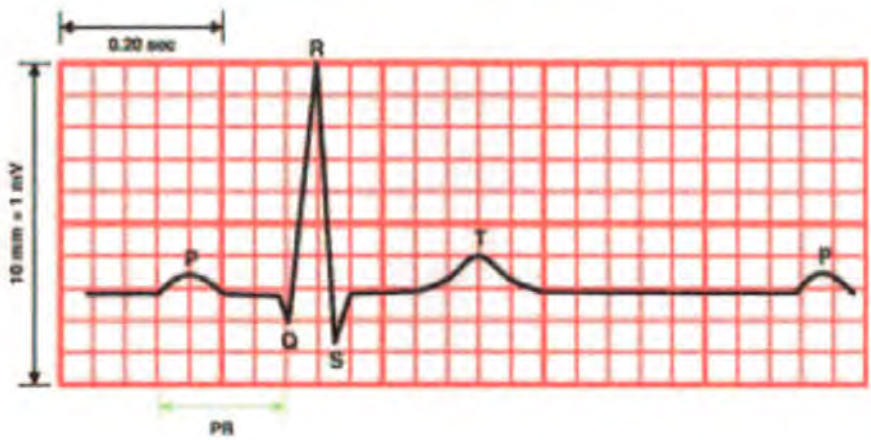
- Expand the scope of cardiovascular indications for etripamil beyond PSVT. We are investigating, in a Phase 2 proof of concept study, the use of etripamil for the treatment of patients with AFib-RVR. We believe that etripamil could benefit patients with AFib-RVR based on the approved use of intravenous, or IV, calcium channel blockers in this indication. We are also exploring the additional cardiovascular opportunities for the use of etripamil.

- Maximize the value of our programs by maintaining flexibility to commercialize our product candidates independently or through collaborative partnerships. We currently have exclusive development and commercialization rights for etripamil for our initial indications of PSVT and AFib-RVR. We are establishing commercialization and marketing capabilities with a focus to commercialize etripamil in the United States. Outside of the United States, we are considering commercialization strategies that may include collaborations with other companies.

- Leverage our expertise and experience to expand our pipeline of product candidates. We seek to maximize our commercial opportunities by acquiring or in-licensing product candidates for indications with significant unmet need with a focus on novel treatments for cardiovascular or other conditions. Our leadership team has extensive experience in developing and commercializing successful drugs. We intend to leverage the collective talent within our organization and our network to guide our development plans and pipeline expansion.

Cardiac and Pharmacologic Basis of Development Programs

Normal Conduction



Within the right atrium, one of the heart's upper chambers, sits a specialized structure called the sinus node. The sinus node, serving as the heart's intrinsic pacemaker, generates an electrical signal which spreads throughout both atria and then is transmitted down to the lower chambers, the ventricles, via another specialized electrical tissue, the atrio-ventricular, or AV, node, which is shown in the figure below. Upon reaching the ventricles, the electrical signal them to contract, pumping blood out to the lungs and the rest of the body. Another heartbeat does not occur until a new signal is generated from the sinus node and the cycle repeats. Under normal conditions, passage from the sinus node over the AV node is the only way for the electrical impulse to travel from the atria down to the ventricles.

The electrical signal of each heartbeat can be detected by placing sensors known as electrodes over the skin, and recorded over time in a tracing known as an electrocardiogram, or ECG. The ECG measures signal voltage and duration. To the trained interpreter, an ECG conveys a large amount of information about the structure and function of the heart, including among other things, heart rate and rhythm. Under normal physiologic conditions, an ECG has a characteristic pattern of waves corresponding to the electrical activity, contraction and relaxation of each heart chamber. This normal functioning is referred to as sinus rhythm and occurs at a heart rate of between 60 and 100 beats per minute at regular intervals.

As seen in the figure below, the various waves of an ECG tracing corresponding to the events of a single heartbeat are named with the letters P, Q, R, S and T. The interval between the P wave and the R wave, known as the PR interval, is a measure of conduction over the AV node. A normal PR interval is 0.12-0.20 seconds.

ECG Tracing Graph – Event Single Heartbeat

Arrhythmias

A disruption in the heart's normal rhythm or conduction of electrical signals is called an arrhythmia. An arrhythmia can take the form of the heart beating too quickly, too slowly, or with an irregular pattern. A faster than normal heart rate is a tachycardia; a slower than normal heart rate is a bradycardia. Symptoms of an arrhythmia can include palpitations, lightheadedness or dizziness, chest pain, shortness of breath, or sweating; these symptoms can be markedly severe, and in advanced cases of some arrhythmias, resultant signs can include worse morbidities and even mortality. PSVT and atrial fibrillation are two of the most commonly occurring arrhythmias. While PSVT is characterized by a faster than normal heart rate where the heart beats at regular intervals, with AFib-RVR the heart often beats faster than normal and with an irregularly irregular rhythm. Pharmacologic treatment of PSVT focuses on terminating the arrhythmia using an agent to prolong the refractoriness (the recovery time between consecutive activations) of the AV node or to prolong conduction over the AV node. With AFib-RVR, there are two approaches to treatment: rate control to reduce the heart rate and rhythm control to restore sinus rhythm and prevent AFib recurrences.

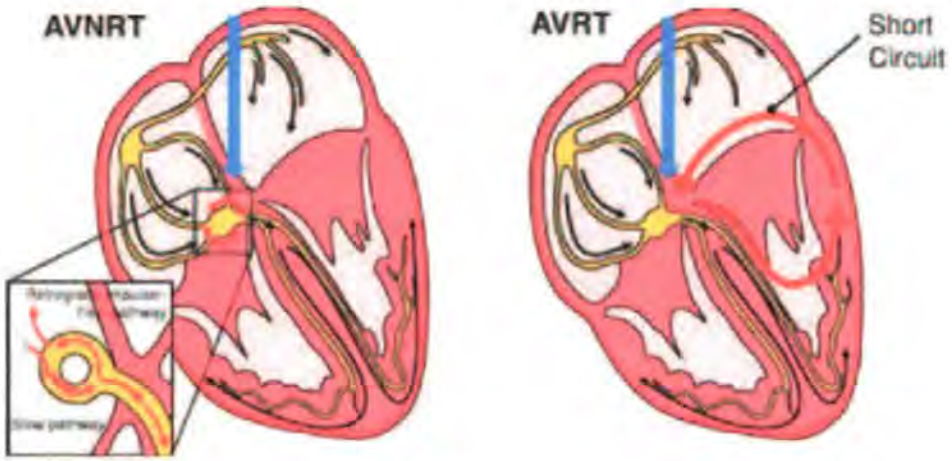
Etripamil

We designed the molecule of etripamil and is developing the drug, a novel, potent and rapid-onset calcium channel blocker, as a nasal spray to be administered by the patient to terminate episodes of transient cardiovascular conditions as they occur. Rapid pharmacological action is both appropriate and sufficient to resolve an episode of SVT. We have completed Phase 3 development for PSVT. We are also developing etripamil to provide acute ventricular rate control for patients with symptomatic episodes of atrial fibrillation with rapid ventricular rate and are exploring other therapeutic applications in which a patient-administered, rapid-onset, non-dihydropyridine calcium channel blocking agent could provide patient benefit.

In our work to develop potential therapies, we sought to create new chemical entities as analogs of known molecular classes with clinically validated mechanisms of action. Our goal was to preserve the beneficial pharmacology of existing molecules while altering their pharmacokinetic profile with focused medicinal chemistry to produce drugs that are fast acting. As a result, we created a series of novel non-dihydropyridine, L-type calcium channel blockers containing chemical ester moieties that preserved the desired pharmacology on the heart but that could be rapidly metabolized in the blood by serum esterases. Etripamil resulted from this effort as a new chemical entity with a fast pharmacodynamic effect in humans, relative to oral calcium channel blockers.



We believe that the following attributes of etripamil make it a better treatment candidate for certain episodic cardiovascular conditions than current standards of care:

- Action: Etripamil is designed to be rapidly metabolized by blood-borne esterases, with the goal of reducing long-term side effects that may occur with chronic drug therapy.
- Absorption: Etripamil is designed to be absorbed into the bloodstream in less than 10 minutes through the inner lining of the nose, yielding a rapid-onset pharmacologic pattern consistent with parenterally administered drugs.
- Administration: Etripamil is designed, and has been investigated, to empower patients to self-administer treatment outside of a medical setting and as prompted by a patient's symptoms.

PSVT

PSVT is a serious, markedly symptomatic, and recurring cardiac arrhythmia, which is caused by altered electrical conduction within the heart, involving the AV node and over an abnormal electrical circuit in the substantial majority of cases. In the most common form of PSVT, AV nodal reentrant tachycardia, or AVNRT, there is an abnormal limb of electrical circuitry within the AV node which represents the substrate of the tachycardia. This abnormal circuitry is the basis for a reentrant arrhythmia which results in excessively rapid beating of both the atria and ventricles.

In the next most common form of PSVT, atrioventricular reciprocating tachycardia, or AVRT, there is an abnormal limb of electrical tissue, or bypass tract, that directly connects the atria and the ventricles. In AVRT, the bypass tract allows the signal to travel between the atria and ventricles as a "short circuit." AVRT involves the AV node, in addition to the bypass tract. Thus, for both AVNRT and AVRT – two PSVT types that require the AV node as a part of their abnormal circuit, or AV-nodal dependent PSVTs – a drug which targets the AV node can represent a potential treatment. Non-dihydropyridine calcium channel blockers are a class of drugs that target the AV node, reflecting why etripamil has been an excellent therapeutic candidate for AVNRT and AVRT termination.

Current Treatment Options for PSVT

Treatment for PSVT depends on the frequency, duration, and severity of the episodes as well as patient preference. Current options for patients with PSVT to terminate an episode of SVT include vagal maneuvers, IV medication or external shock delivered in the emergency department. Additionally, some practitioners prescribe oral medications, such as calcium channel blockers, beta blockers and antiarrhythmic drugs to be taken at the onset of an episode. However, these oral medications interventions are generally not acutely effective. Long-term strategies include chronic drug therapy to reduce the frequency of episodes and cardiac ablation to potentially cure the disease. Patients may also elect to not treat their symptoms and simply endure episodes of SVT when they occur.

Vagal maneuvers are commonly attempted to terminate an episode, with low to modest success rates. These are physiological maneuvers that stimulate the vagus nerve, which can terminate an SVT episode. These include gagging, massaging one carotid artery, holding one's breath and bearing down (Valsalva maneuver), immersing one's face in ice-cold water, or coughing.

Currently approved acute pharmacological therapy for the treatment of an acute episode of SVT includes IV administration of approved AV nodal-blocking agents in an acute care setting. The current standard of care for treatment of episodes of SVT is adenosine, but prior to its approval in 1990, episodes of SVT were treated with IV calcium channel blockers, such as verapamil or diltiazem. When given as a rapid IV bolus, adenosine blocks conduction over the AV node, thereby interrupting the arrhythmia circuit and restoring the heart back to sinus rhythm. Adenosine temporarily stops the heart and patients have reported experiencing chest tightness, flushing and a sense of impending death. Physicians report that patients tell them that they feel like they are going to die. Adenosine is eliminated from the body in less than one minute but cannot be self-administered as it requires IV access. In-hospital IV administrations are associated with higher healthcare costs and are also unsettling and inconvenient for the patient. IV calcium channel blockers also slow conduction over the AV node during the course of several minutes. However, they are associated with the risk of excessive slowing of the heart rate and low blood pressure. According to treatment guidelines, patients in the acute care setting who fail pharmacologic treatment for PSVT could then receive direct current cardioversion, where an electric shock is applied to the heart to return it to sinus rhythm.

In an attempt to prophylactically control the frequency and duration of future SVT episodes, many patients will take chronic daily oral medications that modulate AV nodal conduction, such as beta blockers, L-type non-dihydropyridine calcium channel blockers, or antiarrhythmic drugs. Despite chronic daily oral medication, breakthrough SVT episodes that require visits to the emergency department may still occur, albeit for some patients at a reduced frequency. Chronic medication can lead to side effects such as sexual dysfunction or fatigue in the case of beta blockers and constipation in the case of verapamil. Some patients discontinue chronic oral medication due to intolerable side effects. Based on our market research, we estimate that approximately two thirds of patients with PSVT have been prescribed chronic medications such as beta blockers or calcium channel blockers to prevent SVT episodes or to treat other concomitant conditions such as hypertension.

The only potentially curative treatment available at the present time for PSVT is ablation, an invasive procedure, which works by directly cauterizing or freezing the short circuit that is the cause of the abnormal rhythm. This is achieved in an electrophysiology lab via catheters that are run through the patient's groin vessels and into the heart and uses burning or freezing techniques to destroy the heart's abnormal electrical tissue. Ablation single-procedure success rates for PSVT are reported to be 91% to 96%. However, we estimate that less than 10% of patients with PSVT per year choose this option, which we believe is due primarily to anxiety related to the procedure. Although ablations are generally considered to be safe by the treating community, as with any invasive procedure there are potential complications, which include bleeding, blood clots, pericardial tamponade, and transient or permanent heart block, with the latter requiring permanent pacemaker implantation.

Market Opportunity – Paroxysmal Supraventricular Tachycardia (PSVT)

We believe that PSVT is a large and under-recognized market that we estimate affects approximately two million Americans and results in over 600,000 healthcare claims in the United States alone per year, including more than 150,000 emergency department visits and hospital admissions and up to 80,000 ablations. Furthermore, we estimate that approximately 300,000 people are diagnosed with PSVT each year in the United States. We derive these estimates from the analysis of longitudinal claims data, which we believe is the most accurate method available to estimate the epidemiology of PSVT. A study in the Journal of Clinical Electrophysiology published in 2021 concluded that excluding patients with comorbid Atrial Fibrillation or Atrial Flutter, or AFib/AFL, leads to a conservative estimate of PSVT treated prevalence in the U.S. of approximately 1.3 million, while including those with comorbid AFib/AFL suggests a U.S. treated prevalence of approximately 2.1 million, with approximately 190,000 to 310,000 corresponding new cases each year.

Other published sources that attempt to quantify the epidemiology of PSVT, such as the MESA study published in the Journal of the American College of Cardiology in 1998, and the PREEMPT study published in the Journal of the American Heart Association in 2018, provide important demographic and clinical characteristic data on patients with PSVT. For example, in the MESA study, fewer than 40% of the adjudicated incident cases of PSVT would have been detected had the investigators limited their screening to those patients identified by the PSVT ICD9 Code (427.0). In addition, 21% of the incident patients with PSVT in the MESA study also had a diagnosis of atrial fibrillation (18%) or atrial flutter (6%). As an epidemiology tool, however, we believe these studies underestimate the incidence and prevalence of PSVT due to the episodic nature of the disease as well as the variability in the duration of the episodes, as the investigators in both studies relied only on data from patients presenting to healthcare settings acutely, with the episode confirmed on ECG during the encounter, to estimate the incidence and prevalence of PSVT.

Current treatment for PSVT also consumes significant healthcare resources. Research published in the American Journal of Cardiology in 2020 shows that costs for patients rose significantly in the pre-diagnosis year due to the difficulty of obtaining an accurate diagnosis. In the year following diagnosis, costs triple for those less than 65 years of age and double for those over 65 years of age, compared to matched controls. Total healthcare expenditures in the year following PSVT diagnosis ranged from $20,000 to $30,000 per patient, significantly higher than the expenditures observed for patients without PSVT (approximately $6,500 per patient). Significant increases for both age groups were noted for emergency department visits. For those less than 65, the average cost of hospitalizations doubled as their inpatient rates quadrupled. Of note, catheter ablations following diagnosis represent only 23% of this increased spend, meaning most costs are unrelated to ablations. In total, approximately $3 billion is spent annually in the U.S. on the management of PSVT.

Our Clinical Development Program for the Treatment of Paroxysmal Supraventricular Tachycardia

Current treatments do not address the medical need for a rapidly acting, effective, safe and patient-administered treatment that can be taken outside of a hospital or acute care setting at the onset of an SVT episode to restore the heart back to sinus rhythm. We believe that etripamil will fill this unmet need. We completed a Phase 1 clinical trial, which supported the selection of four doses of etripamil for Phase 2 development, followed by a Phase 2 clinical trial in adult patients to evaluate the effects of four doses in patients with PSVT. Both trials assessed nasally administered etripamil compared to placebo. Based on discussions with the FDA, we initiated a major Phase 3 clinical trial (NODE-301) in July, 2018 to assess the efficacy and safety of etripamil in the at-home setting and released topline data in March, 2020. We have completed a second pivotal Phase 3 trial (RAPID) which demonstrated highly statistically significant efficacy to convert PSVT and favorable safety/tolerability of the drug We have completed additional Phase 1 clinical trials, one that further characterized the PK and PD of intranasal etripamil in Japanese and non-Japanese healthy volunteers; a second that further characterized pharmacokinetics and safety of administering the drug in single- vs. repeated-dose approaches. We have also completed an open label Phase 3 safety trial (NODE-302), which provided further drug access to patients that had previously participated in the NODE-301 trial. The primary objective of the NODE-302 trial is to assess the safety of etripamil 70 mg in patients over multiple episodes. We completed a third Phase 1 clinical trial, assessing the impact of a repeat-dose regimen, in which patients take a second 70 mg dose of etripamil 10 minutes after a first dose of 70 mg, on the PK and safety of etripamil. We have completed NODE-303, which is an open label Phase 3 study that has the objective of collecting further safety data. The FDA has agreed that our Phase 3 clinical program could support an NDA filing in the United States.

Phase 1 Clinical Data

We completed a Phase 1 clinical trial (MSP-2017-1096), in healthy volunteers, which was designed to assess the safety, PK profile, and cardiac pharmacology of intranasally administered etripamil in a randomized, double-blind, placebo controlled, single ascending dose trial. The trial's primary objective was to determine the maximum tolerated dose or maximum feasible dose of two different formulations of etripamil administered via the nasal route in healthy, adult male subjects. All doses of etripamil were generally well tolerated, and there was no difference in the safety profile and PK between the two formulations of etripamil, referred to as MSP2017A and MSP2017B. The most commonly reported side effects were localized to the administration site, e.g., nasal irritation and nasal congestion. Potential concerns such as syncope, pre-syncope, lightheadedness, or decreases in systolic blood pressure below 90 mmHg or AV nodal blocks of second degree or worse were not observed. The study of formulation MSP2017A was stopped at 60 mg and MSP2017B was further studied at higher doses (105 mg and 140 mg). The Phase 1 results supported the selection of four doses of etripamil for Phase 2 development. We are using these Phase 1 data, and resultant Phase 2 data, to support further clinical development of etripamil in two indications: PSVT and AFib-RVR.

PK analyses have demonstrated rapid absorption and elimination following nasal administration of etripamil, as well as dose proportional systemic exposure, or area under the curve, and maximum plasma concentration for etripamil and its primary inactive metabolite. These findings were consistent across a range of seven doses of drug tested up to 140 mg. The 140 mg dose was the maximal feasible dose because neither the concentration (350 mg/mL) nor the volume (200 µL) of solution administered in each nostril could be increased. Due to these characteristics of formulation and delivery, a maximum tolerated dose of etripamil was not established. The figure below shows the rapid absorption via the nasal route and the rapid decrease in plasma concentration of etripamil.

The forward-looking statements in this Annual Report on Form 10-K include, among other things, statements about:

- the ability to develop a successful product candidate under the License Agreement (as defined in Part I, Item 1 Business, Company Overview),

- our plans to pursue research and development of other future product candidates;
- our estimates regarding the potential market opportunity and patient population for commercializing our product candidates, if approved for commercial use;
- our sales, marketing and distribution capabilities and strategy;
- our ability to establish and maintain arrangements with third parties, such as contract research organizations, contract manufacturing organizations, suppliers and distributors;
- the costs and timing of preparing, filing and prosecuting patent applications, maintaining and protecting our intellectual property rights and defending against any intellectual property-related claims;
- our estimates regarding expenses, future revenues, capital requirements and needs for additional financing;

We may not actually achieve the plans, intentions or expectations disclosed in our forward-looking statements, and you should not place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements. Actual results or events could differ materially from the plans, intentions and expectations disclosed in the forward-looking statements we make. We have included important factors in the cautionary statements included in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, particularly in the "Risk Factors" in Part 1, Item 1A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K, that we believe could cause actual results or events to differ materially from the forward-looking statements that we make. Our forward-looking statements do not reflect the potential impact of any future acquisitions, mergers, dispositions, joint ventures or investments we may make.

You should read this Annual Report on Form 10-K and the documents that we have filed as exhibits to this Annual Report on Form 10-K completely and with the understanding that our actual future results may be materially different from what we expect. We do not assume any obligation to update any forward-looking statements.

SUMMARY OF RISK FACTORS

Below is a summary of the principal factors that make an investment in Summit speculative or risky. The following summary does not contain all of the information that may be important to you, and you should read the below summary in conjunction with the more detailed discussion of risks set forth under the heading "Risk Factors" in Part I, Item 1A of this Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Risks Related to Our Financial Position and Need for Additional Capital

- We are a development-stage company and have incurred significant losses since our inception. We anticipate that we will continue to incur significant losses for at least the next several years and may never generate profits from operations or maintain profitability.
- We have not yet demonstrated an ability to successfully complete development of any product candidates, and a Biologics License Application ("BLA") that has been accepted for filing, such as the BLA relating to the HARMONi study, may not ultimately lead to regulatory approval and commercialization of ivonescimab.
- We will need substantial additional capital to fund our operations. Raising additional capital may cause dilution to our investors or restrict our operations.
- We depend heavily on the success of ivonescimab. If we are unable to successfully develop and commercialize ivonescimab, or experience significant delays in doing so, we may extend the period in which we will incur significant financial losses as an organization.
- Worldwide economic, social and geopolitical instability could adversely affect our business and ability to raise capital in the future.

Risks Related to the Development and Commercialization of our Product Candidates

- We can provide no assurance that our clinical product candidates, including our lead product candidate, ivonescimab, will obtain regulatory approval or that the results of clinical studies will be favorable.
- Clinical development involves a lengthy and expensive process with an uncertain outcome, and results of earlier studies and trials conducted by us or Akeso (as defined in Part I, Item 1 Business, Company Overview), as well as any interim results thereof, may not be predictive of future trial results and may negatively impact the size and scope of our ongoing or future Phase III clinical trials.
- Regulatory requirements and timelines may affect the scope and timeline of our trials and the potential market for our product candidates.
- If we experience unforeseen events, including unfavorable results, in connection with our clinical trials, potential marketing approval or commercialization of our product candidates could be delayed or prevented.
- Serious adverse events may limit our development of a product candidate.
- Even if a product candidate receives marketing approval, it may fail to achieve commercial success.
- We may expend our limited resources to pursue a particular product candidate and fail to capitalize on product candidates that may be more profitable or for which there is a greater likelihood of success.
- Others may discover, develop or commercialize products before us or more successfully than we do.

Risks Related to our Dependencies on Third Parties

- We depend on our relationship with, and the intellectual property licensed from Akeso.
- We may be reliant on Akeso for knowledge transfer relating to any improvements in manufacturing of ivonescimab.
- We depend on collaborations with third parties for the development and commercialization of some of our product candidates.
- We rely on the use of third parties, including Akeso, to manufacture our product candidate.
- We rely on third parties to conduct our clinical trials and those third parties may not perform satisfactorily.

Legal, Tax, Regulatory and Compliance Risks

- Any approved product candidate may become subject to unfavorable pricing regulations, third-party reimbursement practices or other healthcare reform initiatives.
- Our business is subject to the risks associated with doing business in China, including impacts from tariffs, data security laws and regulations, and restrictions on data transfer.

PART I

Item 1. Business

Company Overview

Summit Therapeutics Inc. ("we", "Summit" or the "Company") is a biopharmaceutical company focused on the discovery, development, and commercialization of patient-, physician-, caregiver- and societal-friendly medicinal therapies intended to improve quality of life, increase potential duration of life, and resolve serious unmet medical needs. The Company's pipeline of product candidates is designed with the goal to become the patient-friendly, new-era standard-of-care medicines, in the therapeutic area of oncology.

The Company's current lead development candidate is ivonescimab, a novel, potential first-in-class bispecific antibody intending to combine the effects of immunotherapy via a blockade of PD-1 with the anti-angiogenesis effects of an anti-VEGF (as defined in Part I, Item 1 Business, Company Overview, Ivonescimab) compound into a single molecule. On December 5, 2022, the Company entered into the License Agreement with Akeso, Inc. and its affiliates (collectively, "Akeso") pursuant to which the Company has in-licensed intellectual property rights related to ivonescimab (as amended, the "License Agreement"). Through the License Agreement, the Company obtained the rights to develop and commercialize ivonescimab in the United States, Canada, Europe, and Japan. The License Agreement and transaction closed in January 2023 following customary waiting periods. On June 3, 2024, the Company entered into the Second Amendment with Akeso to expand its territories covered under the License Agreement to also include Latin America, including Mexico and all countries in Central America and South America, the Middle East and Africa. The Company's operations are focused on the development of ivonescimab and other future activities, as the Company determines.

The Company is developing ivonescimab in non-small cell lung cancer ("NSCLC") and colorectal cancer ("CRC"), specifically conducting Phase III clinical trials in the following proposed indications:

(a) ivonescimab combined with chemotherapy in patients with epidermal growth factor receptor ("EGFR")-mutated, locally advanced or metastatic non-squamous NSCLC who were previously treated with a third-generation EGFR tyrosine kinase inhibitor ("TKI") ("HARMONi");

(b) ivonescimab combined with chemotherapy in patients with first-line metastatic NSCLC (including separate statistical analyses planned for patients with squamous NSCLC and non-squamous NSCLC) ("HARMONi-3");

(c) ivonescimab monotherapy in patients with first-line metastatic NSCLC whose tumors have high PD-L1 expression ("HARMONi-7"); and

(d) ivonescimab combined with chemotherapy in patients with first-line unresectable metastatic CRC ("HARMONi-GI3").

In October 2024, the Company completed enrollment in its HARMONi clinical trial. In May 2025, we announced topline results from our multiregional, double-blinded, placebo-controlled, Phase III study HARMONi. At the prespecified primary data analysis, ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy demonstrated a statistically significant improvement in progression free survival ("PFS"), the magnitude of which we believe to be clinically meaningful, with a hazard ratio of 0.52 (95% CI: 0.41 – 0.66; p<0.00001) compared to placebo in combination with chemotherapy, median PFS was 6.8 months for those patients receiving ivonescimab plus chemotherapy compared to 4.4 months for those receiving chemotherapy. PFS was assessed by blinded independent central radiology committee ("BICR").

We believe the PFS hazard ratio that was observed in both Asian and Western sub-populations to be clinically meaningful. The primary analysis demonstrated the consistency of the magnitude of the PFS benefit between patients randomized in Asian and Western territories, as well as the consistency in a single-region study (HARMONi-A) with this multiregional study.

In a longer-term follow-up of PFS, which included all Western patients and at least six months of follow-up time for all patients, ivonescimab plus chemotherapy demonstrated a consistent improvement in PFS with an observed HR of 0.57 (95% CI: 0.46 – 0.71). With the longer-term follow-up analysis, consistency of the magnitude of PFS benefit was demonstrated between patients randomized in Asia and Western patients when measured by hazard ratio. This longer-term follow-up analysis of PFS was performed at the time of the primary overall survival ("OS") analysis.

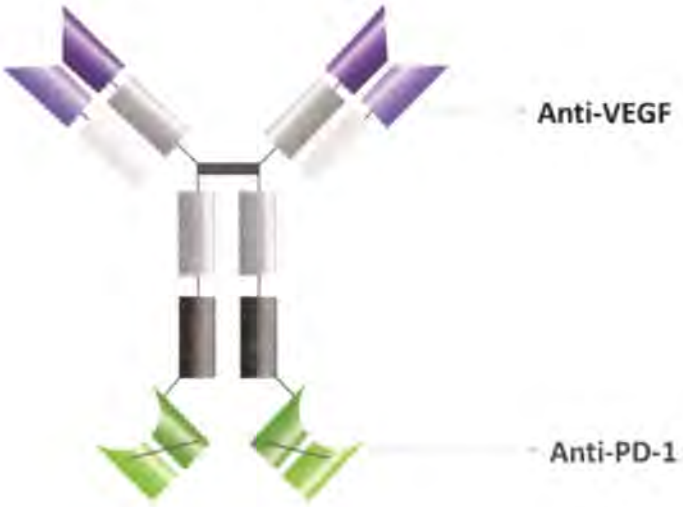
Ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy showed a positive trend in OS in the primary analysis without achieving a statistically significant benefit with a hazard ratio of 0.79 (95% CI: 0.62 – 1.01; p=0.057). This trend provides further support for its use in 2L+ EGFRm NSCLC, a setting where high unmet need continues to exist with limited approved options in the United States and other western territories. Currently, there are no FDA-approved regimens that have demonstrated a statistically significant OS benefit in this patient setting. Both Asian and North American patients demonstrated a positive trend in OS. The results of the primary analysis in this multiregional study were consistent with that of the single-region randomized Phase III HARMONi-A study, which demonstrated a statistically significant OS benefit with a hazard ratio of 0.74 in the primary OS analysis in a similar patient population.

In September 2025, an additional ad hoc OS analysis was performed for the HARMONi study whereby the Western patients were followed for a longer period of time (Asian patients were locked at the time of the primary analysis). In this analysis that included longer-term follow-up of Western patients (median follow-up time of Western patients of 13.7 months), a hazard ratio consistent with the primary analysis was observed with an improved nominal p-value (HR=0.78; 95% CI: 0.62 – 0.98; nominal p=0.0332). Median OS for this analysis remained the same in both arms as was observed in the primary analysis. Median OS in Western patients receiving ivonescimab was 17.0 months compared to 14.0 months for those receiving placebo (HR=0.84); median OS in North American patients, specifically, had not yet been reached in the ivonescimab arm compared to 14.0 months in the placebo arm (HR=0.70). The hazard ratios for Western patients in totality, as well as patients from the North American and European regions individually, improved from the primary OS analysis to the analysis with longer-term follow-up of Western patients. Consistent benefit was observed across pre-defined subgroups.

The dual primary endpoints were allocated separate alpha levels and tested individually. The alpha was recycled from the PFS to the OS analysis upon the successful achievement of the PFS endpoint.

Based on the results of the HARMONi clinical trial, we submitted a BLA in the fourth quarter of 2025 to seek approval for ivonescimab plus chemotherapy for this proposed indication. The positive results of the multiregional Phase III study are detailed further under "Product Pipeline" below. As previously disclosed, the FDA noted that a statistically significant overall survival benefit is necessary to support marketing authorization in this setting. After careful consideration of the safety and efficacy profile of the current FDA-approved options for patients in this setting, the positive results of the Phase III multiregional study, including regional consistency, as well as discussions with key opinion leaders and those physicians who have administered ivonescimab to patients in a clinical study setting, we believe that the safety and efficacy data generated in the HARMONi study demonstrates that the ivonescimab regimen offers a potential treatment option for patients impacted by EGFR-mutant NSCLC in this setting with a favorable benefit-risk profile despite the lack of a statistically significant overall survival benefit. Summit announced in January 2026 that the FDA accepted for filing the BLA, seeking approval for ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy for this proposed indication. The FDA noted it intends to perform a complete review of the accepted and filed BLA, including planned mid-cycle and wrap-up meetings, and, subject to major deficiencies not being identified during the FDA's review, proposed labeling, prior to the Prescription Drug User Fee Act goal action date of November 14, 2026.

Akeso Collaboration and License Agreement



Pursuant to the License Agreement with Akeso, the Company received the rights to develop and commercialize ivonescimab in the United States, Canada, Europe, Japan, Latin America, Middle East and Africa regions (collectively, the "Licensed Territory"). Akeso retained development and commercialization rights for the rest of the world excluding the Licensed Territory. In exchange for these rights, Summit made an upfront payment during the first quarter of 2023 comprised of $474.9 million cash and the issuance of 10 million shares of Company common stock in lieu of $25.1 million cash pursuant to a share transfer agreement. Furthermore, on June 3, 2024, the Company entered into an amendment to the License Agreement with Akeso to expand its territories covered under the License Agreement to also include the Latin America, Middle East and Africa regions for which Summit paid an upfront payment of $15.0 million cash in the third quarter of 2024. In addition, the Company may also pay Akeso (a) milestone payments tied to achievement of regulatory approval of ivonescimab with various regulatory authorities in the Licensed Territory, (b) milestone payments tied to achievement of annual revenue from ivonescimab in the Licensed Territory and (c) royalty payments equal to low-double-digit percentage of annual revenues from ivonescimab in the Licensed Territory. In connection with the License Agreement, the Company agreed to purchase a certain portion of drug substance and/or drug product for clinical and commercial supply and to enter into a supply agreement with Akeso.

Pursuant to the terms of the License Agreement, Summit has final decision-making authority with respect to all of its commercialization activities including, but not limited to, commercial strategy, pricing and reimbursement in the Licensed Territory.

Summit has not assumed any liabilities (including contingent liabilities), nor acquired any physical assets or trade names, or hired or acquired any employees from Akeso in connection with the License Agreement.

Ivonescimab

Ivonescimab is a novel potential first-in-class PD-1 / VEGF-A bispecific antibody, believed to be the most advanced in clinical development in the Licensed Territory. Engineered with Akeso's unique Tetrabody technology, ivonescimab, as a single molecule, blocks programmed cell death protein 1 ("PD-1") from binding to PD-L1 and PD-L2, and blocks the protein vascular endothelial growth factor-A ("VEGF") from binding to VEGF receptors. Ivonescimab is designed to potentially allow cooperative binding of the intended targets, such that the binding of VEGF increases the binding affinity of PD-1. In view of the co-expression of VEGF and PD-1 in the tumor micro-environment ("TME"), ivonescimab may block these two pathways more effectively and enhance the antitumor activity, as compared to combination therapy through what is believed to be a unique cooperative binding mechanism.

This could differentiate ivonescimab as there is potentially higher expression (presence) of both PD-1 and VEGF in tumor tissue and the TME as compared to normal tissue in the body. As shown in Akeso's in-vitro studies, ivonescimab's tetravalent structure (four binding sites) enables higher avidity (accumulated strength of multiple binding interactions) in the TME with over 10-fold increased binding affinity to PD-1 in the presence of VEGF. This tetravalent structure, the intentional novel design of the molecule, and bringing these two targets into a single bispecific antibody with cooperative binding qualities has the potential to direct ivonescimab to the tumor tissue versus healthy tissue. The intent of this design is to improve upon previously established efficacy thresholds, in addition to side effects and safety profiles associated with these targets.

Ivonescimab is currently being developed by both Akeso and the Company in multiple Phase III clinical trials. Over 4,000 patients have been treated with ivonescimab in clinical studies globally, and over 60,000 patients when considering those treated in a commercial setting in China as noted by Akeso.

HARMONi

HARMONi study (NCT05184712) is a Phase III, multi-regional, potentially registration-enabling clinical trial, which enrolled patients in North America, Europe, and China. Patients enrolled in China were also enrolled as a part of the HARMONi-A study. We completed enrollment of patients in North America and Europe in October 2024. The two primary endpoints for this study are PFS and OS, and the study compares ivonescimab plus platinum-based doublet chemotherapy versus placebo plus platinum-based doublet chemotherapy in patients with advanced or metastatic EGFR-mutated NSCLC whose tumors have progressed following treatment with a third generation EGFR-TKI.

In May 2025, we announced topline results from our multiregional, double-blinded, placebo-controlled, Phase III study HARMONi. At the prespecified primary data analysis, ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy demonstrated a statistically significant improvement in PFS, the magnitude of which we believe to be clinically meaningful, with a hazard ratio of 0.52 (95% CI: 0.41 – 0.66; p<0.00001) compared to placebo in combination with chemotherapy, median PFS was 6.8 months for those patients receiving ivonescimab plus chemotherapy compared to 4.4 months for those receiving chemotherapy. PFS was assessed by BICR.

We believe the PFS hazard ratio that was observed in both Asian and Western sub-populations to be clinically meaningful. The primary analysis demonstrated the consistency of the magnitude of the PFS benefit between patients randomized in Asia and Western territories, as well as the consistency in a single-region study (HARMONi-A) with this multiregional study.

In a longer-term follow-up of PFS, which included all Western patients and at least six months of follow-up time for all patients, ivonescimab plus chemotherapy demonstrated a consistent improvement in PFS with an observed HR of 0.57 (95% CI: 0.46 – 0.71). With the longer-term follow-up analysis, consistency of the magnitude of PFS benefit was demonstrated between patients randomized in Asia and Western patients when measured by hazard ratio. This longer-term follow-up analysis of PFS was performed at the time of the primary OS analysis.

Ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy showed a positive trend in OS in the primary analysis without achieving a statistically significant benefit with a hazard ratio of 0.79 (95% CI: 0.62 – 1.01; p=0.057). This trend provides further support for its use in 2L+ EGFRm NSCLC, a setting where high unmet need continues to exist with limited approved options in the United States and other western territories. Currently, there are no FDA-approved regimens that have demonstrated a statistically significant overall survival benefit in this patient setting. Both Asian and North American patients demonstrated a positive trend in overall survival. The results of the primary analysis in this multiregional study were consistent with that of the single-region randomized Phase III HARMONi-A study, which demonstrated a statistically significant OS benefit hazard ratio of 0.74 in the primary OS analysis in a similar patient population.

In September 2025, an additional ad hoc OS analysis was performed for the HARMONi study whereby the Western patients were followed for a longer period of time (Asian patients were locked at the time of the primary analysis). In this analysis that included longer-term follow-up of Western patients (median follow-up time of Western patients of 13.7 months), a hazard ratio consistent with the primary analysis was observed with an improved nominal p-value (HR=0.78; 95% CI: 0.62 – 0.98; nominal p=0.0332). Median OS for this analysis remained the same in both arms as was observed in the primary analysis. Median OS in Western patients receiving ivonescimab was 17.0 months compared to 14.0 months for those receiving placebo (HR=0.84); median OS in North American patients, specifically, had not yet been reached in the ivonescimab arm compared to 14.0 months in the placebo arm (HR=0.70). The hazard ratios for Western patients in totality, as well as patients from the North American and European regions individually, improved from the primary OS analysis to the analysis with longer-term follow-up of Western patients. Consistent benefit was observed across pre-defined subgroups.

The dual primary endpoints were allocated separate alpha levels and tested individually. The alpha was recycled from the PFS to the OS analysis upon the successful achievement of the PFS endpoint.

The safety profile of ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy was acceptable and manageable in the context of the observed clinical benefit with comparable rates of discontinuation and death between both arms. There were 16 patients (7.3%) who discontinued ivonescimab due to treatment-related adverse events ("TRAEs") compared to 11 patients (5.0%) who discontinued placebo due to TRAEs. There were four patients (1.8%) in the ivonescimab plus chemotherapy arm and five patients (2.3%) in the chemotherapy alone arm who died as a result of TRAEs. In the ivonescimab plus chemotherapy arm, 50.0% of patients experienced Grade 3 or higher TRAEs compared to 42.2% in the chemotherapy arm. Of note, 0.9% of patients in the ivonescimab plus chemotherapy arm experienced Grade 3 or higher treatment-related hemorrhagic (bleeding) events. Based on the results of the HARMONi clinical trial, Summit submitted a BLA in the fourth quarter of 2025 in order to seek approval for ivonescimab plus chemotherapy in this setting. Summit announced in January 2026 that the FDA accepted for filing the BLA, seeking approval for ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy for this proposed indication. The FDA noted it intends to perform a complete review of the accepted and filed BLA, including planned mid-cycle and wrap-up meetings, and, subject to major deficiencies not being identified during the FDA's review, proposed labeling, prior to the Prescription Drug User Fee Act goal action date of November 14, 2026.

HARMONi-3 study (NCT05899608) is a Phase III, multi-regional, potentially registration-enabling clinical trial for which we initiated sites in North America, China and Europe. The two primary endpoints for this study are PFS and OS, and the study compares ivonescimab plus platinum-based doublet chemotherapy versus pembrolizumab plus platinum-based doublet chemotherapy in first-line patients with metastatic squamous NSCLC and non-squamous NSCLC. Enrollment is ongoing in all regions for patients with squamous and non-squamous tumors.

In October 2025, the Company announced a protocol amendment to separate the statistical analysis of the primary endpoints by histology. Therefore, there will be separate analyses conducted to evaluate ivonescimab plus chemotherapy compared to pembrolizumab plus chemotherapy in patients with squamous NSCLC and in patients with non-squamous NSCLC.

In order to sufficiently power for both primary endpoints (PFS and OS) in both cohorts of this study, Summit plans to enroll approximately 600 patients with squamous NSCLC and 1,000 patients with non-squamous NSCLC.

As a result of having two separate intention-to-treat analyses within the HARMONi-3 study, the analyses for squamous tumors and non-squamous tumors may be conducted at separate times, as each analysis will be conducted upon the prespecified numbers of events being reached in the separate cohorts.

Screening for patient enrollment has been completed for the planned patient count for the squamous cohort of HARMONi-3 in the first quarter of 2026. For the squamous cohort, we amended the study's statistical analysis plan and expect to conduct an interim analysis for PFS in the second quarter of 2026. We anticipate that OS will be immature at the time of the interim PFS analysis. The Company expects to reach the prespecified number of events for the final PFS analysis for this cohort, if required, in the second half of 2026. An interim analysis for OS may be conducted at a similar time.

Enrollment in the non-squamous cohort of HARMONi-3 is expected to complete in the second half of 2026. The Company expects to perform the final PFS analysis for this cohort in the first half of 2027. The Company will determine if an interim PFS analysis will be conducted for the study in the second half of 2026. Interim analyses for OS are planned to be conducted, based upon reaching prespecified numbers of events.

HARMONi-7

Based on the results of HARMONi-2, the Company is enrolling in the HARMONi-7 study (NCT06767514). HARMONi-7 is a multi-regional, potentially registration-enabling Phase III clinical trial that will compare ivonescimab monotherapy to pembrolizumab monotherapy in patients with metastatic squamous and non-squamous NSCLC whose tumors have high PD-L1 expression. The sample size for this study is currently planned to have an estimated 780 patients with two primary endpoints, PFS and OS.

HARMONi-GI3

In the fourth quarter of 2025, the Company activated trial sites and began enrolling patients in HARMONi-GI3, a Phase III, multi-regional, clinical trial evaluating ivonescimab plus chemotherapy compared to bevacizumab plus chemotherapy as first line therapy in patients with unresectable metastatic CRC. The primary endpoint for this study is PFS and Summit plans to enroll approximately 600 patients.

Non-Sponsored Phase III Clinical Studies (Summit's License Territories)

In the first quarter of 2026, the Company announced that GORTEC, a cooperative group dedicated to Head and Neck Oncology, will begin to activate clinical trial sites in the Phase III clinical study, ILLUMINE (NCT07264075), which will evaluate ivonescimab monotherapy and ivonescimab in combination with ligufalimab, Akeso's proprietary anti-CD47 monoclonal antibody, against monotherapy pembrolizumab in a three-arm study. The study is intended to be conducted in multiple countries in Europe and in China; Summit will consider the expansion of this study into the United States. The primary endpoint for the study is OS. The study, currently planned to enroll 780 patients with recurrent or metastatic PD-L1 positive head and neck squamous cell carcinoma (HNSCC), is expected to begin enrollment in the second quarter of 2026.
Data supporting this study was previously presented at ESMO 2024, whereby ivonescimab in combination with ligufalimab demonstrated an objective response rate of 60% in 20 patients with a median PFS of 7.1 months after a median follow-up time of 4.1 months; OS was not mature at the time of this analysis. At the time of data cut-off for this presentation, no patients receiving ivonescimab plus ligufalimab permanently discontinued drug treatment due to treatment-related adverse events.

Potential Future Clinical Development and Additional Current Activities

Summit is conducting its current clinical trials and plans to design and conduct additional clinical trial activities for ivonescimab within its Licensed Territory to support and submit relevant regulatory filings. We intend to explore further clinical development of ivonescimab in solid tumor settings outside of metastatic NSCLC and metastatic CRC, our current areas of focus in our Phase III clinical trials.

In the fourth quarter of 2023, we began collaborating with multiple institutions globally and opened our investigator- sponsored trials program across several disease areas. We continued to expand this program in 2024 and 2025 in order to discover additional opportunities for ivonescimab, including in several tumors outside of our current development plan.

We plan to review the data generated from these clinical trials as well as Akeso-sponsored clinical trials as a part of our consideration for advancing our clinical development pipeline for ivonescimab in the Licensed Territory.

Additional Ivonescimab Development: Akeso-Sponsored Trials

Akeso is currently developing ivonescimab in NSCLC and other solid tumor settings. Ivonescimab was approved by the National Medical Products Administration ("NMPA") in May 2024 in China in combination with chemotherapy for patients with EGFR-mutated NSCLC whose tumors have progressed following an EGFR-TKI based on the results of the HARMONi-A clinical trial. Subsequently, ivonescimab was approved by the NMPA in April 2025 as monotherapy based on the results of the HARMONi-2 study in first-line, PD-L1 positive NSCLC. Also in October 2025, Akeso announced the positive data for the HARMONi-6 study in first-line squamous NSCLC for ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy. Further details related to these three trials, in addition to other Phase II clinical data, are described further below. Akeso is currently conducting Phase III clinical trials in combination with chemotherapy in first-line biliary tract cancer ("HARMONi-GI1"), in first-line advanced PD-L1 low or negative triple-negative breast cancer ("TNBC") ("HARMONi-BC1"), in first-line advanced microsatellite stable CRC ("HARMONi-GI6") and in NSCLC for patients whose tumors have progressed following PD-(L)1 inhibitor based therapy ("HARMONi-8A"), as well as in combination with ligufalimab, a proprietary Akeso-owned investigational CD-47 monoclonal antibody, in first-line recurrent / metastatic PD-L1 positive head-and-neck cancer ("HARMONi-HN1") and in combination with ligufalimab plus chemotherapy in first-line advanced pancreatic cancer ("HARMONi-GI2"). In addition, Akeso is conducting a Phase 3 study with ivonescimab after consolidation chemotherapy and radiotherapy in the limited stage small cell lung cancer ("SCLC") setting (HARMONi-9).

HARMONi-A

Based on data published by Akeso at the American Society of Clinical Oncology ("ASCO 2024") and in a publication in the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) in the HARMONi-A study, in a single-region (China), randomized, double-blinded Phase III study in patients with NSCLC who have progressed following an EGFR-TKI, ivonescimab achieved its primary endpoint of PFS when combined with doublet chemotherapy (pemetrexed and carboplatin). Patients experienced a 54% reduction in disease progression or death as compared to placebo plus doublet-chemotherapy (HR: 0.46, 95% CI: 0.34 - 0.62; p<0.001). In a pre-specified subgroup analysis of patients who received a previous third-generation TKI, a hazard ratio of 0.48 was observed. At the primary OS analysis of HARMONi-A, ivonescimab achieved a hazard ratio of 0.74 (95% CI: 0.58, 0.95, p=0.019), demonstrating a statistically significant and clinically meaningful OS benefit, which was presented in November 2025 at the 2025 Annual Meeting for the Society for Immunotherapy for Cancer (SITC 2025). Ivonescimab demonstrated an acceptable and manageable safety profile, which was consistent with previous studies. There were nine patients (5.6%) who discontinued ivonescimab plus chemotherapy due to TRAEs compared to four patients (2.5%) who discontinued chemotherapy plus placebo due to TRAEs. No TRAEs resulted in the death of a patient in either arm in this Phase III study. Full results were published in JAMA (Fang et al. 2024).

After announcing positive qualitative results on May 30, 2024 for the HARMONi-2 trial, also referred to as AK112-303, a randomized, single-region (China) Phase III study sponsored by Akeso, quantitative data was presented on September 8, 2024 from the primary analysis as part of the Presidential Symposium at the International Association for the Study of Lung Cancer's ("IASLC") 2024 World Conference on Lung Cancer ("WCLC 2024"). The HARMONi-2 presentation evaluated monotherapy ivonescimab compared to monotherapy pembrolizumab in patients with locally advanced or metastatic NSCLC whose tumors have positive PD-L1 expression. HARMONi-2 is a single region, multi-center, double-blinded Phase III study conducted in China sponsored by Akeso, with all relevant data exclusively generated, managed, and analyzed by Akeso.

In the HARMONi-2 primary analysis, ivonescimab monotherapy demonstrated a statistically significant improvement in the trial's primary endpoint, PFS by Independent Radiologic Review Committee ("IRRC"), when compared to monotherapy pembrolizumab, achieving a hazard ratio of 0.51 (95% CI: 0.38, 0.69; p<0.0001). A clinically meaningful benefit was demonstrated across clinical subgroups, including patients with tumors with high PD-L1 expression. OS data was not yet mature at the time of the data cutoff of the primary PFS analysis.

Ivonescimab demonstrated an acceptable and manageable safety profile, which was consistent with previous studies. There were three patients (1.5%) who discontinued ivonescimab due to TRAEs compared to six patients (3.0%) who discontinued pembrolizumab due to TRAEs. There was one patient in the ivonescimab arm and two patients in the pembrolizumab arm who died as a result of TRAEs in this Phase III study. Full results were published in Lancet (Xiong et al. 2025).

On April 25, 2025, Akeso announced that ivonescimab was approved in China by the NMPA for a second indication based on the results of the HARMONi-2 trial. As a part of the review of the supplemental marketing application submitted by Akeso seeking a label expansion of ivonescimab in China, the NMPA requested that Akeso perform an interim analysis of OS. Akeso announced that the results of this interim OS analysis included a clinically meaningful hazard ratio of 0.777. The analysis was conducted at 39% data maturity, with a nominal alpha level of 0.0001 that had not reached statistical significance.

After announcing positive qualitative results for the HARMONi-6 trial, on April 23, 2025, detailed clinical trial results of the study were presented as part of the Presidential Symposium at the European Society for Medical Oncology's 2025 Congress ("ESMO 2025"). The HARMONi-6 study evaluated ivonescimab in combination with platinum-based chemotherapy compared to tislelizumab (a PD-1 inhibitor) in combination with platinum-based chemotherapy in patients with previously untreated advanced NSCLC irrespective of PD-L1 expression. HARMONi-6, also referred to as AK112-306, is a single region, multi-center, double-blinded Phase III study conducted in China sponsored by Akeso, with all relevant data exclusively generated, managed, and analyzed by Akeso.

In the HARMONi-6 planned PFS interim analysis, ivonescimab in combination with chemotherapy demonstrated a statistically significant improvement in the primary endpoint, PFS, by IRRC, when compared to tislelizumab in combination with chemotherapy, achieving a hazard ratio of 0.60 (95% CI: 0.46, 0.78; p<0.0001). A clinically meaningful benefit was demonstrated across clinical subgroups, including those with either PD-L1 negative or positive expression, as well as high-risk patients. OS data was not yet mature at the time of the data cutoff and is planned to be evaluated in the future.

Ivonescimab demonstrated an acceptable and manageable safety profile in the HARMONi-6 study, which was consistent with previous Phase III studies conducted studying ivonescimab. Nine patients (3.4%) discontinued ivonescimab plus chemotherapy due to TRAEs compared to 11 patients (4.2%) receiving tislelizumab plus chemotherapy due to TRAEs. There were eight patients in the ivonescimab plus chemotherapy arm and 10 patients in the tislelizumab plus chemotherapy arm who died as a result of TRAEs in this Phase III study. Results were published in Lancet (Chen et al. 2025)

Additional Phase II Data Sets

In addition to the HARMONi-2 data announced at WCLC 2024, Akeso also announced Phase II trial results from AK112-205, for patients with Stage II or III resectable NSCLC. Further, the Company announced data for ivonescimab was presented as a part of the 2024 European Society for Medical Oncology Annual Congress ("ESMO 2024") featuring updated Phase II ivonescimab data in advanced TNBC, for which subsequent updates to the data have been presented thereafter, recurrent / metastatic head and neck squamous cell carcinoma, and metastatic microsatellite-stable CRC. At ASCO 2024, Akeso presented ivonescimab Phase II data in biliary-tract cancer. Earlier, at the 2024 European Lung Cancer Conference, Akeso announced updated data from AK112-201 (Cohort 1), a Phase II study for patients with first-line advanced NSCLC. Each trial from which the data was generated was a multi-center Phase II study conducted in China sponsored by Akeso, with data generated and analyzed by Akeso.

Competition

The markets for oncology pharmaceuticals, in which we compete, are characterized by significant scientific innovation, regulatory oversight and intense competition. The key competitive factors affecting the success of our product candidates are likely to be their efficacy, safety, convenience, price and availability of coverage and reimbursement from government and other third-party payors.

Many of our competitors may have significantly greater financial resources and expertise in research and development, manufacturing, preclinical testing, conducting clinical trials, obtaining regulatory approvals, and marketing approved products than we do. Smaller or early-stage companies may also prove to be significant competitors, particularly through collaborative arrangements with large and established companies. These competitors also compete with us in recruiting and retaining qualified scientific and management personnel and establishing clinical trial sites and patient registration for clinical trials, as well as in acquiring technologies complementary to, or necessary for, our programs.

Our commercial opportunity could be reduced or eliminated if our competitors develop and commercialize products that are safer, more effective, have fewer or less severe side effects, are more convenient, or are less expensive than any products that we may develop. Our competitors also may obtain marketing approvals for their products more rapidly than we obtain approval for ours giving them significant first movers advantage. Our commercial opportunity could also be reduced or eliminated if the results of our clinical trials, both safety and efficacy, combined with other factors, do not lead to significant adoption of our product.

The Company is developing ivonescimab in NSCLC and CRC, specifically conducting Phase III clinical trials in the following proposed indications:

(a) ivonescimab combined with chemotherapy in patients with EGFR-mutated, locally advanced or metastatic non-squamous NSCLC who were previously treated with a third-generation EGFR-TKI ("HARMONi");

(b) ivonescimab combined with chemotherapy in patients with first-line metastatic NSCLC (including separate statistical analyses planned for patients with squamous NSCLC and non-squamous NSCLC) ("HARMONi-3");

(c) ivonescimab monotherapy in patients with first-line metastatic NSCLC whose tumors have high PD-L1 expression ("HARMONi-7"), and

(d) ivonescimab combined with chemotherapy in patients with first-line unresectable metastatic CRC ("HARMONi-GI3").

Ivonescimab is also being investigated in multiple Phase II and Phase III clinical trials in China. We plan to review the data generated from these clinical trials as well as other data generated in studies with ivonescimab as a part of our consideration for advancing our clinical development pipeline for ivonescimab in the Licensed Territory.

There are no known PD-1-based bispecific antibodies currently approved by the FDA, the European Medicines Agency ("EMA"), or Japan's Pharmaceuticals and Medical Devices Agency ("PMDA"). There are currently no known approved PD-1 / VEGF bispecific antibodies that are further advanced in clinical trial development or approved in the territories in which we have licensed ivonescimab. However, there are several PD-(L)1/VEGF(R2) bispecific antibodies in development around the world, including multiple that are currently in development or with planned development globally. These include, but are not limited to pumitamig (BNT327), which is owned by BioNTech SE and being developed in a collaboration with Bristol Myers Squibb Co. since June 2025, which has begun conducting Phase III clinical studies globally, PF-4404 (SSGJ-707 / PF-08634404), which was licensed globally, ex-China by Pfizer Inc. in July 2025, LM-299, which was licensed globally by Merck & Co., Inc. in November 2024, and RC148, which was licensed outside of Greater China by AbbVie Inc. in January 2026.

Our current clinical development plan in the Licensed Territory has focused primarily on NSCLC. Several pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies have established themselves in the market for the treatment of NSCLC, and several additional companies are developing products for the treatment of NSCLC. Currently, the most commonly used treatments for first-line NSCLC without genomic alterations are several immuno-oncology drugs and chemotherapies, administered either individually as monotherapy, in combination with each other, or in combination with other approved therapeutics. In addition to various chemotherapies, several immunotherapies have been approved by the FDA for these treatments, including, but not limited to pembrolizumab, atezolizumab, nivolumab, durvalumab, cemiplimab and ipilimumab. There are anti-angiogenic therapies which are approved for the treatment of certain lung cancers, including bevacizumab in front-line non-squamous NSCLC, as well as ramucirumab for patients who have progressed after platinum-based chemotherapy. The proposed indications for ivonescimab in the HARMONi-3 and HARMONi-7 clinical trial settings in first-line NSCLC may face competition from clinical candidates such as novel immunotherapy targets including various clinical candidates targeting T-cell immunoreceptors with Ig and ITIM domains (TIGIT) and lymphocyte activation gene 3 (LAG-3) each of which have various developers for different candidates as either monoclonal antibodies or multispecific antibodies, a bispecific antibody, volrustomig (AstraZeneca), rilvegostomig (AstraZeneca) and antibody drug conjugates (ADCs) with novel targets such as datopotamab deruxetecan (AstraZeneca and Daiichi Sankyo), sacituzumab tirumotecan (Merck), and sigvotatug vedotin (Pfizer), each having announced, are currently enrolling in, or having completed enrollment in Phase III clinical trials. Phase III clinical trials with pumitamig and PF'4404 are being conducted or intentions to conduct have been announced by their respective sponsors in first-line NSCLC in combination with chemotherapy, similar to the setting in which HARMONi-3 is currently being conducted.

For those patients with advanced NSCLC with EGFR mutations, there are several targeted therapies that have also been approved in the front-line setting, including, but not limited to, osimertinib (AstraZeneca) with or without chemotherapy and amivantamab and lazertinib (both from Johnson & Johnson). The proposed indication for ivonescimab in the HARMONi clinical trial setting, post third-generation EGFR-TKIs such as osimertinib or lazertinib, may face competition from amivantamab plus chemotherapy and datopotamab deruxetecan (AstraZeneca and Daiichi Sankyo), which are fully approved post TKI and have an accelerated approval post TKI and post chemotherapy, respectively. In addition, investigational agents such as sacituzumab tirumotecan (Merck), izalontamab brengitecan (BMS), telisotuzumab adizutecan (AbbVie) and savolitinib (AstraZeneca) are currently being investigated in the post-TKI setting in those patients with advanced EGFR mutation positive NSCLC.

Beyond NSCLC, we are currently conducting the Phase III study for patients with first line metastatic unresectable CRC, HARMONi-GI3. For those patients with metastatic unresectable CRC whose tumors are not designated as mismatch repair deficient or have a specific treatable driver mutation (e.g., BRAF) in the first-line setting, there are limited treatment options beyond the currently approved regimens of bevacizumab plus chemotherapy, as well as cetuximab plus chemotherapy for a subset of these patients. Intentions to conduct Phase III clinical trials with pumitamig and PF'4404 have been announced by their respective sponsors in first-line metastatic unresectable CRC, similar to the setting in which HARMONi-GI3 is currently being conducted. In addition, novel agents such as amivantamab plus chemotherapy are currently being investigated in a subset of this setting.

Should ivonescimab ultimately receive marketing authorization in certain jurisdictions within the Licensed Territory, the marketing authorization holder for some of the approved agents may lose exclusive rights to these agents, increasing competition from biosimilar agents or generic compounds.

As we intend to explore further clinical development of ivonescimab in solid tumor settings outside of metastatic NSCLC and metastatic CRC, our current area of focus in our Phase III clinical trials, we will encounter significant competition in the development of ivonescimab in each of these potential settings.

Manufacturing

We do not own or operate, and currently have no plans to own manufacturing facilities for the production of clinical or commercial quantities of ivonescimab. We currently rely, and expect to continue to rely, on third parties for the manufacture of our product candidates and any products that we may develop.

Ivonescimab

In connection with the License Agreement, we agreed to purchase a certain portion of drug substance and/or drug product for clinical and commercial use and to enter into a supply agreement with Akeso. Until such time that we are able to establish second source suppliers or are able to manufacture the drug substance independently, Akeso shall be solely responsible for the manufacture of the drug substance for use in the Licensed Territory. We continue to make progress in transferring relevant

Response to Disciplinary Question #6 :

Alvogen, Inc. answered "yes" because its affiliated company, Almatica Pharma, LLC, was under investigation by the State of Alaska Board of Pharmacy ("Alaska Board") with Case No. 2023-000527 and by Oregon Board of Pharmacy ("Oregon Board") with Case No. 2024-0071, due to Almatica' s alleged failure to disclose to both the Alaska Board and Oregon Board previous disciplinary actions imposed by the Alabama Board of Pharmacy. On November 16, 2023, the Alaska Board of Pharmacy ordered an Imposition of Civil Fine on Almatica which resolved the case. On May 8, 2024, The Oregon Board entered a Consent Order with Almatica resolving that case. Copies of those orders are attached hereto.

If you intend to have a proprietary name for this product, the name and its use in the labeling must conform to the specifications under 21 CFR 201.10 and 201.15. We recommend that you submit a request for a proposed proprietary name review. (See the guidance for industry Contents of a Complete Submission for the Evaluation of Proprietary Names. and PDUFA Reauthorization Performance Goals and Procedures Fiscal Years 2018 through 2022.)

REQUIRED PEDIATRIC ASSESSMENTS

Under the Pediatric Research Equity Act (PREA) (21 U.S.C. 355c), all applications for new active ingredients (which includes new salts and new fixed combinations), new indications, new dosage forms, new dosing regimens, or new routes of administration are required to contain an assessment of the safety and effectiveness of the product for the claimed indication in pediatric patients unless this requirement is waived, deferred, or inapplicable.

Because this drug product for this indication has an orphan drug designation, you are exempt from this requirement.

POSTMARKETING REQUIREMENTS UNDER 505(o)

Section 505(o)(3) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FDCA) authorizes FDA to require holders of approved drug and biological product applications to conduct postmarketing studies and clinical trials for certain purposes, if FDA makes certain findings required by the statute.

We have determined that an analysis of spontaneous postmarketing adverse events reported under subsection 505(k)(1) of the FDCA will not be sufficient to assess the nonclinical signal of serious risk of pregnancy and maternal complications as well as adverse effects on the fetus, neonate, and infant following exposure to Artesunate for Injection in pregnant women. We have also determined that an analysis of spontaneous postmarketing adverse events reported under subsection 505(k)(1) of the FDCA will not be sufficient to assess the signals of serious risk of development of resistance to artesunate and dihydroartemisinin (DHA), adverse effects on female fertility, and in vivo genotoxicity.

Furthermore, the active postmarket risk identification and analysis system as available under section 505(k)(3) of the FDCA will not be sufficient to assess these serious risks.

Therefore, based on appropriate scientific data, FDA has determined that you are required to conduct the following studies:

3851-1 Conduct a single-arm descriptive international study collecting data in women exposed to IV artesunate during pregnancy to assess risk of pregnancy and maternal complications and adverse effects on the fetus, neonate, and infant. Infant outcomes will be assessed through at least the first year of life. The study will collect information for a minimum of 7 years.

FDA considers the term final to mean that the applicant has submitted a protocol, the FDA review team has sent comments to the applicant, and the protocol has been revised as needed to meet the goal of the study or clinical trial.[3]

Submit clinical protocol(s) to your IND with a cross-reference letter to this NDA. Submit nonclinical and chemistry, manufacturing, and controls protocols and all final report(s) to your NDA. Prominently identify the submission with the following wording in bold capital letters at the top of the first page of the submission, as appropriate: Required Postmarketing Protocol Under 505(o), Required Postmarketing Final Report Under 505(o), Required Postmarketing Correspondence Under 505(o).

Submitting the protocols for the required postmarketing observational studies to your IND is for purposes of administrative tracking only. These studies do not constitute clinical investigations pursuant to 21 CFR 312.3(b) and therefore are not subject to the IND requirements under 21 CFR part 312 or FDA's regulations under 21 CFR parts 50 (Protection of Human Subjects) and 56 (Institutional Review Boards).

Section 505(o)(3)(E)(ii) of the FDCA requires you to report periodically on the status of any study or clinical trial required under this section. This section also requires you to periodically report to FDA on the status of any study or clinical trial otherwise undertaken to investigate a safety issue. Section 506B of the FDCA, as well as 21 CFR 314.81(b)(2)(vii)] requires you to report annually on the status of any postmarketing commitments or required studies or clinical trials.

FDA will consider the submission of your annual report under section 506B and 21 CFR 314.81(b)(2)(vii) to satisfy the periodic reporting requirement under section 505(o)(3)(E)(ii) provided that you include the elements listed in 505(o) and 21 CFR 314.81(b)(2)(vii). We remind you that to comply with 505(o), your annual report must also include a report on the status of any study or clinical trial otherwise undertaken to investigate a safety issue. Failure to submit an annual report for studies or clinical trials required under 505(o) on the date required will be considered a violation of FDCA section 505(o)(3)(E)(ii) and could result in enforcement action.
