Home State Licensure Verification Statement

To Whom It May Concern:

Milkmoms, Inc. is a durable medical equipment supplier physically located in the State of Minnesota.

Milkmoms, Inc. operates in compliance with all applicable licensing requirements in its home state of Minnesota. Minnesota does not require a durable medical equipment supplier whose operations are limited to the furnishing of medical devices and supplies, including personal-use electric breast pumps (HCPCS E0603), to obtain a separate state durable medical equipment supplier license.

Milkmoms, Inc. is not licensed as a pharmacy, drug wholesaler, manufacturer, or other entity regulated by the Minnesota Board of Pharmacy because the company does not manufacture, distribute, or dispense prescription drugs. The company furnishes FDA-cleared medical devices and supplies directly to patients.

As supporting documentation, we have attached a copy of the applicable Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) published on the State of Minnesota website, which provides information regarding Minnesota's licensing requirements for durable medical equipment suppliers.

Please accept this statement and the attached State of Minnesota documentation as verification of our home-state licensure status.

Should additional information or documentation regarding our home-state licensing status be required, please contact us.

Sincerely,

Denzel Uram
Vice President
Milkmoms, Inc.

Does the Board have license verification on the internet?

Yes!

ONLINE VERIFICATION (https://pha.hlb.state.mn.us/#/onlineEntitySearch)

Does the Minnesota Board of Pharmacy license or register medical device or medical supply manufacturers, wholesale distributors, supplies or retailers?

The Board does not license or register companies that exclusively manufacture, distribute, supply or sell medical devices or supplies. If a company that handles medical devices or supplies also manufactures or distributes drugs, it must be licensed as a drug manufacturer or drug wholesaler. Exception if the drug is coated on or embedded in the device (e.g. drug-coated stents) and the resultant product is approved by the FDA as a device, the company does not have to be licensed as a manufacturer or wholesale distributor.

Miscellaneous

I received a telephone call from an individual claiming to work for the Board of Pharmacy or the Drug Enforcement Administration, but I think it was a scam. What information and advice can the Board provide?

For information about this, please click here (/boards/assets/Scams%20FAQ%20February%202021_tcm21-469384.pdf).

Can I purchase a mailing list of licensees?

Yes. Contact Minnesota's Bookstore by phone at 651-201-3206 or fax at 651-215-5733. Please visit their website for more details: Minnesota's Bookstore (https://mn.gov/admin/bookstore/)

What do I need to do for my pharmacy to begin collecting discarded pharmaceuticals?

The answer can be found here. (https://www.pca.state.mn.us/sites/default/files/w-hhw2-07.pdf)

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Annual Report on Form 10-K (this "Annual Report") contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. We intend such forward-looking statements to be covered by the safe harbor provisions for forward-looking statements contained in Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Forward-looking statements include all statements that are not historical facts. Words such as "anticipate," "assume," "believe" "contemplate," "continue," "could," "estimate," "expect," "foreseeable," "intend," "may," "plan," "potentially," "predict," "project," "seek," "should," "will," or "would," or similar words or phrases that convey uncertainty of future events or outcomes, are intended to identify forward-looking statements in this Annual Report. These forward-looking statements relate to matters such as our industry, business strategy, costs, and costs savings, impacts of accounting standards and guidance, goals and expectations, market position, future operations, margins, profitability, capital expenditures, liquidity and capital resources, legal matters, trends, and other financial and operating information. The forward-looking statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to various risks, uncertainty, and changes in circumstances, many of which are beyond our control, that could cause actual results to differ materially. Although we believe that the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, level of activity, performance, or achievements. Factors that may cause actual results to differ from expected results include those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and Part II, "Item 7—Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations". The forward-looking statements included in this Annual Report speak only as of the date of this Annual Report or as of the date they are made, as applicable. Except as otherwise required by law, we disclaim any intent or obligation to update any "forward-looking statement" made in this Annual Report to reflect changed assumptions, the occurrence of unanticipated events, or changes to future operating results over time.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

CERTAIN DEFINITIONS

As used in this Annual Report, unless otherwise noted or the context requires otherwise, the following terms have the following meanings:

- "Class A Units" refers to the interests in Medline Holdings called "Class A Units" that were outstanding prior to the Reclassification. In connection with the Reclassification, (i) Class A Units held by Common Unitholders were converted into Common Units and (ii) Class A Units held by Exchanging Class A Unitholders were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock.

- "Common Units" refers to the new class of units of Medline Holdings created by the Reclassification and does not include Incentive Units.

- "Units" refers collectively to Common Units and Incentive Units.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

PART I

Item 1. Business

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

Our Prime Vendor Model

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008. Corrective Actions Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Come now Medline Industries, Inc. ("Respondent") and the Missouri Board of Pharmacy ("Board" or "Petitioner") and enter into this Settlement Agreement for the purpose of resolving the question of whether Respondent's license as a drug distributor will be subject to discipline.

Pursuant to the terms of § 536.060, RSMo (2000), the parties hereto waive the right to a hearing by the Administrative Hearing Commission of the State of Missouri and, additionally, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board under § 621.110, RSMo (2000), and stipulate and agree that a final disposition of this matter may be effectuated as described below.

Upon the approval and receipt of a change of location fee, the board shall issue a permit authorizing operation of a facility at the new location and the permit shall bear the same number as the previous license. However, the license remains valid if the facility address changes, but not the location, and an amended license will be issued without charge under these circumstances.

Based upon the foregoing, the parties mutually agree and stipulate that the following shall constitute the disciplinary order entered by the Board in this matter under the authority of §621.045.3, RSMo (2000):

1. Respondent's drug distributor license shall be placed on PROBATION for five (5) years pursuant to the provisions of Chapters 338 and 620, RSMo. During the period of probation, Respondent will be entitled to operate as a drug distributor pursuant to Chapter 338, RSMo provided Respondent adheres to the following terms of probation:

A. Respondent shall report to the Board, on a preprinted form supplied by the Board office, once every six (6) months, beginning six (6) months after this Order/Agreement becomes effective, stating truthfully whether or not it has complied with all terms and conditions of this disciplinary order.

B. Respondent shall pay all required fees for licensing to the Board and shall renew its license prior to October 31 for each licensing year.

C. Respondent shall comply with all provisions of Chapter 338, Chapter 195, and all applicable federal and state drug laws, rules and regulations and with all federal and state criminal laws. "State" here includes the State of Missouri and all other states and territories of the United States.

D. If, after disciplinary sanctions have been imposed, Respondent ceases to keep its Missouri license current, the period of unlicensed status shall not be deemed or taken as any part of the time of discipline so imposed.

E. The parties to this Order/Agreement understand that the Board of Pharmacy will maintain this Order/Agreement as an open record of the Board as provided in Chapters 338, 610 and 620, RSMo.

2. Upon the expiration of said discipline, Respondent's license as a drug distributor in Missouri shall be fully restored if all other requirements of law have been satisfied; provided, however, that in the event the Board determines that the Respondent has violated any term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, the Board may, in its discretion, after an evidentiary hearing, vacate and set aside the discipline imposed herein and may suspend, revoke, or otherwise lawfully discipline the Respondent.

3. No order shall be entered by the Board pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Settlement Agreement without notice and an opportunity for hearing before the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 536, RSMo.

4. If the Board determines that Respondent has violated a term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, which violation would also be actionable in a proceeding before the Administrative Hearing Commission or the circuit court, the Board may elect to pursue any lawful remedies or procedures afforded it and is not bound by this Settlement Agreement in its determination of appropriate legal actions concerning that violation. If any alleged violation of this Settlement Agreement occurred during the disciplinary period, the Board may choose to conduct a hearing before it either during the disciplinary period, or as soon thereafter as a hearing can be held to determine whether a violation occurred and, if so, it may impose further discipline. The Board retains jurisdiction to hold a hearing to determine if a violation of this Settlement Agreement has occurred.

5. The terms of this Settlement Agreement are contractual, legally enforceable, binding, and not merely recitals. Except as otherwise contained herein, neither this Settlement Agreement nor any of its provisions may be changed, waived, discharged, or terminated, except by an instrument in writing signed by the party against whom the enforcement of the change, waiver, discharge, or termination is sought.

6. Respondent hereby waives and releases the Board, its members and any of its employees, agents, or attorneys, including any former board members, employees, agents, and attorneys, of, or from, any liability, claim, actions, causes of action, fees, costs and expenses, and compensation, including, but not limited to, any claims for attorney's fees and expenses, including any claims pursuant to § 536.087, RSMo, or any claim arising under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which may be based upon, arise out of, or relate to any of the matters raised in this litigation, or from the negotiation or execution of this Settlement Agreement. The parties acknowledge that this paragraph is severable from the remaining portions of this Settlement Agreement in that it survives in perpetuity even in the event that any court of law deems this Settlement Agreement or any portion thereof void or unenforceable.

December 7, 2006

Andrew Stolarski
Vice President of Operations
Medline Industries, Inc.
9101 Riverside Parkway
Lithia Springs, GA 30122

RE: Prescription Drug Wholesaler Permit No. 23:01470

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. Mr. David L. Magruder, the designated representative identified for permit no. 23:01470 has resigned his position. We have not received a "Notification of Designated Representative" form identifying a certified individual to replace him. As a result Medline Industries, Inc. does not have a designated representative as required by s. 499.012(11), F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(b)4., F.S., to be certified as a designated representative, a person must receive a passing score of at least 75 percent on an examination given by the department regarding federal laws governing distribution of prescription drugs and ss. 499.001-499.081 and the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs.

Accordingly, and pursuant to the above referenced facts and law, the department hereby intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler because you have not complied with s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S. and otherwise do not have a designated certified representative on file with the Department that meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S. which is a substantial failure to comply with ss. 499.001 – 499.081, F.S. and is a failure to meet the requirements for the permit, for which the suspension is authorized pursuant to Sections 499.067 (1) (a); 499.067 (1) (b) 2. F.S.

Therefore, the department concludes that Medline Industries, Inc. no longer meets the requirements to continue to operate as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler in Florida and the permit will be suspended until you have designated in writing to the department a person with an active certification to serve as a designated representative who meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S.

NOTICE OF RIGHTS TO HEARING AND APPEAL

You have the right to request an administrative hearing pursuant to sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., if you wish to challenge the intended agency action to suspend your permit. Such proceedings are governed by sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., and Rules 28-106 and 28-107, Florida Administrative Code. Request for a hearing, formal or informal, must comply with Rule 28-107.004, Florida Administrative Code.

You have the right to be represented by counsel or other qualified representative, at your expense; to present evidence and argument; to call and cross-examine witnesses; and to have subpoena and subpoena duces tecum issued on your behalf if a hearing is requested.

A petition for administrative hearing must be in writing and must be received by the Agency Clerk for the Department, within twenty-one (21) days from the receipt of this complaint. The address of the Agency Clerk is 4052 Bald Cypress Way, BIN # A02, Tallahassee FL 32399-1703. The Agency Clerk's facsimile number is 850-410-1448.

Mediation is not available as an alternative remedy.

Your failure to submit a petition for hearing within 21 days from receipt of this complaint will constitute a waiver of your right to an administrative hearing, under Florida Administrative Code Rule 28-106.111 and this complaint shall become a "final order".

Should this correspondence become a final order, a party who is adversely affected by it is entitled to judicial review pursuant to s 120.68, F.S. Review proceedings are governed by the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure. Such proceedings may be commenced by filing one copy of a Notice of Appeal with the Agency Clerk of the Department of Health and a second copy, accompanied by the filing fees required by law, with the Court of Appeal in the appropriate District Court. The notice must be filed within 30 days of rendition of the final order.

Sincerely,

Respondent acting through its authorized agent, hereby waives formal Notice of and its attendance at the Evidentiary Hearing, for presentation of the Consent Order to the Board. However, as a condition precedent to submission of the proposed Consent Order to the Board, Respondent hereby acknowledges and understands that information may be presented to the Board with regards to the details of the case for the Board to understand the circumstances. It is further acknowledged and understood by Respondent that in the event the Board is not agreeable to enter into the proposed Consent Order and an Administrative Hearing is ultimately conducted, the Board which will be presiding over the case will possibly have heard information which may later be submitted at the scheduled hearing. If such hearing occurs, Respondent waives any right that it may have to recuse or remove any or all members of the Board for the purposes of an Administrative Hearing in the event the proposed Consent Order is not accepted by the Board, or if Respondent withdraws his consent to the proposed Consent Order prior to its final approval by the Board. Furthermore, Respondent has had the opportunity to, or has in fact consulted with, legal counsel with regards to the Consent Order and the waivers contained herein.

FINDINGS OF FACTS

1. Respondent possesses Louisiana License No. 4318 issued by the Board to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices in the State of Louisiana. Such license was in effect on 3/5/2008 through the date of the evidentiary hearing in this matter.

2. Pursuant to LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee is required to maintain copies of current licenses for customer who are authorized by law or regulation to procure or possess legend drugs or devices for all customers that are shipped or sold legend drugs or devices; if these license copies are maintained off site, a list of customers with customer names, addresses, license number, and license expiration dates shall be maintained on site for all customers shipped or sold legend drugs or devices.
3. On 3/5/2008, an inspection was conducted by the Board's representative which revealed that copies of customer licenses were not at the Covington LA facility. A verbal request to provide a customer listing which should be maintained at the Covington LA facility was made. The customer license list was not available.
4. Information was thereafter submitted by Respondent to the Board's inspector as per the inspector's request. In review of a customer listing ("Pedigree List") as provided by the Respondent, the inspector requested copies of customer licenses for 15 of the customers listed. Verbal explanation was given was that customer licenses are verified and the customer is entered electronically into the system as an authorized recipient but that no hard copy of the customer license is being maintained.
5. Respondent's conduct in failing to maintain customer license documents and/or a customer listing at the Covington LA site is in violation of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D.
6. Disciplinary sanctions and/or fines are applicable against Respondent in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. It is unlawful for Respondent, as a licensee to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices, to not maintain current customer license documents and/or a current customer listing on-site. LAC 46:XCI.311.D.
2. It is unlawful for Respondent, as a licensee to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices, to violate any of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors. La. R.S. 37:3474.1 and LAC 46:XCI.101.
3. Respondent's violations of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors constitute lawful grounds for the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors, upon due notice of hearing and proof of such violations, to assess a fine, revoke, suspend, or otherwise discipline Respondent's license as provided by law. La. R.S. 37:3474.1 and LAC 46:XCI.701 et seq.

DECISION

4. Respondent is hereby assessed a fine in the amount of $2,000 for its failure to properly maintain copies of current licenses for customers shipped or sold legend drugs or devices and/or a customer listing on site. Said fine to be paid on the effective date of

Administrative Docket No. 2008006

CERTIFIED MAIL
No. 7007 3020 0000 4431 6851
Return Receipt Requested

Dear Lara Simmons:

As you may recall, the Board is mandated by law to license and regulate the wholesale distribution of legend drugs and devices in Louisiana in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors. This letter will acknowledge receipt of your response dated 4/3/2008. This letter is also intended to respond to any inquiries you may have regarding the deficiencies found during the inspection which occurred on 3/5/2008 at MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s Covington LA distribution facility.

Pursuant to the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee should maintain copies of current licenses which authorizes a customer to procure and possess legend drugs and devices. If these customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customers including customer names, addresses, license number, and the license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.

On 3/5/2008, the Board's inspector discovered that copies of customer licenses which authorize the customer to procure and possess legend drugs/devices or a listing of customers' license information were not being maintained at the Covington LA facility.

A verbal request was made by the inspector of a customer list which should have been maintained at the Covington LA facility. After receiving and reviewing a copy of the customer list, as referred to by Medline as their "Pedigree List", the inspector requested copies of 30 customer licenses from the listing. Of the requested customer license copies, the inspector found that 70% of the licenses requested were either not acceptable licenses or were not available.

It is evident that MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. was in violation of LAC 46:XCI.311.D at the time of the inspection on 3/5/2008. The Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors, more particularly LA RS 37:3474.1, provides that, after due notice and hearing, MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license may be sanctioned and/or it may be assessed a fine for its actions or omissions. Fines alone may include an assessment of $1,000 per violation per day. It is the Board's objective to regulate the industry by correcting behavior. Such is accomplished by imposing sanctions for wrongful conduct.

It is hoped that the above detailed violation(s) as corrected will not occur in the future. Therefore, in an effort to amicably resolve the issues regarding the violation(s) which did occur, I, as the Board's appointed investigating/compliance officer, extend an offer to you which would impose a total fine of $2,000. This proposed sanction does not impose any restrictions on MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license.

If MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is agreeable to these terms, I have enclosed a Consent Order for your review and execution. Please have an authorized representative for your company sign the Consent Order in front of a Notary and two witnesses. Return the original, executed Consent Order along with a check made to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors in the amount of the $2,000 fine to the Board's office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter. You and/or a company representative will not be required to attend the evidentiary hearing at which the executed Consent Order will be presented to the full Board for acceptance, however you and/or another representative are welcome to attend.

In the event MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is not agreeable to this amicable resolution and wishes to contest the investigative findings in a hearing before the full Board, it has the right to do so. If such occurs, the current offer being proposed in this letter will no longer be viable.

We would like to bring this matter to disposition either by this amicable resolution or the pursuit of a formal hearing against MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. before the Board at the next scheduled Board meeting. To do so, either way, we will need to prepare the necessary paperwork with all resolution documents. Again, please respond to this offer either by returning the executed Consent Order and fine payment or by written request for an administrative hearing. If your response is not received at the Board office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter, the Board will begin steps towards the formal hearing with the issuance of subpoenas for witnesses and records.

We wish to keep an open line of communication with you. Please contact the Board office in the event you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Respectfully,

Wayne Gremillion
Board Member/Compliance Officer

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008.

Corrective Actions
Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Re: 08 PHM 037

Dear Ms. Hornick:

As you know, an inspector for the Department of Regulation and Licensing inspected Medline Industries on May 9, 2008. He found that several policies were missing, and the facility was storing prescription drugs in a non-secure location. It has been determined that these violations are grounds for discipline. I am the prosecuting attorney assigned to the case.

I have enclosed a proposed stipulation and order, which would resolve this matter without a hearing. If you are willing to resolve this case by agreement, please sign and return the stipulation and order by December 9, 2008. I will then present it to the Pharmacy Examining Board at its next meeting. The stipulation and order is not binding unless and until it is accepted by the board.

If you do not return the signed stipulation and order by December 9, 2008, I will file a formal complaint and initiate the hearing process. Please be aware that it is the policy of the Department to assess costs against respondents whenever any discipline is imposed. Your costs are presently $100. If we have to take this matter through a hearing, they will escalate quickly and could reach several thousand dollars.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number PWD 115. The license was issued on or about October 3, 2005. The license will expire on or about December 31, 2009.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ATTACHED IS A TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE ORIGINAL ON FILE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE & CONSUMER AFFAIRS.

Respondent had entered into a Stipulation with the State of Wisconsin's Pharmacy Examining Board. Pursuant to the terms of a Final Order, Respondent was reprimanded and ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $2,000.00. This action was based on the results of an inspection which revealed that certain policies were missing and that Respondent was storing pre-packaged kits for surgeries (which included various types and quantities of prescription drugs) in a warehouse that was shared with another company. These kits were not secured and employees of the other company had access to the kits. A true and correct copy of the Stipulation and Final Decision and Order which was approved on February 4, 2009 is attached as Exhibit "1."

4. RICO alleges that Respondent was disciplined by another state for a reason provided by the licensing laws in Hawaii. Specifically, the Respondent was disciplined for professional misconduct.

5. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 461-21(a)(2) (professional misconduct). Per Hawaii Administrative Rules §§ 16-95-30(c)(6) and (9), a licensee's facility must be secure from unauthorized entry and entry into areas where prescription drugs are held must be limited to authorized personnel.

6. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein licensed as a wholesale prescription drug distributor by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the license and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2009-7-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of ONE THOUSAND AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($1,000.00). STATE OF COLORADO

Case No. 2010-002994

STIPULATION AND FINAL AGENCY ORDER

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE LICENSE TO PRACTICE AS A OUT-OF-STATE WHOLESALER IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.,

Wholesaler Applicant.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and Medline Industries, Inc. ("Wholesaler Applicant") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2010-002994 as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Wholesaler Applicant, its application for registration as an out-of-state wholesaler and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act at Title 12, Article 22, C.R.S.

2. Wholesaler Applicant admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

3. Wholesaler Applicant entered into a Settlement Agreement with the Missouri State Board of Pharmacy, which was effective on August 3, 2005 ("Missouri Settlement Agreement").

4. In the Missouri Settlement Agreement, Wholesaler Applicant was placed on probation for five (5) years for various violations of Missouri state and federal law involving recordkeeping, storage of prescription drugs, change of location without informing the Missouri Board of Pharmacy, lack of a policy and procedure manual, and distribution of prescription drugs under a lapsed registration.

5. Wholesaler Applicant's conduct, as set forth above, constitutes violations of the following sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes:

12-22-125. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline.

(1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(III) Any state or federal law pertaining to drugs.

12-22-125.2. Disciplinary actions.

(1) The board may deny or discipline an applicant, licensee, or registrant when the board determines that such applicant, licensee, or registrant has engaged in activities that are grounds for discipline.

6. On January 14, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted an out-of-state wholesaler application, which application was denied by the Board.

7. On March 1, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted a written request asking that the Board accept its application by granting a conditional license.

8. The Board finds and concludes, and Wholesaler Applicant agrees, that based upon Wholesaler Applicant's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances as a condition of its registration as an out-of-state wholesaler.

DISPOSITION

Conditional Registration / Probation / Compliance / Terms

9. Conditional Registration. Wholesaler Applicant shall be granted a registration as an out-of-state wholesaler upon execution of this Final Agency Order and satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

10. Probation. Wholesaler Applicant's registration shall be placed on probation for a period of time equal to the time of probation remaining under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Credit toward satisfying the period of probation under this Final Agency Order shall be given only during such periods of time that Respondent is in total compliance with all provisions of this Final Agency Order and the Missouri Settlement Agreement.

11. Compliance. Wholesaler Applicant shall at all times remain in compliance with §§12-22-801, et seq. C.R.S. and shall not at any time distribute prescription drugs into Colorado without being registered as an out-of-state wholesaler in the State of Colorado at the time of distribution.

12. Other Requirements. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that, as a condition of this Final Agency Order and probation, Wholesaler Applicant shall:

    a. promptly pay all Wholesaler Applicant's own fees and costs associated with this Final Agency Order;

    b. comply fully with this Final Agency Order; and

    c. comply fully with the Pharmacists and Pharmaceuticals Act, all Board rules and regulations, and any other state and federal laws and regulations related to pharmacists and pharmaceuticals in the State of Colorado.

13. Discharge. Discharge from the requirements of this Final Agency Order must be requested in writing by Wholesaler Applicant. The Board will consider any request for discharge during the ordinary course of business. In any request for discharge it shall be Wholesaler Applicant's sole responsibility to establish, through written and other documentation, that Wholesaler Applicant has met all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order and, in addition, has been released from probation by the Missouri Board of Pharmacy under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Wholesaler Applicant's probation under this Final Agency Order shall continue until formally discharged by the Board by way of Board order.

14. Advisements and Waivers. Wholesaler Applicant enters into this Final Agency Order freely and voluntarily, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges its understanding that it has the following rights:

    a. To have a formal notice of hearing and charges served upon it;
    b. To respond to said formal notice of charges;
    c. To have a formal disciplinary hearing pursuant to §12-22-125, C.R.S.; and
    d. To appeal this Board order.

    Wholesaler Applicant freely waives these rights, and acknowledges that such waiver is made voluntarily in consideration for Board's limiting the action taken against it to the sanctions imposed herein.

15. Acknowledgments. The undersigned authorized agent of Wholesaler Applicant has read this Final Agency Order in its entirety and acknowledges, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel, that Wholesaler Applicant understands the legal consequences and agrees that none of the terms or conditions herein are unconscionable.

16. Violations. Time is of the essence to this Final Agency Order. It is the responsibility of Wholesaler Applicant to take all appropriate steps to comply fully with this Final Agency Order. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that any violation of this Final Agency Order may be sanctioned as provided under §12-22-125.2(4), C.R.S., and may be sufficient grounds for additional discipline, including but not limited to revocation of its registration. The pendency of any suspension or disciplinary action arising out of an alleged violation of this Final Agency Order shall not affect the obligation of Wholesaler Applicant to comply with all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order.

17. Integration and Severability. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall represent the entire and final agreement of and between the parties. In the event any provision of this Final Agency Order is deemed invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, it shall be severed and the remaining provisions of this Final Agency Order shall be given full force and effect.

18. Public Record. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall be a public record, maintained in the custody of the Board.

19. Effective Date. This Final Agency Order shall become effective upon signature of a Board member or representative.

The Program Director or his/her designee may lift the Board suspension on such licenses when the licensee has resumed compliance.

17. Release licensees and registrants from the terms of their Stipulations or Final Board Orders provided the licensee submits satisfactory evidence of completion of all terms of the Stipulation or Final Board Order. Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

The registrant has elected to use December 17, 2025, which was the initial trading date of the registrant's Class A common stock on The Nasdaq Global Select Market, as the calculation date because on June 30, 2025 (the last business day of the registrant's most recently completed second fiscal quarter) the registrant was a privately held company. INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Summary of Risk Factors

The following is a summary of the principal factors that make an investment in our securities speculative or risky, all of which are more fully described below. This summary should be read together with the risk factors described under Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and should not be relied upon as an exhaustive summary of the material risks facing our business. In addition to the following summary, you should consider the information set forth below and the other information contained in this Annual Report before investing in our securities.

- We operate in a highly competitive industry, with accelerating pricing pressure and changes in technology.
- Changes to the U.S. and global healthcare environments may not be favorable to us.
- Increases in shipping costs or service issues with our third-party shippers could harm our business.

- Significant challenges or delays in our sourcing of new products and technologies could have an adverse impact on our long-term success.
- We have concentration in and dependence on certain healthcare provider customers and GPOs.
- Our business and operations depend on the proper functioning of our critical facilities and distribution networks and could be negatively impacted by events outside our control.
- Quality problems and product liability claims have in the past led, and could in the future lead, to recalls or safety alerts, reputational harm, adverse verdicts, or costly settlements, and could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline.
- If we experience increased pressure to maintain or decrease the price of our goods and services and we are unable to reduce our expenses, there may be a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

- Uncertain global and domestic macro-economic and political conditions could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our substantial indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition, our ability to operate our business or react to changes in the economy or our industry, prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under our debts, and divert our cash flow from operations for debt payments.
- The credit agreement that governs the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the indentures that govern the Senior Notes will each impose significant operating and financial restrictions on our subsidiaries, which may prevent us from capitalizing on business opportunities.
- Medline Inc. is a holding company and its only material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, and it is accordingly dependent upon distributions from Medline Holdings to pay taxes, make payments under the tax receivable agreement, and pay any dividends.
- The Designating Stockholders hold a significant percentage of our stock, and their interests may conflict with ours or yours in the future.
- Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation does not limit the ability of our Sponsors, the Mills family, and certain other pre-IPO investors to compete with us, and they may have investments in businesses whose interests conflict with ours.

The market price of shares of our Class A common stock may be volatile or may decline regardless of our operating performance, which could cause the value of your investment to decline.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

Trademarks

We own or have the right to use trademarks, trade names, and service marks used in connection with our business, including, but not limited to, Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima. All trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report are the property of their respective owners. We do not intend our use or display of other companies' trade names, trademarks, or service marks to imply a relationship with, or endorsement or sponsorship of us by, these other companies. Solely for convenience, our trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report may appear without the ®, ™ or SM symbols, but such references are not intended to indicate, in any way, that we will not assert, to the fullest extent under applicable law, our rights or the right of the applicable licensor to these trademarks, trade names, and service marks.

PART I

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

Our Prime Vendor Model

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008. Corrective Actions Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. 1. Respondent's drug distributor license shall be placed on PROBATION for five (5) years pursuant to the provisions of Chapters 338 and 620, RSMo. During the period of probation, Respondent will be entitled to operate as a drug distributor pursuant to Chapter 338, RSMo provided Respondent adheres to the following terms of probation:

A. Respondent shall report to the Board, on a preprinted form supplied by the Board office, once every six (6) months, beginning six (6) months after this Order/Agreement becomes effective, stating truthfully whether or not it has complied with all terms and conditions of this disciplinary order.

B. Respondent shall pay all required fees for licensing to the Board and shall renew its license prior to October 31 for each licensing year.

C. Respondent shall comply with all provisions of Chapter 338, Chapter 195, and all applicable federal and state drug laws, rules and regulations and with all federal and state criminal laws. "State" here includes the State of Missouri and all other states and territories of the United States.

2. Upon the expiration of said discipline, Respondent's license as a drug distributor in Missouri shall be fully restored if all other requirements of law have been satisfied; provided, however, that in the event the Board determines that the Respondent has violated any term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, the Board may, in its discretion, after an evidentiary hearing, vacate and set aside the discipline imposed herein and may suspend, revoke, or otherwise lawfully discipline the Respondent.

3. No order shall be entered by the Board pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Settlement Agreement without notice and an opportunity for hearing before the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 536, RSMo.

If any alleged violation of this Settlement Agreement occurred during the disciplinary period, the Board may choose to conduct a hearing before it either during the disciplinary period, or as soon thereafter as a hearing can be held to determine whether a violation occurred and, if so, it may impose further discipline. The Board retains jurisdiction to hold a hearing to determine if a violation of this Settlement Agreement has occurred.

5. The terms of this Settlement Agreement are contractual, legally enforceable, binding, and not merely recitals. Except as otherwise contained herein, neither this Settlement Agreement nor any of its provisions may be changed, waived, discharged, or terminated, except by an instrument in writing signed by the party against whom the enforcement of the change, waiver, discharge, or termination is sought.

6. Respondent hereby waives and releases the Board, its members and any of its employees, agents, or attorneys, including any former board members, employees, agents, and

Andrew Stolarski
Vice President of Operations
Medline Industries, Inc.
9101 Riverside Parkway
Lithia Springs, GA 30122

RE: Prescription Drug Wholesaler Permit No. 23:01470

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. Mr. David L. Magruder, the designated representative identified for permit no. 23:01470 has resigned his position. We have not received a "Notification of Designated Representative" form identifying a certified individual to replace him. As a result Medline Industries, Inc. does not have a designated representative as required by s. 499.012(11), F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(b)4., F.S., to be certified as a designated representative, a person must receive a passing score of at least 75 percent on an examination given by the department regarding federal laws governing distribution of prescription drugs and ss. 499.001-499.081 and the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs.

Accordingly, and pursuant to the above referenced facts and law, the department hereby intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler because you have not complied with s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S. and otherwise do not have a designated certified representative on file with the Department that meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S. which is a substantial failure to comply with ss. 499.001 – 499.081, F.S. and is a failure to meet the requirements for the permit, for which the suspension is authorized pursuant to Sections 499.067 (1) (a); 499.067 (1) (b) 2. F.S.

Therefore, the department concludes that Medline Industries, Inc. no longer meets the requirements to continue to operate as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler in Florida and the permit will be suspended until you have designated in writing to the department a person with an active certification to serve as a designated representative who meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S.

Request for a hearing, formal or informal, must comply with Rule 28-107.004, Florida Administrative Code.

You have the right to be represented by counsel or other qualified representative, at your expense; to present evidence and argument; to call and cross-examine witnesses; and to have subpoena and subpoena duces tecum issued on your behalf if a hearing is requested.

A petition for administrative hearing must be in writing and must be received by the Agency Clerk for the Department, within twenty-one (21) days from the receipt of this complaint. The address of the Agency Clerk is 4052 Bald Cypress Way, BIN # A02, Tallahassee FL 32399-1703. The Agency Clerk's facsimile number is 850-410-1448.

Your failure to submit a petition for hearing within 21 days from receipt of this complaint will constitute a waiver of your right to an administrative hearing, under Florida Administrative Code Rule 28-106.111 and this complaint shall become a "final order".

Should this correspondence become a final order, a party who is adversely affected by it is entitled to judicial review pursuant to s 120.68, F.S. Review proceedings are governed by the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure. Such proceedings may be commenced by filing one copy of a Notice of Appeal with the Agency Clerk of the Department of Health and a second copy, accompanied by the filing fees required by law, with the Court of Appeal in the appropriate District Court. Dear Lara Simmons:

As you may recall, the Board is mandated by law to license and regulate the wholesale distribution of legend drugs and devices in Louisiana in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors. This letter will acknowledge receipt of your response dated 4/3/2008. This letter is also intended to respond to any inquiries you may have regarding the deficiencies found during the inspection which occurred on 3/5/2008 at MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s Covington LA distribution facility.

Pursuant to the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee should maintain copies of current licenses which authorizes a customer to procure and possess legend drugs and devices. If these customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customers including customer names, addresses, license number, and the license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.

On 3/5/2008, the Board's inspector discovered that copies of customer licenses which authorize the customer to procure and possess legend drugs/devices or a listing of customers' license information were not being maintained at the Covington LA facility.

A verbal request was made by the inspector of a customer list which should have been maintained at the Covington LA facility. After receiving and reviewing a copy of the customer list, as referred to by Medline as their "Pedigree List", the inspector requested copies of 30 customer licenses from the listing. Of the requested customer license copies, the inspector found that 70% of the licenses requested were either not acceptable licenses or were not available.

It is evident that MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. was in violation of LAC 46:XCI.311.D at the time of the inspection on 3/5/2008. The Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors, more particularly LA RS 37:3474.1, provides that, after due notice and hearing, MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license may be sanctioned and/or it may be assessed a fine for its actions or omissions. Fines alone may include an assessment of $1,000 per violation per day. It is the Board's objective to regulate the industry by correcting behavior. Such is accomplished by imposing sanctions for wrongful conduct.

It is hoped that the above detailed violation(s) as corrected will not occur in the future. Therefore, in an effort to amicably resolve the issues regarding the violation(s) which did occur, I, as the Board's appointed investigating/compliance officer, extend an offer to you which would impose a total fine of $2,000. This proposed sanction does not impose any restrictions on MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license.

If MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is agreeable to these terms, I have enclosed a Consent Order for your review and execution. Please have an authorized representative for your company sign the Consent Order in front of a Notary and two witnesses. Return the original, executed Consent Order along with a check made to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors in the amount of the $2,000 fine to the Board's office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter. You and/or a company representative will not be required to attend the evidentiary hearing at which the executed Consent Order will be presented to the full Board for acceptance, however you and/or another representative are welcome to attend.

In the event MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is not agreeable to this amicable resolution and wishes to contest the investigative findings in a hearing before the full Board, it has the right to do so. If such occurs, the current offer being proposed in this letter will no longer be viable.

We would like to bring this matter to disposition either by this amicable resolution or the pursuit of a formal hearing against MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. before the Board at the next scheduled Board meeting. To do so, either way, we will need to prepare the necessary paperwork with all resolution documents. Again, please respond to this offer either by returning the executed Consent Order and fine payment or by written request for an administrative hearing. If your response is not received at the Board office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter, the Board will begin steps towards the formal hearing with the issuance of subpoenas for witnesses and records.

We wish to keep an open line of communication with you. Please contact the Board office in the event you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Respectfully,

Wayne Bremullion

Re: RICO Case No. PHA 2008-71-L

Dear Ms. Wolfe:

I received the signed Settlement Agreement. One correction had to be made, and I apologize that we did not notice this earlier. On page 3, paragraph 5, the citation to HRS section 436B-19(13) was changed to HRS section 436B-19(15) which is the correct citation. Enclosed is a copy of the corrected replacement page. I will now forward the document to the executive officer of the Board of Pharmacy, and we will be notified as to whether it gets approved or not by the Board.

Very truly yours,

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2008-17-L.

10. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008.

Corrective Actions
Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Re: 08 PHM 037

Dear Ms. Hornick:

As you know, an inspector for the Department of Regulation and Licensing inspected Medline Industries on May 9, 2008. He found that several policies were missing, and the facility was storing prescription drugs in a non-secure location. It has been determined that these violations are grounds for discipline. I am the prosecuting attorney assigned to the case.

I have enclosed a proposed stipulation and order, which would resolve this matter without a hearing. If you are willing to resolve this case by agreement, please sign and return the stipulation and order by December 9, 2008. I will then present it to the Pharmacy Examining Board at its next meeting. The stipulation and order is not binding unless and until it is accepted by the board.

If you do not return the signed stipulation and order by December 9, 2008, I will file a formal complaint and initiate the hearing process. Please be aware that it is the policy of the Department to assess costs against respondents whenever any discipline is imposed. Your costs are presently $100. If we have to take this matter through a hearing, they will escalate quickly and could reach several thousand dollars.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT PRIOR TO FILING OF PETITION
FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION AND BOARD'S FINAL ORDER

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. (hereinafter "Respondent"), enter into this Settlement Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth below.

A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number PWD 115. The license was issued on or about October 3, 2005. The license will expire on or about December 31, 2009.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ATTACHED IS A TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE ORIGINAL ON FILE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE & CONSUMER AFFAIRS.

2. Respondent's mailing address for purposes of this action is Dianna Wolfe, Corporate Regulatory Affairs Specialist, Medline Industries, Inc., One Medline Place, Mundelein, Illinois 60060.

3. Respondent timely reported that disciplinary action had been taken against Respondent by the State of Wisconsin. Respondent had entered into a Stipulation with the State of Wisconsin's Pharmacy Examining Board. Pursuant to the terms of a Final Order, Respondent was reprimanded and ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $2,000.00. This action was based on the results of an inspection which revealed that certain policies were missing and that Respondent was storing pre-packaged kits for surgeries (which included various types and quantities of prescription drugs) in a warehouse that was shared with another company. These kits were not secured and employees of the other company had access to the kits. A true and correct copy of the Stipulation and Final Decision and Order which was approved on February 4, 2009 is attached as Exhibit "1."

4. RICO alleges that Respondent was disciplined by another state for a reason provided by the licensing laws in Hawaii. Specifically, the Respondent was disciplined for professional misconduct.

5. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 461-21(a)(2) (professional misconduct). Per Hawaii Administrative Rules §§ 16-95-30(c)(6) and (9), a licensee's facility must be secure from unauthorized entry and entry into areas where prescription drugs are held must be limited to authorized personnel.

6. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein licensed as a wholesale prescription drug distributor by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the license and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2009-7-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of ONE THOUSAND AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($1,000.00). Payment shall be made by cashier's check, company check, or money order made payable to "DCCA - Compliance Resolution Fund" and mailed to the Regulated Industries Complaints Office, Attn: Bobbi Lum-Mew, Esq., 235 S. Beretania Street, 9th Floor, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813. Payment of the fine shall be due within thirty (30) days after this Settlement Agreement is approved by the Board.

2. Failure to Comply with Settlement Agreement. If Respondent fails to fully and timely comply with the terms of this Settlement Agreement as set forth in paragraph C.1 above, Respondent's license shall be automatically revoked upon RICO's filing of an affidavit with the Board attesting to such failure. In case of such revocation, Respondent shall turn in all indicia of the license to the Executive Officer of the Board within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the revocation. In case of such revocation, Respondent understands Respondent cannot apply for a new license until the expiration of at least five (5) years after the effective date of the revocation. Respondent understands that if Respondent desires to become licensed again, Respondent must apply to the Board for a new license pursuant to and subject to HRS §§ 92-17, 436B-21, and all other applicable laws and rules in effect at the time.

3. Possible further sanction. The Board, at its discretion, may pursue additional disciplinary action as provided by law to include further fines and other sanctions as the Board may deem appropriate if Respondent violates any provision of the statutes or rules governing the conduct of wholesale prescription drug distributors in the State of Hawaii, or if Respondent fails to abide by the terms of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5, C.6, C.7 and C.8 below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board.

5. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

6. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

7. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any representation of fact, opinion or promise to Respondent to induce entry into this Settlement Agreement, and Respondent is not relying upon any statement, representation or opinion or promise made by RICO or any of its agents, employees, representatives or attorneys concerning the nature, extent or duration of exposure to legal liability arising from the subject matter of this Settlement Agreement or concerning any other matter.

8. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have signed this Settlement Agreement on the date(s) set forth below.

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 1040 Enterprise Parkway South, West Jefferson, OH 43162 (OH License #01-30000190) entered a settlement agreement with the Ohio Board of Pharmacy for alleged sales of dangerous drugs to an unlicensed entity. Medline maintained a physician license on file instead of the correct Terminal Distributor Dangerous Drugs license (TDDD). The TDDD license was added in May 2022. During the period of July 2021 to March 2022, the customer's TDDD license lapsed, and Medline shipped the customer product under the valid practitioner license. Case resolved via Settlement Agreement effective 11/01/2022.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Ohio customers following OH Case # A-2020-0054. The shipments in this matter occurred while Medline was in the process of reviewing and updating all Ohio customer licenses. Medline licensing staff were also provided with additional training on Ohio license requirements.

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

This Annual Report on Form 10-K (this "Annual Report") contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. We intend such forward-looking statements to be covered by the safe harbor provisions for forward-looking statements contained in Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Forward-looking statements include all statements that are not historical facts. Words such as "anticipate," "assume," "believe" "contemplate," "continue," "could," "estimate," "expect," "foreseeable," "intend," "may," "plan," "potentially," "predict," "project," "seek," "should," "will," or "would," or similar words or phrases that convey uncertainty of future events or outcomes, are intended to identify forward-looking statements in this Annual Report. These forward-looking statements relate to matters such as our industry, business strategy, costs, and costs savings, impacts of accounting standards and guidance, goals and expectations, market position, future operations, margins, profitability, capital expenditures, liquidity and capital resources, legal matters, trends, and other financial and operating information. The forward-looking statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to various risks, uncertainty, and changes in circumstances, many of which are beyond our control, that could cause actual results to differ materially. Although we believe that the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements are reasonable, we cannot guarantee future results, level of activity, performance, or achievements. Factors that may cause actual results to differ from expected results include those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and Part II, "Item 7—Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations". The forward-looking statements included in this Annual Report speak only as of the date of this Annual Report or as of the date they are made, as applicable. Except as otherwise required by law, we disclaim any intent or obligation to update any "forward-looking statement" made in this Annual Report to reflect changed assumptions, the occurrence of unanticipated events, or changes to future operating results over time.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

CERTAIN DEFINITIONS

As used in this Annual Report, unless otherwise noted or the context requires otherwise, the following terms have the following meanings:

- "Class A Units" refers to the interests in Medline Holdings called "Class A Units" that were outstanding prior to the Reclassification. In connection with the Reclassification, (i) Class B Units held by Incentive Unitholders were converted into Incentive Units and (ii) Class B Units held by Exchanging Class B Unitholders were directly or indirectly exchanged for shares of Class A common stock (in the case of vested Class B Units) and/or restricted shares of Class A common stock (in the case of unvested Class B Units).

- "Reclassification" refers to the reclassification of the partnership interests of Medline Holdings prior to the IPO.

- "Units" refers collectively to Common Units and Incentive Units.

Summary of Risk Factors

The following is a summary of the principal factors that make an investment in our securities speculative or risky, all of which are more fully described below. This summary should be read together with the risk factors described under Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and should not be relied upon as an exhaustive summary of the material risks facing our business. In addition to the following summary, you should consider the information set forth below and the other information contained in this Annual Report before investing in our securities.

- Our global operations are subject to inherent risks that could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- We may be unable to derive fully the anticipated benefits from our existing or future acquisitions, joint ventures, investments, dispositions, or other strategic transactions.
- Consolidation in the healthcare industry could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- We operate in a highly competitive industry, with accelerating pricing pressure and changes in technology.
- Changes to the U.S. and global healthcare environments may not be favorable to us.
- Increases in shipping costs or service issues with our third-party shippers could harm our business.

- Significant challenges or delays in our sourcing of new products and technologies could have an adverse impact on our long-term success.
- We have concentration in and dependence on certain healthcare provider customers and GPOs.
- Our business and operations depend on the proper functioning of our critical facilities and distribution networks and could be negatively impacted by events outside our control.
- Quality problems and product liability claims have in the past led, and could in the future lead, to recalls or safety alerts, reputational harm, adverse verdicts, or costly settlements, and could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline.
- If we experience increased pressure to maintain or decrease the price of our goods and services and we are unable to reduce our expenses, there may be a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Any failure by or loss of a third-party manufacturer or supplier or other manufacturing or supply-related impacts could result in delays and increased costs, which may adversely affect our business.
- We rely on the proper function, security, and availability of our information technology systems and data, as well as those of third parties throughout our global supply chain, to operate our business.
- We are subject to extensive and complex laws and governmental regulations and any adverse regulatory action may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition both inside and outside the United States.
- We are subject to complex and rapidly evolving data privacy, security, and data protection laws and regulations and the costs to comply with such laws and regulations or any ineffective compliance efforts with such laws and regulations may adversely impact our business.
- Our use or our third-party service providers' or business partners' use of AI, automated decision-making and machine learning technologies and the evolving regulatory framework in this area may subject us to risks or heightened costs that could adversely affect business, results of operation and financial condition.
- Our failure to comply with laws and regulations relating to reimbursement of healthcare goods and services may subject us to penalties and adversely impact our reputation, business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.
- Uncertain global and domestic macro-economic and political conditions could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our substantial indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition, our ability to operate our business or react to changes in the economy or our industry, prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under our debts, and divert our cash flow from operations for debt payments.
- The credit agreement that governs the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the indentures that govern the Senior Notes will each impose significant operating and financial restrictions on our subsidiaries, which may prevent us from capitalizing on business opportunities.
- Medline Inc. is a holding company and its only material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, and it is accordingly dependent upon distributions from Medline Holdings to pay taxes, make payments under the tax receivable agreement, and pay any dividends.
- The Designating Stockholders hold a significant percentage of our stock, and their interests may conflict with ours or yours in the future.
- Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation does not limit the ability of our Sponsors, the Mills family, and certain other pre-IPO investors to compete with us, and they may have investments in businesses whose interests conflict with ours.

The market price of shares of our Class A common stock may be volatile or may decline regardless of our operating performance, which could cause the value of your investment to decline.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

Trademarks

We own or have the right to use trademarks, trade names, and service marks used in connection with our business, including, but not limited to, Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima. All trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report are the property of their respective owners. We do not intend our use or display of other companies' trade names, trademarks, or service marks to imply a relationship with, or endorsement or sponsorship of us by, these other companies. Solely for convenience, our trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report may appear without the ®, ™ or SM symbols, but such references are not intended to indicate, in any way, that we will not assert, to the fullest extent under applicable law, our rights or the right of the applicable licensor to these trademarks, trade names, and service marks.

PART I

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

Our Prime Vendor Model

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

510(k) Clearance Process

To obtain 510(k) clearance, we must submit a premarket notification to the FDA demonstrating the proposed device to be substantially equivalent to a predicate device. A device is substantially equivalent if, with respect to the predicate device, it has the same intended use and it has either the same technological characteristics, or it has different technological characteristics, but the information provided in the 510(k) submission demonstrates that the device does not raise new questions of safety or effectiveness. The standard review process for 510(k)s is between six to nine months, dependent upon the type of 510(k) filing submitted. Although many 510(k) premarket notifications are cleared without clinical data, in some cases, the FDA may require clinical data to support substantial equivalence. In reviewing a premarket notification, the FDA may request additional information, including clinical data, which may significantly prolong the review process and clearance is never assured. Clinical trials generally require the submission of an investigational device exemption ("IDE") to the FDA for a specified number of patients and study sites, unless the product is deemed a non-significant risk device eligible for more abbreviated IDE requirements. Clinical trials are subject to numerous requirements and institutional review board approval, oversight, and monitoring. Even if a trial is conducted, the results of clinical testing may not adequately demonstrate the safety and effectiveness of the device or be sufficient to obtain FDA clearance or approval for marketing.

After a device receives 510(k) clearance, any subsequent modification of the device that could significantly affect its safety or effectiveness, or that would constitute a major change in its intended use, requires a new 510(k) clearance or could require submission and approval of a de novo 510(k) or a PMA application in cases where new indications are sought for which there is no predicate. Non-significant changes are handled via internal documentation by the Company. Each manufacturer must judge the significance of modifications based on FDA 510(k) regulatory requirements and guidance documents. The FDA may review any such decision and may disagree with a manufacturer's determination. If the FDA disagrees with a manufacturer's determination, the FDA may require the manufacturer to cease marketing and distribution and/or recall the modified device until 510(k) clearance or PMA approval is obtained. In the future, we may make modifications to our products after they have received FDA clearance and, in appropriate circumstances, determine that new clearance is unnecessary. However, the FDA may disagree with our determination, and, if the FDA requires us to seek 510(k) clearance or submit new PMA applications for any modifications to a previously cleared product, we may be required to cease marketing or distributing or recall the modified device until we obtain the required clearance or approval. We may also market or acquire products that are marketed without a 510(k) clearance, appropriate labeling, or that otherwise are marketed in violation of FDA requirements, since medical devices can be marketed only for the indications for which they are cleared or approved. Under these circumstances, we may also be subject to warning letters, significant regulatory fines, or other penalties, and we may no longer be able to market particular products for which a 510(k) clearance is required.

Post-Marketing Requirements

Numerous FDA regulatory requirements apply to devices we manufacture and distribute, including: compliance with the QSR, which require manufacturers and their suppliers to follow the applicable design, testing, processes, control, documentation, labeling, and other quality assurance procedures during the manufacturing process; establishment registration, which requires establishments involved in the production and distribution of medical devices intended for commercial distribution in the United States to register with the FDA; medical device listing, which requires manufacturers to list the devices they have in commercial distribution with the FDA; labeling regulations, which prohibit "misbranded" devices from entering the market, as well as prohibit the promotion of products for unapproved or off-label uses and impose other restrictions on labeling; post-market surveillance, including medical device reporting requirements which requires manufacturers to report to the FDA if their device may have caused or contributed to a death or serious injury, or malfunctioned in a way that would likely cause or contribute to a death or serious injury if it were to recur; and corrections and removal reporting regulations, which require that manufacturers report to the FDA field corrections and product recalls or removals if undertaken to reduce a risk to health posed by the device or to remedy a violation of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that may present a risk to health. The FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities actively enforce the laws and regulations prohibiting the promotion of off-label uses, and a company that is found to have improperly promoted off-label uses may be subject to significant liability.

The FDA enforces these requirements by inspection and market surveillance. Domestic facility records and manufacturing processes are subject to periodic unscheduled inspections by the FDA. The FDA may also inspect foreign facilities that export products to the United States. Failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements may result in enforcement action or other actions by the FDA, which may include one or more of the following sanctions: adverse press releases and safety communications; requests to stop shipments; untitled letters or warning letters; fines, injunctions, and civil penalties; mandatory recall or seizure of our products; customer notifications and repairs or replacements; administrative detention or banning of our products; consent decrees; operating restrictions, partial suspension or total shutdown of production; refusing our request for 510(k) clearances for new product versions or modifications to existing product versions; revocation of 510(k) clearances previously granted; refusal to grant export approval for our products; and criminal prosecution and penalties. If any of these events were to occur, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

International Regulation of Medical Devices

Sales of medical devices outside the United States are subject to foreign government regulations, which vary substantially from country to country. In order to market our products in other countries, we must comply with applicable regulatory requirements and authorizations and approvals and safety and quality regulations in each country in which the product is marketed. The time required to obtain authorization, approval, or certification by a foreign country may be longer or shorter than that required for FDA clearance, and the requirements may differ significantly.

EU Regulation of Medical Devices

In the European Union ("EU") until May 25, 2021, medical devices were regulated by the Council Directive 93/42/EEC, which has been repealed and replaced by the Medical Device Regulation ("EU MDR"). Unlike directives, regulations are directly applicable in all EU member states without the need for member states to implement into national law. The EU extended the EU MDR transitional periods for certain medical devices until December 31, 2027 or December 31, 2028, depending on a device's risk class and subject to certain conditions to ensure continued access to medical devices for patients and to allow medical devices already placed on the market in accordance with the current legal framework to remain on the market, provided that the requirements of the transitional provisions are fulfilled.

In the EU, there is currently no premarket government review of medical devices. However, all medical devices placed on the EU market must meet general safety and performance requirements, and compliance with the general safety and performance requirements is a prerequisite for European conformity marking without which medical devices cannot be marketed or sold in the EU. EU MDR requirements regarding the distribution, marketing, and sale, including quality systems and post-market surveillance, have to be observed by manufacturers, importers, and distributors as of the application date (i.e., since May 26, 2021), including registration of economic operators and of devices (once the relevant modules of Eudamed are functional), surveillance, and vigilance requirements. The aforementioned EU rules are generally applicable in the European Economic Area which consists of the 27 EU member states plus Norway, Liechtenstein, and Iceland.

The NDA Approval Process

For any new drug products regulated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act such as our ReadyPrep CHG cloth, a sponsor must submit a New Drug Application ("NDA"), to the FDA for review and approval. The NDA review and approval process may take multiple years and involves steps including the following:

- completion of preclinical studies and analytical and stability testing in accordance with applicable regulations;
- submission to the FDA of an Investigational New Drug ("IND") application, which must become effective before clinical trials may begin and must be updated annually and amended when certain changes are made;
- approval by an institutional review board, or IRB, or independent ethics committee, or IEC, at each clinical trial site before each trial may be initiated;
- performance of adequate and well-controlled clinical trials in accordance with applicable IND regulations, good clinical practice, or GCP, requirements, including informed consent, financial disclosure by investigators, and other clinical trial-related regulations, to establish the safety and efficacy of the investigational product for each proposed indication and other condition of use;
- preparation and submission to the FDA of an NDA;

- satisfactory completion of one or more FDA pre-approval inspections of the manufacturing facility or facilities where the drug will be produced to assess compliance;
- satisfactory completion of FDA inspection of select clinical trial sites involved in conducting pivotal studies that generated the data in support of the NDA;
- payment of user fees for FDA review of the NDA; and
- FDA review and approval of the NDA, including of the proposed prescribing information and, where applicable, consideration of the views of any FDA advisory committee, prior to any commercial marketing or sale of the drug in the United States.

Any approvals that we may ultimately receive could be withdrawn if required post-marketing trials or analyses do not meet the FDA requirements, which could materially harm the commercial prospects for our products.

Even if a product candidate receives regulatory approval, the approval may be limited to specific disease states, patient populations and dosages, or might contain significant limitations on use in the form of warnings, precautions or contraindications, or in the form of onerous risk management plans, restrictions on distribution, or post-marketing study requirements. Further, even after regulatory approval is obtained, later discovery of previously unknown problems with a product may result in restrictions on the product or even complete withdrawal of the product from the market. Delay in obtaining, or failure to obtain, regulatory approval for our candidate products, or obtaining approval but for significantly limited use, would harm our business. In addition, we cannot predict what adverse governmental regulations may arise from future U.S. or foreign governmental action.

Trade Regulations

The movement of products, services, and investment across borders subjects us to extensive trade regulations. A variety of laws and regulations in the countries in which we transact business apply to the sale, shipment, and provision of goods, services, and technology across borders. These laws and regulations govern, among other things, our import, export, and other business activities. We are also subject to the risk that these laws and regulations could change in a way that would expose us to additional costs, penalties, or liabilities. Some governments also impose economic sanctions against certain countries, governments, persons, and entities, both for unlawful or malign conduct and to discourage or prevent entities from abiding by other countries' laws. In addition to our need to comply with such regulations in connection with our direct activities, we also sell and provide goods, technology, and services to agents, representatives, and distributors who may export such items to customers and end-users. If we, or the third parties through which we do business, are not in compliance with applicable import, export control, or economic sanctions laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability. Such actions may disrupt or delay sales of our products or services or result in restrictions on our distribution and sales of products or services that may materially impact our business.

Anti-Boycott Laws

Under U.S. laws and regulations, U.S. companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates are prohibited from participating or agreeing to participate in unsanctioned foreign boycotts in connection with certain business activities, including the sale, purchase, transfer, shipping, or financing of goods or services within the United States or between the United States and countries outside of the United States. If we, or certain third parties through which we sell or provide goods or services, violate U.S. anti-boycott laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability.

Data Privacy and Security Laws and Regulations

Our business includes the processing of personally identifiable information ("Personal Data") of consumers; Medline applicants, employees, and other workforce members; our customers' patients, plan members, and employees; our vendors' employees; and other third parties, as well as protected health information ("PHI"), where we continue to meet the definition of a Business Associate on behalf of our customers for certain parts of our business. We maintain PHI that we Processed about Medline's own patients under certain of our historic offerings. We are directly or, through our customers, indirectly subject to numerous and evolving federal, state, and foreign laws and regulations relating to the processing of Personal Data and PHI, such as the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, as amended, and the regulations that implement the law and its amendments (collectively, "HIPAA"), the Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991 ("TCPA"), the Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard, Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (the "FTCA"), and the EU's General Data Protection Regulation and its UK equivalent ("UK GDPR" and collectively, "GDPR"), the California Consumer Privacy Act, which was further expanded by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 ("CPRA" and collectively, "CCPA"), and similar data privacy legislation enacted or under consideration by various other U.S. states, and U.S. state data breach notification laws.

HIPAA establishes privacy and security standards that limit our use and disclosure of PHI and requires us to implement administrative, physical, and technical safeguards to ensure the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of PHI, as well as to notify affected individuals, the HHS Office for Civil Rights ("OCR"), and, in breaches involving 500 individuals or more in a state / jurisdiction, the media, of breaches of unsecured PHI when we are acting as a Covered Entity. If we are acting as a Business Associate, we must notify our Covered Entity clients of breaches of unsecured PHI and security incidents. HIPAA contains substantial restrictions and requirements with respect to the use and disclosure of certain PHI. These restrictions and requirements are subject to change. For example, in December 2024, OCR issued a notice of proposed rulemaking to update the HIPAA security rule with respect to the cybersecurity of electronic PHI. While HIPAA does not create a private right of action allowing individuals to sue us in civil court for violations of HIPAA, its standards have been used as the basis for duty of care in state civil suits such as those for negligence or recklessness in the misuse or breach of PHI. In addition, OCR performs compliance audits in order to proactively enforce the HIPAA privacy and security standards. OCR has the discretion to impose penalties and may require companies to enter into resolution agreements and corrective action plans which impose ongoing compliance requirements. OCR enforcement activity can result in financial liability and reputational harm, and responses to such enforcement activity can consume significant internal resources. In addition to enforcement by OCR, state Attorneys General are authorized to bring civil actions under either HIPAA or relevant state laws seeking either injunctions or damages in response to violations that threaten the privacy of state residents.

In addition to HIPAA, we must adhere to U.S. state patient privacy laws that are not pre-empted by HIPAA, including those that are more stringent than HIPAA requirements. Numerous other U.S. state, federal, and foreign laws, including consumer protection laws and regulations, govern the collection, dissemination, use, access to, confidentiality, and security of patient health information. In addition, Congress and some U.S. states are considering new laws and regulations that further protect the privacy and security of medical records or medical information. With the recent increase in publicity regarding data breaches resulting in improper dissemination of consumer information, all states have passed laws regulating the actions that a business must take if it experiences a data breach, such as prompt disclosure to affected customers. The FTC and states' Attorneys General have also brought enforcement actions and prosecuted some data breach cases as unfair and/or deceptive acts or practices under the FTC Act, in addition to actions related to the Health Breach Notification Rule ("HBNR").

In the United States, the FTC is increasingly active in regulating health-related privacy and security, including by holding companies accountable for statements or promises made about the privacy or security of health information, through Section 5 of the FTCA, which prohibits unfair or deceptive acts or practices. In addition, the FTC expects a company's data security measures to be reasonable and appropriate in light of the sensitivity and volume of consumer information it holds, the size and complexity of its business, and the cost of available tools to improve security and reduce vulnerabilities. Individually identifiable health information is considered sensitive data that merits stronger safeguards. For information that is not subject to HIPAA and deemed to be "personal health records," the FTC may also impose penalties for violations of the HBNR to the extent we are considered a "personal health record-related entity" or "third party service provider." As a result, we may be subject to scrutiny by federal and state regulators, partners, and consumers related to our collection, use, and disclosure of consumer Personal Data, including health information. Additionally, federal and state consumer protection laws continue to be applied by FTC and states' Attorneys General to regulate the collection, use, storage, and disclosure of Personal Data.

At the state level in the United States, the CCPA added new privacy protections for California residents with respect to certain types of Personal Data, including by introducing new data privacy rights for California residents and establishing a regulatory agency dedicated to enforcing compliance. The CPRA came into effect on January 1, 2023, applying to information collected by businesses on or after January 1, 2022. Various other U.S. states have enacted similar comprehensive consumer data privacy legislation, and several other U.S. states and countries are considering expanding or passing privacy laws in the near term. Further, states such as Washington, Connecticut, and Nevada have recently enacted broadly applicable laws to protect the privacy of personal health information, which generally require regulated entities to obtain consent for the collection, use, or sharing of any "consumer health data," which may include Personal Data that is linked or reasonably linkable to a consumer and that identifies a consumer's past, present, or future physical or mental health. The effects of such state privacy laws are potentially far-reaching and may require us to modify our data Processing practices and policies and incur substantial compliance-related costs and expenses, and it remains unclear how various provisions will be interpreted and enforced by the courts and regulators. It remains possible that the U.S. Congress will ultimately (despite many failed attempts over the past several years) enact a comprehensive federal privacy law that would preempt or partially preempt U.S. state comprehensive privacy laws, but it also remains a possibility that a federal U.S. comprehensive privacy law would not preempt state law but instead layer on additional compliance complexity.

Similarly, many foreign laws and regulations, including in countries in which we currently operate, govern the Processing of Personal Data. For example, the GDPR imposes requirements for controllers and processors subject to the law with respect to Processing the Personal Data of EU and UK residents. Guidance on implementation and compliance practices is often updated or otherwise revised. Ensuring compliance with the GDPR is an ongoing commitment that involves substantial costs, and despite our efforts, data protection authorities or others (including individual consumers) may assert that our business practices fail to comply with its requirements. If our operations are found to violate GDPR requirements, we may incur substantial fines and other penalties, required changes to our business practices and reputational harm, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business. Such penalties are in addition to any civil litigation claims by data controllers and data subjects. Laws and regulations relating to privacy and data protection are continually evolving and subject to potentially differing interpretations by various courts and regulators. The effects of the new privacy laws are potentially far-reaching and may require us to modify our data processing practices and policies and incur substantial compliance-related costs and expenses, and it remains unclear how various provisions will be interpreted and enforced by the courts and regulators.

In addition to our product offerings, we also provide electronic medical devices and other digital tools which can connect to each other and to other technology. Many of the laws referenced above also contain requirements to have appropriate technical and organizational security controls and measures in place for such technologies and technical infrastructure. We must manage the information security as well as privacy risks of these connected systems to ensure secure and effective exchange and use of exchanged information. Perceived or actual security vulnerabilities in our products or services, or the perceived or actual failure by us or our customers who use our products or services to comply with applicable legal or contractual data privacy and security requirements, may not only cause us significant reputational harm, but may also lead to claims against us by our customers and/or governmental and regulatory authorities and involve substantial fines, penalties and other liabilities and expenses, and costs for remediation.

In the event of a privacy or security incident or claim that we, a service provider, or a third party with which we do business has violated applicable privacy or security laws and regulations, we may be subject to regulatory or legal action. If legislation or regulations are changed or expanded, or if governing jurisdictions interpret or implement legislation or regulations in new ways, it could require changes in our business practices and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Healthcare Fraud and Abuse Laws and Regulations

Certain of our businesses involve the marketing and sale of, and third-party payment for, med-surg products that are subject to extensive state, federal, and foreign governmental laws and regulations. U.S. laws and regulations are imposed primarily in connection with government healthcare programs, such as the Medicare, Medicaid, and TRICARE programs, as well as the government's interest in regulating the quality and cost of healthcare. U.S. federal healthcare laws apply when we or our customers submit claims for items or services that are reimbursed under government healthcare programs, including laws related to kickbacks, false claims, self-referrals and healthcare fraud. We have been, and may in the future be, subject to CMS audits of our performance to determine our historical compliance with CMS contracts and regulations. Other governments also impose laws and regulations in connection with their healthcare reimbursement programs and the delivery of healthcare items and services.

Our med-surg products are purchased principally by hospitals and physicians that typically bill various third-party payers, including government healthcare programs, private insurance plans and managed care plans, for the healthcare services provided to their patients. We also directly submitted claims to government healthcare programs as a Medicare-enrolled durable medical equipment, prosthetics, orthotics, and supplies ("DMEPOS") supplier. As a result, we have been and from time to time are subject to audits by government healthcare programs and third-party payers related to such claims, which may require actions including refunds of overpayments and may result in penalties, litigation or enforcement actions. Although we divested the assets associated with this DMEPOS supplier business unit in October 2023, we may nonetheless be subject to past and future product liability claims, enforcement actions, regulatory investigations, fines and penalties, regardless of their ultimate outcome, any of which could harm our reputation and have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Key federal fraud and abuse laws include the federal Anti-Kickback Statute (the "AKS"), the Stark Law, False Claims Act (the "FCA"), and the Civil Monetary Penalties Law (the "CMP Law"). The AKS prohibits, among other things, any person or entity from knowingly and willfully offering, paying, soliciting, or receiving any remuneration (including any kickback, bribe, or rebate), directly or indirectly, overtly or covertly, to induce, reward, or in return for the referral of an individual for, or the purchasing, leasing, ordering, or arranging for or recommending the purchase, lease, or order of any good, facility, item, or service reimbursable, in whole or in part, by Medicare, Medicaid, or other federal healthcare programs. The term "remuneration" has been broadly interpreted to include anything of value, including cash, improper discounts, and free or reduced price items and services. Among other things, the AKS has been interpreted to apply to arrangements between pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device manufacturers on the one hand and prescribers, purchasers, and formulary managers on the other. Although there are a number of statutory exceptions and regulatory safe harbors protecting some common activities from prosecution, the exceptions and safe harbors are drawn narrowly. Practices that involve remuneration that may be alleged to be intended to induce prescribing, purchases, or recommendations may be subject to scrutiny if they do not meet the requirements of a statutory or regulatory exception or safe harbor. Failure to meet all of the requirements of a particular applicable statutory exception or regulatory safe harbor does not make the conduct per se illegal under the AKS. Instead, the legality of the arrangement will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis based on a cumulative review of all of its facts and circumstances. Several courts have interpreted the statute's intent requirement to mean that if any one purpose of an arrangement involving remuneration is to induce referrals of federal healthcare program-covered business, the AKS has been violated. In addition, a person or entity does not need to have actual knowledge of the statute or specific intent to violate it in order to have committed a violation. Violations are subject to civil monetary penalties of up to $124,732 (which is adjusted annually for inflation) for each violation, plus up to three times the remuneration involved, and may result in criminal fines and imprisonment of up to ten years, and/or exclusion from Medicare, Medicaid, or other governmental programs.

Federal law also includes a provision commonly known as the Stark Law, which prohibits a physician from referring Medicare or Medicaid patients to an entity providing "designated health services," which includes DME, if the physician or immediate family member of the physician has an ownership or investment interest or compensation arrangement with such entity that does not comply with the requirements of a Stark exception. Violation of the Stark Law could result in denial of payment, disgorgement of reimbursements received under a non-compliant arrangement, civil penalties, and exclusion from Medicare, Medicaid, or other governmental programs.

The federal false claims and civil monetary penalties laws, including the civil False Claims Act, prohibit, among other things, any person or entity from knowingly presenting, or causing to be presented, a false or fraudulent claim for payment to or approval by the federal government or knowingly making, using, or causing to be made or used a false record or statement material to a false or fraudulent claim to the federal government. A claim includes "any request or demand" for money or property presented to the U.S. government. Further, a claim including items or services resulting from a violation of the federal AKS or Stark Law also constitutes a false or fraudulent claim for purposes of the federal civil False Claims Act. Actions under the False Claims Act may be brought by the Attorney General or as a qui tam action by a private individual in the name of the U.S. government. Violations of the False Claims Act can result in very significant monetary penalties and treble damages. The federal government is using the False Claims Act and the accompanying threat of significant liability in its investigation and prosecution of pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device companies throughout the country. Manufacturers can be held liable under these laws if they are deemed to "cause" the submission of false or fraudulent claims, for example, in connection with the promotion of products for unapproved or off-label uses and other sales and marketing practices. The government has obtained multi-million and multi-billion dollar settlements under the False Claims Act in addition to individual criminal convictions under applicable criminal statutes. When an entity is determined to have violated the federal civil False Claims Act, the government may impose civil fines and penalties ranging from $13,946 to $27,894 (which are adjusted annually for inflation) for each false claim, plus treble damages, and exclude the entity from participation in Medicare, Medicaid, TRICARE, and other federal healthcare programs. In addition, companies found liable under the False Claims Act have been forced to implement extensive corrective action plans and have often become subject to consent decrees or corporate integrity agreements, severely restricting the manner in which they conduct their business and imposing ongoing reporting and disclosure obligations.

The federal CMP Law imposes penalties against any person or entity that, among other things, is determined to have presented or caused to be presented a claim to a federal healthcare program that the person knows or should know is for an item or service that was not provided as claimed or is false or fraudulent.

The fraud and abuse laws and regulations have been subject to heightened enforcement activity over the past few years, and significant enforcement activity has been the result of qui tam "relators" who serve as whistleblowers by filing complaints in the name of the United States (and, if applicable, particular states) under applicable false claims laws, and who may receive up to 30% of total government recoveries. Penalties under fraud and abuse laws may be severe and could result in significant civil and criminal penalties and costs, including the loss of licenses and the ability to participate in federal and state healthcare programs. Such penalties could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Also, these measures may be interpreted or applied by a prosecutorial, regulatory, or judicial authority in a manner that could require us to make changes in our operations or incur substantial defense and settlement expenses. Given the significant size of actual and potential settlements, it is expected that governmental authorities will continue to devote substantial resources to investigating healthcare providers' and manufacturers' compliance with applicable fraud and abuse laws. Even unsuccessful challenges by regulatory authorities or private relators could result in reputational harm and the incurring of substantial costs.

In addition, as a manufacturer of FDA-cleared devices reimbursable by federal healthcare programs, we are subject to the Physician Payments Sunshine Act (the "Sunshine Act"), which requires us to annually report certain payments and other transfers of value we make to U.S.-licensed physicians, as defined by statute, certain other healthcare professionals and U.S. teaching hospitals, as well as ownership and investment interests held by physicians and their immediate family members. The Sunshine Act pre-empts similar state reporting laws, although we or our subsidiaries may be required to report under certain state transparency laws that address circumstances not covered by the Sunshine Act, and some of these state laws, as well as the federal law, can be ambiguous.

Most states have adopted similar laws related to transparency, kickbacks, false claims, and self-referrals that apply to products or services covered by state Medicaid and other healthcare programs and private third-party payers, some of which apply to manufacturers and suppliers of items reimbursed by any payor, including commercial payors. In addition, these state laws have their own penalties, which may be in addition to federal penalties.

We are also subject to foreign regulations requiring transparency of certain interactions between suppliers and their customers. Many member states in the EU have adopted specific anti-gift statutes that further limit commercial practices for medical devices, in particular vis-à-vis healthcare professionals and organizations. Additionally, there has been a recent trend of increased regulation of payments and transfers of value provided to healthcare professionals or entities. In addition, many EU member states have adopted such national "Sunshine Acts" which impose reporting and transparency requirements (often on an annual basis), similar to the requirements in the United States, on medical device manufacturers. Certain countries also mandate implementation of commercial compliance programs. Any failure to comply with these laws and regulations could subject us or our officers and employees to criminal and civil financial penalties.

While we believe that we are substantially compliant with applicable fraud and abuse laws and regulations, and have implemented compliance programs and controls in place designed to ensure substantial compliance, we cannot predict whether changes in applicable law, or interpretation of laws, or changes in our services or marketing practices in response to changes in applicable law or interpretation of laws, or failure to comply with applicable law, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Implementation of legislative or regulatory reforms to reimbursement systems, or adverse decisions relating to our products by administrators of these systems in coverage or reimbursement, could significantly reduce reimbursement or result in the denial of coverage, which could have an impact on the acceptance of and demand for our products and the prices that our customers are willing to pay for them.

Environmental, Health and Safety Requirements

We are subject to various environmental, health and safety ("EHS") requirements both inside and outside the United States. Like other companies in our industry, our manufacturing and other operations involve air emissions, wastewater and stormwater discharges, and the storage, use, and management of hazardous and other sensitive materials, and the disposal of hazardous waste. We are also subject to requirements relating to safe working conditions and laboratory practices. Our operations involve the use of substances regulated under EHS requirements, primarily in our manufacturing and sterilization processes. We believe we have implemented policies, practices and procedures that enable us to comply with applicable EHS requirements. However, EHS requirements may be detailed and complex, and we sometimes have been cited for violations of such requirements and may be cited for violations in the future. In addition, many such requirements are becoming increasingly stringent, and we are sometimes required to make changes to our operations for continued compliance, which can require substantial capital investments as well as increases in operating costs. See Part I. "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We are subject to extensive environmental, health and safety requirements, and our operations involve hazardous and other environmentally sensitive substances."

For example, we, as well as others in our industry, rely on ethylene oxide ("EtO") to sterilize certain medical products that we manufacture. In light of evolving science regarding risks related to EtO exposure, regulatory actions have been taken by some jurisdictions to reduce EtO emissions, and we have made substantial improvements to our two primary EtO sterilization facilities to meet such requirements and otherwise manage EtO emissions. There also has been a significant increase in regulations regarding per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances ("PFAS") in both the United States and Europe, including new and evolving regulations that prohibit the use (or require disclosure of the presence) of certain forms of PFAS in products. PFAS are ubiquitous in manufacturing, and not all forms of PFAS have been found to be hazardous to human health. We are actively developing and implementing protocols to comply with evolving regulations.

Operating, Security and Licensure Standards

We are subject to certain operational, security, and licensure requirements, including the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act ("DSCSA") in the United States, which mandates an industry-wide, national serialization system for pharmaceutical packaging with a ten-year phase-in process. By November 2018, all manufacturers and re-packagers were required to mark each prescription drug package with a unique serialized code. The DSCSA also establishes certain requirements for the licensing and operation of prescription drug wholesalers and third-party logistics providers and includes the eventual creation of national wholesaler and third-party logistics provider licenses in cases where states do not license such entities. In addition, with respect to our durable medical equipment ("DME") business, we are subject to certain state licensure laws (including state pharmacy laws), and also certain accreditation standards, including to qualify for reimbursement from Medicare and other third-party payers.

We are also subject to the FDA's unique device identification system requirements, which require "labelers" to include unique device identifiers ("UDIs"), with a content and format prescribed by the FDA and issued under a system operated by an FDA-accredited issuing agency, on the labels and packages of medical devices and to directly mark certain devices with UDIs. The UDI regulations also require labelers to submit certain information concerning UDI-labeled devices to the FDA.

Certain of our businesses are also required to register for permits and/or licenses with various state boards of pharmacy, state health departments and/or comparable state agencies as well as comparable foreign agencies, and certain accrediting bodies, depending on the type of operations and location of product distribution, manufacturing or sale. These businesses include those that distribute, manufacture, and/or repackage medical products, or own pharmacy operations.

Antitrust and Consumer Protection

The federal government of the United States, most U.S. states, and many foreign countries have antitrust laws that prohibit certain types of conduct deemed to be anti-competitive, as well as consumer protection laws that seek to protect consumers from improper business practices. At the U.S. federal level, the FTC, CPSC and DOJ oversee enforcement of these types of laws, and states have similar government agencies. Violations of antitrust or consumer protection laws may result in various sanctions, including criminal and civil penalties. Private plaintiffs may also bring civil lawsuits against us in the United States for alleged antitrust law violations, including claims for treble damages. EU law also regulates competition and provides for detailed rules protecting consumers.

International Transactions

U.S. and foreign import and export laws and regulations require us to abide by certain standards relating to the importation and exportation of products, including but not limited to the absence of forced labor in our supply chain. We also are subject to certain laws and regulations concerning the conduct of our foreign operations, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (the "FCPA"), U.S. export control laws, the UK Bribery Act, German anti-corruption laws, and other anti-bribery laws and laws pertaining to the accuracy of our internal books and records, as well as other types of foreign requirements similar to those imposed in the United States.

While we believe that we are substantially compliant with the foregoing laws and regulations promulgated thereunder and possess all material permits and licenses required for the conduct of our business, and while we have policies against and seek to avoid the import of goods that are manufactured in whole or in part by forced labor or other exploitative labor practices, there can be no assurance that regulations that impact our business or customers' practices will not have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Risks Related to Our Business, Industry, and Operations

Our global operations are subject to inherent risks that could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition.

Our global operations are subject to risks that may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, and financial condition. We import a significant percentage of our Medline Brand products from outside of the United States, including 5% of our costs of goods sold from China for the year ended December 31, 2025. As a result of our global operations, we may experience, among other things:

- difficulties and costs relating to staffing and managing foreign operations;
- difficulties and delays inherent in sourcing products, establishing channels of distribution, and contract manufacturing in foreign markets;
- difficulties in ending foreign distribution relationships where the distributor exclusively or predominantly markets and sells Medline Brand products;
- concerns related to transparency regarding extended international supply chains and labor risk based on sourcing footprint, including compliance with labor and human rights laws, that might arise despite reasonable efforts to mitigate this risk;
- fluctuations in the value of foreign currencies;
- uncertainties relating to trade agreements and international trade relationships;
- longer payment cycles of foreign customers and difficulty of collecting receivables in foreign jurisdictions;
- difficulties repatriating cash from our foreign operations to the United States;
- legal and regulatory requirements including, without limitation, compliance with the FCPA; UK bribery laws and similar anti-bribery, anti-corruption, and economic sanctions laws and regulations; laws pertaining to the accuracy of our internal books and records; and environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations;
- litigation risks, new or unanticipated litigation developments, and the status of litigation matters;
- unexpected difficulties in importing or exporting our products and trade laws, import/export tariffs, quotas, sanctions, or penalties, custom duties, and other trade restrictions;

FL DOH / Medline Industries, Inc.			Administrative Action
Name of Business/Industry/Entity
Medline Industries, Inc.; Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008.

Corrective Actions
Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT BETWEEN STATE BOARD OF PHARMACY AND MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.

Come now Medline Industries, Inc. ("Respondent") and the Missouri Board of Pharmacy ("Board" or "Petitioner") and enter into this Settlement Agreement for the purpose of resolving the question of whether Respondent's license as a drug distributor will be subject to discipline.

Pursuant to the terms of § 536.060, RSMo (2000), the parties hereto waive the right to a hearing by the Administrative Hearing Commission of the State of Missouri and, additionally, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board under § 621.110, RSMo (2000), and stipulate and agree that a final disposition of this matter may be effectuated as described below.

Respondent acknowledges that it understands the various rights and privileges afforded it by law, including the right to a hearing of the charges against it; the right to appear and be represented by legal counsel; the right to have all charges against it proved upon the record by competent and substantial evidence; the right to cross-examine any witnesses appearing at the hearing against it; the right to a decision upon the record by a fair and impartial administrative hearing commissioner concerning the charges pending against it and, subsequently, the right to a disciplinary hearing before the Board at which time it may present evidence in mitigation of discipline; and the right to recover attorney's fees incurred in defending this action against its license. Being aware of these rights provided it by operation of law, Respondent knowingly and voluntarily waives each and every one of these rights and freely enters into this Settlement Agreement and agrees to abide by the terms of this document, as they pertain to it.

Respondent acknowledges that it has received a copy of the draft complaint to be filed with the Board, the investigative report, and other documents relied upon by the Board in determining there was cause for discipline against Respondent's license. For the purpose of settling this dispute, Respondent stipulates that the factual allegations contained in this Settlement Agreement are true and stipulates with the Board that Respondent's temporary license as a drug distributor, License Number DD2003031660, is subject to disciplinary action by the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 621 and Chapter 338, RSMo 2000. 1. Respondent's drug distributor license shall be placed on PROBATION for five (5) years pursuant to the provisions of Chapters 338 and 620, RSMo. During the period of probation, Respondent will be entitled to operate as a drug distributor pursuant to Chapter 338, RSMo provided Respondent adheres to the following terms of probation:

A. Respondent shall report to the Board, on a preprinted form supplied by the Board office, once every six (6) months, beginning six (6) months after this Order/Agreement becomes effective, stating truthfully whether or not it has complied with all terms and conditions of this disciplinary order.

B. Respondent shall pay all required fees for licensing to the Board and shall renew its license prior to October 31 for each licensing year.

C. Respondent shall comply with all provisions of Chapter 338, Chapter 195, and all applicable federal and state drug laws, rules and regulations and with all federal and state criminal laws. "State" here includes the State of Missouri and all other states and territories of the United States.

D. If, after disciplinary sanctions have been imposed, Respondent ceases to keep its Missouri license current, the period of unlicensed status shall not be deemed or taken as any part of the time of discipline so imposed.

E. The parties to this Order/Agreement understand that the Board of Pharmacy will maintain this Order/Agreement as an open record of the Board as provided in Chapters 338, 610 and 620, RSMo.

2. Upon the expiration of said discipline, Respondent's license as a drug distributor in Missouri shall be fully restored if all other requirements of law have been satisfied; provided, however, that in the event the Board determines that the Respondent has violated any term or condition of this Settlement Agreement, the Board may, in its discretion, after an evidentiary hearing, vacate and set aside the discipline imposed herein and may suspend, revoke, or otherwise lawfully discipline the Respondent.

3. No order shall be entered by the Board pursuant to the preceding paragraph of this Settlement Agreement without notice and an opportunity for hearing before the Board in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 536, RSMo.

If any alleged violation of this Settlement Agreement occurred during the disciplinary period, the Board may choose to conduct a hearing before it either during the disciplinary period, or as soon thereafter as a hearing can be held to determine whether a violation occurred and, if so, it may impose further discipline. The Board retains jurisdiction to hold a hearing to determine if a violation of this Settlement Agreement has occurred.

5. The terms of this Settlement Agreement are contractual, legally enforceable, binding, and not merely recitals. Except as otherwise contained herein, neither this Settlement Agreement nor any of its provisions may be changed, waived, discharged, or terminated, except by an instrument in writing signed by the party against whom the enforcement of the change, waiver, discharge, or termination is sought.

6. Respondent hereby waives and releases the Board, its members and any of its employees, agents, or attorneys, including any former board members, employees, agents, and attorneys, of, or from, any liability, claim, actions, causes of action, fees, costs and expenses, and compensation, including, but not limited to, any claims for attorney's fees and expenses, including any claims pursuant to § 536.087, RSMo, or any claim arising under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which may be based upon, arise out of, or relate to any of the matters raised in this litigation, or from the negotiation or execution of this Settlement Agreement. RE: Prescription Drug Wholesaler Permit No. 23:01470

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. Mr. David L. Magruder, the designated representative identified for permit no. 23:01470 has resigned his position. We have not received a "Notification of Designated Representative" form identifying a certified individual to replace him. As a result Medline Industries, Inc. does not have a designated representative as required by s. 499.012(11), F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(b)4., F.S., to be certified as a designated representative, a person must receive a passing score of at least 75 percent on an examination given by the department regarding federal laws governing distribution of prescription drugs and ss. 499.001-499.081 and the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs.

Accordingly, and pursuant to the above referenced facts and law, the department hereby intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler because you have not complied with s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S. and otherwise do not have a designated certified representative on file with the Department that meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S. which is a substantial failure to comply with ss. 499.001 – 499.081, F.S. and is a failure to meet the requirements for the permit, for which the suspension is authorized pursuant to Sections 499.067 (1) (a); 499.067 (1) (b) 2. F.S.

Therefore, the department concludes that Medline Industries, Inc. no longer meets the requirements to continue to operate as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler in Florida and the permit will be suspended until you have designated in writing to the department a person with an active certification to serve as a designated representative who meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S.

NOTICE OF RIGHTS TO HEARING AND APPEAL

You have the right to request an administrative hearing pursuant to sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., if you wish to challenge the intended agency action to suspend your permit. Such proceedings are governed by sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., and Rules 28-106 and 28-107, Florida Administrative Code. Request for a hearing, formal or informal, must comply with Rule 28-107.004, Florida Administrative Code.

You have the right to be represented by counsel or other qualified representative, at your expense; to present evidence and argument; to call and cross-examine witnesses; and to have subpoena and subpoena duces tecum issued on your behalf if a hearing is requested.

A petition for administrative hearing must be in writing and must be received by the Agency Clerk for the Department, within twenty-one (21) days from the receipt of this complaint. The address of the Agency Clerk is 4052 Bald Cypress Way, BIN # A02, Tallahassee FL 32399-1703. The Agency Clerk's facsimile number is 850-410-1448.

Mediation is not available as an alternative remedy.

Your failure to submit a petition for hearing within 21 days from receipt of this complaint will constitute a waiver of your right to an administrative hearing, under Florida Administrative Code Rule 28-106.111 and this complaint shall become a "final order".

Should this correspondence become a final order, a party who is adversely affected by it is entitled to judicial review pursuant to s 120.68, F.S. Review proceedings are governed by the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure. Such proceedings may be commenced by filing one copy of a Notice of Appeal with the Agency Clerk of the Department of Health and a second copy, accompanied by the filing fees required by law, with the Court of Appeal in the appropriate District Court. The notice must be filed within 30 days of rendition of the final order.

Sincerely,

If such hearing occurs, Respondent waives any right that it may have to recuse or remove any or all members of the Board for the purposes of an Administrative Hearing in the event the proposed Consent Order is not accepted by the Board, or if Respondent withdraws his consent to the proposed Consent Order prior to its final approval by the Board. Furthermore, Respondent has had the opportunity to, or has in fact consulted with, legal counsel with regards to the Consent Order and the waivers contained herein.

FINDINGS OF FACTS

1. Respondent possesses Louisiana License No. 4318 issued by the Board to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices in the State of Louisiana. Such license was in effect on 3/5/2008 through the date of the evidentiary hearing in this matter.

2. 3. On 3/5/2008, an inspection was conducted by the Board's representative which revealed that copies of customer licenses were not at the Covington LA facility. A verbal request to provide a customer listing which should be maintained at the Covington LA facility was made. The customer license list was not available.
4. Information was thereafter submitted by Respondent to the Board's inspector as per the inspector's request. In review of a customer listing ("Pedigree List") as provided by the Respondent, the inspector requested copies of customer licenses for 15 of the customers listed. Verbal explanation was given was that customer licenses are verified and the customer is entered electronically into the system as an authorized recipient but that no hard copy of the customer license is being maintained.
5. Respondent's conduct in failing to maintain customer license documents and/or a customer listing at the Covington LA site is in violation of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D.
6. Disciplinary sanctions and/or fines are applicable against Respondent in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

2. It is unlawful for Respondent, as a licensee to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices, to violate any of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors. La. R.S. 37:3474.1 and LAC 46:XCI.101
3. Respondent's violations of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors constitute lawful grounds for the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors, upon due notice of hearing and proof of such violations, to assess a fine, revoke, suspend, or otherwise discipline Respondent's license as provided by law. La. R.S. 37:3474.1 and LAC 46:XCI.701 et seq.

DECISION

4. Respondent is hereby assessed a fine in the amount of $2,000 for its failure to properly maintain copies of current licenses for customers shipped or sold legend drugs or devices and/or a customer listing on site. Said fine to be paid on the effective date of

RE: Louisiana License No. 4318

CERTIFIED MAIL
No. 7007 3020 0000 4431 9031
Return Receipt Requested

Dear Lara Simmons:

As you may recall, the Board is mandated by law to license and regulate the wholesale distribution of legend drugs and devices in Louisiana in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors. This letter will acknowledge receipt of your response dated 4/3/2008. This letter is also intended to respond to any inquiries you may have regarding the deficiencies found during the inspection which occurred on 3/5/2008 at MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s Covington LA distribution facility.

Pursuant to the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee should maintain copies of current licenses which authorizes a customer to procure and possess legend drugs and devices. If these customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customers including customer names, addresses, license number, and the license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.

On 3/5/2008, the Board's inspector discovered that copies of customer licenses which authorize the customer to procure and possess legend drugs/devices or a listing of customers' license information were not being maintained at the Covington LA facility.

A verbal request was made by the inspector of a customer list which should have been maintained at the Covington LA facility. After receiving and reviewing a copy of the customer list, as referred to by Medline as their "Pedigree List", the inspector requested copies of 30 customer licenses from the listing. Of the requested customer license copies, the inspector found that 70% of the licenses requested were either not acceptable licenses or were not available.

It is evident that MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. was in violation of LAC 46:XCI.311.D at the time of the inspection on 3/5/2008. The Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors, more particularly LA RS 37:3474.1, provides that, after due notice and hearing, MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license may be sanctioned and/or it may be assessed a fine for its actions or omissions. Fines alone may include an assessment of $1,000 per violation per day. It is the Board's objective to regulate the industry by correcting behavior. Such is accomplished by imposing sanctions for wrongful conduct.

It is hoped that the above detailed violation(s) as corrected will not occur in the future. Therefore, in an effort to amicably resolve the issues regarding the violation(s) which did occur, I, as the Board's appointed investigating/compliance officer, extend an offer to you which would impose a total fine of $2,000. This proposed sanction does not impose any restrictions on MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license.

If MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is agreeable to these terms, I have enclosed a Consent Order for your review and execution. Please have an authorized representative for your company sign the Consent Order in front of a Notary and two witnesses. Return the original, executed Consent Order along with a check made to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors in the amount of the $2,000 fine to the Board's office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter. You and/or a company representative will not be required to attend the evidentiary hearing at which the executed Consent Order will be presented to the full Board for acceptance, however you and/or another representative are welcome to attend.

In the event MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is not agreeable to this amicable resolution and wishes to contest the investigative findings in a hearing before the full Board, it has the right to do so. If such occurs, the current offer being proposed in this letter will no longer be viable.

We would like to bring this matter to disposition either by this amicable resolution or the pursuit of a formal hearing against MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. before the Board at the next scheduled Board meeting. To do so, either way, we will need to prepare the necessary paperwork with all resolution documents. Again, please respond to this offer either by returning the executed Consent Order and fine payment or by written request for an administrative hearing. If your response is not received at the Board office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter, the Board will begin steps towards the formal hearing with the issuance of subpoenas for witnesses and records.

We wish to keep an open line of communication with you. Please contact the Board office in the event you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Respectfully,

Wayne Gremillion

Re: RICO Case No. PHA 2008-71-L

Dear Ms. Wolfe:

I received the signed Settlement Agreement. One correction had to be made, and I apologize that we did not notice this earlier. On page 3, paragraph 5, the citation to HRS section 436B-19(13) was changed to HRS section 436B-19(15) which is the correct citation. Enclosed is a copy of the corrected replacement page. I will now forward the document to the executive officer of the Board of Pharmacy, and we will be notified as to whether it gets approved or not by the Board.

Very truly yours,

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. (hereinafter "Respondent"), enter into this Settlement Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth below.

A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number a). Respondent entered into a Settlement Agreement with the Missouri State Board of Pharmacy. Pursuant to the terms of a Joint Agreed Disciplinary Order, Respondent's Missouri drug distributor's license was placed on probation and Respondent was ordered to comply with certain terms and conditions. 5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

3. RICO received information that disciplinary action had been taken against Respondent's licenses by the States of Missouri and Florida. Specifically, RICO received information regarding the following:

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2008-17-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Probation. Respondent's wholesale prescription drug distributor's license is hereby placed on probation for a period of five (5) years. During the probationary period, Respondent agrees to comply with the following terms of the probation as set forth in paragraphs C.2, C.3, and C.4 below:

5. Failure to Comply with Settlement Agreement. If Respondent fails to fully and timely comply with the terms of this Settlement Agreement as set forth in paragraph(s) C.1, C.2, C.3 and C.4 above, Respondent's license shall be automatically revoked upon RICO's filing of an affidavit with the Board attesting to such failure. In case of such revocation, Respondent shall turn in all indicia of the license to the Executive Officer of the Board within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the revocation. In case of such revocation, Respondent understands Respondent cannot apply for a new license until the expiration of at least five (5) years after the effective date of the revocation. 9. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

10. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any

11. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

Re: 08 PHM 037

Dear Ms. Hornick:

As you know, an inspector for the Department of Regulation and Licensing inspected Medline Industries on May 9, 2008. He found that several policies were missing, and the facility was storing prescription drugs in a non-secure location. It has been determined that these violations are grounds for discipline. I am the prosecuting attorney assigned to the case.

I have enclosed a proposed stipulation and order, which would resolve this matter without a hearing. If you are willing to resolve this case by agreement, please sign and return the stipulation and order by December 9, 2008. I will then present it to the Pharmacy Examining Board at its next meeting. The stipulation and order is not binding unless and until it is accepted by the board.

If you do not return the signed stipulation and order by December 9, 2008, I will file a formal complaint and initiate the hearing process. Please be aware that it is the policy of the Department to assess costs against respondents whenever any discipline is imposed. Your costs are presently $100. If we have to take this matter through a hearing, they will escalate quickly and could reach several thousand dollars.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT PRIOR TO FILING OF PETITION
FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION AND BOARD'S FINAL ORDER

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. (hereinafter "Respondent"), enter into this Settlement Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth below.

A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number PWD 115. The license was issued on or about October 3, 2005. The license will expire on or about December 31, 2009.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ATTACHED IS A TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE ORIGINAL ON FILE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE & CONSUMER AFFAIRS.

2. Respondent's mailing address for purposes of this action is Dianna Wolfe, Corporate Regulatory Affairs Specialist, Medline Industries, Inc., One Medline Place, Mundelein, Illinois 60060.

3. Respondent timely reported that disciplinary action had been taken against Respondent by the State of Wisconsin. Respondent had entered into a Stipulation with the State of Wisconsin's Pharmacy Examining Board. Pursuant to the terms of a Final Order, Respondent was reprimanded and ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $2,000.00. This action was based on the results of an inspection which revealed that certain policies were missing and that Respondent was storing pre-packaged kits for surgeries (which included various types and quantities of prescription drugs) in a warehouse that was shared with another company. These kits were not secured and employees of the other company had access to the kits. A true and correct copy of the Stipulation and Final Decision and Order which was approved on February 4, 2009 is attached as Exhibit "1."

4. RICO alleges that Respondent was disciplined by another state for a reason provided by the licensing laws in Hawaii. Specifically, the Respondent was disciplined for professional misconduct.

5. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 461-21(a)(2) (professional misconduct). Per Hawaii Administrative Rules §§ 16-95-30(c)(6) and (9), a licensee's facility must be secure from unauthorized entry and entry into areas where prescription drugs are held must be limited to authorized personnel.

6. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein licensed as a wholesale prescription drug distributor by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the license and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2009-7-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of ONE THOUSAND AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($1,000.00). Payment shall be made by cashier's check, company check, or money order made payable to "DCCA - Compliance Resolution Fund" and mailed to the Regulated Industries Complaints Office, Attn: Bobbi Lum-Mew, Esq., 235 S. Beretania Street, 9th Floor, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813. Payment of the fine shall be due within thirty (30) days after this Settlement Agreement is approved by the Board.

2. Failure to Comply with Settlement Agreement. If Respondent fails to fully and timely comply with the terms of this Settlement Agreement as set forth in paragraph C.1 above, Respondent's license shall be automatically revoked upon RICO's filing of an affidavit with the Board attesting to such failure. In case of such revocation, Respondent shall turn in all indicia of the license to the Executive Officer of the Board within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the revocation. In case of such revocation, Respondent understands Respondent cannot apply for a new license until the expiration of at least five (5) years after the effective date of the revocation. Respondent understands that if Respondent desires to become licensed again, Respondent must apply to the Board for a new license pursuant to and subject to HRS §§ 92-17, 436B-21, and all other applicable laws and rules in effect at the time.

3. Possible further sanction. The Board, at its discretion, may pursue additional disciplinary action as provided by law to include further fines and other sanctions as the Board may deem appropriate if Respondent violates any provision of the statutes or rules governing the conduct of wholesale prescription drug distributors in the State of Hawaii, or if Respondent fails to abide by the terms of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5, C.6, C.7 and C.8 below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board.

5. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

6. Any Ambiguities Shall be Construed to Protect the Consuming Public. It is agreed that any ambiguity in this Settlement Agreement is to be read in the manner that most completely protects the interests of the consuming public.

7. No Reliance on Representations by RICO. Other than the matters specifically stated in this Settlement Agreement, neither RICO nor anyone acting on its behalf has made any representation of fact, opinion or promise to Respondent to induce entry into this Settlement Agreement, and Respondent is not relying upon any statement, representation or opinion or promise made by RICO or any of its agents, employees, representatives or attorneys concerning the nature, extent or duration of exposure to legal liability arising from the subject matter of this Settlement Agreement or concerning any other matter.

8. Complete Agreement. This Settlement Agreement is a complete settlement of the rights, responsibilities and liabilities of the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof; contains the entire agreement of the parties; and may only be modified, changed or amended by written instrument duly executed by all parties hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have signed this Settlement Agreement on the date(s) set forth below.

STATE OF COLORADO

Case No. 2010-002994

STIPULATION AND FINAL AGENCY ORDER

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE LICENSE TO PRACTICE AS A OUT-OF-STATE WHOLESALER IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.,

Wholesaler Applicant.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and Medline Industries, Inc. ("Wholesaler Applicant") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2010-002994 as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Wholesaler Applicant, its application for registration as an out-of-state wholesaler and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act at Title 12, Article 22, C.R.S.

2. Wholesaler Applicant admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

3. Wholesaler Applicant entered into a Settlement Agreement with the Missouri State Board of Pharmacy, which was effective on August 3, 2005 ("Missouri Settlement Agreement").

4. In the Missouri Settlement Agreement, Wholesaler Applicant was placed on probation for five (5) years for various violations of Missouri state and federal law involving recordkeeping, storage of prescription drugs, change of location without informing the Missouri Board of Pharmacy, lack of a policy and procedure manual, and distribution of prescription drugs under a lapsed registration.

5. Wholesaler Applicant's conduct, as set forth above, constitutes violations of the following sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes:

12-22-125. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline.

(1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(III) Any state or federal law pertaining to drugs.

12-22-125.2. Disciplinary actions.

(1) The board may deny or discipline an applicant, licensee, or registrant when the board determines that such applicant, licensee, or registrant has engaged in activities that are grounds for discipline.

6. On January 14, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted an out-of-state wholesaler application, which application was denied by the Board.

7. On March 1, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted a written request asking that the Board accept its application by granting a conditional license.

8. The Board finds and concludes, and Wholesaler Applicant agrees, that based upon Wholesaler Applicant's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances as a condition of its registration as an out-of-state wholesaler.

DISPOSITION

Conditional Registration / Probation / Compliance / Terms

9. Conditional Registration. Wholesaler Applicant shall be granted a registration as an out-of-state wholesaler upon execution of this Final Agency Order and satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

10. Probation. Wholesaler Applicant's registration shall be placed on probation for a period of time equal to the time of probation remaining under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Credit toward satisfying the period of probation under this Final Agency Order shall be given only during such periods of time that Respondent is in total compliance with all provisions of this Final Agency Order and the Missouri Settlement Agreement.

11. Compliance. Wholesaler Applicant shall at all times remain in compliance with §§12-22-801, et seq. C.R.S. and shall not at any time distribute prescription drugs into Colorado without being registered as an out-of-state wholesaler in the State of Colorado at the time of distribution.

12. Other Requirements. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that, as a condition of this Final Agency Order and probation, Wholesaler Applicant shall:

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

Medline Inc. was incorporated as a Delaware corporation on November 6, 2024. Prior to the completion of its initial public offering (the "IPO") on December 18, 2025, Medline Inc. undertook certain reorganization transactions (the "Reorganization") such that Medline Inc. is now a holding company, and its sole material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, LP ("Medline Holdings"). Following the IPO, Medline Holdings is the predecessor of Medline Inc. for financial reporting purposes. As the general partner of Medline Holdings, Medline Inc. now operates and controls all of the business and affairs of Medline Holdings and, through Medline Holdings and its subsidiaries, conducts its business. The Reorganization lacks economic substance and therefore is accounted for in a manner consistent with a reorganization of entities under common control. As a result, the consolidated financial statements of Medline Inc. recognize the assets and liabilities received in the Reorganization at their historical carrying amounts, as reflected in the historical financial statements of Medline Holdings. Medline Inc. will consolidate Medline Holdings on its consolidated financial statements and record a non-controlling interest related to the Units (as defined herein) held by the Continuing Unitholders (as defined herein) on its consolidated balance sheets and statements of comprehensive income.

Medline Inc. had no significant business transactions or activities prior to the Reorganization, and, as a result, the historical financial information reflects that of Medline Holdings.

Basis of Presentation

The consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included herein are prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). The results of businesses acquired or disposed of are included in the consolidated financial statements from the date of the acquisition or up to the date of disposal, respectively. All adjustments, in the opinion of management, necessary to a fair statement of the results for the annual periods presented have been made.

Certain monetary amounts, percentages, and other figures included in this Annual Report have been subject to rounding adjustments. Percentage amounts included in this Annual Report have been calculated, in some cases, not on the basis of such rounded figures, but on the basis of such amounts prior to rounding. For this reason, percentage amounts in this Annual Report may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures, on the face of our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Annual Report. Certain other amounts that appear in this Annual Report may not sum due to rounding.

In December 2024, we changed the name of Medline Holdings from Mozart Holdings, LP to Medline Holdings, LP. We will not distinguish between the prior and current name of Medline Holdings and will refer to the current name of Medline Holdings throughout this Annual Report. References in this Annual Report to "Medline," the "Company," "we," "us," and "our" refer (1) prior to the consummation of the IPO, to Medline Holdings, LP and its consolidated subsidiaries and (2) after the IPO to Medline Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Summary of Risk Factors

The following is a summary of the principal factors that make an investment in our securities speculative or risky, all of which are more fully described below. This summary should be read together with the risk factors described under Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and should not be relied upon as an exhaustive summary of the material risks facing our business. - Our business and operations depend on the proper functioning of our critical facilities and distribution networks and could be negatively impacted by events outside our control.
- Quality problems and product liability claims have in the past led, and could in the future lead, to recalls or safety alerts, reputational harm, adverse verdicts, or costly settlements, and could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition.
- Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline.

- Our substantial indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition, our ability to operate our business or react to changes in the economy or our industry, prevent us from fulfilling our obligations under our debts, and divert our cash flow from operations for debt payments.
- The credit agreement that governs the Senior Secured Credit Facilities and the indentures that govern the Senior Notes will each impose significant operating and financial restrictions on our subsidiaries, which may prevent us from capitalizing on business opportunities.
- Medline Inc. is a holding company and its only material assets are its equity interests held directly or indirectly through wholly owned subsidiaries in Medline Holdings, and it is accordingly dependent upon distributions from Medline Holdings to pay taxes, make payments under the tax receivable agreement, and pay any dividends.
- The Designating Stockholders hold a significant percentage of our stock, and their interests may conflict with ours or yours in the future.

The market price of shares of our Class A common stock may be volatile or may decline regardless of our operating performance, which could cause the value of your investment to decline.

Market and Industry Data

Unless otherwise indicated, information contained in this Annual Report concerning our industry, competitive position, and the markets in which we operate is based on information from independent industry and research organizations, other third-party sources and management estimates. Although we believe that these third-party sources are reliable, we do not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of this information, and we have not independently verified this information. Management estimates are derived from information obtained from surveys, reports by market research firms, our customers, distributors, suppliers, trade and business organizations, and other contacts in the markets in which we operate and have not been verified by independent sources, and are based on assumptions made by us upon reviewing such data, and our experience in, and knowledge of, such industry and markets, which we believe to be reasonable. In addition, assumptions and estimates of our and our industry's future performance are subject to a high degree of uncertainty and risk due to a variety of factors, including those described in Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements." These and other factors could cause results to differ materially from those expressed in the estimates made by the independent parties and by us.

Statements regarding our market position (including statements that we are the largest company in a particular market), unless otherwise noted, are based on our 2025 net sales in the relevant market relative to the publicly reported net sales of our competitors in such market, including with respect to our statement of being the largest provider of med-surg products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, as that statement is based on our 2025 net sales relative to the publicly reported net sales of med-surg products by companies that are both med-surg manufacturers and distributors.

Trademarks

We own or have the right to use trademarks, trade names, and service marks used in connection with our business, including, but not limited to, Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima. All trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report are the property of their respective owners. We do not intend our use or display of other companies' trade names, trademarks, or service marks to imply a relationship with, or endorsement or sponsorship of us by, these other companies. Solely for convenience, our trademarks, trade names, and service marks referred to in this Annual Report may appear without the ®, ™ or SM symbols, but such references are not intended to indicate, in any way, that we will not assert, to the fullest extent under applicable law, our rights or the right of the applicable licensor to these trademarks, trade names, and service marks.

PART I

General

Medline Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, "Medline", "the Company", "we", "ours" and "us") is the largest provider of medical-surgical ("med-surg") products and supply chain solutions serving all points of care, based on total net sales of med-surg products. Medline was founded in 1966 and today delivers mission-critical products used daily across the full range of care settings, from hospitals and surgery centers to physician offices and post-acute facilities. Our mission is to make healthcare run better by delivering improved clinical, financial, and operational outcomes.

We have two reportable segments, Medline Brand and Supply Chain Solutions, the combination of which addresses critical needs in the market through a comprehensive solution. They are both supported by our Prime Vendor model, differentiated distribution network, and robust commercial platform. Through our two segments, we offer approximately 335,000 med-surg products, including surgical and procedural kits, gloves and protective apparel, urological and incontinence care, wound care, and consumable lab and diagnostics products. We distribute these products through our expansive network of global distribution facilities and our owned fleet of MedTrans trucks.

Medline Brand

As of December 31, 2025, we offer our customers approximately 190,000 med-surg products through our Medline Brand segment and hold leading positions across many key product families for our Medline Brand products. Our Medline Brand products are organized into three product categories: Front Line Care, Surgical Solutions, and Laboratory and Diagnostics.

- Front Line Care offers mission-critical med-surg products for patient-facing needs, including wound care products, exam gloves, skin care and incontinence products, environment cleaning supplies, textiles, hand sanitizer, durable medical equipment, patient plastics, and decolonization and infection control products.
- Surgical Solutions offers operating room and perioperative environment product solutions, including surgical procedure trays, drapes and gowns, personal protective equipment, sterile wraps, surgical instruments, surgeon's gloves, procedure kits, and orthopedic implants.
- Laboratory and Diagnostics offers a full range of laboratory and diagnostic product solutions, including point of care testing, analyzers and instrumentation, lab and diagnostic consumables, diagnostic instruments, vital signs monitors, and anatomic pathology and phlebotomy products.

Our product development approach incorporates customer feedback and ongoing innovation. We are also committed to delivering products of the highest standard, which is reflected by our robust quality team embedded across our manufacturing and sourcing locations. The expertise of our research and development team and quality team helps ensure products bearing the Medline brand meet both our rigorous quality standards and our customers' expectations.

Supply Chain Solutions

As of December 31, 2025, we offer approximately 145,000 med-surg products from over 1,300 third-party suppliers, including nearly all leading national brands, through our Supply Chain Solutions segment. We also provide our customers with supply chain optimization services such as consulting engagements, outsourced warehouse and technology management, put-away-ready packaging, third-party logistics, inventory rationalization, and route planning. Our third-party suppliers are primarily responsible for costs related to import and inbound freight, whereas we are primarily responsible for costs related to outbound freight from our distribution centers. Our supply chain expertise allows us to provide additional service offerings to optimize our customers' supply chain and inventory workflows, helping these customers cost-effectively manage their supply chain while building strong relationships and enhancing retention.

A Prime Vendor relationship is a relationship for which there is a multi-year distribution agreement between Medline and a customer, whereby the customer agrees to use Medline for the vast majority of its med-surg product needs.

In our Prime Vendor relationships, we enter into long-term agreements, typically structured with five-year terms, to act as the primary consolidated logistics partner for these customers' med-surg product needs. These agreements have been and are expected to continue to be a key contributor to our growth. Our customers realize efficiencies by partnering with one supply chain partner to consolidate their med-surg purchase volume. Prior to the market adoption of the Prime Vendor model, customers sourced such products individually from a highly fragmented base of suppliers. The Prime Vendor model instead centralizes procurement and distribution, which in turn drives efficiency and higher service levels.

As Prime Vendor, we drive significant cost savings to our customers. Our scale allows us to deliver consistently lower prices and better service levels on Medline Brand products relative to third-party alternatives, while also lowering the distribution cost for delivery of the full range of med-surg products. This often motivates customers to purchase more Medline Brand products over time. The opportunity is even greater in certain non-acute settings, where we sell a more focused product portfolio. Our Prime Vendor model allows us to provide cost savings to Prime Vendor customers, which, over time, supports incremental purchasing of our Medline Brand products and greater scale across our operations. As our scale grows, we are able to realize further efficiencies by offering superior or similar quality to third-party products at a more cost-effective price. We believe that Medline Brand conversion is mutually beneficial for both our customers and us-the value we provide customers at the outset of a Prime Vendor agreement meaningfully increases over time, as they accrue savings by purchasing our lower cost Medline Brand products, while our profitability grows given the enhanced margin profile of Medline Brand products. This compelling value proposition and supply chain relationship with our customers supports our greater than 98% average Prime Vendor retention rate over the past five years.

A portion of Supply Chain Solutions products sold to existing Prime Vendor customers has like-for-like Medline Brand product equivalents, representing a potential gross profit uplift consistent with our historical margin differentials if such products were converted for Medline Brand products. While we historically have earned higher margins upon conversion from third-party national brand products to like-for-like Medline Brand products, because of the lower average prices for Medline Brand products, there is typically a negative impact on net sales upon the conversion of Supply Chain Solutions products to like-for-like Medline Brand products if volume is assumed to be constant. For additional information on potential risks relating to this conversion opportunity, please see Part I, "Item 1A—Risk Factors—Risks Related to Our Business, Industry and Operations—Our failure to establish and maintain Prime Vendor relationships may cause our revenue to decline."

Our Distribution Network

We have a differentiated distribution network of 70 global distribution centers, warehouses, cross-docks, and transship facilities, 45 of which are in the United States, strategically located to provide next-day delivery to 95% of our U.S. customer base. We utilize artificial intelligence ("AI") and robotics technology in over 26 million square feet of warehouse space in the United States to improve efficiency and capacity to optimize distribution logistics and maximize utilization. The products we distribute are packaged to meet each customer's individual needs and to be "put-away-ready," which streamlines the customer's unloading and shelving process. We also operate our own fleet of more than 2,100 MedTrans trucks that deliver our products across care settings within the United States. As of December 31, 2025, we had approximately 25% in incremental capacity across our platform to support our long-term growth.

Our Commercial Platform

Our deep connectivity to our customers is driven by the strength of our dedicated and tenured commercial team. We have a U.S. commercial team of approximately 4,000 people across all points of care, which includes account managers, product specialists, specialized clinical resources, customer service representatives, supply chain specialists, Prime Vendor analysts, and a robust leadership team dedicated to driving efficiencies for our customers through their teams. We have created an entrepreneurial environment that empowers our salesforce to work with our product managers to create innovative products that meet market demand. We have a team devoted to each channel in the United States and each region or country internationally, which allows our salesforce teams to develop market-specific knowledge.

Research and Development

We have a track record of successfully bringing new products to market, with more than 2,300 granted patents and more than 450 U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") 510(k) clearances. Over the last three years, we have successfully launched more than 250 new products.

Competition

Our value proposition is derived from our integrated business model, the breadth of our Medline Brand portfolio, our differentiated supply chain, and the overall quality and cost of our products. As a result of our integrated business model, our competitors include both other leading med-surg product manufacturers and distributors.

Similar to us, other leading med-surg product manufacturers produce a wide range of med-surg supplies. However, unlike us, many of these competitors are reliant upon third-party distributors to deliver their products to customers. By nature of being a distributor, Medline has direct access to and manages the end customer relationships. This enables us to offer a complete solution as a manufacturer and a distributor, offering our customers what we believe to be best-in-class supply chain logistics, and driving value through our brand.

Additionally, other distributors of med-surg products similarly connect the fragmented supplier and provider bases and aggregate inventory from suppliers to deliver products to customers, such as McKesson, Cardinal Health, Owens & Minor, and Henry Schein. These distribution companies compete with us for Prime Vendor agreements. However, we believe that many of these competitors do not benefit from the scale and scope of our vertical integration or commercial excellence, and thus are not able to provide the same magnitude of cost savings, value, and holistic solutions that we deliver for our customers.

Production and Raw Materials

We manufacture approximately one-third of our Medline Brand products, which are primarily Class I and II medical devices, through our 30 manufacturing facilities, of which 24 are in North America. We purchase many of the components and raw materials used in manufacturing our products from numerous suppliers. We focus our manufacturing capabilities on products where we can leverage technology and automation to drive higher quality and lower costs to better serve our customers. For the vast majority of the other two-thirds of our Medline Brand products, we work closely with our network of more than 600 global partners across approximately 40 countries, many of whom have decades-long exclusive relationships with us. The breadth of our global sourcing partnerships provides diversification and strengthens our resiliency, with no single sourcing partner accounting for more than 5% of total spend as of December 31, 2025.

We also have plans and measures in place to help ensure continuity of supply while maintaining high quality and reliability. Generally, we have been able to obtain adequate supplies of such raw materials and components. However, due to the FDA's manufacturing requirements and those of other regulatory authorities, we may not be able to quickly establish additional or replacement sources for certain components, materials or processes if we experience a sudden or unexpected reduction or interruption in supply or services and are unable to develop alternative sources.

Human Capital Resources

At Medline, our relentless focus on the customer drives our human capital strategy, which revolves around attracting, developing, and retaining employees to provide the best products and services for our customers. We have developed a strong foundation that drives our recruitment, retention and development efforts. We are committed to supporting the personal and professional development of our employees, as well as providing competitive benefits and a safe, inclusive workplace.

As of December 31, 2025, we employed over 45,000 employees worldwide, with over 26,000 located in the United States. Our largest non-U.S. employee populations are in Mexico, Dominican Republic, India, Canada, Slovakia, France, China, Japan, Germany, and Australia. None of our employees in the United States are unionized, though some of our employees in Mexico belong to unions. In Germany and the Netherlands, employees are represented through Works Councils; in France and Spain, employees are represented through both Works Councils and industry-wide collective bargaining agreements; and in Belgium and Italy, employees are also represented through industry-wide collective bargaining agreements. In Australia, certain employees are represented by an enterprise bargaining agreement; in Japan, employees are represented through a Work Council; and in Vietnam, employees are represented through a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that our positive employee relations and total employee experience drive the continual growth of our workforce.

Culture and Values

Our culture is grounded in a customer-focused, collaborative, and performance-driven approach, guided by core values emphasizing relentless customer focus, agility and flexibility, problem-solving, drive to succeed, purposeful candor, and the importance of relationships. Employees are encouraged to exercise judgment, work transparently with customers, and contribute meaningfully to our mission to make healthcare run better.

Talent Attraction and Development

We seek to attract employees whose skills, experience, and motivation align with our operational and technical needs. Through continual improvement of internal processes, an awareness of market and candidate driven trends, and in partnership with vendors and other outside organizations, our talent acquisition programs focus on efficient hiring processes, market awareness, and building a diverse pipeline of candidates. We support development through consistent performance management processes and early career opportunities to take on additional responsibilities to demonstrate their competencies and drive to succeed and on-the-job responsibility augmented by formal training and development to refine technical and leadership skills. New sales representatives participate in comprehensive training programs, and product managers have targeted development pathways through all stages of their careers, from mandatory onboarding offerings to advanced classes that provide the necessary skills with increasing levels of responsibility, to support progression over time.

Employee Engagement and Inclusion

We believe our employees' ability to communicate and cooperate effectively across functional and departmental teams positively impacts our performance. We engage in various listening strategies and foster engagement through survey feedback mechanisms, anonymous employee feedback platform, focus groups, increased attention to onboarding and offboarding feedback, pulse surveys on remote work needs, and other listening strategies. Insights from these efforts inform workplace improvements. We also support an inclusive environment through Employee Resource Groups and leadership training initiatives designed to reduce bias in talent decisions and strengthen representation across the company.

Health, Safety, and Well-Being

We are committed to maintaining a safe workplace and supporting the physical, emotional, and financial well-being of our employees. We provide competitive health and benefits programs, access to assistance resources where available, and opportunities for community involvement through charitable giving, including financial giving and in-kind giving such as product donations.

Intellectual Property

We rely upon patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights to maintain and improve our competitive position. We have a large portfolio of intellectual property, including more than 2,300 granted patents as well as trademark registrations protecting our notable brands, including Medline, Curad, Microtek, Hudson, and Proxima.

We consider the trademarks and know-how that we own to be material to our business. However, other than the Medline mark, we do not consider our business to be materially dependent upon any individual trademark registration or trade secret. In the aggregate, we consider our more than 2,300 granted patents to be material to our business. However, no single patent or group of related patents is material to our business as a whole or any segment of our business.

We believe that we have taken all necessary steps to protect our intellectual property rights, but no assurance can be given that we will be able to successfully enforce or protect our rights in the event that they are infringed upon or challenged by a third party. See Part I, "Item 1A —Risk Factors—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—Any failure to obtain, maintain, protect and enforce our intellectual property rights, or the failure of the strength or scope of our intellectual property rights, could harm our business, financial condition, and results of operations" and "—Risks Related to Regulation and Legal Proceedings—We may become subject to litigation brought by third parties claiming infringement, misappropriation, or other violation by us of their intellectual property rights."

Government Regulation

Our operations and products are subject to extensive regulation by numerous governmental regulatory authorities, including U.S. and other international regulatory authorities, and other government agencies inside and outside the United States. To varying degrees, each of these agencies requires us to comply with laws and regulations governing the development, design, materials, testing, safety, efficacy, quality, purity, manufacturing, methods, controls, testing, screening, recordkeeping, reporting, processing, storage, registration, authorization, licensing, permitting, labeling, advertising, marketing, distribution, offer for sale, sale, use, expiration, pricing, reimbursement, import, export, clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance of our products, the registration of our facilities, and the claims that we make about our products. The United States and other countries where we sell healthcare and other regulated products, including drugs, human cell and tissue products, dietary supplements, cosmetics, certain foods, and consumer products subject such products to their own clearance, authorization, approval, registration, listing, labeling, manufacturing, recordkeeping, reporting, and other regulatory requirements regarding the performance, safety, and quality of such products. We are also subject to healthcare and other regulations and enforcement by the federal government and the states and foreign governments and authorities in the locations in which we conduct our business. The U.S. governmental and regulatory authorities that enforce such laws and rules, and that issue guidance on compliance with such laws and rules include, without limitation, the FDA, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services ("CMS"), other divisions of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS"), the HHS Office of Inspector General, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA"), the Federal Trade Commission ("the FTC"), Consumer Product Safety Commission ("CPSC"), the U.S. Department of Justice ("DOJ") and individual U.S. Attorney offices within the DOJ, as well as state and local governments. Our business is also affected by patient and data privacy and security laws, government payer cost containment initiatives, government reimbursement laws and regulations, environmental, health, and safety laws and regulations, as well as laws and regulations with respect to the sale, transportation, storage, handling, and disposal of hazardous or potentially hazardous substances, and safe working conditions. Our business also maintains contracts with governmental agencies and such contracts are subject to various government procurement laws and regulations, required contract provisions, and other requirements relating to contract formation, administration and performance. Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations or with contractual or other requirements may result in monetary damages and criminal or civil penalties as well as termination of our government contracts or our suspension or debarment from government contract work.

The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, including through the offering of new products and services or entering into new geographic areas, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The foreign, federal, state, and local regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products, suspend, revoke, or terminate our product and facility licenses, permits, and authorizations, request the cessation of distribution and shipments of certain products due to regulatory, safety, or other issues, seize or order the recall of our products, issue safety, quality, or other communications to the public or healthcare providers, enforce laws related to marketing, including promotion of off-label uses of products, and impose injunctions and significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of laws and regulations. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, may impact our business practices and operations, including by limiting our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, affecting the production and distribution of products by our manufacturing facilities, subjecting us to significant liability, and limiting our ability to obtain future authorizations. Although we are subject to international government regulations in the international end markets where we operate and/or provide our products, these regulations do not have a material impact on our products as no international market represents more than 3% of our net sales.

Government Regulation of Medical Devices

Our medical devices are subject to regulation by numerous government agencies, including the FDA and comparable state and foreign agencies. Regulations of the FDA and other regulatory agencies in and outside the United States impose extensive compliance and monitoring obligations on portions of our business. The FDA and other U.S. and foreign governmental agencies regulate, among other things, with respect to medical devices: design, development, and manufacturing; testing, registration, listing, labeling, content, and language of instructions for use and storage; clinical trials; product safety; marketing, sales, and distribution; licensing and permit requirements; premarket clearance, approval and authorization; record keeping procedures; advertising and promotion; recalls and field safety corrective actions; post-market surveillance, including reporting of deaths or serious injuries and malfunctions that, if they were to recur, could lead to death or serious injury; post-market approval studies; and product import and export. The regulations to which we are subject are complex and have tended to become more stringent over time. If our business expands in certain ways, we may be subject to new and additional regulatory requirements. The FDA and state regulatory authorities have broad inspection and enforcement powers, including the ability to suspend or limit the distribution of products by our distribution centers; seize or order the recall of products; terminate, suspend, or revoke licenses and permits; and impose significant criminal, civil, and administrative sanctions for violations of these laws and regulations. Foreign regulations subject us to similar foreign enforcement powers. In addition, the FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities, both in and outside the United States (including the FTC, the HHS Office of the Inspector General, the DOJ, and various state Attorneys General), monitor the promotion and advertising of our products. Any adverse regulatory or other action, including any adverse press releases or other communications from regulators, depending on its magnitude, may limit our ability to effectively market, ship, and sell our products, limit our ability to obtain future premarket authorizations, or result in a substantial modification to our business practices and operations.

FDA Premarket Clearance and Approval Requirements

Each medical device we wish to distribute commercially in the United States requires marketing authorization from the FDA prior to distribution, unless the device is exempt from premarket notification requirements. The type of marketing authorization necessary is generally linked to the classification of the device. The FDA classifies medical devices into one of three classes-Class I, II, or III-based on the degree of risk associated with a device and the level of regulatory control deemed necessary to ensure its safety and effectiveness. Class I devices that pose the least risk are subject only to General Controls applicable to all devices, such as requirements for device labeling, premarket notification, and adherence to current good manufacturing practices for devices as set forth in the Quality System Regulation ("QSR"). Class II devices that pose a moderate risk are subject to General Controls and may also be subject to Special Controls, such as performance standards, product-specific guidance documents, special labeling requirements, patient registries, or post-market surveillance. Class III devices are those for which insufficient information exists to assure safety and effectiveness solely through General and Special Controls, including devices that support or sustain human life, are of substantial importance in preventing impairment of human health, or which present a potential unreasonable risk of illness or injury.

Most Class I devices and some Class II devices are exempted by regulation from the 510(k) clearance requirement and can be marketed without prior authorization from the FDA. Class I and II devices that are not exempted are eligible for marketing through the 510(k) clearance pathway. By contrast, devices placed in Class III generally require premarket approval ("PMA") or de novo clearance prior to commercial marketing. The PMA approval process is more stringent, time-consuming and expensive than the 510(k) clearance process; however, the 510(k) clearance process has also become increasingly stringent and expensive. None of our products are currently approved under a PMA, and we have no plans for any indication or system improvement or extension that we believe would require a PMA. If, in the future, we were to file a PMA, we may be subject to additional regulatory requirements.

510(k) Clearance Process

To obtain 510(k) clearance, we must submit a premarket notification to the FDA demonstrating the proposed device to be substantially equivalent to a predicate device. A device is substantially equivalent if, with respect to the predicate device, it has the same intended use and it has either the same technological characteristics, or it has different technological characteristics, but the information provided in the 510(k) submission demonstrates that the device does not raise new questions of safety or effectiveness. The standard review process for 510(k)s is between six to nine months, dependent upon the type of 510(k) filing submitted. Although many 510(k) premarket notifications are cleared without clinical data, in some cases, the FDA may require clinical data to support substantial equivalence. In reviewing a premarket notification, the FDA may request additional information, including clinical data, which may significantly prolong the review process and clearance is never assured. Clinical trials generally require the submission of an investigational device exemption ("IDE") to the FDA for a specified number of patients and study sites, unless the product is deemed a non-significant risk device eligible for more abbreviated IDE requirements. Clinical trials are subject to numerous requirements and institutional review board approval, oversight, and monitoring. Even if a trial is conducted, the results of clinical testing may not adequately demonstrate the safety and effectiveness of the device or be sufficient to obtain FDA clearance or approval for marketing.

After a device receives 510(k) clearance, any subsequent modification of the device that could significantly affect its safety or effectiveness, or that would constitute a major change in its intended use, requires a new 510(k) clearance or could require submission and approval of a de novo 510(k) or a PMA application in cases where new indications are sought for which there is no predicate. Non-significant changes are handled via internal documentation by the Company. Each manufacturer must judge the significance of modifications based on FDA 510(k) regulatory requirements and guidance documents. The FDA may review any such decision and may disagree with a manufacturer's determination. If the FDA disagrees with a manufacturer's determination, the FDA may require the manufacturer to cease marketing and distribution and/or recall the modified device until 510(k) clearance or PMA approval is obtained. In the future, we may make modifications to our products after they have received FDA clearance and, in appropriate circumstances, determine that new clearance is unnecessary. However, the FDA may disagree with our determination, and, if the FDA requires us to seek 510(k) clearance or submit new PMA applications for any modifications to a previously cleared product, we may be required to cease marketing or distributing or recall the modified device until we obtain the required clearance or approval. We may also market or acquire products that are marketed without a 510(k) clearance, appropriate labeling, or that otherwise are marketed in violation of FDA requirements, since medical devices can be marketed only for the indications for which they are cleared or approved. Under these circumstances, we may also be subject to warning letters, significant regulatory fines, or other penalties, and we may no longer be able to market particular products for which a 510(k) clearance is required.

Post-Marketing Requirements

Numerous FDA regulatory requirements apply to devices we manufacture and distribute, including: compliance with the QSR, which require manufacturers and their suppliers to follow the applicable design, testing, processes, control, documentation, labeling, and other quality assurance procedures during the manufacturing process; establishment registration, which requires establishments involved in the production and distribution of medical devices intended for commercial distribution in the United States to register with the FDA; medical device listing, which requires manufacturers to list the devices they have in commercial distribution with the FDA; labeling regulations, which prohibit "misbranded" devices from entering the market, as well as prohibit the promotion of products for unapproved or off-label uses and impose other restrictions on labeling; post-market surveillance, including medical device reporting requirements which requires manufacturers to report to the FDA if their device may have caused or contributed to a death or serious injury, or malfunctioned in a way that would likely cause or contribute to a death or serious injury if it were to recur; and corrections and removal reporting regulations, which require that manufacturers report to the FDA field corrections and product recalls or removals if undertaken to reduce a risk to health posed by the device or to remedy a violation of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act that may present a risk to health. The FDA and other governmental and regulatory authorities actively enforce the laws and regulations prohibiting the promotion of off-label uses, and a company that is found to have improperly promoted off-label uses may be subject to significant liability.

The FDA enforces these requirements by inspection and market surveillance. Domestic facility records and manufacturing processes are subject to periodic unscheduled inspections by the FDA. The FDA may also inspect foreign facilities that export products to the United States. Failure to comply with applicable regulatory requirements may result in enforcement action or other actions by the FDA, which may include one or more of the following sanctions: adverse press releases and safety communications; requests to stop shipments; untitled letters or warning letters; fines, injunctions, and civil penalties; mandatory recall or seizure of our products; customer notifications and repairs or replacements; administrative detention or banning of our products; consent decrees; operating restrictions, partial suspension or total shutdown of production; refusing our request for 510(k) clearances for new product versions or modifications to existing product versions; revocation of 510(k) clearances previously granted; refusal to grant export approval for our products; and criminal prosecution and penalties. If any of these events were to occur, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

International Regulation of Medical Devices

Sales of medical devices outside the United States are subject to foreign government regulations, which vary substantially from country to country. In order to market our products in other countries, we must comply with applicable regulatory requirements and authorizations and approvals and safety and quality regulations in each country in which the product is marketed. The time required to obtain authorization, approval, or certification by a foreign country may be longer or shorter than that required for FDA clearance, and the requirements may differ significantly.

EU Regulation of Medical Devices

In the European Union ("EU") until May 25, 2021, medical devices were regulated by the Council Directive 93/42/EEC, which has been repealed and replaced by the Medical Device Regulation ("EU MDR"). Unlike directives, regulations are directly applicable in all EU member states without the need for member states to implement into national law. The EU extended the EU MDR transitional periods for certain medical devices until December 31, 2027 or December 31, 2028, depending on a device's risk class and subject to certain conditions to ensure continued access to medical devices for patients and to allow medical devices already placed on the market in accordance with the current legal framework to remain on the market, provided that the requirements of the transitional provisions are fulfilled.

In the EU, there is currently no premarket government review of medical devices. However, all medical devices placed on the EU market must meet general safety and performance requirements, and compliance with the general safety and performance requirements is a prerequisite for European conformity marking without which medical devices cannot be marketed or sold in the EU. EU MDR requirements regarding the distribution, marketing, and sale, including quality systems and post-market surveillance, have to be observed by manufacturers, importers, and distributors as of the application date (i.e., since May 26, 2021), including registration of economic operators and of devices (once the relevant modules of Eudamed are functional), surveillance, and vigilance requirements. The aforementioned EU rules are generally applicable in the European Economic Area which consists of the 27 EU member states plus Norway, Liechtenstein, and Iceland.

The NDA Approval Process

For any new drug products regulated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act such as our ReadyPrep CHG cloth, a sponsor must submit a New Drug Application ("NDA"), to the FDA for review and approval. The NDA review and approval process may take multiple years and involves steps including the following:

- completion of preclinical studies and analytical and stability testing in accordance with applicable regulations;
- submission to the FDA of an Investigational New Drug ("IND") application, which must become effective before clinical trials may begin and must be updated annually and amended when certain changes are made;
- approval by an institutional review board, or IRB, or independent ethics committee, or IEC, at each clinical trial site before each trial may be initiated;
- performance of adequate and well-controlled clinical trials in accordance with applicable IND regulations, good clinical practice, or GCP, requirements, including informed consent, financial disclosure by investigators, and other clinical trial-related regulations, to establish the safety and efficacy of the investigational product for each proposed indication and other condition of use;
- preparation and submission to the FDA of an NDA;

- satisfactory completion of one or more FDA pre-approval inspections of the manufacturing facility or facilities where the drug will be produced to assess compliance;
- satisfactory completion of FDA inspection of select clinical trial sites involved in conducting pivotal studies that generated the data in support of the NDA;
- payment of user fees for FDA review of the NDA; and
- FDA review and approval of the NDA, including of the proposed prescribing information and, where applicable, consideration of the views of any FDA advisory committee, prior to any commercial marketing or sale of the drug in the United States.

Any approvals that we may ultimately receive could be withdrawn if required post-marketing trials or analyses do not meet the FDA requirements, which could materially harm the commercial prospects for our products.

Even if a product candidate receives regulatory approval, the approval may be limited to specific disease states, patient populations and dosages, or might contain significant limitations on use in the form of warnings, precautions or contraindications, or in the form of onerous risk management plans, restrictions on distribution, or post-marketing study requirements. Further, even after regulatory approval is obtained, later discovery of previously unknown problems with a product may result in restrictions on the product or even complete withdrawal of the product from the market. Delay in obtaining, or failure to obtain, regulatory approval for our candidate products, or obtaining approval but for significantly limited use, would harm our business. In addition, we cannot predict what adverse governmental regulations may arise from future U.S. or foreign governmental action.

Trade Regulations

The movement of products, services, and investment across borders subjects us to extensive trade regulations. A variety of laws and regulations in the countries in which we transact business apply to the sale, shipment, and provision of goods, services, and technology across borders. These laws and regulations govern, among other things, our import, export, and other business activities. We are also subject to the risk that these laws and regulations could change in a way that would expose us to additional costs, penalties, or liabilities. Some governments also impose economic sanctions against certain countries, governments, persons, and entities, both for unlawful or malign conduct and to discourage or prevent entities from abiding by other countries' laws. In addition to our need to comply with such regulations in connection with our direct activities, we also sell and provide goods, technology, and services to agents, representatives, and distributors who may export such items to customers and end-users. If we, or the third parties through which we do business, are not in compliance with applicable import, export control, or economic sanctions laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability. Such actions may disrupt or delay sales of our products or services or result in restrictions on our distribution and sales of products or services that may materially impact our business.

Anti-Boycott Laws

Under U.S. laws and regulations, U.S. companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates are prohibited from participating or agreeing to participate in unsanctioned foreign boycotts in connection with certain business activities, including the sale, purchase, transfer, shipping, or financing of goods or services within the United States or between the United States and countries outside of the United States. If we, or certain third parties through which we sell or provide goods or services, violate U.S. anti-boycott laws and regulations, we may be subject to civil or criminal enforcement action and varying degrees of liability.

Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. Mr. David L. Magruder, the designated representative identified for permit no. 23:01470 has resigned his position. We have not received a "Notification of Designated Representative" form identifying a certified individual to replace him. As a result Medline Industries, Inc. does not have a designated representative as required by s. 499.012(11), F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(b)4., F.S., to be certified as a designated representative, a person must receive a passing score of at least 75 percent on an examination given by the department regarding federal laws governing distribution of prescription drugs and ss. 499.001-499.081 and the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs.

Accordingly, and pursuant to the above referenced facts and law, the department hereby intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler because you have not complied with s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S. and otherwise do not have a designated certified representative on file with the Department that meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S. which is a substantial failure to comply with ss. 499.001 – 499.081, F.S. and is a failure to meet the requirements for the permit, for which the suspension is authorized pursuant to Sections 499.067 (1) (a); 499.067 (1) (b) 2. F.S.

Therefore, the department concludes that Medline Industries, Inc. no longer meets the requirements to continue to operate as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler in Florida and the permit will be suspended until you have designated in writing to the department a person with an active certification to serve as a designated representative who meets the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) F.S.

NOTICE OF RIGHTS TO HEARING AND APPEAL

You have the right to request an administrative hearing pursuant to sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., if you wish to challenge the intended agency action to suspend your permit. Such proceedings are governed by sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., and Rules 28-106 and 28-107, Florida Administrative Code. Request for a hearing, formal or informal, must comply with Rule 28-107.004, Florida Administrative Code.

You have the right to be represented by counsel or other qualified representative, at your expense; to present evidence and argument; to call and cross-examine witnesses; and to have subpoena and subpoena duces tecum issued on your behalf if a hearing is requested.

A petition for administrative hearing must be in writing and must be received by the Agency Clerk for the Department, within twenty-one (21) days from the receipt of this complaint. The address of the Agency Clerk is 4052 Bald Cypress Way, BIN # A02, Tallahassee FL 32399-1703. The Agency Clerk's facsimile number is 850-410-1448.

Mediation is not available as an alternative remedy.

Your failure to submit a petition for hearing within 21 days from receipt of this complaint will constitute a waiver of your right to an administrative hearing, under Florida Administrative Code Rule 28-106.111 and this complaint shall become a "final order".

Should this correspondence become a final order, a party who is adversely affected by it is entitled to judicial review pursuant to s 120.68, F.S. Review proceedings are governed by the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure. Such proceedings may be commenced by filing one copy of a Notice of Appeal with the Agency Clerk of the Department of Health and a second copy, accompanied by the filing fees required by law, with the Court of Appeal in the appropriate District Court. The notice must be filed within 30 days of rendition of the final order.

Dear Mr. Stolarski:

This letter serves as notification that the department intends to suspend permit no. 23:01470 issued to Medline Industries, Inc. as an Out of State Prescription Drug Wholesaler based upon the following facts, grounds and considerations:

Section 499.067(1)(a), Florida Statutes (F.S.), authorizes the department to deny, suspend, or revoke a permit if it finds that there has been substantial failure to comply with § 499.001-499.081, F.S., or Chapter 465, Chapter 501, or Chapter 893, the rules adopted under any of those sections or chapters, any final order of the department, or applicable federal laws or regulations or other state laws or rules governing drugs, devices, or cosmetics. The department may also suspend a permit if the applicant has not met the requirements for the permit.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(a), F.S., each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesaler or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesaler. Such person must have an active certification as a designated representative from the department and must also meet the requirements of Section 499.012 (11) (d) F.S.

Pursuant to s. 499.012(11)(f), F.S., a wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesaler permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative. R.S. Title 37, Chapter 54, Section 3474.1 and LAC Title 46, Part XCI, Section 101.

Upon consideration of the evidence presented to the Board, this Consent Order is voluntarily entered into by and between Respondent and the Board. Respondent acting through its authorized agent, hereby waives formal Notice of and its attendance at the Evidentiary Hearing for presentation of the Consent Order to the Board. However, as a condition precedent to submission of the proposed Consent Order to the Board, Respondent hereby acknowledges and understands that information may be presented to the Board with regards to the details of the case for the Board to understand the circumstances. It is further acknowledged and understood by Respondent that in the event the Board is not agreeable to enter into the proposed Consent Order and an Administrative Hearing is ultimately conducted, the Board which will be presiding over the case will possibly have heard information which may later be submitted at the scheduled hearing. If such hearing occurs, Respondent waives any right that it may have to recuse or remove any or all members of the Board for the purposes of an Administrative Hearing in the event the proposed Consent Order is not accepted by the Board, or if Respondent withdraws his consent to the proposed Consent Order prior to its final approval by the Board. Furthermore, Respondent has had the opportunity to, or has in fact consulted with, legal counsel with regards to the Consent Order and the waivers contained herein.

FINDINGS OF FACTS

1. Respondent possesses Louisiana License No. 4318 issued by the Board to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices in the State of Louisiana. Such license was in effect on 3/5/2008 through the date of the evidentiary hearing in this matter.

2. Pursuant to LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee is required to maintain copies of current licenses for customer who are authorized by law or regulation to procure or possess legend drugs or devices for all customers that are shipped or sold legend drugs or devices; if these license copies are maintained off site, a list of customers with customer names, addresses, license number, and license expiration dates shall be maintained on site for all customers shipped or sold legend drugs or devices.
3. On 3/5/2008, an inspection was conducted by the Board's representative which revealed that copies of customer licenses were not at the Covington LA facility. A verbal request to provide a customer listing which should be maintained at the Covington LA facility was made. The customer license list was not available.
4. Information was thereafter submitted by Respondent to the Board's inspector as per the inspector's request. In review of a customer listing ("Pedigree List") as provided by the Respondent, the inspector requested copies of customer licenses for 15 of the customers listed. Verbal explanation was given was that customer licenses are verified and the customer is entered electronically into the system as an authorized recipient but that no hard copy of the customer license is being maintained.
5. Respondent's conduct in failing to maintain customer license documents and/or a customer listing at the Covington LA site is in violation of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D.
6. Disciplinary sanctions and/or fines are applicable against Respondent in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. It is unlawful for Respondent, as a licensee to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices, to not maintain current customer license documents and/or a current customer listing on-site. LAC 46:XCI.311.D.
2. It is unlawful for Respondent, as a licensee to wholesale distribute legend drugs and devices, to violate any of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors. La. R.S. 37:3474.1 and LAC 46:XCI.101
3. Respondent's violations of the provisions of the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for Wholesale Drug Distributors constitute lawful grounds for the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors, upon due notice of hearing and proof of such violations, to assess a fine, revoke, suspend, or otherwise discipline Respondent's license as provided by law. La. R.S. 37:3474.1 and LAC 46:XCI.701 et seq.

DECISION

4. Respondent is hereby assessed a fine in the amount of $2,000 for its failure to properly maintain copies of current licenses for customers shipped or sold legend drugs or devices and/or a customer listing on site. Said fine to be paid on the effective date of this Consent Order. No practice restrictions are placed on Respondent's license issued by the Board.

5. The existence and terms of this Consent Order will not be confidential or privileged information in accordance with the laws regarding public records.
6. Respondent hereby releases the Board, its representative, and attorney from any obligations or liability in their endeavors to administer this Consent Order.
7. The effective date of this Consent Order shall be such date it is accepted by the Board.

CERTIFIED MAIL
No. 7007 3020 0000 4310 0031
Return Receipt Requested

Dear Lara Simmons:

As you may recall, the Board is mandated by law to license and regulate the wholesale distribution of legend drugs and devices in Louisiana in accordance with the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors. This letter will acknowledge receipt of your response dated 4/3/2008. This letter is also intended to respond to any inquiries you may have regarding the deficiencies found during the inspection which occurred on 3/5/2008 at MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s Covington LA distribution facility.

Pursuant to the Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes, specifically LAC 46:XCI.311.D, a licensee should maintain copies of current licenses which authorizes a customer to procure and possess legend drugs and devices. If these customer licenses are maintained off site, a list of customers including customer names, addresses, license number, and the license expiration dates shall be maintained for all customers that are shipped or sold drugs or devices.

On 3/5/2008, the Board's inspector discovered that copies of customer licenses which authorize the customer to procure and possess legend drugs/devices or a listing of customers' license information were not being maintained at the Covington LA facility.

A verbal request was made by the inspector of a customer list which should have been maintained at the Covington LA facility. After receiving and reviewing a copy of the customer list, as referred to by Medline as their "Pedigree List", the inspector requested copies of 30 customer licenses from the listing. Of the requested customer license copies, the inspector found that 70% of the licenses requested were either not acceptable licenses or were not available.

It is evident that MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. was in violation of LAC 46:XCI.311.D at the time of the inspection on 3/5/2008. The Louisiana Revised Statutes and Louisiana Administrative Codes for wholesale drug distributors, more particularly LA RS 37:3474.1, provides that, after due notice and hearing, MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license may be sanctioned and/or it may be assessed a fine for its actions or omissions. Fines alone may include an assessment of $1,000 per violation per day. It is the Board's objective to regulate the industry by correcting behavior. Such is accomplished by imposing sanctions for wrongful conduct.

It is hoped that the above detailed violation(s) as corrected will not occur in the future. Therefore, in an effort to amicably resolve the issues regarding the violation(s) which did occur, I, as the Board's appointed investigating/compliance officer, extend an offer to you which would impose a total fine of $2,000. This proposed sanction does not impose any restrictions on MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.'s license.

If MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is agreeable to these terms, I have enclosed a Consent Order for your review and execution. Please have an authorized representative for your company sign the Consent Order in front of a Notary and two witnesses. Return the original, executed Consent Order along with a check made to the Louisiana Board of Wholesale Drug Distributors in the amount of the $2,000 fine to the Board's office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter. You and/or a company representative will not be required to attend the evidentiary hearing at which the executed Consent Order will be presented to the full Board for acceptance, however you and/or another representative are welcome to attend.

In the event MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. is not agreeable to this amicable resolution and wishes to contest the investigative findings in a hearing before the full Board, it has the right to do so. If such occurs, the current offer being proposed in this letter will no longer be viable.

We would like to bring this matter to disposition either by this amicable resolution or the pursuit of a formal hearing against MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC. before the Board at the next scheduled Board meeting. To do so, either way, we will need to prepare the necessary paperwork with all resolution documents. Again, please respond to this offer either by returning the executed Consent Order and fine payment or by written request for an administrative hearing. If your response is not received at the Board office within fifteen (15) days of receipt of this letter, the Board will begin steps towards the formal hearing with the issuance of subpoenas for witnesses and records.

We wish to keep an open line of communication with you. Please contact the Board office in the event you have any questions. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Respectfully,

Wayne Gremillion
Board Member/Compliance Officer

Medline Industries Inc. and Medline Manufacturing & Services, LLC was cited for several violations related to distribution centers in Florida, including, failure to pass and maintain a Florida compliant pedigree, maintaining the wrong permit type for the activities performed (Florida required a repackager permit in addition to the existing manufacturer permit), distribution of saline to an unauthorized recipient, and storage of a prescription drug in an unlicensed raw materials storage facility. Medline challenged several violations, resulting in most being substantially reduced or removed. All issues were addressed and resolved to the satisfaction of the FL DOH. A settlement agreement was reached to resolve all matters and approved on 09/06/2008.

Corrective Actions
Medline instituted a Florida specific pedigree system to address the pedigree issues. The updated pedigree ensures that all applicable shipments to Florida have the required Florida documentation and comply with FL pedigree requirements (Note - these requirements have since been preempted by the federal Drug Supply Chain Security Act). Medline secured the repackaging permit to address the missing permit type. Medline instituted a new procedure for obtaining and maintaining customer licenses for all prescription drug purchases- this procedure generates an automatic block for any prescription drug order by an unlicensed customer. The prescription drug item unintentionally stored in the raw materials facility was properly disposed of and waste disposal procedures updated to prevent this from occurring in the future.

Dear Ms. Hornick:

As you know, an inspector for the Department of Regulation and Licensing inspected Medline Industries on May 9, 2008. He found that several policies were missing, and the facility was storing prescription drugs in a non-secure location. It has been determined that these violations are grounds for discipline. I am the prosecuting attorney assigned to the case.

I have enclosed a proposed stipulation and order, which would resolve this matter without a hearing. If you are willing to resolve this case by agreement, please sign and return the stipulation and order by December 9, 2008. I will then present it to the Pharmacy Examining Board at its next meeting. The stipulation and order is not binding unless and until it is accepted by the board.

If you do not return the signed stipulation and order by December 9, 2008, I will file a formal complaint and initiate the hearing process. Please be aware that it is the policy of the Department to assess costs against respondents whenever any discipline is imposed. Your costs are presently $100. If we have to take this matter through a hearing, they will escalate quickly and could reach several thousand dollars.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Petitioner, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND CONSUMER AFFAIRS' REGULATED INDUSTRIES COMPLAINTS OFFICE (hereinafter "RICO" or "Petitioner"), through its undersigned attorneys, and Respondent MEDLINE INDUSTRIES INC. (hereinafter "Respondent"), enter into this Settlement Agreement on the terms and conditions set forth below.

A. UNCONTESTED FACTS

1. At all relevant times herein, Respondent was licensed by the Board of Pharmacy (hereinafter the "Board") as a wholesale prescription drug distributor under License Number PWD 115. The license was issued on or about October 3, 2005. The license will expire on or about December 31, 2009.

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ATTACHED IS A TRUE AND CORRECT COPY OF THE ORIGINAL ON FILE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE & CONSUMER AFFAIRS.

Respondent had entered into a Stipulation with the State of Wisconsin's Pharmacy Examining Board. Pursuant to the terms of a Final Order, Respondent was reprimanded and ordered to pay a forfeiture in the amount of $2,000.00. This action was based on the results of an inspection which revealed that certain policies were missing and that Respondent was storing pre-packaged kits for surgeries (which included various types and quantities of prescription drugs) in a warehouse that was shared with another company. These kits were not secured and employees of the other company had access to the kits. A true and correct copy of the Stipulation and Final Decision and Order which was approved on February 4, 2009 is attached as Exhibit "1."

4. RICO alleges that Respondent was disciplined by another state for a reason provided by the licensing laws in Hawaii. Specifically, the Respondent was disciplined for professional misconduct.

5. The foregoing allegations, if proven at an administrative hearing before the Board, would constitute violations of the following statute(s) and/or rule(s): Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS") § 436B-19(13) (disciplinary action by another state) and § 461-21(a)(2) (professional misconduct). Per Hawaii Administrative Rules §§ 16-95-30(c)(6) and (9), a licensee's facility must be secure from unauthorized entry and entry into areas where prescription drugs are held must be limited to authorized personnel.

6. The Board has jurisdiction over the subject matter herein and over the parties hereto.

B. REPRESENTATIONS BY RESPONDENT:

1. Respondent is fully aware that Respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney and voluntarily waives that right.

2. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement freely, knowingly, voluntarily, and under no coercion or duress.

3. Respondent is aware of the right to have a hearing to adjudicate the issues in the case. Pursuant to HRS § 91-9(d), Respondent freely, knowingly, and voluntarily waives the right to a hearing and agrees to dispose of this case in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Settlement Agreement.

4. Respondent being at all times relevant herein licensed as a wholesale prescription drug distributor by the Board acknowledges that Respondent is subject to penalties including but not limited to, revocation, suspension or limitation of the license and administrative fines, if the foregoing allegations are proven at hearing.

5. Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, but acknowledges that RICO has sufficient cause to file a Petition for Disciplinary Action against Respondent's license.

6. Respondent enters into this Settlement Agreement as a compromise of the claims and to conserve on the expenses of proceeding with an administrative hearing on this matter.

7. Respondent agrees that this Settlement Agreement is intended to resolve the issues raised in RICO's investigation in RICO Case No. PHA 2009-7-L.

C. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT:

1. Administrative fine. Respondent agrees to pay a fine in the amount of ONE THOUSAND AND NO/100 DOLLARS ($1,000.00). 4. Approval of the Board. Respondent agrees that, except for the representations, agreements and covenants contained in Paragraphs C.5, C.6, C.7 and C.8 below, this Settlement Agreement shall not be binding on any of the parties unless and until it is approved by the Board.

5. No Objection if Board Fails to Approve. If the Board does not approve this Settlement Agreement, does not issue an order pursuant thereto, or does not approve a lesser remedy, but instead an administrative hearing is conducted against Respondent in the Board's usual and customary fashion pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, Respondent agrees that neither Respondent nor any attorney that Respondent may retain, will raise as an objection in any administrative proceeding or in any judicial action, to the Board's proceeding against Respondent on the basis that the Board has become disqualified to consider the case because of its review and consideration of this Settlement Agreement.

STATE OF COLORADO

Case No. 2010-002994

IN THE MATTER OF DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS REGARDING THE LICENSE TO PRACTICE AS A OUT-OF-STATE WHOLESALER IN THE STATE OF COLORADO OF MEDLINE INDUSTRIES, INC.,

Wholesaler Applicant.

IT IS HEREBY STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the Colorado State Board of Pharmacy ("Board") and Medline Industries, Inc. ("Wholesaler Applicant") to resolve all matters pertaining to Board Case Number 2010-002994 as follows:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

1. The Board has jurisdiction over Wholesaler Applicant, its application for registration as an out-of-state wholesaler and the subject matter of this Stipulation and Final Agency Order ("Final Agency Order") pursuant to the provisions of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act at Title 12, Article 22, C.R.S.

2. Wholesaler Applicant admits these findings and hereby waives any further proof in this proceeding before the Board regarding the following facts.

3. Wholesaler Applicant entered into a Settlement Agreement with the Missouri State Board of Pharmacy, which was effective on August 3, 2005 ("Missouri Settlement Agreement").

4. In the Missouri Settlement Agreement, Wholesaler Applicant was placed on probation for five (5) years for various violations of Missouri state and federal law involving recordkeeping, storage of prescription drugs, change of location without informing the Missouri Board of Pharmacy, lack of a policy and procedure manual, and distribution of prescription drugs under a lapsed registration.

5. Wholesaler Applicant's conduct, as set forth above, constitutes violations of the following sections of the Colorado Revised Statutes:

12-22-125. Unprofessional conduct - grounds for discipline.

(1) The board may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or otherwise discipline any license or registration issued by it, after a hearing held in accordance with the provisions of this section, upon proof that the licensee or registrant:

(c) Has violated:

(III) Any state or federal law pertaining to drugs.

12-22-125.2. Disciplinary actions.

(1) The board may deny or discipline an applicant, licensee, or registrant when the board determines that such applicant, licensee, or registrant has engaged in activities that are grounds for discipline.

6. On January 14, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted an out-of-state wholesaler application, which application was denied by the Board.

7. On March 1, 2010, Wholesaler Applicant submitted a written request asking that the Board accept its application by granting a conditional license.

8. The Board finds and concludes, and Wholesaler Applicant agrees, that based upon Wholesaler Applicant's above-described violations of the Pharmaceuticals and Pharmacists Act and relevant rules and regulations, the following discipline is just and appropriate under the circumstances as a condition of its registration as an out-of-state wholesaler.

DISPOSITION

Conditional Registration / Probation / Compliance / Terms

9. Conditional Registration. Wholesaler Applicant shall be granted a registration as an out-of-state wholesaler upon execution of this Final Agency Order and satisfaction of the terms and conditions set forth herein.

10. Probation. Wholesaler Applicant's registration shall be placed on probation for a period of time equal to the time of probation remaining under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Credit toward satisfying the period of probation under this Final Agency Order shall be given only during such periods of time that Respondent is in total compliance with all provisions of this Final Agency Order and the Missouri Settlement Agreement.

11. Compliance. Wholesaler Applicant shall at all times remain in compliance with §§12-22-801, et seq. C.R.S. and shall not at any time distribute prescription drugs into Colorado without being registered as an out-of-state wholesaler in the State of Colorado at the time of distribution.

12. Other Requirements. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that, as a condition of this Final Agency Order and probation, Wholesaler Applicant shall:

    a. promptly pay all Wholesaler Applicant's own fees and costs associated with this Final Agency Order;

    b. comply fully with this Final Agency Order; and

    c. comply fully with the Pharmacists and Pharmaceuticals Act, all Board rules and regulations, and any other state and federal laws and regulations related to pharmacists and pharmaceuticals in the State of Colorado.

13. Discharge. Discharge from the requirements of this Final Agency Order must be requested in writing by Wholesaler Applicant. The Board will consider any request for discharge during the ordinary course of business. In any request for discharge it shall be Wholesaler Applicant's sole responsibility to establish, through written and other documentation, that Wholesaler Applicant has met all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order and, in addition, has been released from probation by the Missouri Board of Pharmacy under the Missouri Settlement Agreement. Wholesaler Applicant's probation under this Final Agency Order shall continue until formally discharged by the Board by way of Board order.

14. Advisements and Waivers. Wholesaler Applicant enters into this Final Agency Order freely and voluntarily, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges its understanding that it has the following rights:

    a. To have a formal notice of hearing and charges served upon it;
    b. To respond to said formal notice of charges;
    c. To have a formal disciplinary hearing pursuant to §12-22-125, C.R.S.; and
    d. To appeal this Board order.

    Wholesaler Applicant freely waives these rights, and acknowledges that such waiver is made voluntarily in consideration for Board's limiting the action taken against it to the sanctions imposed herein.

15. Acknowledgments. The undersigned authorized agent of Wholesaler Applicant has read this Final Agency Order in its entirety and acknowledges, whether or not Wholesaler Applicant has consulted with legal counsel, that Wholesaler Applicant understands the legal consequences and agrees that none of the terms or conditions herein are unconscionable.

16. Violations. Time is of the essence to this Final Agency Order. It is the responsibility of Wholesaler Applicant to take all appropriate steps to comply fully with this Final Agency Order. Wholesaler Applicant acknowledges and agrees that any violation of this Final Agency Order may be sanctioned as provided under §12-22-125.2(4), C.R.S., and may be sufficient grounds for additional discipline, including but not limited to revocation of its registration. The pendency of any suspension or disciplinary action arising out of an alleged violation of this Final Agency Order shall not affect the obligation of Wholesaler Applicant to comply with all terms and conditions of this Final Agency Order.

17. Integration and Severability. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall represent the entire and final agreement of and between the parties. In the event any provision of this Final Agency Order is deemed invalid or unenforceable by a court of law, it shall be severed and the remaining provisions of this Final Agency Order shall be given full force and effect.

18. Public Record. Upon execution by all parties, this Final Agency Order shall be a public record, maintained in the custody of the Board.

19. Effective Date. This Final Agency Order shall become effective upon signature of a Board member or representative.

ACCEPTED AND AGREED BY

Provide explanation below:

Medline Industries, LP distribution center at 9670 NW 112th Ave, Miami, FL 33178 (FL WDD# #2220297) entered a settlement agreement for alleged violations of selling prescription drugs to an unauthorized recipient and failure to maintain proper records. Medline accepted a physician license for a customer which should have maintained a Healthcare Clinic Establishment Permit. The recordkeeping allegation related to missing NDC numbers on outbound packing slips and invoices.

Corrective Actions:
Medline updated customer licensing requirements for Florida customers and completed an extensive review of all FL customer licenses to verify the correct license type was on file. Medline determined the missing NDC number on the packing slip and invoice occurred due to an internal system error. The error was limited to DSCSA exempt products, i.e. IV fluids. A fix was implemented to correct the issue.

OUR BUSINESSES

Overview

The terms "we," "our," "us," "its," "UnitedHealth Group," or the "Company" used in this report refer to UnitedHealth Group Incorporated and its subsidiaries.

UnitedHealth Group Incorporated is a health care and well-being company with a mission to help people live healthier lives and help make the health system work better for everyone. Our two distinct, yet complementary businesses — Optum and UnitedHealthcare — are working to help build a modern, high-performing health system through improved access, affordability, outcomes and experiences for the individuals and organizations we are privileged to serve.

The ability to analyze complex data and apply deep health care expertise and insights allows us to serve patients, consumers, care providers, businesses, communities and governments with more innovative products and complete, end-to-end offerings for many of the biggest challenges facing health care today.

Optum seeks to create a higher-performing, value-oriented and more connected approach to health care. Bringing together clinical expertise, technology and data to make care simpler, more effective and more affordable, we seek to advance whole-person health, creating a seamless consumer experience and supporting clinicians with insights to deliver personalized, evidence-based care. Optum serves the broad health care marketplace, including patients and consumers, payers, care providers, employers, governments and life sciences companies, through its Optum Health, Optum Insight and Optum Rx businesses. These businesses improve overall health system performance by optimizing health care quality and delivery, reducing costs and improving patient, consumer and provider experience, leveraging distinctive capabilities in data and analytics, pharmacy care services, health care operations, population health and health financial services.

UnitedHealthcare offers a full range of health benefits, designed to simplify the health care experience and make it more affordable for consumers to access high-quality care. UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual serves consumers and employers, ranging from individuals and sole proprietorships to large, multi-site and national employers and public sector employers. UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement delivers health and well-being benefits to seniors and other Medicare eligible consumers. UnitedHealthcare Community & State serves consumers who are economically disadvantaged, the medically underserved and those without the benefit of employer sponsored health benefits coverage.

We have four reportable segments:

- Optum Health;
- Optum Insight;
- Optum Rx; and
- UnitedHealthcare, which includes UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual, UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement and UnitedHealthcare Community & State.

2026 Business Realignment

On January 1, 2026, we realigned certain of our businesses to respond to changes in the markets we serve and the opportunities that are emerging as the health system evolves. Optum Financial, including Optum Bank, which was historically included in Optum Health, will now be included in Optum Insight. Our reportable segments will remain unchanged, with prior period segment financial information being recast to conform to the 2026 presentation, beginning with our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the three months ended March 31, 2026 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Optum

Optum is an information and technology-enabled health services business serving the broad health care marketplace, including:

- Those who need care: patients who need the right care, information, resources, products and engagement to improve their health, achieve their health goals and receive an improved patient experience that is personalized, comprehensive and delivered in all care settings, including in-home and virtually.
- Those who provide care: physicians, hospitals, pharmacies and others seeking to improve the health system and reduce the administrative burden, allowing for providers to focus time on patients leading to the best possible patient care and experiences while achieving better health outcomes at lower costs. Improved health outcomes are achieved by utilizing our clinical expertise, data and analytics to better understand, treat and prevent consumers' health conditions and ensure they receive the best evidence-based care.
- Those who pay for care: consumers; employers; health plans; and state, federal and municipal agencies devoted to ensuring the people they sponsor receive high-quality care, administered and delivered efficiently and effectively, all while driving health equity so that every individual, family and community has access to the care they need.
- Those who innovate for care: global life sciences organizations dedicated to developing more effective approaches to care, enabling technologies and medicines to improve care delivery and health outcomes.

Optum operates three business segments which combine distinctive capabilities in value-based care, population health, health care operations, data and analytics and pharmacy care services:

- Optum Health delivers patient-centered care, care management, wellness and consumer engagement, and health financial services;
- Optum Insight offers data, analytics, research, consulting, technology and managed services solutions; and
- Optum Rx provides diversified pharmacy care services.

Many of Optum Insight's software and information products and professional services are delivered over extended periods, often several years. Optum Insight maintains an order backlog to track unearned revenues under these long-term arrangements. The backlog consists of estimated revenue from signed contracts, other legally binding agreements and anticipated contract renewals based on historical experience with Optum Insight's customers. Optum Insight's aggregate backlog as of December 31, 2025 was approximately $31.1 billion, of which $18.3 billion is expected to be realized within the next 12 months. The aggregate backlog includes $12.9 billion related to affiliated agreements. Optum Insight's aggregate backlog as of December 31, 2024, was $32.8 billion, including $12.5 billion related to affiliated agreements.

Optum Insight's products and services are sold primarily through a direct sales force. Optum Insight's products are also supported and distributed through an array of alliances and business partnerships with other technology vendors, who integrate and interface Optum Insight's products with their applications.

UnitedHealthcare is subject to extensive government regulation. See further discussion of our regulatory environment below under "Government Regulation" and in Part II, Item 7, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual

Domestically, UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual offers a comprehensive array of consumer-oriented health benefit plans and services for large national employers, public sector employers, mid-sized employers, small businesses, and individuals. As of December 31, 2025, UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual provides access to medical services for 29.7 million people.

UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual offers risk-based products under which it assumes responsibility for medical and administrative costs in exchange for a monthly premium, typically a fixed rate per individual served for a one-year period. For customers that elect to self-fund the health care costs and retain the financial risk of medical benefits for their employees and dependents, UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual provides administrative and management services. These services include coordination of medical and related services, transaction processing and access to a contracted network of physicians, hospitals and other health care providers, including providers of dental and vision services. The business focuses on delivering customized benefit solutions and clinical programs designed to help employers and individuals manage costs while maintaining quality coverage and supporting health and well-being, with the shared goal of improving outcomes for patients and the health system.

UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual distributes its products through a variety of channels, depending on the specific product. These channels include consultants or direct sales, brokers and agents, wholesale agents or agencies that contract with health insurance carriers to distribute individual or group benefits, professional employer organizations and associations, and both multi-carrier and proprietary private exchange marketplaces.

UnitedHealthcare Employer & Individual provides employer-sponsored health benefits, as well as individual and family plans through portfolio of products which include consumer engagement products, such as high-deductible consumer driven benefit plans and a variety of innovative consumer centric products; traditional products; clinical and pharmacy products; and specialty benefits, such as vision, dental, accident protection, critical illness, disability and hospital indemnity offerings.

UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement

UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement provides health and well-being services to seniors and other Medicare eligible consumers, addressing their unique needs. UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement has distinct benefit designs, pricing, underwriting, clinical program management and marketing capabilities dedicated to health products and services in this market.

UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement offers a selection of products allowing people choice in obtaining the health coverage and services they need as their circumstances change. These offerings include care management and health system navigator services, clinical management programs, nurse health line services, 24-hour access to health care information, access to discounted health services from a network of care providers and administrative services.

UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement has extensive distribution capabilities and experience, including direct marketing to consumers on behalf of its key clients, a membership organization, and state and U.S. government agencies. Products are also offered through agents, employer groups and digital channels.

Major product categories include:

Medicare Advantage. Provides health care coverage for seniors and other eligible Medicare beneficiaries through the Medicare Advantage program administered by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), including Medicare Advantage HMO plans, Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) plans, Point-of-Service plans, Private-Fee-for-Service plans and Special Needs Plans (SNPs). Under the Medicare Advantage program, UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement provides health benefits coverage in exchange for a fixed monthly premium per member from CMS plus, in some cases, monthly consumer premiums. Premium amounts received from CMS vary based on the geographic areas in which individuals reside; demographic factors such as age, gender and institutionalized status; and the health status of the individual. UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement served 8.4 million people through its Medicare Advantage products as of December 31, 2025.

We have continued to enhance our offerings, focusing on more digital and physical care resources in the home, expanding our concierge navigation services and enabling the home as a safe and effective setting for care. For example, through our HouseCalls program, nurse practitioners performed 3.1 million clinical preventive home care visits in 2025 to address unmet care opportunities and close gaps in care.

Medicare Part D. Provides Medicare Part D benefits to beneficiaries through its Medicare Advantage and stand-alone Medicare Part D plans. The stand-alone Medicare Part D plans address a large spectrum of people's needs and preferences for their prescription drug coverage, including low-cost prescription options. As of December 31, 2025, UnitedHealthcare enrolled 10.4 million people in the Medicare Part D programs, including 2.8 million individuals in stand-alone Medicare Part D plans, with the remainder in Medicare Advantage plans incorporating Medicare Part D coverage.

Medicare Supplement. Provides a full range of supplemental products at diverse price points. These products cover various levels of coinsurance and deductible gaps to which seniors are exposed in the traditional Medicare program. UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement served 4.3 million seniors nationwide through various Medicare Supplement products as of December 31, 2025.

Premium revenues from CMS represented 44% of UnitedHealth Group's total consolidated revenues for the year ended December 31, 2025, most of which were generated by UnitedHealthcare Medicare & Retirement.

UnitedHealthcare Community & State

UnitedHealthcare Community & State is dedicated to serving state programs caring for the economically disadvantaged, the medically underserved and those without the benefit of employer-funded health care coverage, typically in exchange for a monthly premium per member from the state program. UnitedHealthcare Community & State's primary customers oversee Medicaid plans, including Temporary Assistance to Needy Families; Children's Health Insurance Programs (CHIP); Dual SNPs (DSNPs); Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS); Aged, Blind and Disabled; and other federal, state and community health care programs. As of December 31, 2025, UnitedHealthcare Community & State participated in programs in 32 states and the District of Columbia, and served nearly 7.4 million people; including 1.2 million people through Medicaid expansion programs in 19 states under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA).

States using managed care services for Medicaid beneficiaries select health plans by using a formal bid process or by awarding individual contracts. These health plans and care programs are designed to address the complex needs of the populations they serve, including the chronically ill, people with disabilities and people with a higher risk of medical, behavioral and social conditions. UnitedHealthcare Community & State administers benefits for the unique needs of children, pregnant women, adults, seniors and those who are institutionalized or are nursing home eligible. These individuals often live in medically underserved areas and are less likely to have a consistent relationship with the medical community or a care provider. They also often face significant social and economic challenges.

GOVERNMENT REGULATION

Our businesses are subject to comprehensive U.S. federal and state and international laws and regulations. We are regulated by government agencies, which generally have discretion to issue regulations and interpret and enforce laws and regulations. U.S. federal and state and international governments continue to consider and enact various legislative and regulatory proposals which could materially impact certain aspects of the health care system and our operations. New laws and regulations, or changes in the interpretation of existing laws and regulations, including as a result of changes in the political environment, could adversely affect our businesses.

See Part I, Item 1A, "Risk Factors" for a discussion of the risks related to our compliance with U.S. federal and state and international laws and regulations.

U.S. Federal Laws and Regulation

When we contract with the federal government, we are subject to federal laws and regulations relating to the award, administration and performance of U.S. government contracts. CMS regulates our UnitedHealthcare businesses and certain aspects of our Optum businesses. Payments by CMS to our businesses are subject to regulations, including those governing fee-for-service and the submission of information relating to the health status of enrollees for purposes of determining the amounts of certain payments to us. CMS also has the right to audit our performance to determine our compliance with CMS contracts and regulations and the quality of care we provide to Medicare beneficiaries. Our commercial business is further subject to CMS audits related to medical loss ratios (MLRs) and risk adjustment data.

UnitedHealthcare Community & State has Medicaid and CHIP contracts, which are subject to federal regulations regarding services to be provided to Medicaid enrollees, payment for those services and other aspects of these programs. There are many regulations affecting Medicare and Medicaid compliance, and the regulatory environment with respect to these programs is complex.

Our businesses are also subject to laws and regulations relating to consumer protection, anti-fraud and abuse, anti-kickbacks, false claims, prohibited referrals, inappropriate reduction or limitation of health care services, anti-money laundering and securities and antitrust compliance.

Privacy, Security and Data Standards Regulation. Certain of our operations are subject to regulation under the administrative simplification provisions of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, as amended (HIPAA), which apply to both the group and individual health insurance markets, including self-funded employee benefit plans. Federal regulations related to HIPAA contain minimum standards for electronic transactions and code sets and for the privacy and security of protected health information.

Our businesses must comply with the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act (HITECH), which regulates matters relating to privacy, security and data standards. HITECH imposes requirements on uses and disclosures of health information; includes contracting requirements for HIPAA business associate agreements; extends parts of HIPAA privacy and security provisions to business associates; adds federal data breach notification requirements for covered entities and business associates and reporting requirements to HHS and the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and, in some cases, to the local media; strengthens enforcement and imposes higher financial penalties for HIPAA violations and, in certain cases, imposes criminal penalties for individuals, including employees. In the conduct of our business, depending on the circumstances, we may act as either a covered entity or a business associate.

The use and disclosure of individually identifiable health data by our businesses are also regulated in some instances by other federal laws, including the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA) or state statutes implementing GLBA. These federal laws and state statutes generally require insurers to provide customers with notice regarding how their non-public personal health and financial information is used and the opportunity to "opt out" of certain disclosures before the insurer shares such information with a third party, and generally prescribe safeguards for the protection of personal information. Neither the GLBA nor HIPAA privacy regulations preempt more stringent state laws and regulations, which may apply to us, as discussed below. Federal consumer protection laws may also apply in some instances to privacy and security practices related to personally identifiable information.

ERISA. The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (ERISA), regulates how our services are provided to or through certain types of employer-sponsored health benefit plans. ERISA is a set of laws and regulations subject to interpretation by the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) as well as the federal courts. ERISA sets forth standards on how our business units may do business with employers who sponsor employee health benefit plans, particularly those that maintain self-funded plans. Regulations established by the DOL subject us to additional requirements for administration of benefits, claims payment and member appeals under health care plans governed by ERISA.

State Laws and Regulation

Health Care Regulation. Our insurance and HMO subsidiaries must be licensed by the jurisdictions in which they conduct business. All of the states in which our subsidiaries offer insurance and HMO products regulate those products and operations. The states require periodic financial reports and establish minimum capital or restricted cash reserve requirements. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) has adopted model regulations which require expanded governance practices and risk and solvency assessment reporting. Most states have adopted these or similar measures to expand the scope of regulations relating to corporate governance and internal control activities of HMOs and insurance companies. We are required to maintain a risk management framework and file a confidential self-assessment report with state insurance regulators. We file reports annually with Connecticut, our lead regulator, and with New York, as required by the state's regulation.

Our health plans and insurance companies are regulated under state insurance holding company regulations. Such regulations generally require registration with applicable state departments of insurance and the filing of reports describing capital structure, ownership, financial condition, certain affiliated transactions and general business operations. Most state insurance holding company laws and regulations require prior regulatory approval of acquisitions and material affiliated transfers of assets, as well as transactions between the regulated companies and their parent holding companies or affiliates. These laws and regulations may restrict the ability of our regulated subsidiaries to pay dividends to our holding companies.

Some of our business activity is subject to other health care-related regulations and requirements, including PPO, Managed Care Organization (MCO), utilization review (UR), behavioral health, TPA, pharmacy care services, durable medical equipment or care provider-related regulations and licensure requirements. These regulations differ from state to state and may contain network, contracting, product and rate, licensing and financial and reporting requirements. Health care-related laws and regulations set specific standards for delivery of services, mental health parity, appeals, grievances and payment of claims, adequacy of health care professional networks, fraud prevention, protection of consumer health information, pricing and underwriting practices and covered benefits and services. State health care anti-fraud and abuse prohibitions encompass a wide range of activities, including kickbacks for referral of members, billing for unnecessary medical services and improper marketing. Certain of our businesses are subject to state general agent, broker and sales distribution laws and regulations. UnitedHealthcare Community & State and certain of our Optum businesses are subject to regulation by state Medicaid agencies which oversee the provision of benefits to our Medicaid and CHIP beneficiaries and to our beneficiaries dually eligible for Medicare and Medicaid. We also contract with state governmental entities and are subject to state laws and regulations relating to the award, administration and performance of state government contracts.

State Privacy and Security Regulations. A number of states have adopted laws and regulations which may affect our privacy and security practices, such as state laws governing the use, disclosure and protection of social security numbers and protected health information or which are designed to implement GLBA or protect credit card account data. State and local authorities increasingly focus on the importance of protecting individuals from identity theft, with a significant number of states enacting laws requiring businesses to meet minimum cyber-security standards and notify individuals of security breaches involving personal information. State consumer protection laws may also apply to privacy and security practices related to personally identifiable information, including information related to consumers and care providers. Different approaches to state privacy and insurance regulation and varying enforcement philosophies may materially and adversely affect our ability to standardize our products and services across state lines. See Part I, Item 1A, "Risk Factors" for a discussion of the risks related to compliance with state privacy and security regulations.

Corporate Practice of Medicine and Fee-Splitting Laws. Certain of our businesses function as direct medical service providers and, as such, are subject to additional laws and regulations. Some states have corporate practice of medicine laws prohibiting specific types of entities from practicing medicine or employing physicians to practice medicine. Moreover, some states prohibit certain entities from engaging in fee-splitting practices, which involve sharing in the fees or revenues of a professional practice. These prohibitions may be statutory or regulatory, or may be imposed through judicial or regulatory interpretation. The laws, regulations and interpretations in certain states have been subject to limited judicial and regulatory interpretation and are subject to change. In addition, some states have begun to consider new laws to expand or change the scope of corporate practice of medicine laws. Any such changes could adversely impact how we structure transactions and contract with and support physicians in those states.

Pharmacy and Pharmacy Benefits Management (PBM) Regulations

Optum Rx's businesses include home delivery, specialty and compounding pharmacies, as well as clinic-based pharmacies which must be licensed as pharmacies in the states in which they are located. Certain of our pharmacies must also register with the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) and individual state controlled substance authorities to dispense controlled substances. In addition to adhering to the laws and regulations in the states where our pharmacies are located, we also are required to comply with laws and regulations in some non-resident states where we deliver pharmaceuticals, including those requiring us to register with the board of pharmacy in the non-resident state. These non-resident states generally expect our pharmacies to follow the laws of the state in which the pharmacies are located, but some non-resident states also require us to comply with their laws if pharmaceuticals are delivered within those states. Additionally, certain of our pharmacies which participate in programs for Medicare and state Medicaid providers are required to comply with applicable Medicare and Medicaid provider rules and regulations. Other laws and regulations affecting our pharmacies include federal and state statutes and regulations governing the labeling, packaging, advertising and adulteration of prescription drugs and dispensing of controlled substances. See Part I, Item 1A, "Risk Factors" for a discussion of the risks related to our pharmacy care services businesses.

Federal and state legislation regulating PBM activities affects both our ability to limit access to a pharmacy provider network or remove network providers. Many states limit our ability to manage and establish maximum allowable costs for generic prescription drugs and regulate various pharmacy reimbursement measures. With respect to formulary services, a number of government entities, including CMS, HHS and state departments of insurance, regulate the administration of prescription drug benefits offered through federal or state exchanges. Many states also regulate the scope of prescription drug coverage, as well as the delivery channels to receive such prescriptions, for insurers, MCOs and Medicaid managed care plans. These regulations could limit or preclude (i) certain plan designs, (ii) limited networks, (iii) use of particular care providers or distribution channels, (iv) copayment differentials among providers and (v) formulary tiering practices.

Legislation seeking to regulate PBM activities introduced or enacted at the federal or state level could impact our business practices with others in the pharmacy supply chain, including pharmaceutical manufacturers and network providers. In addition, organizations like the NAIC periodically issue model regulations while credentialing organizations, like the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) and the Utilization Review Accreditation Commission (URAC), may establish standards impacting PBM pharmacy activities. Although these model regulations and standards do not have the force of law, they may influence states to adopt their recommendations and impact the services we deliver to our clients.

Consumer Protection Laws

Certain of our businesses participate in direct-to-consumer activities and are subject to regulations applicable to online communications and other general consumer protection laws and regulations such as the Federal Tort Claims Act, the Federal Postal Service Act and the FTC's Telemarketing Sales Rule. Most states also have similar consumer protection laws.

Certain laws, such as the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, give the FTC, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and state attorneys general the ability to regulate, and bring enforcement actions relating to, telemarketing practices and certain automated outbound contacts such as phone calls, texts or emails. Under certain circumstances, these laws may provide consumers with a private right of action to enforce those laws. Violations of these laws could result in substantial statutory penalties and other sanctions.

Banking Regulation

Optum Bank is subject to supervision and regulation by the Utah State Department of Financial Institutions, which carries out annual examinations to ensure the bank is operating in accordance with state safety and soundness requirements and performs periodic examinations of the bank's compliance with applicable state banking statutes, regulations and agency guidelines. Optum Bank is also subject to regulation by federal banking regulators, including the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), which performs annual examinations to ensure the bank is operating in accordance with federal safety and soundness requirements, and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, which may perform periodic examinations to ensure the bank is in compliance with applicable consumer protection statutes, regulations and agency guidelines. In the event of unfavorable examination results or an enforcement action from these state or federal agencies, the bank could become subject to civil litigation, increased operational expenses and capital requirements, enhanced governmental oversight, monetary penalties and other sanctions.

Non-U.S. Regulation

Certain of our businesses operate internationally and are subject to regulation in the jurisdictions in which they are organized or conduct business. These regulatory regimes vary from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. In addition, our non-U.S. businesses and operations are subject to U.S. laws regulating the conduct and activities of U.S.-based businesses operating outside the United States, such as the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), which prohibits offering, promising, providing or authorizing others to give anything of value to a foreign government official to obtain or retain business or otherwise secure a business advantage.

COMPETITION

As a diversified health care company, we operate in highly competitive markets across the full expanse of health care benefits and services. Our competitors include organizations ranging from startups to highly sophisticated Fortune 50 global enterprises, for-profit and non-profit companies, and private and government-sponsored entities. New entrants to our markets and business combinations among our competitors and suppliers also contribute to a dynamic and competitive environment. We compete fundamentally on the quality and value we provide to those we serve, which can include elements such as product and service innovation; use of technology; consumer and provider engagement and satisfaction; and sales, marketing and pricing. See Part I, Item 1A, "Risk Factors" for additional discussion of our risks related to competition.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS

CAUTIONARY STATEMENTS

The statements, estimates, projections or outlook contained in this Annual Report on Form 10-K include forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (PSLRA). When used in this Annual Report on Form 10-K and in future filings by us with the SEC, in our news releases, presentations to securities analysts or investors, and in oral statements made by or with the approval of one of our executive officers, the words "believe," "expect," "intend," "estimate," "anticipate," "forecast," "outlook," "plan," "project," "should" or similar words or phrases are intended to identify such forward-looking statements. These statements are intended to take advantage of the "safe harbor" provisions of the PSLRA. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties which may cause our actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements. Any forward-looking statement in this report speaks only as of the date of this report and, except as required by law, we undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances, including unanticipated events, after the date of this report.

The following discussion contains cautionary statements regarding our business, which investors and others should consider. We do not undertake to address in future filings with the SEC or other communications regarding our business or results of operations how any of these factors may have caused our results to differ from discussions or information contained in our previous filings or communications. In addition, any of the matters discussed below may have affected past, as well as current, forward-looking statements about future results.

Any or all forward-looking statements in this Annual Report on Form 10-K and in any other SEC filings or public statements we make may turn out to be wrong. Our forward-looking statements can be affected by inaccurate assumptions we might make or by known or unknown risks and uncertainties. By their nature, forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance or results and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions which are difficult to predict or quantify.

The risks and uncertainties discussed below are not the only risks we may face. There may be risks and uncertainties not currently known to us or that we may deem to be immaterial that could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial position, cash flows and prospects.

Risks Related to Our Business and Our Industry

If we fail to estimate, price for and manage our medical costs or design benefits in an effective manner, the profitability of our risk-based products and services could decline and could materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

Through our risk-based benefit products, we assume the risk of both medical and administrative costs for our customers in return for monthly premiums. The profitability of our products depends in large part on our ability to predict and effectively price for and manage medical costs. Our Optum Health business also enters into fully accountable value-based arrangements with payers. Premium revenues from risk-based products constitute nearly 80% of our total consolidated revenues. Estimates of benefit expense payments involve extensive judgement and are subject to considerable inherent variability. Relatively small differences between predicted and actual medical costs, or utilization rates as a percentage of revenues, have resulted and in the future may result in significant changes in our financial results. If we fail to predict accurately, or effectively price for or manage, the costs of providing care under risk-based arrangements, our results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

We manage medical costs through underwriting criteria, product design, negotiation of competitive provider contracts and care management programs. Total medical costs are affected by the number of individual services rendered, the cost of each service and the type of service rendered. Although we base the premiums we charge on our estimates of future medical costs over the fixed contract period, many factors may cause, and have previously caused, actual costs to exceed those estimated and reflected in premiums or bids. These factors may include medical cost inflation, increased use of services, increased provider billing intensity, business mix, unexpected differences among new customer populations, increased cost of individual services, costs to deliver care, large-scale medical emergencies, the potential effects of climate change, pandemics, the introduction of new or costly drugs or increases in drug prices, treatments and technology, new treatment guidelines, newly mandated benefits or other regulatory changes and insured population characteristics. Cost increases in excess of our forecasts typically cannot be recovered in the fixed premium period through higher premiums. For Optum Health's fully accountable value-based care, any inability to provide higher-quality outcomes and better experiences at lower costs or to integrate our care delivery models could impact our results of operations, financial positions and cash flows.

In addition, the financial results we report for any particular period include estimates of costs incurred for which claims are still outstanding. These estimates involve an extensive degree of judgment. If these estimates prove inaccurate, our results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

If we fail to maintain properly the integrity or availability of our data or successfully consolidate, integrate, upgrade or expand our existing information systems, or if our technology products do not operate as intended, our business could be materially and adversely affected.

Our business depends on the integrity and timeliness of the data we use to serve our members, customers and health care professionals and to operate our business. If the data we rely upon to run our businesses is found to be inaccurate, incomplete, outdated or unreliable or if we fail to effectively maintain or protect the integrity of our data and information systems, including systems powered by or incorporating artificial intelligence (AI), we could experience failures in our health, wellness and information technology products; lose existing customers; have difficulty attracting new customers; experience problems in determining medical cost estimates and establishing appropriate pricing; have difficulty preventing, detecting and controlling fraud; have disputes with customers, physicians and other health care professionals; become subject to regulatory sanctions, penalties, investigations or audits; incur increases in operating expenses; or suffer other adverse consequences.

The volume of health care data generated, and the uses of data, including electronic health records, are rapidly expanding. We depend on the integrity of the data in our information systems to implement new and innovative services, automate and deploy new technologies to simplify administrative processes and clinical decision making, price our products and services adequately, provide effective service to our customers and consumers in an efficient and uninterrupted fashion, provide timely payments to care providers, and accurately report our results of operations. In addition, increasing connectivity among technologies and recent trends toward greater consumer engagement in health care require new and enhanced technologies, including more sophisticated applications for mobile devices and new tools and products that leverage AI to improve the customer experience. We anticipate that fast-evolving AI technologies, including generative AI, will play an increasingly important role in our information systems and customer-facing technology products. Our ability to protect and enhance existing systems and develop new systems to keep pace with changes in information processing technology (including AI), regulatory standards and changing customer preferences will require our ongoing commitment of significant development and operational resources. If these commitments fail to provide the anticipated benefits, if we are unable to successfully anticipate future technology developments, or if the cost to keep pace with the technological changes exceeds our estimates, we could be exposed to reputational harm and experience adverse effects on our business.

We may not successfully implement our initiatives to consolidate the number of information systems we operate, upgrade and expand our systems' capabilities, integrate and enhance our systems and develop new systems to keep pace with recent regulations and changes in information processing technology. Failure to protect, consolidate and integrate our systems successfully could result in higher than expected costs.

Some of our businesses sell and install software products which may contain unexpected design defects or may encounter unexpected complications during installation or when used with other technologies utilized by the customer. A failure of our technology products to operate as intended and in a fully-integrated fashion with other products could materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

Uncertain and rapidly evolving U.S. federal and state, non-U.S. and international laws and regulations related to health data and health information technologies, including those powered by or incorporating AI, may alter the competitive landscape or impose new compliance requirements and could materially and adversely affect the configuration of our information systems and platforms, and our ability to compete in our markets.

If we or third parties we rely on sustain cyberattacks or other privacy or data security incidents resulting in disruption to our operations or the misappropriation or disclosure of protected personal information or proprietary or confidential information, we could suffer a loss of revenue and increased costs, negative operational effects, exposure to significant liability, reputational harm and other serious negative consequences.

We routinely process, store and transmit large amounts of data in our operations, including protected personal information subject to privacy, security or data breach notification laws, as well as proprietary or confidential information relating to our business or third parties. Some of the data we process, store and transmit may be outside of the United States due to our information technology systems and international business operations. We are regularly the target of attempted cyberattacks and other security threats and have previously been, and may in the future be, subject to compromises of the information technology systems we use, information we hold, or information held on our behalf by third parties. For example, we previously reported that our Change Healthcare business, which we had recently acquired, was subject to a cyberattack in 2024, in which the data involved contained protected health information or personally identifiable information.

While we have programs in place to detect, contain and respond to data security incidents and provide employees with awareness training regarding phishing, malware and other cyber threats as a protection against cybersecurity risks and incidents, we expect that we will continue to experience incidents, some of which may negatively affect our business. Further, because the techniques used to obtain unauthorized access, disable or degrade service, or sabotage systems change frequently and are increasing in sophistication, in part due to use of evolving AI technologies (including generative AI), and because our businesses are changing as well, we may be unable to anticipate these techniques and threats, timely detect data security incidents or implement adequate preventive measures. Threat actors and hackers have previously been, and may in the future be, able to negatively affect our operations by penetrating our security controls and causing system and operational disruptions or shutdowns. They may access, misappropriate or otherwise compromise protected personal information or our proprietary or confidential information or that of third parties, and may develop and deploy malicious code (including viruses, ransomware and malware, among others) that can attack our systems, exploit security vulnerabilities, and disrupt or shut down our systems and operations. In addition, hardware, software, or applications we develop or procure from third parties may contain defects or other problems which could unexpectedly compromise our information technology ecosystem. Our systems may also be vulnerable to financial fraud schemes, misplaced or lost data, human error, insider threat, malicious social engineering, or other events which could negatively affect the data or financial accounts, proprietary or confidential information relating to our business or third parties, or our operations. There have previously been and may be in the future heightened vulnerabilities due to recently-acquired or non-integrated businesses. We rely in some circumstances on third-party vendors to process, store and transmit large amounts of data for our business. The operations of these vendors are subject to similar risks, but are outside our direct oversight and control.

The costs to eliminate or address these threats and vulnerabilities before or after a cybersecurity incident could be material. We have business continuity and resiliency plans which we maintain, update and test regularly in an effort to contain and remediate potential disruptions from cybersecurity events. If our prevention and remediation efforts are not successful, we may experience operational interruptions, delays, or cessation of service and loss of existing or potential customers. In addition, compromises of our security measures or the unauthorized dissemination of sensitive personal information, proprietary information or confidential information about us, our customers or other third parties, previously and in the future, could expose us or them to the risk of financial or medical identity theft, negative operational impacts, and loss or misuse of this information, result in litigation and liability, including regulatory penalties, for us, damage our brand and reputation, or otherwise harm our business.

If we fail to develop and maintain satisfactory relationships with health care payers, physicians, hospitals and other service providers, our business could be materially and adversely affected.

We depend substantially on our continued ability to contract with health care payers (as a service provider to those payers), as well as physicians, hospitals, pharmaceutical benefit service providers, pharmaceutical manufacturers and other care and service providers at competitive prices. If we fail to develop and maintain satisfactory relationships with health care providers, whether in-network or out-of-network, our failure to do so could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial position and cash flows. In addition, some of our activities related to network design, provider participation in networks and provider payments could result in disputes, which may be costly and attract negative publicity.

In any particular market, physicians and health care providers could refuse to contract with us, demand higher payments, or take other actions which could result in higher medical costs, less desirable products for customers or difficulty meeting regulatory or accreditation requirements. In some markets, certain health care providers, particularly hospitals, physician and hospital organizations or multi-specialty physician groups, may have significant market positions which could diminish our bargaining power. In addition, Accountable Care Organizations (ACOs), physician group management services organizations (which aggregate physician practices for administrative efficiency), and other organizational structures adopted by physicians, hospitals and other care providers may change the way in which these providers do business with us and may change the competitive landscape. Such organizations or groups of physicians may compete directly with us, which could adversely affect our business, and our results of operations, financial position and cash flows by impacting our relationships with these providers or affecting the way we price our products and estimate our costs, which might require us to incur costs to change our operations in an effort to mitigate these impacts. In addition, if these providers refuse to contract with us, use their market position to negotiate favorable contracts or place us at a competitive disadvantage, our ability to market products or to be profitable in those areas could be materially and adversely affected.

Our health care benefits businesses have risk-based arrangements with some physicians, hospitals and other health care providers. These arrangements limit our exposure to the risk of increasing medical costs, but expose us to risk related to the adequacy of the financial and medical care resources of the health care providers. To the extent a risk-based health care provider organization faces financial difficulties or otherwise is unable to perform its obligations under the arrangement, we may be held responsible for unpaid health care claims which should have been the responsibility of the health care provider and for which we have already paid the provider. Further, payment or other disputes between a primary care provider and specialists with whom the primary care provider contracts could result in a disruption in the provision of services to our members or a reduction in the services available to our members. Health care providers with which we contract may not properly manage the costs of services, maintain financial solvency or avoid disputes with other providers. They may also fail to provide us with the information we need to effectively conduct our businesses, such as information enabling us to estimate costs of care. Any of these events could have a material adverse effect on the provision of services to our members and our operations.

Some providers that render services to our members do not have contracts with us. In some instances, those providers have disputed and may in the future dispute the payment for these services and may institute litigation or arbitration relying on state and federal laws that define the compensation that must be paid to out-of-network providers in some circumstances.

The success of some of our businesses depends on maintaining satisfactory relationships with employed, affiliated, and independently contracted physicians and joint venture partners. The physicians who practice medicine or contract with our affiliated physician organizations could terminate their provider contracts or otherwise become unable or unwilling to continue practicing medicine or contracting with us. We face and will likely continue to face heightened competition to acquire or manage physician practices or to employ or contract with individual physicians. Our revenues could be materially and adversely affected if we are unable to maintain or expand satisfactory relationships with physicians, to acquire, recruit or, in some instances, employ physicians, or to retain enrollees following physician departures. In addition, our affiliated physician organizations contract with competitors of UnitedHealthcare. Our businesses could suffer if our affiliated physician organizations fail to maintain relationships with or fail to adequately price their contracts with these third-party payer competitors.

Further, physicians, hospitals, pharmaceutical benefit service providers, pharmaceutical manufacturers and certain health care providers are customers of our Optum businesses. Physicians also provide medical services at facilities owned by our Optum businesses. Given the importance of health care providers and other constituents to our businesses, failure to maintain satisfactory relationships with them could materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

If we fail to compete effectively to maintain or increase our market share, including by maintaining or increasing enrollments in businesses providing health benefits, our results of operations, financial position and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected.

Our businesses face significant competition in all of the markets in which we operate. In many geographies or product segments, our competitors have and may continue to have competitive advantages. Our competitive position may also be adversely affected by significant merger and acquisition activity in the industries in which we operate, among both our competitors and suppliers. Consolidation among competitors may make it more difficult for us to retain or increase our customer base, maintain or improve the terms on which we do business with our suppliers, or maintain or increase our profitability.

In addition, our success in the health care marketplace and future growth depends on our ability to develop and deliver innovative and potentially disruptive products and services to satisfy evolving market demands. If we do not continue to innovate and provide products and services which are useful and relevant to health care payers, consumers and our customers, we may not remain competitive and risk losing market share to existing competitors and disruptive new market entrants. We may face risks from new technologies and market entrants that could affect our existing relationship with health plan enrollees in the affected markets. We could sustain competitive disadvantages and loss of market share if we fail to continue developing innovative care models, including by accelerating the transition of care to value-based models that achieve higher quality outcomes and better experiences at lower costs and expand access to virtual and in-home care. If health care payers or providers are unwilling or unable to enter into value-based agreements with us, we may be unable to successfully establish or maintain the contractual or employment relationships necessary to achieve the quality and cost objectives we have for value-based contracting. Additionally, our competitive position could be adversely affected by any failure to develop and apply innovative technologies and other effective data and analytics capabilities or to provide services to our clients focused on these technologies and capabilities.

Our business, results of operations, financial position and cash flows also could be materially and adversely affected if we do not compete effectively in our markets, if our reputation suffers harm, if we set rates too high or too low in highly competitive markets, if we do not design and price our products properly and competitively, if we are unable to innovate and deliver products and services demonstrating value to our customers, if we do not provide a satisfactory level of services, if membership or demand for other services does not increase as we expect or declines, or if we lose accounts with more profitable products while retaining or increasing membership in accounts with less profitable products.

We are routinely subject to private party and governmental legal actions and investigations, which could damage our reputation and, if resolved unfavorably, could result in substantial penalties or monetary damages and materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

We are routinely made party to a variety of private party and governmental legal actions and investigations related to, among other matters, the design, management and delivery of our product and service offerings. Any failure by us to adhere to the laws and regulations applicable to our businesses could subject us to civil and criminal penalties.

Legal actions to which we are a party have included and in the future could include matters related to health care benefits coverage and payment of claims (including disputes with enrollees, customers and contracted and non-contracted physicians, hospitals and other health care professionals), tort claims (including claims related to the delivery of health care services, such as medical malpractice by personnel at our affiliates' facilities, or by health care practitioners who are employed by us, have contractual relationships with us, or serve as providers to our managed care networks, including as a result of a failure to adhere to applicable clinical, quality and/or patient safety standards), antitrust claims (including as a result of changes in the enforcement of antitrust laws), whistleblower claims (including claims under the False Claims Act or similar statutes), matters related to our use of or alleged failure to adequately safeguard personal information or other proprietary data, claims related to alleged failure of our technology products to operate properly or fairly, contract and labor disputes, tax claims and claims related to disclosure of certain business practices. In addition, some of our pharmacy services operations are subject to clinical quality, patient safety and other risks inherent in the dispensing, packaging and distribution of drugs, including claims related to purported dispensing and other operational errors. We also have been and in the future may be a party to class action lawsuits, including those brought by health care professional groups, consumers and investors. We operate in jurisdictions where contractual rights, tax positions and applicable regulations may be subject to varying degrees of interpretation or uncertainty, and therefore subject to dispute by customers, government authorities or others.

We are largely self-insured with regard to legal actions, including claims of medical malpractice against our affiliated physicians and us. Although we record liabilities for our estimates of the probable costs resulting from self-insured matters, it is possible the level of actual losses will significantly exceed the liabilities recorded. Additionally, physicians and other healthcare providers have become subject to an increasing number of legal actions alleging medical malpractice and general professional liabilities. Even in states that have imposed caps on damages for such actions, litigants are seeking recoveries under theories of liability that might not be subject to the caps on damages. These actions involve significant defense costs and could result in substantial monetary damages or damage to our reputation.

We cannot predict the outcome of significant legal actions in which we are involved. Even in situations where we engage external insurers, our coverage may be disputed or may not be sufficient to cover the entire amount of certain claims. We incur expenses to resolve these matters and current and future legal actions could further increase our cost of doing business, require us to potentially change the way we conduct our business, and materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial position and cash flows. Moreover, certain legal actions could result in adverse publicity which could damage our reputation and materially and adversely affect our ability to retain our current business or grow our market share in some markets and businesses.

Our increasing use of AI presents legal, regulatory and business risks to our operations, reputation and financial results.

We increasingly rely on technologies powered by or incorporating AI in our internal operations and in the delivery of products and services. While these technologies present opportunities to improve efficiency, enhance customer experience, and optimize clinical and administrative processes, they also entail risks and uncertainties. We have developed and implemented policies and procedures intended to promote and sustain the responsible design, development, and use of these technologies, consistent with industry best practices. However, to the extent an AI system does not operate as intended or produces an inaccurate, incomplete or biased output, the system could impact operations, customer service or other functions and could have an adverse effect on our business, reputation, results of operations, financial position and cash flows.

Our business could suffer, and our results of operations, financial position and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected, if we fail to successfully manage our strategic alliances, or to complete, manage or integrate acquisitions and other significant strategic transactions or relationships.

As part of our business strategy, we frequently engage in discussions with third parties regarding possible investments, acquisitions, divestitures, strategic alliances, joint ventures and outsourcing transactions and often enter into agreements relating to such transactions. If we fail to meet the needs of our alliance or joint venture partners, including by developing additional products and services, providing high levels of service, pricing our products and services competitively or responding effectively to applicable federal and state regulatory changes, our alliances and joint ventures could be damaged or terminated, which in turn could adversely impact our reputation, business and results of operations. Further, governmental actions, such as actions by the FTC or DOJ or comparable non-U.S. regulatory bodies, may affect our ability to complete strategic transactions, which could adversely affect our future growth. If we fail to identify and successfully complete transactions to meet our strategic objectives, including as a result of antitrust regulatory enforcement actions, such as those that have been brought against us in the past, we may be required to expend resources to develop products and technology internally, be placed at a competitive disadvantage or be adversely affected by negative market perceptions, any of which may have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial position or cash flows.

Successful acquisitions also require us to effectively, comprehensively and expeditiously integrate the acquired business into our existing operations, including our internal control environment and culture, or otherwise leverage its operations which may present risks different from those presented by organic growth and may be difficult for us to manage. For example, we have experienced and in the future may encounter more acute information technology system vulnerabilities or different litigation risk profiles in recently acquired businesses than we have historically managed. We may be unable to address these vulnerabilities, inadequacies, differences, or failures soon after acquiring a business, which could undermine integration activities, delay launch of acquired products, and increase infrastructure risk. In addition, even with appropriate diligence, pre-acquisition practices of an acquired business have exposed us in the past and may expose us in the future to legal challenges and investigations that could subject us to criminal fines or reputational harm. Even if we are ultimately successful in resolving these matters, defending such claims may be costly and result in negative publicity. If we cannot successfully integrate our acquired businesses and realize contemplated revenue growth opportunities, cost savings and other synergies, our business, prospects, results of operations, financial position and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected.

We are subject to risks associated with public health crises arising from large-scale medical emergencies, pandemics, natural disasters and other extreme events, which have had and could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and financial performance.

Large-scale medical emergencies, pandemics, natural disasters, public health crises and other extreme events could have a material adverse effect on our business operations, cash flows, financial conditions and results of operations. For example, disruptions in public and private infrastructure resulting from such events could increase our operating costs and impair our ability to provide services to our clients and customers. In addition, as a result of these events, the premiums and fees we charge may not be sufficient to cover our medical and administrative costs, deferred medical care could be sought in future periods at potentially higher acuity levels, we could experience reduced demand for our services, and our clinical and non-clinical workforce could be affected and sustain a reduced capacity to handle demand for care. Public health crises arising from natural disasters, such as wildfires, hurricanes, and snowstorms, or effects of climate change could impact our business operations and result in increased medical care costs. Government enactment of emergency powers in response to public health crises could disrupt our business operations, including by restricting availability of, or our ability to deliver, pharmaceuticals or other medical supplies, and could increase the risk of shortages of necessary items.

Our sales performance will suffer if we do not adequately attract, retain and provide support to a network of independent producers and consultants.

Our products and services are sold in part through nonexclusive producers and consultants for whose services and allegiance we must compete. Our sales could be materially and adversely affected if we are unable to attract, retain and support independent producers and consultants or if our sales strategy is not appropriately aligned across distribution channels. Overview

We are a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company dedicated to the identification, development and commercialization of differentiated medicines to address the unmet medical needs of patients with cancers. We seek to utilize our team's deep drug development experience to maximize the potential of our lead product candidate, firmonertinib, and advance a pipeline of novel therapeutics, such as next-generation antibody drug conjugates, including ARR-217 (MRG007), through approval and commercialization in patients suffering from cancer, with an initial focus on solid tumors. Firmonertinib is currently being evaluated in multiple clinical trials across a range of epidermal growth factor receptor (EGFR) mutations (EGFRm) in non-small cell lung cancer (NSCLC). We are conducting a pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial of firmonertinib in treatment naive, or first-line, patients with locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC with exon 20 insertion mutations and a pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial of firmonertinib in first-line patients with locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC with P-loop and-alpha-c-helix compressing (PACC) mutations. We are conducting a Phase 1 clinical trial of ARR-217 in patients with unresectable locally advanced or metastatic solid tumors.

We received Breakthrough Therapy Designation (BTD) for firmonertinib for first line EGFRm NSCLC with exon 20 insertion from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in October 2023, and Orphan Drug Designation for treatment of NSCLC with EGFRm or human epidermal growth factor receptor 2 (HER2) mutations or human epidermal growth factor receptor 4 (HER4) mutations in February 2024. A product candidate can receive BTD if preliminary clinical evidence indicates that the product candidate, alone or in combination with one or more other drugs, may demonstrate substantial improvement over existing therapies on one or more clinically significant endpoints, such as substantial treatment effects observed early in clinical development. For drugs that have received BTD, interaction and communication between the FDA and the sponsor can help to identify the most efficient path for development, although BTD may not result in a faster development process, review or approval and does not increase the likelihood that the product candidate will ultimately receive FDA approval for any indication.

In 2021, we licensed from Shanghai Allist Pharmaceuticals, Co. Ltd (Allist) the right to develop and commercialize firmonertinib worldwide, with the exception of greater China, which includes mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan. Firmonertinib is an investigational, novel, EGFR mutant-selective tyrosine kinase inhibitor (TKI) that we are developing for the treatment of NSCLC patients across a broader set of EGFR mutations (EGFRm) than are currently served by approved EGFR TKIs. Firmonertinib is currently only approved and commercially distributed by Allist in China as a first-line therapy to treat classical EGFRm NSCLC. The FDA has not approved firmonertinib for any use. We selected firmonertinib for global development against nonclassical, or uncommon, mutations based on preliminary reductions in tumor size observed in seven out of ten patients with EGFR exon 20 insertion mutations treated with firmonertinib in the ongoing Phase 1b clinical trial, the FAVOUR trial, conducted by Allist in China, and preclinical activity in PACC mutations, each a subtype of uncommon mutation. In a subsequent interim data readout from the FAVOUR trial of firmonertinib administered at 240 mg once daily in first-line patients with locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC with exon 20 insertion mutations, 79% of patients (n=22 out of 28 patients) were observed to experience a reduction in tumor size of at least 30%. In a final analysis from the Phase 1b FURTHER trial of firmonertinib, which included a cohort of EGFRm NSCLC with PACC mutations, we observed 16.0 months median progression free survival (mPFS) with firmonertinib 240 mg in first-line, confirmed overall response rate (cORR) 68.2% (n=15 out of 22 1L patients at 240mg) and duration of response (DOR) 14.6 months, and confirmed CNS (central nervous system) responses with firmonertinib including complete responses (CRs).

As one of the most prevalent cancers in the world, lung cancer imposes a significant global burden on human health, and EGFRm NSCLC represents a significant proportion of those affected. Despite progress in the therapeutic landscape for EGFRm NSCLC, many patients, particularly those with uncommon mutations, such as exon 20 insertions or PACC mutations, are underserved by existing treatments. In an interim data readout from the FAVOUR trial of firmonertinib administered at 240 mg once daily in first-line patients with locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC with exon 20 insertion mutations, 79% of patients (n=22 out of 28 patients) were observed to experience a reduction in tumor size of at least 30% from the baseline in a patient without evidence of progression as measured by Response Evaluation

Criteria in Solid Tumors (RECIST) 1.1 criteria. This measurement of reduction is the threshold in this trial for a partial response and for inclusion in determination of the overall response rate (ORR), which is the primary endpoint of this trial In the same interim data readout, those 79% of patients were observed to experience a 15.2 month median DOR. Interim results may not be indicative of final results; however, we believe these interim clinical results underscore firmonertinib's potential in patients whose tumors contain an uncommon EGFRm.

We are currently conducting a pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial, the FURVENT clinical trial, in first-line locally advanced or metastatic non-squamous EGFRm NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations and we expect topline data from this trial in mid-2026. Additionally, we are conducting a pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial, the ALPACCA clinical trial, in first-line locally advanced or metastatic non-squamous EGFRm NSCLC patients PACC mutations. In September 2025, our final Phase 1b PACC data reported 68.2% of patients (n=15 out of 22 1L patients at 240 mg) were observed to experience a confirmed reduction in tumor size of at least 30% from the baseline without evidence of progression as measured by RECIST 1.1 criteria. The confirmed mPFS in these patients was 16.0 months.

Since our inception in 2021, we have assembled a robust oncology pipeline by leveraging our global network and our experience in business development transactions. In 2021, we licensed from Allist the right to develop and commercialize firmonertinib worldwide, with the exception of greater China, which includes mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan. Also in 2021, we entered into a research collaboration, as amended, with Aarvik Therapeutics, Inc. (Aarvik) to leverage its proprietary multi-target, multivalent, site-specific conjugation antibody platform to discover next-generation antibody drug conjugates (ADCs) with improved activity and safety over single target bivalent ADCs. In 2024, we entered into a collaboration agreement with Jiangsu Alphamab Biopharmaceuticals Co., Ltd. (Alphamab), a wholly owned subsidiary of Alphamab Oncology, to discover, develop and commercialize novel ADCs for the treatment of cancers globally, with the exception of greater China, which includes mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan. In January 2025, we entered into an Exclusive License Agreement (the Lepu Biopharma Agreement) with Lepu Biopharma Co. Ltd. (Lepu Biopharma) pursuant to which Lepu Biopharma granted us the right to develop and commercialize ARR-217 (MRG007), a CD-H17-targeting ADC for gastrointestinal cancers outside greater China, which includes mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau, and Taiwan.

We plan to continue to engage in business development activities to source additional innovative therapeutics in areas currently underserved by approved therapies. This broader strategy includes evaluating research collaborations, partnerships and licensing arrangements intended to expand our development pipeline of differentiated and next-generation oncology assets. The following table summarizes our current pipeline indicating the most advanced stage of development:

NSCLC: non-small cell lung cancer; EGFR: epidermal growth factor receptor; PACC: P-loop alpha-c helix compressing; TKI: tyrosine kinase inhibitor; BTD: Breakthrough Therapy Designation; ADC: Antibody Drug Conjugate; GI Tumors: gastrointestinal tumors; 1L: First-line therapy; Global Ex-China: Worldwide, except mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan.

Currently approved EGFR TKIs have achieved considerable commercial success and have become the standard of care for patients with NSCLC with classical EGFRm which comprise approximately 69% of all EGFRm NSCLC patients. However, many of these therapies, including AstraZeneca plc's (AstraZeneca) third-generation EGFR TKI, osimertinib (TAGRISSO®), are minimally active against or not approved for use in a significant portion of NSCLC patients with uncommon EGFRm. This unmet need leaves many EGFRm NSCLC patients with few effective treatment options. Firmonertinib is currently approved and commercially distributed by Allist in China as a first-line therapy to treat classical EGFRm NSCLC. However, firmonertinib was designed to have strong inhibitory activity, not only against classical EGFRm, but also against uncommon EGFRm, such as exon 20 insertion and PACC mutations which together account for approximately 22% of EGFRm NSCLC.

To date, firmonertinib has been evaluated in multiple clinical trials with an aggregate patient population of over 1,000 patients against a broad range of EGFRm NSCLC, including both classical and uncommon EGFRm. Based on the results of preclinical and clinical trials conducted to date, we believe that firmonertinib has the potential to retain many of the key advantages of third-generation EGFR TKIs compared to first- and second-generation EGFR TKIs, including overcoming T790M mutations that confer resistance to earlier generation TKIs, while also targeting a broader set of EGFRm. In 2022, Allist reported the results of its FURLONG clinical trial, a double blind, placebo-controlled Phase 3 clinical trial of firmonertinib in first-line NSCLC patients with classical EGFRm. In FURLONG, firmonertinib was compared with the first-generation EGFR TKI, gefitinib, and demonstrated superior progression free survival (PFS) over gefitinib, showing a median PFS of 20.8 months versus 11.1 months for gefitinib. Firmonertinib's ability to cross the blood-brain barrier was also demonstrated in this clinical trial with a central nervous system (CNS) metastases specific ORR, which measured reduction of tumor size of at least 30% in brain metastases if present at the start of therapy, of 91% versus 65% for gefitinib. Based on observed clinical activity against exon 20 insertions in the FAVOUR clinical trial and observed activity against PACC mutations in the FURTHER clinical trial, we believe firmonertinib is potentially differentiated from third-generation EGFR TKIs approved for classical EGFRm NSCLC.

In the United States and the European Union, standard of care for first-line therapy in EGFRm NSCLC involving exon 20 insertion mutations is platinum-based chemotherapy with pemetrexed with or without amivantamab. These regimens have significantly lower response rates and DOR compared to results achieved in first-line patients with classical EGFRm who can be treated with approved third-generation EGFR TKIs. Over 9% of EGFRm NSCLC patients are estimated to have exon 20 insertion mutations. However, amivantamab appears to lack brain penetrance to effectively treat brain metastasis. In March 2024 and July 2024, amivantamab in combination with chemotherapy, was approved in the United States and Europe, respectively, for first line EGFRm NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations. However, amivantamab is an intravenously administered biologic lacking the advantages of oral therapies. Furthermore, amivantamab is being dosed in combination with chemotherapy in this setting with chemotherapy associated toxicities. We believe firmonertinib, if approved, has the potential to become a chemotherapy-free oral regimen in first-line EGFRm NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations given the clinical data generated in this patient population to date.

Guidelines employing TKIs for the treatment of many of the PACC EGFRm are not established and, as a result, chemotherapy is often used as the default course of therapy, offering limited efficacy and introducing chemotherapy-related toxicity. Afatinib (GILOTRIF®), a second-generation TKI, is also used in some patients, but has an unfavorable safety profile and is not brain penetrant. Osimertinib is frequently used in some patients, but the activity of osimertinib in such patients is less than its activity in patients with classical EGFRm NSCLC. Over 12% of EGFRm NSCLC patients are estimated to have PACC mutations. If approved, we believe firmonertinib has the potential to become a leading treatment option for first-line EGFRm NSCLC patients with PACC mutations based on firmonertinib's preclinical and clinical activity observed against these mutations and the evaluation of firmonertinib in multiple clinical trials.

Our Firmonertinib Development Initiative

We have designed a robust global clinical development plan across a broad spectrum of EGFRm NSCLC patient populations for which we believe firmonertinib will have a differentiated profile compared to currently available treatments. The following table describes the key planned and ongoing clinical trials of firmonertinib conducted by us or our collaboration partners:

FURVENT — Our Ongoing Phase 3 Clinical Trial in First-Line Non-Squamous Locally Advanced or Metastatic EGFRm NSCLC Patients with Exon 20 Insertion Mutations

We enrolled 398 patients in FURVENT, a global, pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial of firmonertinib in first-line non-squamous locally advanced or metastatic NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations being conducted jointly with Allist. Our FURVENT clinical trial is designed to assess the safety and efficacy of firmonertinib administered at either 160 mg or 240 mg, once-daily as compared to platinum-based chemotherapy with pemetrexed, the current first-line standard of care. The primary endpoint of this study is PFS. We enrolled 398 patients globally, including from sites in the United States, Europe and certain Asian countries including China. We expect topline data from our FURVENT clinical trial in mid-2026.

FAVOUR — Phase 1b Clinical Trial in NSCLC Patients with EGFR Exon 20 Insertion Mutations

The FAVOUR clinical trial is an ongoing 90-patient Phase 1b clinical trial being conducted by Allist in China that is intended to assess the safety and efficacy of firmonertinib in locally advanced or metastatic NSCLC patients who have EGFR exon 20 insertion mutations. First-line patients receive 240 mg firmonertinib once daily. Patients that have received prior treatment are randomized to receive either 160 mg or 240 mg of firmonertinib once daily. Initial data obtained through June 15, 2023 showed a confirmed ORR (defined as a reduction in tumor size of at least 30% from the baseline in a patient without evidence of progression), among patients evaluable as of that date of 79% among the treatment-naïve patients cohort, 46% among the pretreated 240 mg cohort and 39% in the pretreated 160 mg cohort. Median DOR was 15.2 months in treatment-naïve patients, 13.1 months in the 240 mg pretreated cohort and 9.7 months in the 160 mg pretreated cohort. Firmonertinib was observed to be generally well tolerated in all clinical trial cohorts to date with a low rate of discontinuation due to treatment-related adverse events (TRAEs). As of June 15, 2023, treatment related serious adverse events (TRSAEs) were observed in 6 out of 86 of the treated patients and 2 out of 86 patients discontinued participation in the trial as a result of TRAEs.

FURTHER — Our Ongoing Phase 1b Clinical Trial in NSCLC Patients with EGFR Activating Mutations including PACC Mutations

We have completed enrolling patients in FURTHER, an ongoing, global Phase 1b dose escalation and expansion clinical trial being conducted jointly with Allist. It is intended to evaluate the safety, pharmacokinetics and preliminary anti-tumor activity of once-daily firmonertinib when used in patients with NSCLC involving locally advanced or metastatic disease that have previously received systemic therapy and whose tumors contain EGFR activating mutations. Anti-tumor activity is measured by confirmed complete response, defined as the disappearance of all target lesions, or partial response, defined as at least a 30% decrease in target lesions in the absence of a complete response, relative to the total number of patients. The pharmacokinetics, adverse events, serious adverse events, and observed anti-tumor activity in the exon 20 patients of firmonertinib in the clinical trial to date are consistent with those observed in the FAVOUR clinical trial conducted in China. The FURTHER clinical trial includes a cohort of 60 patients with a PACC EGFRm who are TKI treatment-naïve, and has been fully enrolled. In September 2025, we announced our final data from the FURTHER trial of firmonertinib in first-line patients with locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC with PACC mutations. In this final readout, patients treated with 240 mg of firmonertinib were observed to experience 16.0 months mPFS and 14.6 months median duration of response. Further, 68.2% of patients treated in first-line at 240 mg and 43.5% of patients treated in first-line at 160 mg were observed to experience a reduction in tumor size of at least 30% from the baseline in a patient without evidence of progression as measured by RECIST 1.1 criteria, which measurement of reduction is the threshold in this trial for determination of the ORR. In addition, 47% (n=8/17) of patients with brain metastases at baseline were observed to experience a confirmed response utilizing modified RECIST 1.1 and 42.9% (n=6/14) of first line patients with brain metastases at baseline were observed to experience a reduction in tumor size of at least 30% from the baseline in a patient without evidence of progression as measured by RECIST 1.1 criteria. Firmonertinib was generally well-tolerated and consistent with interim safety results.

ALPACCA — Our Ongoing Phase 3 Clinical Trial in First-Line Non-Squamous Locally Advanced or Metastatic EGFRm NSCLC Patients with PACC Mutations

In December 2025, we announced the first patient dosed and plan to enroll 480 patients in ALPACCA, a global, pivotal Phase 3 clinical trial of firmonertinib in first-line non-squamous locally advanced or metastatic NSCLC patients with PACC mutations being conducted jointly with Allist. Our ALPACCA clinical trial is designed to assess the safety and efficacy of firmonertinib administered at 240 mg, once-daily as compared to an investigator's choice of osimertinib or afatinib. The co-primary endpoints of this study are ORR and PFS. The study design reflects design elements from the FDA's Project FrontRunner where we have the potential to seek accelerated approval based on ORR and full approval based on PFS.

Planned Adjuvant Study in NSCLC Patients with Uncommon EGFRm, including Exon 20 Insertion and PACC Mutations

The potential for EGFR TKIs that have demonstrated efficacy, safety and tolerability in the metastatic setting to improve disease-free and overall survival when administered in the adjuvant setting has been demonstrated by osimertinib in NSCLC patients with a classical EGFRm. We believe firmonertinib similarly has the potential to improve outcomes when administered as adjuvant therapy to EGFRm NSCLC patients with uncommon EGFRm, as these patients are not eligible for treatment with osimertinib. We intend to participate in a global adjuvant study of firmonertinib in EGFRm NSCLC with uncommon mutations initiated in China, or to conduct a parallel study, depending on results obtained from currently ongoing clinical trials.

FURLONG — Completed Phase 3 Clinical Trial in Classical EGFRm First-Line NSCLC Patients

FURLONG was a 358-patient clinical trial in China conducted by Allist, with results first reported in 2022, which resulted in the approval of firmonertinib in China as a first-line therapy in patients with locally advanced or metastatic NSCLC with classical EGFRm. It was designed to compare the safety and efficacy of once daily dosing of 80 mg firmonertinib to 250 mg gefitinib. Firmonertinib demonstrated clinically meaningful and statistically significant efficacy and a favorable safety profile as compared to the first-generation EGFR TKI gefitinib. Importantly, firmonertinib exhibited superior efficacy in the treatment of CNS metastases, producing a confirmed CNS metastases specific ORR, which measured reduction in tumor size of at least 30% in brain metastases if present at the start of therapy, of 91% versus 65% for gefitinib among participants with measurable metastatic CNS disease, demonstrating firmonertinib's ability to cross the blood-brain barrier.

Our Antibody Drug Conjugate Collaborations

Consistent with our focus on curating a pipeline of innovative, impactful oncology therapies across modalities, we are advancing next-generation ADCs. ADCs are a promising modality for treating cancer due to their ability to target chemotherapy directly to the tumor cells. We are using Aarvik's proprietary multi-target, multivalent site-specific conjugation antibody platform to discover and develop ADCs with potentially improved activity and safety over single target bivalent ADCs. We identified a preclinical candidate ARR-002 and have initiated Investigational New Drug (IND)-enabling activities. We are also working with Alphamab to leverage their proprietary linker-payload platform and glycan-conjugation technology to discover, develop, and commercialize ADCs for the treatment of cancers. Pursuant to the Lepu Biopharma Agreement, we are developing ARR-217, a novel CDH17-targeting ADC for the treatment of gastrointestinal cancers, which is currently in Phase 1 clinical development.

Our Team and Approach

We were founded and acquired the rights to develop and commercialize firmonertinib worldwide, with the exception of greater China, which includes mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan, in 2021. We believe that our deep expertise in developing oncology drugs, executing cross border business transactions and track record building companies will allow us to expand our portfolio globally, across the oncology landscape. Our co-founder, Chief Executive Officer and Chairman is Zhengbin (Bing) Yao, Ph.D. Prior to ArriVent, Dr. Yao was Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of Viela Bio, Inc. (Viela), which he co-founded in 2018 by licensing a portfolio of therapeutics from AstraZeneca. Viela was subsequently acquired by Horizon Therapeutics plc in 2021 for $3.1 billion. Prior to Viela, Dr. Yao served as Senior Vice President at MedImmune, Inc. and as Senior Vice President and Head of the Immuno-Oncology Franchise at AstraZeneca. Our other co-founder and President of Research and Development is Stuart Lutzker, M.D., Ph.D. Dr. Lutzker joined from Genentech, Inc., where he served in a number of senior Research and Development roles. Most recently, Dr. Lutzker was Vice President and Head of Oncology, Early Clinical Development and oversaw the early clinical phase development of a number of approved products. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions, and Director Independence" for more information.

Our team's deep knowledge in oncology has allowed us to identify novel therapeutic programs with strong biologic and scientific rationale that we believe have the potential to offer a differentiated profile to treat cancer patients. Based on our extensive experience working with regulatory agencies, we will pursue assets that we believe have a clear regulatory path to approval. We believe our highly selective in-licensing strategy provides us with high-quality development candidates at preclinical or clinical stages, which, if approved, would have the potential to achieve global commercial success.

While we source candidates from across the globe, our initial focus has been on compounds originally developed in China. We believe that as the world's second-largest pharmaceutical market, with extensive biopharmaceutical research and development capabilities, China provides us with attractive opportunities to in-license innovative therapies that otherwise may not reach global populations. We believe our business development acumen positions us to build a highly competitive pipeline that we are uniquely positioned to bring to global patient communities, beginning with our lead development asset, firmonertinib.

Our Strategy

We intend to become a leading biopharmaceutical company through the identification, development and commercialization of differentiated medicines to address the unmet medical needs of patients with cancers. To accomplish this objective, we plan to:

Maximize the potential of firmonertinib — develop and commercialize firmonertinib for the treatment of a broad array of EGFRm NSCLC indications.

- Advance firmonertinib through the pivotal Phase 3 FURVENT clinical trial and seek approval as a first-line therapy for non-squamous locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations. Exon 20 insertion mutations represent one of the most prevalent uncommon EGFR mutations and make up over 9% of the EGFR NSCLC patient population. While the antibody amivantamab has been approved as second-line therapy and chemotherapy in combination with amivantamab approved in first line therapy, no TKI has been approved as first-line therapy in this indication. We believe the interim data obtained as of June 15, 2023 in the Phase 1b FAVOUR clinical trial, in which patients were administered a 240 mg once-daily dose of firmonertinib, supports the progression of firmonertinib to the next phase of clinical trials. In that interim data readout, 79% of treatment naïve patients (n=22 out of 28 patients) were observed to experience a reduction in tumor size of at least 30% from the baseline in a patient without evidence of progression as measured by RECIST 1.1 criteria. This measurement of reduction is the threshold in this trial for a partial response and for inclusion in determination of the ORR, which is the primary endpoint of this trial. We received Breakthrough Therapy Designation for firmonertinib for the treatment of this disease from the FDA in October 2023, and Orphan Drug Designation for treatment of NSCLC with EGFRm or HER2 mutations or HER4 mutations in February 2024. We do not currently intend to conduct a Phase 2 trial in first-line non-squamous locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations. We have completed enrollment in our global, pivotal Phase 3 FURVENT clinical trial in first-line non-squamous locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations and we expect topline data from this clinical trial in mid-2026.
- Continue to advance firmonertinib through the pivotal Phase 3 ALPACCA clinical trial in EGFRm NSCLC patients with PACC mutations. We are also advancing the clinical development of firmonertinib as a potential treatment for EGFRm NSCLC patients with PACC mutations. PACC mutations are a distinct set of approximately 70 EGFR-activating mutations, associated with over 12% of EGFRm NSCLC patients. Guidelines employing TKIs for many of the PACC-specific EGFR mutations are not established and, as a result, chemotherapy is often used as the default course of therapy, offering limited efficacy and introducing chemotherapy-related toxicity. Osimertinib is frequently used in some patients, but the activity of osimertinib in such patients is much less than its activity in classical EGFR mutant NSCLC. Afatinib, a second-generation TKI, is also used in some patients, but has an unfavorable safety profile and is not brain penetrant. We are investigating the use of firmonertinib to treat a broad set of PACC mutations the ALPACCA clinical trial based on firmonertinib's observed activity against PACC mutations in preclinical studies together with the evaluation of firmonertinib in multiple clinical trials with an aggregate patient population of over 1000 patients, including over 450 patients outside China. We have initiated our pivotal Phase 3 ALPACCA study with our first patient dosed in December 2025.
- Evaluate the clinical benefit of treating early-stage disease with firmonertinib. We also intend to participate in a global registrational Phase 3 clinical trial initiated in China, or to conduct a parallel study, to investigate the potential benefit of firmonertinib in the adjuvant setting in NSCLC patients with uncommon EGFRm that are not eligible for osimertinib such as exon 20 insertion and PACC mutations. We intend to join the adjuvant study of firmonertinib, or to conduct a parallel study, once the EGFRm patient group is further defined based on ongoing clinical trials in the metastatic setting.
- Employ combination strategies with firmonertinib to overcome and prevent resistance to EGFR TKI in NSCLC involving classical mutations. Acquired resistance presents an inevitable challenge to longer-term EGFRm NSCLC management. As such, we are evaluating the use of firmonertinib in combination with other potential agents to extend patient benefit in EGFRm NSCLC patients.

Advance novel therapeutic product candidates for unmet medical needs, leveraging innovative platforms and technologies starting with ADCs.

- Discover and develop differentiated next-generation ADCs for solid tumors. ADCs are a promising modality for treating cancer due to their ability to target chemotherapy directly to the tumor cells. We have entered into a research collaboration with Aarvik to leverage its proprietary multi-target, multivalent, site-specific conjugation antibody platform to discover ADCs with potentially improved activity and safety over single target bivalent ADCs for oncology indications globally. We identified a preclinical candidate, ARR-002, and have initiated IND-enabling activities. We have also entered into a collaboration with Alphamab to discover, develop and commercialize novel ADCs. We are working with Alphamab to leverage their proprietary linker-payload platform and glycan-conjugation technology to identify novel ADCs for oncology indications globally, except greater China, which includes mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan where Alphamab retains the right to develop and commercialize ADCs. We entered into a license agreement with Lepu Biopharma pursuant to which Lepu Biopharma granted us a right to develop and commercialize ARR-217, an antibody drug conjugate targeting CDH17 for gastrointestinal cancers outside greater China, which is mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan.

  ARR-217 is currently enrolling patients in a Phase 1 clinical study. This is an open-label, multi-center, Phase 1 study to evaluate the safety, tolerability, efficacy, and pharmacokinetics of ARR-217 (MRG007) in patients with unresectable locally advanced or metastatic solid tumors.

Broaden our pipeline through expanded business development initiatives.

- Acquire rights to additional therapeutic candidates targeting solid tumors. We intend to use our demonstrated capabilities in business development to establish additional collaborations and acquire the rights to drug candidates designed to treat solid tumors and address significant unmet medical needs of patients with cancers. While we source candidates from across the globe, our initial focus has been on drugs originally discovered and developed in China for potential commercialization in the United States, the European Union, and other jurisdictions. For programs that we in-license, we plan to pursue a global development strategy to enable approval and commercialization in a broad set of geographies. We remain agnostic as to therapeutic modality, which we believe will expand our access to drug candidates with attractive therapeutic profiles.

- Track record of establishing collaborations and license agreements. Since our inception in 2021, we have established four licensing agreements for oncology assets, including our lead product candidate firmonertinib, and the ADC product candidates ARR-217, ARR-002, ARR-421 and ARR-173. We believe in continuing to build our pipeline through sourcing innovation globally and remaining nimble in developing such programs in collaboration with our partners.

Lung Cancer

According to the National Cancer Institute, lung cancer is predicted to account for nearly 250,000 of the two million new cancer diagnoses made in the United States in 2023. Lung cancer ranks behind both breast and prostate cancer in terms of the number of newly diagnosed cases yet is responsible for far more deaths than any other type of cancer, with the estimated 27,000 lung cancer deaths to occur in 2023, more than double the annual number of deaths attributed to colorectal, pancreatic or breast cancer, as illustrated in the chart below. Lung cancer is the cause of approximately 20% of all cancer-related deaths and the 5-year survival rate for advanced lung cancer in the United States is approximately 6%. Worldwide, lung cancer is estimated to be responsible for 2.2 million new cancer cases annually and 1.8 million deaths.

Non-Small Cell Lung Cancer and the EGFR Driver Mutation

Cases of lung cancer are divided into NSCLC and small cell lung cancer, with NSCLC accounting for approximately 85% of all lung cancer diagnoses. NSCLC can be further segregated into two primary classifications: non-squamous cell carcinoma and squamous cell carcinoma. Non-squamous cell carcinoma is the most prevalent type of NSCLC and makes up approximately 77% of all NSCLC cases. Adenocarcinoma is the largest subgroup of the non-squamous NSCLC, constituting 81%. Among the genetic mutations that promote the development of NSCLC, mutational activation of the EGFR gene is among the most common. EGFR is a transmembrane glycoprotein consisting of an extracellular epidermal growth factor binding domain, a hydrophobic transmembrane domain and an intracellular tyrosine kinase domain that regulates signal transduction pathways involved in cellular proliferation. Its mutation results in the constitutive activation of these pathways and uncontrolled growth of the cancer cell. The overall prevalence of the EGFR mutation among NSCLC patients varies widely between different ethnic populations. Approximately 38% of NSCLC patients from Asian countries have an EGFR mutation, while approximately 24% of NSCLC patients in the Americas and approximately 14% of NSCLC patients in Europe have EGFR mutations. EGFR mutations are also more commonly associated with NSCLC patients who have never smoked, as well as women and young adult NSCLC patients. Substantially all NSCLC cases involving an EGFR mutation are non-squamous cell carcinomas.

Numerous EGFR mutations have been identified that cluster within the EGFR kinase domain encoded by exons 18-21 in the EGFR gene. These mutations, which include amino acid insertions, deletions and substitutions, activate EGFR signaling within the tumor cell and can be categorized as either classical or uncommon mutations. Classical mutations involving a deletion in amino acids encoded by exon 19 and another involving a substitution of the amino acid arginine for leucine at codon 858, which is referred to as an L858R mutation, are responsible for approximately 69% of NSCLC patients with an EGFRm. The uncommon mutations may be categorized based on the structural change to the drug binding pocket of the EGFR kinase domain, with the two most frequent groups of uncommon mutations involving an exon 20 insertion or PACC mutations of the EGFR. These two types of uncommon mutations account for approximately 22% of patients with EGFRm NSCLC and the life expectancy for NSCLC patients with uncommon EGFRm, including exon 20 insertion and PACC mutations, is lower. The distribution of patients with EGFR-mutation positive NSCLC is presented below. EGFRm are detected by numerous commercially available FDA-approved DNA tests, either Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR) or Next Generation Sequencing (NGS), utilizing either tumor tissue or blood samples and testing for EGFRm, as well as other activating gene mutations, is considered standard in the management of NSCLC as per national guidelines such as National Comprehensive Cancer Network (NCCN). We are working with a diagnostics company to develop an FDA-approved NGS test for confirming EGFR exon 20 insertion mutations in our clinical trial and if firmonertinib is approved, we believe it would be indicated for patients with EGFRm as detected by an FDA-approved DNA test.

EGFR activating mutations include both classical and uncommon mutations in the kinase domain

Current Therapeutics and their Limitations

In classical EGFRm NSCLC, the current standard of care for the treatment of locally advanced or metastatic EGFRm NSCLC involves the use of a TKI as first-line therapy. Two first-generation TKIs, gefitinib and erlotinib (TARCEVA®), received initial marketing approval by the FDA in the early 2000s. These drugs, which were designed to competitively bind with EGFR at the ATP-binding site in a reversible manner to block enzymatic activation and downstream signal transduction, provide certain NSCLC patients with EGFRm substantial benefit, offering superior efficacy and safety profiles as compared to chemotherapy. However, durability of response to treatment is limited and virtually all patients with advanced disease acquire resistance, the most common of which involves a T790M substitution mutation. In addition, rash and diarrhea, often severe, are common adverse events (AEs). Efforts to address acquired resistance to first-generation TKIs led to the approval by the FDA of the second-generation TKIs afatinib (GILOTRIF®) in 2013 and dacomitinib (VIZIMPRO®) in 2018, drugs which irreversibly block the tyrosine kinase activity. However, TRAEs are more pronounced than the first-generation designs, which have limited broader clinical application of the second-generation TKIs.

Osimertinib was the first third-generation TKI to receive FDA approval and is currently a standard of care for patients with EGFRm NSCLC involving classical mutations and the related treatment emergent T790M mutation in the majority of countries worldwide. Osimertinib provides an improved AE profile, including a reduction in severe adverse events, compared to the earlier generation EGFR targeted TKIs and displays a greater ability to cross the blood-brain barrier, enabling efficacy against metastases involving the CNS. The ability to treat CNS metastases is of notable importance as patients with EGFR-activating mutations are particularly susceptible to the development of brain metastases, which can occur in up to 70% of patients during the course of their disease. In 2024, amivantamab in combination with lazertinib was approved for the treatment of first-line NSCLC patients with EGFR exon 19 deletions or exon 21 L858R substitution mutations. Amivantamab is a bispecific antibody and lazertinib is a third-generation EGFR TKI. The key limitations of therapies in EGFRm NSCLC are presented in the graphic below:

Agents	First Approval Year	EGFR Mutation Indications			Key Limitations
		Exon 20 Insertions	PACC	Classical
Gefitinib, Erlotinib	2003, 2004			✓	Limited efficacy and tolerability, generates T790M resistance mutations
Afatinib	2013		*	✓	Tolerability (rash and diarrhea), low to no brain penetration
Osimertinib	2015			✓	Limited activity outside of Exon 19 deletion and L858R mutations
Amivantamab	2021	✓		✓	IV administration, tolerability (rash and nail toxicity) severe infusion reactions, low to no brain penetration
Mobocertinib	2021				Low response rates, tolerability (diarrhea), black box warning for QT prolongation, low to no brain penetration

Table includes approved and disclosed registrational indications
Afatinib has limited clinical data in patients with 2 of the 70 described PACC mutations.*
Exclaim-2 study in 1L announced as negative and in July 2024, the FDA withdrew the license for mobocertinib in the United States*
Dacomitinib is also approved in the United States for classical EGFR mutations

There is currently no TKI approved as first-line therapy for NSCLC patients with EGFR exon 20 insertion mutations. Platinum-based chemotherapy with pemetrexed is a standard of care for first-line therapy in this patient population in the United States and the European Union with or without amivantamab. Of particular note, approximately one-third of NSCLC patients harboring EGFR exon 20 insertion mutations have brain metastases at the time of diagnosis, which are mainly treated with radiation therapy, as chemotherapy is less effective in the treatment of brain metastases due to low brain penetration.

In 2021, the FDA granted marketing approval to two therapeutics, mobocertinib, a TKI, and amivantamab, a bispecific antibody, to treat NSCLC patients with exon 20 insertion mutations which have progressed after administration of platinum-based chemotherapy. Both approvals were granted under accelerated approval and continued approval may be contingent upon verification and description of clinical benefit in confirmatory trial(s). Notably, in July 2023, Takeda announced the discontinuation of its Phase 3 clinical trial of mobocertinib as a monotherapy in first-line patients due to futility and subsequently withdrew the drug from the market globally. In August 2023, Johnson & Johnson announced that its Phase 3 trial of amivantamab in combination with chemotherapy in first-line patients met its primary endpoint of PFS when compared to chemotherapy alone. While the FDA approved the use of this combination in this patient population in March 2024, and by the European Commission in July 2024, the use of chemotherapy in combination with amivantamab in the first-line patients may be limited due to the need to combine with intravenous chemotherapy and lack of brain penetration of amivantamab, along with chemotherapy associated toxicities.

A distinct set of approximately 70 uncommon EGFR-activating mutations have been identified that are predicted to alter the orientation of the interior surface of the ATP-binding pocket of the EGFR P-loop or αC-terminal end of the C-helix within the tyrosine kinase domain and are referred to as PACC mutations. Over 12% of patients with EGFRm are estimated to involve PACC mutations and patients diagnosed with PACC mutations have limited treatment options. Guidelines employing TKIs for many of the PACC-specific EGFRm are not established and as a result chemotherapy is used as the default course of therapy in many patients with limited clinical benefit. Osimertinib is frequently used in some patients, but the activity of osimertinib is much less than in classical EGFRm NSCLC. The second-generation TKI

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has assigned the above Labeler Code to the firm. However, the Labeler Code cannot be used in any drug listing submission until you have confirmed the assignment. To complete this process, open the previous Labeler Code Request SPL file and fill in the new information (your assigned Labeler Code) without changing the other existing information. Fill in a new root ID and new version number with the original set ID and the appropriate effective time.

For CDER Direct Users: Open the previously submitted and accepted Labeler Code Request, click Create New Version, enter the Labeler Code assigned in the field for "Labeler Code", and Submit SPL.

Once you have confirmed the assignment, this Labeler Code shall be used to propose the National Drug Code (NDC) for assignment to all drugs you manufacture or distribute for U.S. commercial distribution. The requirements regarding the assignment of an NDC is extensively discussed in Part 207.33 of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The NDC for each drug must be submitted as part of drug listing information submitted to FDA.

Per section 510(j)(1) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (FD&C Act) and 21 CFR Part 207 registrants that are required to register their establishment with FDA (or Private Label Distributors (PLD) acting as their authorized agent) must list each drug that it manufactures, repacks, relabels, or salvages for commercial distribution, including the appropriate NDC, no later than 3 calendar days after the initial registration of the establishment. Labeler name, physical address, email address and other contact information, type(s) of activities, and type(s) of drug(s) must be updated within 30 calendar days after any change to that information, § 207.33(c)(2). FDA uses this information for official communication regarding listing.

Labeler Codes are assigned by FDA and may be inactivated at any time upon violation of the FD&C Act or other applicable FDA regulations.

Note that receipt of this letter and assignment of an NDC does not denote approval of the establishment or the drug or any other drugs of the establishment, nor does it mean that the drug may be legally marketed.

RE: Licensure Requirements- Manufacturers/Virtual Manufacturers

[redacted]

Tue 6/25/2024 7:05 PM

[External]

Good Afternoon,

I was requested to respond to your question. Please refer to Business and Professions Code sec on 4160(h) which states a drug manufacturer premises licensed by the Food and Drug Administration or licensed pursuant to Sec on 11615 of the Health and Safety Code that only distributes dangerous drugs and dangerous devices of it own manufacture is exempt from this sec on and sec on 4161.

Therefore, if you are a virtual manufacturer/manufacturer, licensure as a wholesaler or nonresident wholesaler with the California State Board of Pharmacy is not required if you only distribute dangerous drugs and dangerous devices that XXXXXXX has the NDA or manufactures.

However, if XXXXX also distributes dangerous or dangerous devices, which they are not listed with the FDA or the California Dept of Public Health, State Food and Drug Branch (CDPH, SFDB), as the manufacturer or does not hold the NDA, then a wholesaler license (if located in CA) or nonresident wholesaler license (outside of CA and within the United States or a territory of the U.S.) is required.

I hope this answers your question. Otherwise, my contact information is below if you have any additional questions.

Sincerely,

[redacted]

Supervising Inspector
California State Board of Pharmacy

Article 11. Wholesalers, Third-Party Logistics Providers and Manufacturers

4160. Wholesaler or Third-Party Logistics Provider: License Required

(a) A person shall not act as a wholesaler or third-party logistics provider of any dangerous drug or dangerous device unless he or she has obtained a license from the board.

(b) Upon approval by the board and the payment of the required fee, the board shall issue a license to the applicant.

(c) (1) A separate license shall be required for each place of business owned or operated by a wholesaler or third-party logistics provider. At all times during which a place of business is open for business, at least one designated representative, in the case of a wholesaler, or designated representative-3PL in the case of a third-party logistics provider, shall be present. A wholesaler that only acts as a reverse distributor may use either a designated representative or a designated representative-reverse distributor to fulfill this requirement.

(2) A wholesaler and a third-party logistics provider under common ownership may be licensed at the same place of business provided that all of the following requirements are satisfied:

(A) The wholesaler and the third-party logistics provider each separately maintain the records required under Section 4081.

(B) Dangerous drugs and dangerous devices owned by the wholesaler are not commingled with the dangerous drugs and dangerous devices handled by the third-party logistics provider.

(C) Any individual acting as a designated representative for the wholesaler is not concurrently acting as a designated representative-3PL on behalf of the third-party logistics provider. Nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to prohibit an individual from concurrently holding a license to act as a designated representative and to act as a designated representative-3PL.

(D) The wholesaler has its own designated representative-in-charge responsible for the operations of the wholesaler and the third-party logistics provider has its own responsible manager responsible for the operations of the third-party logistics provider. The same individual shall not concurrently serve as the responsible manager and the designated representative-in-charge for a wholesaler and a third-party logistics provider licensed at the same place of business.

(F) The third-party logistics provider is not a reverse third-party logistics provider.

(G) The wholesaler is not acting as a reverse distributor.

(d) Every wholesaler shall be supervised or managed by a designated representative-in-charge. The designated representative-in-charge shall be responsible for the wholesaler's compliance with state and federal laws governing wholesalers. As part of its initial application for a license, and for each renewal, each wholesaler shall, on a form designed by the board, provide identifying information and the California license number for a designated representative or pharmacist proposed to serve as the designated representative-in-charge. The proposed designated representative-in-charge shall be subject to approval by the board. The designated representative-in-charge shall maintain an active license as a designated representative with the board at all times during which he or she is designated as the designated representative-in-charge.
